Elizabethtown Loses to Susquehanna Nine

Orange and Maroon Nine Boasts of a No-Error Game, Heim Holds Opponents Hitless Until Seventh

The Orange and Maroon tossers beat Elizabethtown in their first home game by a score of 6-2 under clear skies, and before a large crowd of loyal rooters last Saturday afternoon.

"Russ" Heim took the mound for Susquehanna and held the Elizabethtown batters hitless until the seventh inning when he weakened slightly. Ebbing pitched good ball for the visitors. Ramik, star first-sacker, again led the Little Crusaders in hitting and played a bang-up game in the field. Besides taking the game up on the field Ramik had a double and a pretty triple in four trips to the plate. Spiegelmeyer had two singles in three trips to the plate and also had a perfect day in the field around the hot corner.

In Saturday's game a new face was seen on the regular line-up, for "Swede" Palmer, playing first base last year, was shifted to shortstop. Palmer accepted some pretty hot chances for the first time at shortstop position and came through with but one slip-up and his was on a low throw to first base after making a beautiful stop of a hard hit ball between short and third. Besides the additional strength in the field, "Swede" is expected to add to the sitting strength.

Stroup, Malasky and Snyder played heads-up ball in the outfield, each making a beautiful catch and each snagging a hit. Snyder coming through with a triple and registering the first hit of the game.

In the first inning after Heim had walked the first man up, Fry, who then stole second, and Herr, who then stole first, who tossed Fry out at third, and Spiegelmeyer getting it across to Ramik in time put Herr out at first and completed the double play.

In the first inning the Little Crusaders scored two runs. Good, first man up, was tossed out at first by Bobula. Snyder, next man up, stepped to the plate and clouted a beautiful drive to center field for three bases. Spiegelmeyer then singled, scoring Snyder, and took second on the center fielder's error. Ramik then hit a clean single through second for two bases scoring Spiegelmeyer. Malasky and Palmer skied to end the inning.

Yearlings Defeat Bucknell Frosh

With Myers, Swarm, Wagner and Hepper as Stars, the Yearlings Make Come Back on B. U. Frosh

Taking first place in all but three events the Susquehanna Freshman track team performed in brilliant style to defeat the Bucknell Freshmen 72½ to 3½ last Thursday afternoon at Lewisburg.

Myers, Swarm, Wagner and Hepper were the individual stars of the meet. Meyers and Wagner captured their first places while Swarm and Hepper scored first places in two events.

This is the second time the Susquehanna and Bucknell Freshmen have met. Several weeks ago Bucknell defeated the Orange and Blue yearlings by the close margin of three points.

FRANK E. RAMSEY

LUTHER D. KURTZ

Susquehanna Staff Heads Retire

Frank E. Ramsey, Editor-in-Chief and Luther D. Kurtz, Business Managers, Retire After Successful Year

Frank E. Ramsey has just completed a successful year as editor of the "Susquehanna." Probably more than any other person he has worked to make the "Susquehanna" a bigger and better paper. From his Freshman year, Frank took an interest in newspaper work. Under his editorship the paper has received favorable comment time and time again from other school's editorial staffs. He has been presented with a gold medal by the Intercollegiate Press for having such a fine and high grade publication. Frank will begin his educational career at Holidaysburg where he will no doubt continue his newspaper work. We wish him all the luck in the world.

Luther D. Kurtz leaves his position as business manager of the "Susquehanna" with a profitable financial year. He has worked hard to put the newspaper upon a sound financial basis and has succeeded well, leaving a nice balance in the treasury. To him we also wish success and trust the good work which he has done may be carried on.

SUSQUEHANNAIANS ENTERTAIN MONTGOMERY LIONS CLUB

Ladies Choral Club of Susquehanna University presented their operetta at a banquet which was given by the Lions Club of Montgomery, Friday, April 25th.

Their presence as well as that of a select group of the Bond and Key orchestra who played a number of selections during the banquet was the request of Mr. William Decker, chairman. About one hundred persons were of the social committee.

About one hundred persons were present at this banquet which was given by the Lions Club in honor of their Ladies.

PI GAMMA MU TO HOLD BUSINESS MEETING

Pennsylvania Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu will hold its regular business meeting on Monday evening, May 5th, at six thirty o'clock, in room 104 of Gustavus Adolphus Hall.

The newly-elected members of Pi Gamma Mu are cordially invited to attend this meeting, and all other members are urged to attend.

Susquehanna Faces Busy Week-end

While the Base Ball Nine Invade Foreign Territory, Susquehanna is Scene of Three Track Meets

Susquehanna's baseball team will invade foreign territory this coming week-end and faces two of the hardest opponents on the schedule. Friday the Orange and Maroon go to Penn State to attack the Nittany Lions and move over to Huntingdon on Saturday to meet the Juniata Indians.

Rain and cold weather have played havoc with practice and games this spring. For the first time in years a southern trip was taken. Rain washed three of the five scheduled games into discard. One game was lost and P. M. C. was defeated. The positions on the team seem definitely settled with the exception of shortstop. Foltz has started all the games played so far but an injury has slowed his playing down until he was given a rest to recuperate. Palmer, Kline and Herman have been working out at the position but just who will get the call is problematical. The rest of the infield is well taken care of, with Ramik at first, Captain Good on second and Spiegelmeyer at third. Spiegelmeyer's playing in the games so far has been a revelation.

In the cuffed Malasky and Snyder are regulars with Stroup pushing Donnell for the third position.

The pitching staff should be in fine shape for the trip. Danks has entirely recovered from an infection on his arm and is again ready to take his turn on the mound while Heim and Donnell are two capable right handers who always turn in a creditable performance. Shaeffer who has landed the catching job is improving with each game.

President G. Morris Smith Gives Dinner in Horton Dining Hall, Dr. Manhart is Speaker

Members of the Theological faculty, students and pastors in service, who are taking work in the seminary were the guests of President G. Morris Smith last Thursday, April 24, at twelve fifteen o'clock. The dinner was held in the University Dining Hall and a delightful hour was spent in fellowship and the bright outlook for Susquehanna University was discussed. There were about thirty persons in attendance at the party.

Dr. Frank P. Manhart, dean of the Seminary, gave a short address and the opportunity was offered many oaths to give short speeches.

Dr. MARY E. MARKLEY VISITS SUSQUEHANNA CAMPUS

Dr. Mary E. Markley, representing the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church in America, is visiting Susquehanna's campus from Monday to Wednesday of this week. Dr. Markley has recently returned from an extensive trip abroad including visits to the Orient. A tea will be given Tuesday afternoon in Seibert Hall by the Young women in her honor. Miss Markley will talk in chapel on Wednesday morning. She will be pleased to hold conferences with the young ladies of Seibert Hall while she is here.

Elections were held for the officers for the Press Committee, along with the Susquehanna Staff, last Wednesday.

The following were elected to the offices: president, Russel Crouse; vice president, Jerome Kaufman; secretary, Russel Shilling; inspectors, Russel Yoas and Walter Foukrod.

With the exception of the latter officers, which are selected from the Senior class, the other officers are selected from members of the Theological Department.

Y. M. C. A. Officers to be Hosts of S. U.

Thirty-ninth Annual Officers' Training Course to be Held Here from May 1 to May 11

Thirty-ninth annual Y. M. C. A. officers training conference will be held this year on the Susquehanna University campus at Selinsgrove, Pa. The conference dates are the 1, 2, 3 and 4 of May.

The purpose of the conference is to acquaint the officers of the various Y. M. C. A. organizations with the program and policies with the real purpose of Y. M. C. A. work and to answer the campus problems that arise during the school year.

Registration for the conference is from 5:00 to 6:00 p. m. on May 1st. After the registration there will be held one of the outstanding features of the conference, a Camp Fire fellowship of the newly elected Y. M. C. A. President.

Of the speakers at the conference the foremost are Dr. J. E. Skillington, Rev. N. D. Goehring and Frank Bancroft. These men will give addresses to the conference at various meetings throughout the period and they will also assist in leading some conference groups.

Dr. Skillington, of Altoona, is Superintendent of the Altoona District, Methodist Church. He will address the conference on "How Live Christ" and "Jesus Christ and Human Needs."

He is a graduate of Dickinson Seminary, Dickinson College, and Drew Seminary. He has had a great amount of experience with young people.

Rev. Norman D. Goehring is Student Pastor of the United Lutheran Church for Greater Boston, where he is carrying on a very fine program. He is a favorite with students because of his sympathetic and democratic attitude toward student problems.

Frank G. Bancroft graduated from Princeton in '26 and will graduate from the Episcopal Seminary at Alexandria, Va., in June. Real interest has been shown regarding his going to Lahore, India, in August as the representative of the students of the Middle Atlantic Area.

While at Princeton he was Associate Secretary of the Philadelphia Society and he has traveled for the Middle Atlantic Field Council. He has been a leader for several years at the summer conferences at Eagles Mere and at (Concluded on Page 4.)

P. M. C. Unable to Stop Orange and Maroon Hitting; Ramik Hits Three Bagger and Spiegelmeyer a Homer

On the last day of the Southern trip the Orange and Maroon slugged their way to a brilliant victory over P. M. C. with a score of 7-2. Bob Donnell was on the mound for the Little Crusaders and pitched air-tight ball throughout the contest, allowing but three hits, while his teammates amassed a total of twelve.

Spiegelmeyer, playing a stellar game at the hot corner for the Little Crusaders this year, bagged the first home run of the season. His circuit ball came in the sixth inning, scoring Ramik, who was on third. Spiegelmeyer had a real distance drive, clouting the ball over the left fielder's head and then rolling through the fence. "Herbie" had a single too besides his homer.

Captain Good found his batting eye and clouted out two singles and a nice double in five trips to the plate. Ramik again displayed real hitting strength, registering a long three-bagger and a double and in addition had two well executed stolen bases. Shaeffer made a start in gaining his hitting stride with three safe singles in four times at bat.

The Little Crusaders opened their scoring attack in the second inning, when Spiegelmeyer singled, but was caught trying to make second. Foltz next man not on and then stole second and third, and scored when Shaeffer singled. It was also in this inning that Warren and Drago tallied P. M. C.'s only two runs.

Susquehanna rallied and overcame the one run lead in the sixth inning when Donnell drew a base on balls and then stole second. Ramik con-

INTRODUCTORY

With this issue of THE SUSQUEHANNA we as a newly elected Staff make our introductory by submitting our first paper for your approval.

We intend to take up the work where our predecessors have left off and "Keep the Ball Rolling" in the line of good work. There is one thing which the Staff must have in order to make THE SUSQUEHANNA a better paper, and that is the cooperation of every loyal Susquehannian. It is your paper and at all times we will gladly accept news of interest from those on and off the campus, especially do we appeal to our Alumni for news, because we are interested in you just as we hope you are interested in us.

The Staff shall, through the coming year, endeavor to make your paper and all that it represents more worthy of its readers.

SQUIRELS

About a month ago a very liberal collection was given by the students on Susquehanna Campus for the purpose of securing a number of squirrels as new occupants for our campus. Enough money was raised in this fund to purchase seven pairs of beautiful gray squirrels from Minnesota.

The creatures made their appearance on the campus after the Easter Recess and at once proceeded to make themselves quite at home, but the arrival of the students seemed to frighten them into hiding, but we hope to see more of them after they become better acquainted with their surroundings.

These two items amount to $38.66 and $24.43 or a total of $63.09, leaving a cash balance on hand of $206.01.

For a period of years interest charges on old notes have been met by the Business Managers. This has reduced the cash balance each year. Collegiate Comment

A debate on evolution, in which the Darwinian theory is to be attacked as unscientific, anti-Biblical and un-Christian may be a diversion soon at Ohio State University.

A challenge for the debate has been issued by leaders of the recently organized Holiness League, which proposes to blast the evolutionary theory from under any scientists who care to defend it.

With the challenge comes word that the League, which the Ohio State Lantern, student daily newspaper, branded "useless and impractical," is branching out and is even now seeking to form a "charter" at the University of Chicago.

"If our challenge for the debate is accepted, we are prepared to give the scientific fakirs a run for their money," said Rev. Raymond Browning, adviser of the League. "We will show that the connection between man and the apes exist only in plaster of paris forms in museums."

Leaders of the League aim to form an organization of national scope, with active groups at all the leading universities.

Samuel J. Williams, graduate student and a director of the Holiness League, was sent to the University of Chicago to investigate the possibilities of forming a group there.

Rev. Brown claims the project to be "a forerunner of better moral conditions in all schools."

The Holiness League was formed several weeks ago with the avowed intention of combatting bobbed hair, card playing, theaters, dancing, petting, smoking and worldly dress.

The campaign opened with the distribution of 10,000 pamphlets attacking present moral conditions on the campus.

None of the members of the League has bobbed hair and those taken in will be required to have tresses at least in the growing stage. This requirement is in accordance with the "crowning glory" of biblical fame.

If the university administration is agreeable to the plan, the Holiness League will endeavor to present chapel programs in the near future. President George W. Rightwood refused to grant permission for an open air service on the Long Walk several weeks ago.

Two leading sororities of the University of Akron have announced their permanent withdrawal from all political combines, which one of them calls "small town stuff."

Both sororities have been members of allied groups of fraternal organizations backing definite slates of candidates for college offices. Entrance of the organized non-fraternity group during the last two years has made these party affiliations much stronger than before.

Rita McShaffrey, president of Delta Gamma, reporting the decision of that group, said:

"It is generally recognized that it is no honor to secure an elective office on this campus under present political conditions.

"Many efforts have been made to remove certain offices from the political influence which is ever present at the University. Such an attempt was recently made by the Student Council, when it provided a faculty and student committee to select a cheer leader.

"I believe we have taken an important step in withdrawing entirely from politics."

The Marian Walsh, president of Kappa Kappa Gamma, said: "Politics at the University of Akron are run on a very unjust basis. Names are put up and supported with no consideration of the individual's ability and fitness for the position.

"The national organization of Kappa Kappa Gamma absolutely forbids any participation in college politics which they regard as "small town stuff."

Dr. C. H. STEIN

SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

Dr. C. H. Stein, who is now serving as pastor of the St. John's Lutheran Church, of Lock Haven, addressed the student body of the University on the opening day of school after Easter recess, April 23. Dr. Stein's subject was "Motivation for a College Education."

Dr. Stein and his church are both very much interested in the work and welfare of Susquehanna.

SPEAKS AT BANQUET

President G. Morris Smith was the guest of honor at a banquet given by the Milton "Y" Bowlers last Thursday evening, April 24, at which time he gave an address. The banquet was given under the auspices of the Milton Y. M. C. A.

The sport of bowling is said to be one of Milton's greatest spring sports.

ALUMNI NOTES

W. E. C., '34

"Author's note: Having lived for more than a quarter century among the archaic and fossiliferous environment of the San Francisco Bay, I am in a position to speak dogmatically upon several subjects never before discussed. To be able to present my scientific conclusions, after years of expensive and diligent research, to the readers of The Susquehanna, is to me a great and abiding joy. With the expectation that my deductions will receive as serious consideration as my reputation demands, I am offering you my "Advanced Lessons in Science."

All nature is romantic. Centuries before the hump-backed hypodagamos pushed up the Adirondack Mountains, or the scoop-shovel-billed Epizoetic dug the winding channel of the Susquehanna; in fact, just at the time the saber-toothed gander was fighting furiously to maintain his dominion against the invasion of the triple-plated crocodiles in the fertile valley of the Ooze, lived a race of beings who were called from the name of their land, Oozels. Extensive excavations in this remote land have unearthed the records of a startling romance, and incidentally thrown new light upon an ancient problem.

From the clay tablets of the Oozel land we learn that a charming young Oozel of the fairer sex was being courted by a dashing young prince of the Ziberabus race, who lived over the Woolwabus Mountains. One day when the prince's love was stronger than his discretion (so rare a thing today that I should stop and explain what it means) he seized the charming Oozel, threw her upon his Darn-a-sore-head, and dashed off far over the mountains.

Now it happened that a young Damp whose address then is still unknown, was spending his vacation in the solitudes of the Woolwabus Mountains. He was attracted by the grind of the Darn-a-sore-head as the beast went up on low. A moment more and he had heard the mute but eloquent appeal for help in the eyes of the panting monster he commanded it to halt, and with a left hook to the right ear, sent the astonished prince to greet his forebears with a broken neck. The Oozel dried her tears. The caravan turned into a side path, and the Damp sang according to the records something that went like "O, oh! Tel Swe Te He." We have not yet found a key to the language the Damp used, but our office girl says she has heard something like it and she thinks she could interpret it, but nothing must find its way into this paper but what has been definitely demonstrated to be a scientific certainty.

From this romance has arisen the numerous progeny of "Damphooz." Early in the history of America a single pair landed in New York, and their offspring are Abraham. The name has become Americanized through an evolutionary process. It generally appears today with the "e" dropped and the "l" pushed up before the "z" and is pronounced "Damphoolz." "Throw-backs" are the rule instead of the exception and in this day of cheap automobiles Damphoolz are constantly appearing when and where they are least expected. In the author's own family, where the law has been dormant for three generations, it has recently become violently active.

RE-ECHOS FROM

SEIBERT HALL

By Miss Terious

It would seem that a certain Junior girl has changed the preference from very blond to very dark. Explain yourself, Mary.

All the sports attended the Sports Dance on Saturday night. Everyone seems to agree that an orchestra certainly keeps the interest centered in the Social Room instead of on the campus. We believe that Mary Esther Potter had a g-r-a-a-n-d time.

Sunday made this old place look like a garden of fashion. Verily—long skirts have it. S. U.'s women have certainly good taste in clothes. How do you fellows like the parade up and down Walnut street. Give us time, we'll soon get used to our new duds.

Libby, how does Lefty dance?

The Penn Relays took three of the Seibert Hall Club members away. We're sure that they are glad that there are no track meets away every week-end. We girls miss our steady callers.

Have you noticed that Eleanor Sheriff does not miss any meals since we changed tables?

Isabelle Moritz is robbing the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company this week-end. It seems familiar to have Ed. around again.

SPORT BITS

During the Southern trip Foltz and Stroup seemed to be the "storm center," at least they furnished plenty of free entertainment for the boys.

They had to call out the fire department at Mt. St. Mary's when Raminck hit his three-bagger and as he was going around the bases he accidentally swallowed his chew.

Famous Susquehanna baseball expression: The Coach—"Dow-gasted," Shaeffer—"Mighty Shous, I can't see those ball," Raminck—"where is the old Ginger," Lolly—"Woo! Woo!" Umpire—Duck.

Prof. Grossman is figuring on discharging the Essex and have his relay men enter the "bumion derby" to the Penn Relays next year. He might make slightly better time, for it took him twelve hours this year.

Manager Crossman claims that on the next baseball trip a "lost and found" bureau will be organized, for the boys couldn't keep track of their grips on the Southern trip very well.

Coach Ullery made his dancing debut in Russ Heim's "coolie coat" down at the Quantic Marines. We wonder who Heim bought the coat for.

Captain Good was quite worried because the bus driver could only see part way around the corners on the trip.

Snyder was glad to get back. He claims that he was home sick for Middeburg. By the way, Snyder lost his mustache.

FACULTY MEMBERS ATTEND ALUMNI GROUP BANQUET

President G. Morris Smith, Dr. J. I. Woodruff, and Prof. L. D. Grossman, General Alumni Secretary, were present at an Alumni Banquet in Wilkes-Barre, which was held at the Hotel Terminal on Monday, April 28th, at 6:30 o'clock.

At this meeting as at similar meetings plans were presented to the Alumni for the drive which Susquehanna is going to put over in order that their Alma Mater may be made a better school.

Music was furnished by the Chello Trio, of Susquehanna, which is composed of Miss Lois Brungart, Cellist; Miss Charlotte Berwick, violinist, and Miss Margaret Kirkpatrick, pianist.

SUSQUEHANNA ORCHESTRA TO GIVE ANNUAL CONCERT

The Susquehanna University Orchestra will present its annual concert on Friday, May 2nd at Seibert Chapel Hall. Mrs. Bertha Rodgers, head of the Voice Department of the Conservatory, and Professor Donald Hemphill, professor of violin, will be the soloists for the evening.

Under the direction of Professor Hemphill the orchestra has worked hard all year and hopes to present a very enjoyable concert.

It pays to patronize The Susquehanna advertisers.

The following schedule has been worked out:

Monday, May 5—4:15, Frosh vs. Seniors.

Tuesday, May 6th—4:15, Juniors vs. Sophomores.

Wednesday, May 7th—4:15, Juniors vs. Seniors.

AMUSEMENTS

Tonight will be the last night for "The Love Parade" at the Stanley. This picture is filled with romance and has plenty of humor. This is one of Maurice Chevalier's best pictures, and this time he has Jeanette McDonald playing opposite him.

"The 13th Chair" with Conrad Nagel and Leila Hyman will show Wednesday night. This picture is a mystery murder case, and contains many thrills.

On Thursday, Betty Compson, one of the screens best known stars will show at the Stanley in the play "The Great Gabbo."

"Tanned Legs" with Arthur Lake and Ann Pennington will be the feature for Friday night.

On Saturday, Hoot Gibson will be the main attraction featuring the "Long, Long, Trail."

Crusaders Lose to Nittany Lions

The Orange and Maroon Lost 13-6, After Out-Hitting Penn State's Strong Nine, 14-12

Although the Orange and Maroon nine out-hit the Nittany Lions 14-12 in Friday afternoon's game, they had to be satisfied with taking the weak end of the count, 12-6, after making some bold attempts to snatch the victory from State and during these spurts flashed real form.

Coach Uleley gave "Lefty" Danks the assignment for the mound but due to a strong wind, which kept him from pitching effective ball, he retired in favor of Heim in the fourth inning when the score stood 5-0 in State's favor and with the gradual let-up of the wind pitched effective ball, but in spite of this the Lions managed to bombard him for seven hits, bringing in seven more runs.

State used three pitchers. Captain Fry started on the mound for the hosts and was driven to the showers. Pinkerton then took the mound and after facing several batters was also walloped from the box in favor of DeBoris, who stayed on the mound for the remainder of the game and pitched good ball.

Trouble for the Little Crusaders came in the first inning when Diedrick hit a three bagger bringing in a run and scored when Saltzman clouted out a homer. Some more difficulties were encountered in the third inning, when Diedrick doubled and Drill, next man up, clouted another homer, scoring two runs.

The Susquehanna nine threatened in the fourth, when Malasky singled, and Bob Donnell came through with a pretty double and then Herman was hit by a free pass. Shaffer, next man up, failed to come through with the necessary hit and the side was retired. Heim was hit for two bingles in the inning, and by some costly mistakes by his teammates gave State two more runs.

In the fifth the Orange and Maroon nine staged a real rally, which threw a real scare into the State crew. Heim, first man up, singled and then Captain Good, next man up, clouted out a long drive for a home run, with Heyde circling the bases before him. Snyder next man up, kept the ball rolling with a single, and then Speiglemyer singled as Snyder took third and on a passed ball both men tallied, counting four runs altogether. State in this same inning touched Heim for a hit which netted another run.

The sixth was another good inning for Susquehanna, and the Crusaders fought hard to overcome the handicap. Heim again started off a rally with a nice double, and then Good doubled and scored Heim, taking third on an error by Musser and then went home on a passed ball. Speiglemyer then drew a free pass and Ramick and Malasky, next two men up, each having a single, but died on base again when Donnell skied.

Although the Little Crusaders went down to defeat at the hands of Penn State, they were up against a hard hitting ball club, but even at this the Orange and Maroon displayed a real (Concluded on Page 4.)

Let's Go to the Junior Prom

Listen, folks—bend near and get an earful! It is rumored that the latest requirements for passing a year's work, are that everyone must learn to dance! Now we ask you, in all fairness, isn't there an event scheduled which will help you all pass your courses—in fact, lead toward your master's degree and give you a whole of a good time as well?

What is it? Don't be silly. Why the Junior Prom, of course.

The date of it is on May 17. It is the fitting climax to the beautiful May Day Festival to be held that day.

The place where it will be held is the Alumni Gymnasium which will resemble the Ritz, instead of the scene of Prof. Grossman's frolics.

The Orchestra is none other than Buck Weaver's, and are they good? You should ask.

The price—were't almost ashamed to state it, it's so paltry for such an event—only three dollars a couple.

Keep this in mind, write it on your mirrors, get a ticket from any member of the Junior Class and LET'S GO!

S. U. Netmen Tie Juniata, 3-3

Capt. Kiracofe and Adams Wins Singles, Kiracofe, Spear Win Doubles, Other Matches Close

Susquehanna's netmen tied Juniata College in their initial match of the season, at Huntingdon, last Saturday. The match was unusually long and required over four hours for completion. The final score was 3-3.

With Juniata in the lead 3-2, Captain Kiracofe and Reed fought furiously to win their doubles match with Imhof and Swigart. Juniata men, in order to tie the tournament.

The Indians took the first set of this match, 7-5. The Crusaders, finding themselves retailed by taking the next match, 6-2. The third match was extended to 11-9. In this match, Juniata took the first three games, Susquehanna came back and took the next three. From then on it was nip and tuck until the Orange and Maroon men finally won the two necessary successive games in an exciting finish.

All of Susquehanna's men displayed fine form in this match. Petry, a Freshman, playing his first collegiate match, teamed with Juniata's captain, and first man, acquitted himself very commendably.

TO MY MOTHER

Who offered her life that I might live? Who guided me, believed me, loved me enough to improve me, kept faith in me, held me to the highest, taught me to walk in single faith, unshamed, undismayed, along the "plain path of daily duty?"

For her on earth or in heaven, I give my devotion, lofty allegiance, tender love, and my acknowledgement of all her life has taught me.

The Susquehanna offers this piece in appreciation of our Mothers.

SHERMAN GOOD

Good Captain of Diamond Nine

Good, One of Susquehanna's Outstanding Players, Will Pilot Her Team Through 42nd Season

To Sherman Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Good, of Middleburg, has fallen the honor of piloting Susquehanna through her 42nd season of baseball. Not since the days of "Bumpy" LeRoy Stetler, prominent Middleburg architect, has the county seat of Snyder furnished an Orange and Maroon diamond leader.

Seteler led the team in 1907 and also held down the initial sock. "Ginger" Tenfel, now pastor of the Lutheran Church at Staunton, Va., was the student coach, manager and player.

Good an Able Leader

Good, Susquehanna's 1930 diamond leader is undoubtedly the team's outstanding player. He has been a varsity player and letterman every year since entering college, and last year led his team mates in batting. He is a hard, consistent player, and at second base has withstood the onslaughts of the best of rival candidates every year.

Good's versatility is evidenced by the fact that he is the pianist of a college orchestra which filled a season's engagement at Bedford Springs, Pa., last summer and they are booked for a return engagement during the 1930 season. He is also a member of the college band.

"Goodie" will graduate in June, having completed the course in general Science. He will engage in teaching next year.

S. U. Nine Defeated by Juniata

Ramick Has Full House with Homer, Triple, Double and Single; Little Crusaders Out-hit 11-6

On Saturday afternoon the Orange and Maroon nine playing a hard fought game, were set back by the Juniata Indians at Huntingdon by the score 9-6. Juniata out-hit the Little Crusaders 11-6, but Susquehanna had her hits at the right time, so as to do the most with the least amount of bingles. Out of the six hits every one was for more than one base.

Bob Donnell started on the mound, but was relieved by "Lefty" Danks in the sixth, who went the rest of the innings for the Little Crusaders. Snyder held the mound assignment for the Indians and went the entire route.

Ramick proved to be the "big stickler" for the day, having a perfect day at the plate with a home run, a triple, a double and a single. Every one of Ramick's hits was clean, and his home run and triple were terrific wallops. Besides Ramick's heavy hitting he also played his usually good game on the field.

Juniata started the scoring in the first inning, when Steel got to first on an error. Ataski, next man up, struck out and Andrews, classy first sacker for the Indians, then knocked out a triple scoring one run and wear home himself on a passed ball. Laporte then (Concluded on Page 4.)

Delaware Defeated by S. U. Trackmen

Gerhardt Sets New High Jump Record, Susquehanna Takes All Places in 3 Events and Clinches Meet

After losing during most of the meet, Susquehanna came through in the last few events on the program to defeat Delaware College 69-57 Saturday afternoon on the athletic field here. Susquehanna took first, second, and third in the broad jump and the 880 yard run, the two final events.

The most outstanding feature of the meet was the high jump in which Gerhardt smashed the school record by clearing the bar at five feet, nine and one-half inches. This was the only outstanding work the Orange and Maroon did in the field events and had to depend almost entirely upon its running events to take the meet.

The highest individual scoring for the local team was divided between two Freshmen, Myers and Swann, each totaling nine points in the three events they entered. Captain Welky was a close second with eight points to his credit. In all eight members of the team earned letters in the meet Saturday. They were Captain Welky, Gerhardt, Myers, Swann, Hartline, Carolan, Knouse, and Neiswenter.

The results of the events are as follows:

100 yard dash—Won by Sorman, Delaware; Welky, Susquehanna, second; Myers, Susquehanna, third. Time, 10.2 sec.

220 yard dash—Won by Sorman, Delaware; Myers, Susquehanna, second; Reynolds, Susquehanna, third. Time, 22.3 sec.

440 yard dash—Won by Swann, Susquehanna; Knouse, Susquehanna, second; Neiswenter, Susquehanna, third. Time, 53.5 sec.

880 yard run—Won by Meyers, Susquehanna; Knouse, Susquehanna, second; Myers, Susquehanna, third. Time, 2:10.2.

One mile run—Won by Carolan, Susquehanna; Hepler, Susquehanna, second; Knepp, Susquehanna, third. Time, 1:04.5.

Miss Mary E. Markley Addresses Chapel

Miss Mary E. Markley, secretary of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church of America, delivered a very interesting lecture in chapel Wednesday of last week.

Miss Markley, who has spent a number of years in the foreign mission field, especially in India, spoke on the educational problems in India with special reference to the work of Gandhi.

She outlined in brief the aims of the noted Hindu reformer in his fight against British control. She also told of some of her personal contacts with this famous man.

Miss Markley also gave talks to students in the Theological department as well as to members of the School Hygiene class of which Dr. George E. Fisher is instructor.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

There are two Criticisms relative to student government, the one coming from the faculty and the other from the student body.

"Abolish student government." This is the request of a number of critics, who claim that it has no real value. It is ridiculous, they say, to expect a council of inexperienced girls to govern a dormitory under the name of student government, which at its best is just an impracticable ideal. We retaliate their criticism, however, by denying that student government is complete student administration. It is directly responsible to the college administration through the Dean of Women, who oversees all action.

Students say, "What's the use of having student government? Regardless of their claims, it is faculty administration in the final analysis." Again we say that the criticism is wrong. Student government is neither complete student nor faculty administration; it is a combination of the two—a co-operative system. Between the Dean of Women and the Student Council there exists a close cooperation in order to maintain a harmonious relationship. In case of a variance of opinion between the faculty advisor and the council, the latter is permitted to experiment with their plan in case it is not seriously detrimental.

With the installation of the 1930-31 Student Council in Seibert Hall on Thursday night, Women's Cooperative Government began its sixth year as an organization on our campus. A feeling of pride and satisfaction comes to those of us who have been governed by this body for a number of years, and we are especially gratified over the excellent progress which this council has experienced since its organization in 1925.

At the time of its founding the body was composed of eight members and its duties and rights were very limited. From this embryonic beginning, the organization has progressed and taken on powers to a much greater extent than might have been conceived of five years ago. Today, this group handles practically all the disciplinary and regulative problems as well as the executive concerning Susquehanna women.

Women's Cooperative Council is composed of two members from each sorority and two girls selected from the day-student group. The body is purely representative of the women as a whole. Its officers include a president, vice president and a secretary-treasurer. In addition to the council proper, a House Committee, composed of six Hall chairmen with the vice president of student council, regulate affairs within the building.

Student government's responsibilities are now almost unlimited. Not only matters of discipline but such minor considerations as the assignment of chapel seats, the tabulation of chapel cuts, provision for fire protection by drills and definite regulations, telephone duty and social matters come under its jurisdiction.

Y. W. C. A. cabinet and the various duties of that body, also Inter-sorority council are subordinate to the Women's Cooperative government and their activities are subject to the sanction of council. This brings all matters of an executive nature under the power of one group and eliminates a great deal of the confusion and misunderstanding which existed heretofore.

Aside from the advantages resulting in a material way from student government there are far more important although less obvious benefits. For instance, the offices of proctors and hall chairmen train leaders in executive work. Each dormitory girl is required to serve in such a capacity at some time in her college life. To those girls holding council positions, legislative training is afforded. Problems are analyzed, solutions are offered, and various experiments are tried. Moreover, the honor system, which is the very foundation of student government deepens a girl's sense of responsibility. The individual life of each girl is regulated not by the alert watchfulness of some overseer, but by her own sense of honor. The importance of performing little things to the best of her ability is particularly stressed. The greatest good of student government might be summarized in saying that it trains individuals for practical life after college. Certainly with these benefits resulting from it, student government, at Susquehanna, has proved itself an indispensable organization.

IS SUSQUEHANNA UNIVERSITY AN ASSET TO SELINSGROVE?

Many people have repeatedly raised the question whether a higher institution of learning is an asset or a liability to a community. This question has been affirmed and denied, settled and unsettled to the satisfaction of somebody. The answers given invariably have been a matter of mere personal opinion. Strange to say nobody seemed to have taken the trouble really to find out what were the actual facts of case.

A short time ago a questionnaire was circulated among the students of Susquehanna University for the expressed purpose of determining the economic advantage of the college to Selinsgrove and to the immediate community. The following constitutes the questionnaire:

1. Do you receive an allowance from home?
2. Do you have a checking account at the—

- (a) First National Bank.
- (b) Snyder Clothing Trust Co.
- (c) Farmers National Bank.
- (d) At any other bank.

3. What are your average monthly expenditures in Selinsgrove?

The following places are listed to assist you in reaching an estimate:

- (a) Grocery stores and meat markets.
- (b) Drug stores and soda fountains.
- (c) Stationery, books, newspaper, circulating library.
- (d) Shoe shop.
- (e) Hotel and restaurant.
- (f) Bakery.
- (g) Dairy products.
- (h) Music store.
- (i) Beauty shoppe and barber.
- (j) Florist, green house.
- (k) Theatre.
- (l) Hardware store.
- (m) Electric shop.
- (n) Dentist.
- (o) Doctor.
- (p) Street car.
- (q) Post office.
- (r) Garage (gas, oil, repairs).
- (s) Tailor, cleaning, repairing and pressing establishment.
- (t) Shoe repairing.

5. What are your average monthly expenditures on the campus? The following places are listed to assist you in reaching an estimate:

- (a) At the college book and student cooperative stores.
- (b) Admission to dances and entertainments.
- (c) Fees, dues, etc.
- (d) All other items.

Total per month for the campus. The whole investigation was so managed that the identity of each student did not need to be disclosed. The vast majority of the papers gave definite evidence that the students were conscientious in supplying the data. Of the 373 regular college students, 254 turned in their questionnaires. The following constitutes the tabulated data:

1. Receive an allowance from home. 149 students.
2. Have a checking account at local banks. 76 students.
3. Have a checking account at other banks. 87 students.
4. Average monthly expenditure in Selinsgrove per student during the college year—$13.35.
5. Average monthly expenditure on the campus per student during the college year—$6.12.

The reader will please note that the total amount spent monthly in Selinsgrove by students is $3,306.38, or an average of $13.35 per student. When those students who have families to support, faculty members and other employees of the institution are included, then the total amount spent per month in Selinsgrove becomes very much higher.

It is very evident that these figures are all out of proportion to the opinions usually advanced by the casually minded person of the community. One is sometimes compelled to hear some one say that a community is better off financially without the presence of the several hundred college students. The investigation, however, conclusively proves the very opposite. Susquehanna University is a real economic asset to Selinsgrove and to the immediate community. There is no gainsaying that at least a portion of the financial prosperity of the small college town is the direct outcome of the college located in her midst.

PRESIDENT SMITH IS ORATORICAL PUDGE

Upon the invitation of Professor Whyte, of Bucknell, President Smith served as one of the judges of the Inter-collegiate Oratorical Contest of the Eastern District, Thursday, May 6th. Mr. Barrett, of Bucknell, was the winner of the contest. He will go to New York for further competition.

Collegiate Comment

North Carolina State

Professor William Hand Browne, of the North Carolina State faculty, examined his class in electrical engineering, and the average mark of the class was 12 1/2 per cent.

The students returned to Professor Browne's classroom several days later to find the door closed and the following note fixed upon it: "The papers from this class are the poorest I ever got in twenty years of teaching."

"It would not be wise to bother me for the rest of the week, which I must spend in humiliation and prayer."

Penn State

Al Wolff, former boxing captain, who won twenty-eight consecutive bouts as a college boxer, made his debut in the professional ring two weeks ago.

Pitt

The famed Pitt basketball machine will be broken up by the graduation of Hyatt, Zehfuss and Cohen. (Editor's note: NOW the Crusaders may have a chance).

Westminster Holed

Recently announcement was made of an increase in college tuition. While at first glance this increase seems insignificant, it, along with other increases, takes on a shade of greater importance to many of the student body.

It is generally admitted that the tuition paid by the student does not nearly cover the expense that the student is to the college, but that does not lighten the financial burden of the working student. Some southern colleges have adopted a policy of correlating the amount of tuition charged with the ability of the individual student to pay.

This makes a college education possible for thousands who under the usual system would be unable to attend.

In a democracy it is especially dangerous to have only the rich class educated and those colleges who encourage the poor are to be congratulated.

Marquette University

Night football having now become an accepted sport in collegiate circles, Marquette University is to experiment with night track meets.

The first such meet is set for May 9th, and it will be the Wisconsin Inter-collegiate Track Meet.

Wisconsin, Ripon, Beloit, Carroll, Lawrence, Marquette and some Teachers' Colleges will take part. Last year Wisconsin won, the meet being held in Madison.

Lincoln Memorial School

A stick of dynamite, its fuse partly burned, found in the administrative building of the Lincoln Memorial University, was termed a "bluff" by acting president, J. H. S. Morrison.

A strike of students has been in progress here for almost three weeks.

Echoes from Hassinger

By A. Coustics

After the departure of our guests, the Y. M. C. A. delegates and the Delaware track team a general restoration has been taking place and the boys are returning to their rooms.

Swarm and Myers make impressions on line of regular co-eds.
More queer fellows: Monday at breakfast, Bollinger made a mad dash into the dining hall with a tray full of empty cups.

Malasky has competition. Saturday Clark purchased and ate a pound of peanuts which resulted in a terrific pain in his middle anatomy, Sunday.

Fraternity Row

Epsilon Sigma

Brothers Addison Pohle and Robert Mitchell and Lawrence Semple, student of the former, were week-end guests at the Epsilon Sigma chapter house.

Pohle is a member of the faculty of the Business Department of Altoona Senior High School. He is now completing his third year of valuable service at that school.

Mitchell is assistant principal and instructor in the science at Myerstown High School. This is his fifth year of service there.

Bond and Key

The Bond and Key Club was host to six Juniata men during the recent Y. M. C. A. conference. It seems as though several of these members are considering transferring their credits to S. U. as there is some attraction at Seibert Hall.

Lee Vorlage made a brief call at the house last week when he returned from Wilkes-Barre. He had taken Bill Roberts home to convalesce. Bill had been ill with rheumatism and has been forced to give up teaching for the remainder of the semester.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Maneval visited the B. & K. house over the week-end.

Phi Mu Delta

The Phi Mu Delta Fraternity has been elected to the Senior National Interfraternity Council. Up to this time the Phi Mu Delta had been a member of the Junior council.

Among the Alumni visiting at the Phi Mu's were Patsy Gimmie and "Mush" Dykens.

Phi Lambda Theta

Phi Lambda Theta Fraternity attended Trinity Lutheran services in a body Sunday morning, May 4, 1930. It is a part of the National Constitution that the first Sunday in May be set aside to commemorate the founding of the Brotherhood.

Paul Haines journeyed to Hillheim over the week-end as usual. We are wondering whether the call to Home is as strong as the one to S. Hall.

Walter Foukrod, the orator and speaker of Phi Lambda Theta journeyed to Fremont to speak to the Young Peoples Society in St. John's Lutheran and Reformed Church. He spoke on the subject, "Some of the Major Problems of Youth Today."

Kappa Delta Phi

Kappa Delta Phi was hostess to four of its alumnae over the week-end. The visitors were "Brains" Eyer, "Nome" Foole, Essex and Jane Botsford. While at Susquehanna these girls were active in just about every line of activity. It is to take part in and it was with the greatest of pleasure that we entertained them again.

RE-ECHOS FROM SEIBERT HALL

By Miss Terious

The three musketeers, Schweitzer, DeWire and Hutchings were the participants in a lively little party at Steele Hall on Sunday afternoon. Questions concerning same are met with paroxysms of laughter.

The girls were in the entertaining mood this week-end. It seemed that everyone had a guest or two. Corinda Bloem, Mabel Foutz had her parents here; Mildred Bolick was the recipient of a call—oh, we could go on forever, but we feel sure that everyone noticed the strange and familiar faces.

We might mention that a few co-eds and their "best pals and several critics" have decided to patch things up.

Did you notice the parade of delegates for the Y. M. C. A. conference that seemed to end our girls as nice (or even nicer) than the girls on their own campuses? We girls always take the Chapel warnings about helping visitors feel at home—seriously. Fannie Stambaugh had a good time on Saturday night. Didn't you Fannie? Diane is glad that baseball trips aren't always so long.

Seibert Hall has decided that the swimming is fine now. Miss Irving and Miss Allison have taken several out to the Dam. We trust that they are not merely sun bathers.

PRESIDENT SMITH SPEAKS AT CONFERENCE

President Smith addressed the Women's Missionary Conference to the Juniata Conference of the Lutheran Synod of Central Pennsylvania at Duncannon, Tuesday, May 6th. He spoke to the conference on the subject of Christian Education.

Student Council Officers Are Installed

The following officers of the Women's Cooperative Government Association of Susquehanna University were installed on Thursday evening, May 1, at an installation meeting in the chapel:

President, Ethlyne Miller; Vice President, Elizabeth Vorlage; secretary-treasurer, Sarah Shaulis.

The meeting was opened with a scripture and a prayer by Miss Mary Eastep. This was followed by a report of the president and secretary-treasurer. Miss Anna Cleaver thanked the girls for their cooperation and asked them to show the same consideration for the new president. The retiring secretary-treasurer, Enza Wilson, gave a report of the work accomplished and the financial standing of the association.

Miss Hade made some remarks about the efficiency of the cooperative government at Susquehanna and enlarging the scope of the work of the association.

Then came the most impressive part of the service. The old and new councils dressed in white were seated on the stage. The Secretary-Treasurer read the duties of the officers to be installed. The President administered the oath of office and to the new president she transferred the cap and gown.

With this installation, a most successful, or rather the most successful year of Women's Student Council was brought to a close. The progress made and the excellent condition in which student government finds itself today, is due in a large degree to the tactful and capable manner in which the retiring president managed the duties of her responsible office.

Miss Ethlyne Miller concluded the meeting with a short speech in which she pointed out the responsibilities of the office and expressed the hope that she might be as capable a president as we had last year.

SUSQUEHANNA SEES ANOTHER BUSY WEEK-END

More busy week-ends are in store for Susquehanna, especially so, this coming week-end with two baseball games, a dual track meet and tennis match.

On Friday afternoon Maroon nine will meet Bears in their second year. Ursinus has been scheduled under their belt and will be trying to win.

On Saturday afternoon Susquehanna will open relationships with Bucknell again when they will meet them on their home diamond at Lewisburg.

Some stiff work-outs are in store for the baseball squad this week for Coach Ullery is determined to put a winning team on the field for these two games this week and there are several weak spots which he intends to iron out before the encounter with these two nines.

The track team will be out after another victory again Saturday afternoon when they will meet the Elizabethtown "cinder-track artists" in a dual meet. So far this season the track schedule has been a huge success with the victory over Delaware last Saturday and better times are in store for events in the coming meets.

On Saturday afternoon Washington College will be matched with Susquehanna in the tennis match on the home courts this year.

TEA HELD IN HONOR OF DR. MARY E. MARKLEY

Seibert Hall was the scene of a lively tea party on Tuesday afternoon of last week held by the Y. W. C. A. in honor of Dr. Mary E. Markley, a representative of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church in America, who visited Susquehanna's campus for several days.

Miss Markley, having returned from an extensive trip abroad, delivered some interesting speeches; one of the most impressive was on the famous Ghandi, which was given in chapel.

The girls were proud to have Dr. Markley as their guest, and did their best to make it an enjoyable tea.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Annual Meeting of the Athletic Association will be held on Thursday morning immediately after Chapel. At this time undergraduate representatives on the Athletic Board will be elected.

Those students who will have at least Junior standing when they take office in June are eligible.

See Bulletin Board in Gustavus Adolphus Hall for list.

You Take Pride

ON THE CAMPUS, where class buildings and memorial structures are so often distinguished by their noble form, flood-lighting equipment serves to prolong the enjoyment of their beauty and to enhance pride in the institution. » » Such an application is made for the new 165-foot campanile at South Dakota State—magnificent gift of an alumnus. clouted out another triple and was brought in on a single by Harley.
Ramik started the Orange and Maroon attack in the second inning, when he garnered a three-bagger on a hard drive and scored on Donnell's sacrifice.
Susquehanna continued the attack in the third when Stroup doubled. Snyder then got a free pass to first and Stroup scored when Gracey made an error on Speiglemeyer's drive. Ramik then stepped to the plate and clouted out a terrific drive for a homer, scoring Snyder and Speiglemeyer ahead of himself to take the lead, 5-3, after Stroup's run had tied it.

In the fourth inning the Indians scored another run when Harley singled, stole second and tallied on a double by Peel. In the fifth Juniata again took the lead when Steel got on first through an error. Atalski then singled, but is caught at second on Snyder's throw when he tried to stretch it into a double. Andrews then tripled and was brought in on Laporte's sacrifice fly. In the sixth was Juniata's tied inning in which they tallied, scoring three runs on three hits by Gracey, Stroup and Atalski.

Susquehanna's last score came in the eighth, when Captain Good, first man up, clouted out a double, but was caught off second base and thrown out. Snyder then had a scratch hit and is safe at first, advancing on an error, and tallied on Ramik's fourth hit of the game, a single to right field.

HIGH SCHOOL VISITATIONS

During the past several weeks, President Smith and Dean Dunkelberger have been visiting the high schools at Yeagerstown, Reedsville, Burnham, Hightstown, Belleville, Port Royal, Newport, Drucille, Sunbury, West Pittston, Plymouth, Red Lion and York. They contemplate visiting more high schools within the next few weeks.

The usual program pursued on these visits included an address to the high school students at their assembly on some educational subject of general interest. This was followed by a conference with the members of the senior class. The objective was to get college-minded and college-interested high school students to know more about Susquehanna University her educational program, curricula, admission requirements, annual expenses, and the opportunities for higher education that the small college alone can afford. The visitors were given a very cordial reception by the principals, faculties and student bodies.

FRANK BANCROFT SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Mr. Frank Bancroft, a graduate of Princeton University and now a student of the Episcopal Seminary at Alexandria, Virginia, spoke at the vesper services on Sunday evening.

Mr. Bancroft is remembered by his friends as something less than a professional baseball player and persuasive bookkeeper but they remember him as a deep Christian. He spoke on the occasion of The Student's Religion.

To Address Mr. Bancroft expects to go to India as a missionary and helper of Mr. K. T. Paul, National Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in India.

SPORT BITS

"Prexy" Smith had a close call at the track meet Saturday, when he nearly got into trouble with a State patrolman for not having an "official tag" which admitted one to the field. Prof. Grossman, however, managed to warn the "cop" of his mistake before "Prexy" had been confronted by the patrolman.

Ramik wants practice called off immediately when it starts to rain, for he is afraid the rain will take the curl out of his hair.

Coach Ulery's statement that Gerhardt made his last public appearance did not hold true, for this famous Susquehanna athlete's name appears in the limelight again after he jumped 5 feet 9 1/2 inches to break his old standing record in the dual meet Saturday.

Kline, an aspirant for the shortstop position, claims he has the exact form of "Mule" Haas, so if we have never seen "Mule" in action, take a look at Kline in practice.

Speaking of "cops," Ramik put his head out of the window in the bus in Huntingdon and "accidentally splashed" a State patrolman on the corner.

The coach claims that all the team needs now is an Al Johnson when they go away on a trip.

Someone remarked on Friday morning when the team started out in their "Royal Coach" that they would not be on a sight-seeing tour this trip, but would be on a "side seeing" tour.

The fellows on the baseball squad are going to conduct a special class, so that they will be able to teach "Fritz" Naigle how to wear a baseball suit.

Ursinus Bears

"Lefty" Danks Holds Mound for S. U.; Captain Good Has Homer; Ramik Has Triple Again

Playing before a large crowd of loyal rooters and under ideal skies, the Susquehanna nine made a real day out of Friday, when they defeated the Ursinus Bears by a score of 5-3 on the home diamond.

The Ursinus team, boasting of victories over Franklin and Marshall, Lafayette, and Lebanon Valley were confident of a victory when they crossed bats with the Orange and Maroon nine Friday afternoon, but before the game was over, they discovered they were up against a pretty hard club.

"Lefty" Danks drew the mound assignment for the day. Although "Lefty" was nicked for five bingles, he was facing a crew of hard hitting ball players, and displayed the best mound work so far this season. In the sixth and eighth innings there was a run pushed over in each one of these frames with only one hit.

Karpinger toed the rubber for the Bears for the full amount of innings and pitched some good ball.

Ramik again proved to be the main-spring in the Susquehanna hitting attack, and came through with a pretty triple, which could have easily been stretched into a homer with a fast man on the bases. This blow came exactly at the right moment with the bases crowded and one man down in the fifth inning. Ramik's triple was a terrific clout down along the first base line, rolling to the fence around the outfield.

Alumni Day to be "Red Letter Day"

Main Feature of Alumni Day to be President's Reception at Pine Lawn

It has been the usual custom to have Alumni Day on the Saturday before Commencement but this year it has been changed to Monday, June 9th, through the suggestion of the Alumni Clergy of Susquehanna, who felt that this would enable a greater number to attend.

It is the aim of those in charge to make this a "red letter day" in the Commencement week program.

The program of the day will be filled with athletic and business activities. In the evening a novel feature will take place, this is the President's Reception at Pine Lawn. Students, Alumni and people of Selingsgrove are most cordially invited.

We sincerely hope that many of the Alumni and friends of Susquehanna will be present to enjoy the many activities of the day.

SUSQUEHANNA CAMPAIGN TO COME BEFORE SYNOD

Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania now in session at Berwick will be presented with the matter of the coming campaign for Susquehanna University.

The campaign will call for $500,000 which is to be added to the endowment fund and $150,000 to be used for the improvement of buildings and grounds. It is believed the Susquehanna Synod will rally and back the University in its forward and progressive ideas. In all likelihood a synodical committee will be appointed to take care of the matter.

Next week the Allegheny Synod will meet in the Temple Lutheran Church at Altoona. This Synod will also take up the campaign as they are ardent supporters as well as annual contributors to the work of Susquehanna.

Representatives of the University will be present at the meetings of both synods to present the campaign.

Washington Netmen

Defeated by S. U.

Adams, Speer, Kiracofe and Petry Played Ace-High Tennis in Defeating Washington 5-1

Continuing their ace-high brand of tennis displayed in the tournament with the Juniata Indians at Huntingdon, the Susquehanna racquetmen downed the Washington College team in easy fashion on the local courts, Saturday afternoon, by the score of 5-1.

The Crusaders failed in their attempt to blank the visitors when Captain Kiracofe and Reed Speer lost in their doubles match with Johnston and Clark, of the Chestertown college.

All four Orange and Maroon men entered in the singles won their matches, three of them in only two sets. Petry, after having lost his first set, 4-6, staged a comeback and won the two following sets, 6-4, 6-4. In a series of rallies that thrilled the spectators.

Adams and Burford had to go the limit of three sets in their doubles matches with Dadds and Cooper of the visitors. They lost the first set, 4-6, but rallied and took the next two, 6-3, 6-3.

The complete scores were as follows: Singles: Adams (S) versus Johnston (W), 6-3; 6-3. Speer (S) versus Clark (W), 6-3; 6-4. Kiracofe (S) versus Dadds (W), 6-0; 7-5.

Petry (S) versus Cooper (W), 4-6; 6-4; 6-4.

Doubles: Kiracofe and Speer (S) versus Johnston and Clark (W), 3-6; 3-6. Adams and Burford (S) versus Doods and Cooper (W), 4-6; 6-3; 6-3.

"Skippy" Glenn Captain of 1929-30 Basket Ball Team is Re-elected By Team Mates

Harold Glenn, better known to S. U. students as "Skippy" will have the rare honor of leading the Susquehanna basketball quintet two years in succession. Glenn acted as captain of the team this year and his work was so satisfactory that he has again been selected by his team mates to lead the Crusaders through their campaign next season.

CAPT. GLENN

"Skippy" was easily the outstanding player on the team this season. Besides carrying the bulk of the defense his brilliant passing and accurate shooting was one of the main factors in the team's attack. In his freshman year Glenn played forward but was shifted

History of Baseball at Susquehanna

Baseball One of Susquehanna's Oldest Sports; Brief Sketches of Baseball at S. U.

Little is known of the very earliest beginnings of the national pastime at Susquehanna. Apparently the first organized ball team contained upon its roster, Dr. H. N. Pollmer, of the S. U. faculty; Rev. J. W. Shanson, D.D., now pastor at Mt. Union, and Prof. Sumner Smyser, resident of Selingsgrove and member of the Sunbury high school faculty.

The First Varsity Baseball at Susquehanna had its inception with the team of 1897.

Those early players were captained by Harry B. Hare, of Johnstown, later district attorney of Blair county, and one of this institution's best known alumni.

The manager was that equally famous Dr. Frank E. Woodley, of Buffalo, N. Y., who went to the University of Pennsylvania from Susquehanna and while he studied dentistry there played quarter back on the Red and Blue's victorious teams for two seasons.

The lineup of that initial team was: Harry B. Hare, c; Joe Langham, p; Charles Yon, lb; Frank E. Woodley, 2b; Harry C. Michael, captain and ss; Charles Marks, lf; B. A. Metzgar, cf, and J. A. Herman, rf.

Yon is now a successful coal operator in the Pittsburgh district. Dr. Michael has been a Lutheran pastor in Johnstown these many years. Dr. Charles Marks succumbed to tuberculosis, while practicing dentistry at Palmyra.

Bucknell University Defeats Ullerymen

Four Homers Were the Feature of the Game Last Saturday; Capt. Good and Stroup Have Homers for S. U.

The Orange and Maroon nine was forced to take the weak end of the score at Lewisburg with Bucknell Saturday after overcoming a five run lead in the second to tie the score, 6-6, but later lost the lead and the game with the score of 11-7.

Russ Heim started on the mound for Susquehanna, and being off his usual stride failed to last the first round of the initial frame. Russ retired in favor of Bob Donnell with but one man down. Bob breezed through his first inning pretty nice, but throughout the game was nicked for ten hits and five runs.

Long toed the rubber for Bucknell for the first two frames till he was knocked from the box with a bombardment of hits by the Little Crusaders, which resulted in five runs and tied the score 6-6. Long retired in favor of Trudnak, who coasted through the rest of the innings without very much further damage.

The game was featured by four long drives, which registered as home runs. Dutchak and Hinkle registered the homers for Bucknell, the first coming in the first inning with no one on base and Hinkle's came in the third with Brumbaugh on base. Captain Good's circuit clout came in the second inning with the bases crowded. Good's homer was a hard blow into left field and this clout tied the score 6-6 in the second inning. Stroup came through with his homer in the eighth with no Susquehanna men on base. Stroup's clout was another long drive, winding its way through some trees in left field.

Ramik and Stroup led the sticking attack for the Orange and Maroon. Ramik registered two safe bingles, including a double, in four times at bat, and Stroup had as many hits in three times at the plate.

Susquehanna opened the attack in the first inning when Snyder got on through Brumbaugh's error and stole second and third, and scored on Ramik's double. Bucknell also opened up in the first inning and with two batters hit by pitched balls and a free pass to first and four hits, including a homer they scored six runs.

Susquehanna's basest inning came in the second. Herman reached first on Lobe's error. Stroup singled. Chamfer was issued a free ticket to first and Donnell scored. Herman when Lobe's

BUMMING

If you have tears, prepare to shed them for those ambitious youths who have visions of "bumming their way" across the Atlantic this summer, for if reports are authentic, the high school and college boys planning to work their passage to the other side, when class rooms close again, are going to find themselves out of luck upon approaching the sea employment agencies.

Always considered prizes by youthful adventurers bent on making the horizon their destination, the jobs aboard sea-going ships are so scarce this Spring, according to employment bureau reports, that with white-collared shore workers, too, bidding for their places even experienced seamen are glad to take what they can get.

For that reason the employment men are not handing out jobs to inexperienced men who are just out to see the sights. Not realizing this, students are flooding the shipping and employment offices with applications. Those who can, call at the agencies in person. The others write. Practically all, however, are told that they haven't a chance unless they intend to follow the sea permanently, and then only a slim one.

This one thin hope lies in the possibility that when the Great Lakes and river shipping get under way in earnest, the present over-supply of men will be lessened. Public improvement work and farming may also absorb some of the drifters. In either event, the boy who aspires to go to sea will have a better chance.

What are these berths aboard ship into which the green-horn might fit should Lady Luck favor him? There are three of them: Ordinary seaman, wiper, and mess boy.

That of the ordinary seaman is considered the prize. He does manual labor, paints, and stands on lookout. A wiper works in the engine room, cleaning up grease and painting. His job is both dirty and hot and therefore the least desirable. The mess boy waits on table and washes dishes. Any of these jobs pay $40 to $50 a month.

Compared to labor on shore, that on shipboard is easy. Most of it is of the pattering variety. Hardships are few, and due to the confinement, there are plenty of chances to read, which accounts for the many "Mercurys" that find their way to a "seaman's" bunk during summer months.

Since these green-covered magazines are to be missing from Atlantic freighters this summer, perhaps there'll be more of them read in the third tourist cabin deck chairs of the big liners. The steamship men naturally hope so.

On the other hand, Joe College may fool them and devote his summer to seeing America first.

Susquehanna Glee Club Ends Season

One of the Most Successful and Largest Seasons in Glee Club History Closed May 8

Susquehanna University Men's Glee Club which is one of the oldest organizations on the campus at Susquehanna has completed one of the most successful years in the history of the Club.

The Glee Club is under the direction of Professor Elrose A. Allison, an instructor in the Conservatory of Music at Susquehanna University. While on tour the Club is under the student direction of Mr. Robert Hostetter, a senior in the University. Mr. Lawrence C. Fisher is business manager of the organization.

It is customary for the boys to open their season in the neighboring towns of Susquehanna University. On January 17, the Club made its debut at Millfintown where its program met with much success. The other nearby towns, which were first in line to hear the Glee Club were New Bloomfield and Beavertown when the boys again received much applause. After several weeks of additional preparation the Club departed on its annual tour of Western Pennsylvania, stopping in Salisbury, Johnstown, Pittsburgh, Luthersburg and other towns and cities enroute, to give one of the best programs the Susquehanna Glee Club has ever produced.

In Johnstown the Club sang several numbers over WJAC, which is the Johnstown Motor Company broadcasting station, and again in Pittsburgh they broadcasted from the Pioneer Broadcasting Station of the world, KDKA. At both of these places, while the time allotted was very short the young men received many request numbers.

After returning from this trip, the men had only a few days rest when they departed on a number of one-day trips which took them to Williamsport, Millheim and McAlisterville where they were received by very appreciative audiences.

The Club then journeyed to the An- thracite regions, committing themselves for public approval in Tamaqua and Coaldale. In the latter town the boys took time out from their social activities of the afternoon and presented the second half of their program to the students of the Coaldale High School.

Single concerts were given at Millfintown and Mt. Carmel after which the Club made ready for its home concert which was given in the University Chapel. This event is usually the closing of the season for the Men's Glee Club but because of requests made to the business manager of the Club for concert dates, the season will not close until May 8.

Tentative concerts are to be given at Newport, Lewistown and Northumberland.

A dinner dance is one of the feature activities of the closing season of the Club at which time those who have served three years on the Club are presented with a Gold Key which is the insignia of the University Glee Club.

Those receiving the awards this year are Luther D. Kurtz, president; Clifford W. Johnston, vice president; Robert Hostetter, secretary; Arthur Rob- ertson and Bryce Nicodemus.

The program which was presented by the Club consisted of two parts. The first consisted of a number of songs both classical and humorous along with several readings and a piano solo.

The second part consisted of a musical comedy entitled, "The Stationary Express," which consisted of a trainload of persons making a trip across the continent in which several members of the party were very much interested in certain happenings along the way, such as a New England schoolmar, continually looking for and asking about "Historical Spots." The program was a treat to all who heard and saw it.

The Glee Club has travelled over 1500 miles, the entire distance of which was made by bus, covering practically all of the principal towns and cities in Western and Northeastern Pennsylvania.

The successful season of Glee Club work at Susquehanna can be accredited to two persons, Professor Allison, who so ably directed the Club and to its business manager, Lawrence Fisher, who has made possible the Club's large schedule of concerts.

PRE-LEGAL SOCIETY ELECTS

At the regular meeting of the pre-legal club held in C. A. Hall May 5th, the following men were elected to office: president, George Paralis; vice-president, Donald Steele; secretary, Benjamin Kempki; treasurer, Laird S. Gemberling.

LET'S GO TO THE JUNIOR PROM!

Men's Glee Club

Upper left—"Letty" Danks, portside twiler, who hurled superb ball against Ursinus on Friday to turn in his first victory of the season. Upper right—Malasky, veteran center fielder, whose hard and consistent playing has helped Susquehanna to win several games this year. Lower left—"A" Snyder, the other half of the "Ames 'n Andy" combination on the Orange and Maroon squad. He is playing his last year of college ball and his ability to sacrifice was demonstrated in the Ursinus game.

Lower right—"Russ" Heim, who pitched brilliant ball in the Elizabethtown game to win a regular berth on the hurling staff. Heim's home town is Monroeville, and he is playing his last season for the Ulstermen. Center—"Swede" Palmer, who was switched as a first baseman to shortstop to make room for "Pappie" Ramik. Swede played a scintillating game as fielder in the Elizabethtown battle.

ELECTION OF ATHLETIC BOARD

The annual election of the Athletic Board held May 8th resulted in a tie. A second ballot was cast Friday, May 9th, at which time Wilber Berger, Reno Khouse, Robert Donnell and Alton Garman were elected to the board.

GLENN RE-ELECTED

BASKET BALL CAPTAIN (Continued from Page 1) to guard this year. Due to his splendid work there he will probably hold that position again next winter.

Although basketball is Glenn's outstanding sport he has also proven himself a fine quarterback on the football team. He is a hurdler on the track team.

Glenn's home is at State College. While at high school he first came to the fore as a basketball, football and track star.

HISTORY OF BASEBALL AT SUSQUEHANNA

(Continued from Page 1) That first aggregation was certainly filled with the spirit of sport for sport's sake. For they didn't have an athletic association to whom to go every time they wanted a new piece of equipment. In fact, they didn't have any such parent organization at all.

They bought their own equipment. The gloves, bats and balls were a considerable outlay in themselves, but the uniforms. They were the big noise. Those suits were made at the tailor shop of the late Henry L. Phillips, whose place of business was located where the S. R. Michaels news store has opened adjoining the post office to the north.

Believe it or not, those uniforms were of deep maroon and heavy enough to comfort a woodsman in the Far North. The trousers were padded about two inches thick with quilted layers of cotton. They were the original plus-fours, but were so cumbersome that the players had some difficulty in getting about in them. Stealing second was a real achievement in the grand and glorious days of the beginning of things.

One incident in connection with the equipment of that first team is worthy of note here. Of course, there was not much competition between Henry L. "Daddy" Phillips, the tailor, and Solly Oppenheimer, the up-town clothier of the ready-to-wear store, but each did his best to get his share of the college trade.

So it was decided to give Solly the order for the hose. If you don't remember, ask dad; he recalls those bicycle stockings with the knitted strap under the instep of the foot. You wore a pair of socks to protect your feet, because they were so much cheaper than the costly wool bicycle stockings.

Well, they gave Solly the order for the hose, and they were to be bicycle stockings in Maroon and Orange.

Now Solly was only an alumnus of the University of Hard Knocks. He didn't write much more than his own name. He had a clerk, Gursent, who handled the correspondence with Schellenbergers, and other wholesalers.

When Solly was told he was to sell the baseball stockings, he instructed his clerk in this wise:

"Gursent, write a postal card to Schellenbergers. One dozen maroon and orange without feet."

The Boys of '98 Rev. J. E. Zimmerman, of Wapakoneta, Ohio, was manager of the team of '98.

Bill Sutch and "Dewey" Moist exchanged positions on the mound. Joe Ford was chairman of the reception committee.

Howard Reynolds covered the initial mound. Luther Bols was just coming into town as a pitcher then and played a base a major portion of the time. Managing that post with Sutch. You really worked their pitchers some days. "Little Mike" now the Rev. C. Michaels, played shortstop. Rev. Charles N. Nicholas, of Pottsville, had come up from Gettysburg to do his theological course and enjoy life at Selinsgrove. He was an outfielder and first baseman.

B. Meade Wagenseller, instructor at the University of Pennsylvania, another outfielder, and the other "Bucky" Barrett, who later went to Pittsburgh as a professional football player.

Last of the Gay Nineties team of 1899 was a distinguished team.

Typically all the catching was done in Smith, later Dr. Thomas Small, of Ohio State University. Small and Moran did the pitching. First was covered by Kase some-thing Babe Ruth in this day and age. Hollins covered second. Third and Captain Ralph Wadsworth did some of the short in- fielding.

Outfielders were Diebler Moist and the Another of that green grass was Dr. Webster now head of the new system in the Masonic Home at Elizabethtown.

The manager was Edwin M. Brunhart, now of the faculty and then a tower of strength in those old guard-back plays of the fall season. Joe Langham coached and—in a pinch—pitched.

The Squad of 1900 Co-ed activities at Susquehanna gained another big step that season when Miss Sara Gortner was elected manager of the team. She is now Mrs. Michael Hadwin Fischer, of Gettysburg.

Charles Von captained the team and played first base. Metzgar caught. Edwin R. Wingard pitched. Milt Herman covered second and S. "Wharps" Gramley played third. George Strall was the shortstop, tho as tall as the proverbial mountain.

Outfielders were Luther Stauffer, Bruce Crouse and G. Schesse.

The substitutes were rather notable. For instance at the head of the list was one H. A. Allison, now a grave doctor, but then just a young chap on Susquehanna's faculty, who was wont to appear on the diamond each evening in a white sweater and gray bicycle trousers. For instance that on the diamond and get a bit of exercise that he might handle those Greek roots the better next day.

Also among those dignitaries of the second string was the late Dr. Levi P. Young, the lamented president of Susquehanna's Board of Directors.

Dr. Charles M. Lambert, of Elysburg, son-in-law of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Houtz, was the third sub, and the fourth was Rollin Boyer, of Selinsgrove then and Rochester, N. Y., now.

Another Generation

The boys of 1901 were in an apt lot too. For instance they were managed by none other than Dr. Harvey C. Hoover, then a theological student, and now a professor in Gettysburg.

"Dewey" Moist was captain and mainstay in the box.

That was the beginning too of the many years C. Foster Benfer played varsity sports of every kind at Susquehanna, and he appeared this season as an outfielder.

Tho he always got under them out there in the far garden, his great forte in baseball was to get on base. Thus he headed the batting list. He was so diminutive he was hard to pitch to. As a result he frequently drew a pass, but if he feared such would not be his fortune he just somehow would get in front of that ball and get a ticket to first. His cries of pain and his limping down the first base line are pleasant memories for those who had the pleasure of seeing him in action.

"Doc" Auchmuty, of Tamaqua, father of our Helen and Jack of today, played his first baseball that season, covering first. Charles O. Frank, of Phillipsburg, covered second, and Hefty Walker handled the third base area.

Frank Wagenseller was another townsman to make his debut as a varsity man that season. He played shortstop. Others of the team were Diebler, Reynolds and Small.

The pitchers were men of destiny that season. Preeminent was "Rube" Bressler, who afterward went over big in the Tri-State for Williamsport, and is now in business in that city. The other twirler was "Doc" Gilbert, son of a Berwick clergyman.

1902—No record. Those men of 1903 were good too. They were managed by Sigmund Weis, now associated with his brother Harry in a chain of a hundred grocery stores.

Frank Wagenseller was manager and John S. Eby coach and catcher.

The lineup was completed with Rube Wert and Fetsch pitchers. Charles O. Frank first base; Bright Hoch second base. Wagenseller shortstop. Bill Shelley third base, and Bobby Roberts, Foster Benfer and Howard Reynolds, outfielders.

In 1904 the team was managed by Ira

W. Bingham, then of Troxleville and now a prominent clergyman in Quincy, Ill.

Frank Cannon was coach and Benfer captain.

Wert did most of the pitching. Joe Neary was at first, Lea Lesher catcher, Jim Uber second base. Art Buck at third. Gundrum shortstop, with Reynolds, Benfer and "Vedelia" Cornelius in the outfield.

The Team of 1905

Charles M. "Ginger" Tufel, of Milton, came down from Bucknell that year to take up theology and coach athletics. Of course, baseball was his big success. His catching helped to keep the team together.

Marion S. Schoch was manager that year, and the players included a good staff of pitchers headed by George B. Pfeifer, Joe Weaver and Isaac D. App.

Harry Miller, later of Tri-State prominence, covered first; Billy Sunday second; Red Anderson shortstop; Don Streiby third. Riley, Benfer and Cornelius were in the outfield.

Billy Sunday captained the team of 1906, which was the second year of Tufel's coaching, and was managed by James Keyes.

Pfeifer, Berger and Weaver did the pitching. Leroy Stetler covered first, Harry Miller second, Sunday short and Gaylor third, with Benfer, Cornelius and an extra pitcher out there in the tall grass.

Tufel's Last Year

In 1907 "Ginger" Tufel concluded his studies and his coaching at Susquehanna, and just to finish the same in a busy manner he not only coached the team, but managed it as well.

Stetler was captain and first sacker. Kauffman and Neimond pitched. Lesher was on second, Sunday short and Keller third, with the outfielders Miller, Seip and Pfeifer.

The Team of 1908

J. B. Swope managed the team that year and George B. Pfeifer was elevated to the captaincy.

Ira Bingham caught, Musser and our justly famous Dick Kauffman pitched; Stoy Spangler was on first, Lesher second, Sunday short and Gaylor third, with Miller, Pfeifer, Uber and Neimond in the outfield.

Susquehanna Men Remain Undefeated

Netmen Retain Their Record of No Defeats by Downing Juniata 4-2 and Tieg Bucknell 3-3

Susquehanna's netmen retained their record of no defeats thus far this season this week by taking over Juniata College on the local courts, 4-2, Friday afternoon, and Tieg Bucknell University at Lewisburg, 3-3, Saturday afternoon. A third match, with Lebanon Valley, at Annville, last Wednesday, was washed out.

The local matches with Juniata were the most exciting ever witnessed on the local courts. Adams, playing the same man he defeated at Huntingdon, won his match in easy fashion, 6-4, 6-1. Petty, again matched with Underkoffler, Juniata's ace, put up a strong fight but lost 4-6, 2-6.

Speer, matched with Smith of Juniata, won his match only after a hectic struggle in the second set, 6-3, 10-8. Captain Kiracofe, playing Lauer of Juniata, was extended the limit of three sets after his man won the second set, 5-7.

Petty, punch-hitting for Cliff Kiracofe in doubles, and Reed Speer, were unable to take over Underkoffler and Imhof, two of the best players of the Indian team, in the first doubles match of the tournament.

Adams and Burford, playing their usual splendid form, downed Smith and Lauer, of Juniata, in a doubles match that was extended to three sets and which had a thrilling climax, the score being 6-3, 1-6 and 7-5.

Final scores of this match were: Singles: Adams (S) vs. Imhof (J), 6-4, 6-1.

Petty (S) vs. Underkoffler (J), 4-6, 2-6.

Kiracofe (S) vs. Lauer (J), 6-4, -7, 6-3.

Speer (S) vs. Smith (J), 6-3, 10-8.

Doubles: Petry and Speer (S) versus Underkoffler and Imhof (J), 2-6, 3-6.

Adams and Burford (S) versus Smith and Lauer (J), 6-3, 1-6, 7-5.

Hold Bucknell, 3-3

While Coach Ullery's baseball nine was vainly striving to defeat the Juniata Indians on the local diamond and the track team was meeting with highly commendable success at Gettysburg, the Orange and Maroon racquetmen were making a fine showing on the Bucknell University courts, tying the match 3-3.

Three of the singles matches were extended to the limit of three sets. Speer, playing Englerth, took the first set 6-3, dropped the second, 4-6, and regaining himself, took the third 6-4. Petty, after losing the first set, 2-6, regained confidence in himself and took the two remaining sets, 6-2, 6-4.

Adams and Burford, playing two of Bucknell's racquet artists, lost their singles to Selde and Baker, respectively. These two men had a bad day and lost their doubles match to Englerth and Selde, of Bucknell University, 6-4, 6-4.

With the score standing 3-2 in favor of Bucknell University, Kiracofe and Speer put up a strong fight with Baker and Wright, of Bucknell in their doubles match. After dropping the first set, 3-6, the Susquehanna men began playing furious tennis and took the last two sets, 6-3, 6-4.

The final scores of the Bucknell match were: Singles: Speer (S) vs. Englerth (B), 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

Petty (S) vs. Wright (B), 2-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Adams (S) vs. Selde (B), 3-6, 3-6.

Burford (S) vs. Baker (B), 1-6, 3-6.

Doubles: Adams and Burford (S) versus Englerth and Selde (B), 6-4, 6-4.

Kiracofe and Speer (S) versus Baker and Wright (B), 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

May Queen Crowned Before 1200 People

S. U. Campus Was Picturesque Scene Saturday; "Peg" Young Is Crowned May Queen

The biggest event in the second semester is over. We mean May Day—the coronation of Susquehanna's most beautiful Senior girl by her Lady-in-Waiting.

Saturday afternoon found the lawn in front of Steele Hall 75 old English green where the May Queen and her Court watched the pageant of "Alice-in-Wonderland."

The back of Steele Hall—that place which is usually deserted—certainly was the scene of the mingling of the queerest people you ever saw. Old English ladies talked with parrots, rats nob-nobbed with Jack of Hearts—it was a conglomeration of colors—which only Miss Reeder and Miss Weavering could distinguish.

The audience to the coronation was one of the largest ever to witness a May Day here, and we are sure they enjoyed the entire program.

Our queen, Margaret Young, needs no introduction. She is our "Peg" and is among the most popular girls at Susquehanna. "Patz" Cleaver also is someone every one knows, and was Lady-in-Waiting.

The court was as follows: Edna Tressler, Marjorie Phillips, Kathryn Morning, Frances Thomas, Ruth Erdman and Wilma Walker. These girls were dressed in pastel shades which contrasted beautifully with the queen's satin robe and the Lady-in-Waiting's green gown.

The credit for the pageant goes to Miss Dorothy Reeder and her assistant, Miss Mary Weavering. They staged the event, drilled the performers and superintended the costumes.

The program was as follows: Part I. An Old English May Festival is in progress. Enter the village girls bringing the May Pole. The Queen of the May is crowned and she and her court are led to the throne, decked in her honor. Then the group dances, the May Pole Dance, and the youngsters play an old English singing game. Sir Roger de Coverley Reel by girls—song.

Entrance of herald announcing a troupe of players who will present "Alice in Wonderland."

Part II. "Alice in Wonderland." Entrance of Alice and her sister. Entrance of White Rabbit. Alice follows him off stage and they suddenly came upon a queers group of animals dancing together. There is a Parrot, an Owl, a Duck, a Dodo, an Eagle and a Rat. They ask Alice to join in a race with them and at the end of the race the Dodo insists that she give prizes to them all. Alice finds some candy in her apron pocket and the Dodo accepts it and gives one piece to each animal.

When they leave, Alice starts to wander away too, but stops when she sees two queer looking footmen approach each other. One of them has a huge letter, which he solemnly

Crusaders Defeated By Juniata Indians

Breaking of Orange and Maroon Defense Momentarily in Stage of Battle Proves Costly in Game

With "Lefty" Danks on the mound pitching sensational ball for the Orange and Maroon, yielding but eight hits to a hard-hitting Juniata Club, and with the breaks against "Lefty" lost the game 5-4 Saturday afternoon.

Up until a few minutes before the game started Coach Ullery was undecided upon his mound selection because of a slight injury to Danks. Danks drew the assignment because he proved to be poison to the Indians in former games. Snyder, another left-hander, took the hill for the Indians. Not counting the unearned runs the fray proved to be a real pitchers' battle between these two left handers with Danks holding the edge. The breaking of the Orange and Maroon defense momentarily at several different stages of the battle proved costly and lost the game.

Thus far Juniata has had six victories and this bunch of fighting Indians have scored victories over such teams as Drexel, P. M. C. Ursinus and during the past week beat Penn State 9-4.

Malasky took the hitting honors for the Orange and Maroon, hitting safely three times in four trips to the plate. Captain Good tied with "Bill" Herman for second, each having two hits. Herman came through with two hits in four times at bat. Both Captain Good and Herman played well in the field.

Gracey, playing shotgun for the Indians, had three safe singles in four trips to the plate and Laporte came second with two hits, including a triple.

Atalski, the second man up in the first inning, drew a base on balls. Andrews, next man up, was out on a pop fly to Ramik. Laporte, next man up, hit a bad ball and placed the nutmeg over Malasky's head for a three-base hit, scoring Atalski with the first run.

The Orange and Maroon had their opening inning in the second, and they made it look bad for the Indians for a while. Malasky, first man up, drilled a single to left field. Herman followed with another bungle. Stroup was then called out on strikes and Shaeffer came through with a double at this pressing stage, scoring Malasky and Herman. "Lefty" Danks then faced Snyder and nicked him for another double, scoring Shaeffer, but died on base when Good skied to Sael and Snyder fanned.

Juniata scored another run in the second when Gracey, first man up, doubled. Peel then popped to Spiegelmeyer back of third base. Petty, next man up, connected for a two base hit, scoring Gracey for their second run.

Susquehanna scored their last tally in the third. Spiegelmeyer, first man up, drew a free pass to first. Ramik was then thrown out at first by Laporte. Malasky then came through with his second hit when he clouted the sphere for a double, scoring Spiegelmeyer. Herman then singled, but

"Y" Cabinet Makes Plans for 1930-31

Members of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet Meet With Faculty Advisor and Lay Plans for Coming Year

On Saturday, May 10, six members of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet for 1930-31 met to prepare and formulate the plans of organization for the coming year.

Members present were Dr. Augustus W. Ahl, faculty advisor, Paul W. Hartline, "Y" president during the past year; Edward T. Bollinger, committee chairman the past year; Robert Sala, the new secretary; Herbert Schmidt, Religious Work secretary; and H. Wilson Sieber, the president for the coming year.

All "Y" work will be centered around the Life and Teachings of Jesus Christ, upon whom the organization is founded. The purpose of the "Y" will be presented to every prospective member. A more vitalizing general program has been prepared stressing Jesus Christ.

Plans were made in an effort to interest more students in the Vesper Services and the weekly prayer meeting.

Every effort will be made to have at least one deputation team in the field every Sunday of the coming year. These "Y" deputation teams have done much to further the cause of Jesus Christ by visiting churches and other meeting places in surrounding towns and places.

Plans similar to those of the past year have been instituted as an aid to new students who will arrive during Freshman Week. The "Y" rendered a very valuable service to the new students last year. The new budget under which the "Y" finances will operate was adopted for next year.

The following are the officers for the ensuing year:

CLASS OF 1931 ELECTS OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

HISTORY OF BASEBALL

The history of baseball which appeared in the last issue of The Susquehanna, was due to the efforts of George Beam '29 and M. S. Schoch, editor of The Selinsgrove Times, who have so ably compiled this data. Susquehanna offers their appreciation to these men:

ANOTHER GANG

They dress like men; they work like men; they get paid like the men—these feminine recruits of the Glen Gang.

The gang does not hail from Chicago. It is a group of students at Antioch College, who spend half of their time at study and the other half planting trees, clearing away underbrush and generally improving the 800 acres of woodland known as Glen Helen.

There is nothing strange or unusual about that. Antioch College is well known as a co-operative college, where students spend half of their time working.

But what is unusual is the presence of these members of the weaker sex in the male surroundings where they work side by side with their stronger brothers, doing the same work and receiving equal pay for the job.

When the girls first appeared on the scene the male members of the gang were not enthusiastic. They were planting 10,000 baby trees and they thought it was a man's job.

But the girls came out to show them what they could do. Noses pined and school girl complexions grew ruddier and reddier.

Flowing locks turned into pig-tails or close-cut boy-hobs. Backs ached and blisters flourished. But the number of trees planted by those brawny maids seemed to differ little from the number planted by the rosy overall-girls.

Finally the men students admitted that they could howl no longer about the co-eds on the Glen Gang.

The girls are enthusiastic about the plan. Some of them turned down much easier jobs in nearby cities for the chance to be out of doors.

Some are definitely interested in forestry or landscaping, and still others want just the health building experience of the outdoor work.

They are guaranteed a minimum wage, so rainy days in excess do not augment their unemployment woes.

Apparently there is little distinction made in assigning work, the girls taking their share of the disagreeable jobs along with the men. Sometimes they work together and sometimes in separate groups.

One lanky overall lass, who ruthlessly discarded her flowing tresses for a boyish bob as soon as she joined the squad, relates in high glee the tale of the passerby, who stood watching the all-feminine cohort with which she was engaged and then wondered artlessly why they had one boy working with all those girls.

President Arthur Morgan is well pleased with the experiment.

The idea of using men and women both on the Glen Gang had long been in his mind.

Then came the gift of 200 additional acres to the campus from Hugh T. Birch.

Echoes from Hassinger

By A. Coustics

By A. COUSTICS
Hayes still thinks that "Ed." Bollinger went out west to attend a railroad conference for the benefit of the "Pony Express."

Frank Malasky seems to think that rumble seats in 1930 Chevrolts are very comfortable, especially if the "company" is very nice.

Charlie Yon visited Hassinger Hall over the week-end.

Did everyone see Crossman's new suit? If you didn't listen for a noise for you can hear it.

"Duth" Witkop seems to have heard the "call of the wild" for he went down to Herndon with Lenker.

Kline and Long will represent Hassinger Hall in the next International Barbers' Convention. Their views on the technique of shaving seem to be rather different.

We noticed that Jack Hennes had a very exciting evening at the Junior Prom Saturday night. Sokolowski also danced.

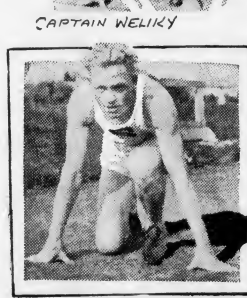

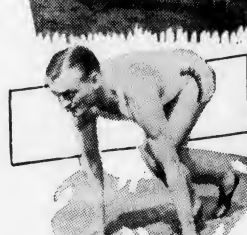

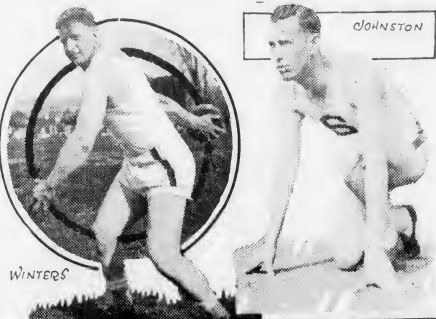

Ramk performed his spring house-cleaning.

The fellows are holding discussion groups, to find out when they should begin to burn the "midnight oil."

Stahman claims you can't "crash the gates" at Bucknell because they are made of concrete. We wonder how they do it at Williamsport.

One of the quiet sons of John Hassinger, our dear Lewis Fox turns out to be a "fighting parson."

Recently we have heard very little about Bollinger's coming publication, "Life as I Have Met It."

A group of Susquehanna cinder artists who contributed to the Crusaders' victory over University of Delaware and their success at the Central Pennsylvania Collegiate Track Conference at Gettysburg.

On the 19th Coach Grossman's men will meet the Bucknell aggregation and on the 24th Susquehanna will close her 1930 campaign in a dual meet with Juniata at Huntingdon.

Rounding out his year in college sports "Skip" Glenn is found in the role of high hurdler. "Skip" is sure to run the hurdles in the remainder of the meets.

Captain Weliky is performing in fine style in his events, the broad jump and century. Especially in the broad jump has "Bill's" work been encouraging and it is likely he will set a new Susquehanna record before the close of the season.

"Big" Joe Winters hit his stride in the field events last year. In the Delaware meet he bettered his mark in the javelin and showed improvement in the discus and shot.

Johnson continues to be one of the Crusaders' mainstays in the low hurdles, where he enjoys his best performance, also running the 220 yard dash and quarter.

Krouse after a year of lay-off has come back to us in fine form, and continues to be one of the Crusaders' consistent point getters in the 440 and 880 yard dashes.

RE-ECHOS FROM SEIBERT HALL

By Miss Terious

We wonder why Arline Kanyuck and Mary Eastep always insist on occupying the front seat in the bus on Choral Club trips.

Have Bond and Key found out who "Boo" is? And have Phi Mu found the telephone number of the livery stable? A certain Sophomore girl is anxious to find out.

Everyone was amazed on Saturday, when our old friend Shirley Reich told us that hereafter she may be addressed as Mrs. Jimmie Milligan. Which all goes to prove that you never can tell!

This old dorm hasn't seen such multitudes of company in ages. It seemed that everyone's parents and friends turned out to help make our May Day the success it was. Many Alumni came back and everyone agreed that there was never a prettier May Day in the history of Susquehanna.

Due to the track meet away, several members of the Seibert Hall club couldn't get to the dance until late. However, we hear that they made up for lost time when they did arrive.

Wasn't the Prom a success? All the girls attending reported that the rules in the program were followed to the letter, that alone would account for the glorious time, but the hit of the evening was undoubtedly the fact that there was a crowd of people all out to have the best possible time, and rules or no rules they had it!

Betty Watkins reports that the Freshman class just couldn't be better. We agree with Betty about her "reason."

Fraternity Row

Epsilon Sigma

Among those who visited the campus over the week-end for the May Day activities were Brother Hartley, Brother Seth Gustin and two friends, of Bradford; Brother Bonney and two friends, of York; Brother Connell and Mr. Pursell, of Pittston.

Brother Maurice Sheaffer's parents spent Saturday at Susquehanna to see the May Day Festival and the baseball game.

Brother Howard Wertz's parents spent Sunday afternoon at the Chapter House.

Bond and Key

Bill Riden, Joe Means, Stan Smith, Sanderson, Phillips and Derr visited the boys during the week-end. They declared the Prom was a big success. Shaffer has found a new note on his clarinet.

Mahaffy still uses Palmolive soap. Graham is being tutored in bridge.

Omega Delta Sigma

The following officers have been elected for the coming year: President, Signe Ailford; vice president, Ruth Jacobs; treasurer, Muriel Camerer; secretary, Eleanor Sheriff.

Kappa Delta Phi

Kappa Delta Phi girls were pleasantly surprised on Monday when the honoraries of the sorority not only treated them to a wonderful chicken dinner at the Sterner Hotel, but took them to the movies later. Nearly every member was present, and everyone reported having an enjoyable evening.

COMING ATTRACTIONS FOR COMMUNITY'S SPORT FANS

Susquehanna will start to wind up its spring sport schedule this week when the different teams will invade foreign territory for the last time during the season.

Tuesday morning the Orange and Maroon baseball team left on a trip to New York State, where they will meet Colgate on Wednesday and Hamilton on Thursday. Colgate has a strong college nine and this is expected to be a hard contest. At Hamilton the Little Crusaders will strive to seek revenge for the 2-1 defeat last year. The Susquehanna nine had some tough breaks in a game which should have been won, but they plan to rejuvenate themselves by making this one of the most successful trips taken this season.

On Wednesday the game with Lebanon Valley was rained out and it is being arranged to have the game played off in a double-header on Saturday, June 7, when Lebanon Valley will journey to Selinsgrove.

After the creditable showing of the Orange and Maroon cinderpath artists down at Gettysburg at the Central Pennsylvania Conference Meet the track schedule is drawing to a close with one of the most successful seasons ever enjoyed in Susquehanna's history. Saturday the Orange and Maroon will be entered in their last dual meet at Juniata. Last year the Indians topped the Little Crusaders in the dual meet on University Field by a few points, and this will be another excellent chance for Susquehanna to seek revenge.

The tennis team also remained idle on Wednesday, when they were rained out, but held a fast Bucknell team to a draw on Bucknell's courts. This week they will meet Bucknell at home and Lebanon Valley will also be matched with the Orange and Maroon netmen on Saturday on the home courts.

The Annual Anthracite Scholastics will be held on the University Field track Saturday, May 24.

DR. SMITH ATTENDED SYNOD AT BERWICK

Dr. G. Morris Smith attended the Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania, which met at Berwick May 13 to 15. President Smith presented a report concerning the work at Susquehanna. The following points were presented: Property and endowment assets, students which he said were of superior grade, religious affiliation, prestige of students, distribution of students over seven States and the District of Columbia. Forty-three of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania are represented at Susquehanna. Dr. Smith also outlined the curriculum and spoke of the quality of the faculty at S. U. We also have a Conservatory of Music which is accredited by the State Department of Public Instruction for the training of teachers of public school music.

Susquehanna's policy is being directed in the interests of a high grade institution and President Smith impressed upon the Synod the need of gathering the sum of $50,000 in the fall, $30,000 of which is to be added to the endowment fund and $15,000 used in improvements of buildings and grounds.

SUSQUEHANNA TO OFFER VISUAL EDUCATION COURSE

Visual training will be a part of the summer school work at Susquehanna University.

In answer to the demands from school officials and teachers, courses in visual and other sensory techniques will have a large place in the coming summer sessions of the teacher training institutions throughout the State, according to Dr. John A. H. Keith, State superintendent of public instruction.

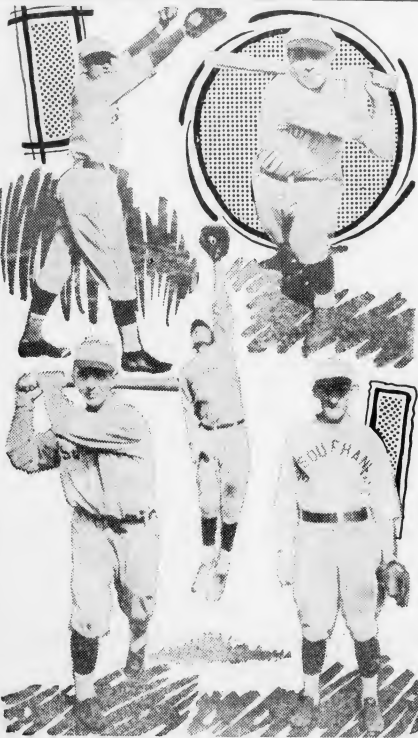

ELECTIONS HELD FOR SUSQUEHANNA GLEE CLUB

Elections for the Susquehanna University Glee Club were held and those elected were Charles E. Kroeck, president; William Weliky, vice president; Leonard Oleson, secretary; Lawrence Fisher, business manager; Fred Norton, treasurer; Forest Metzger, assistant manager.

"ONCE THERE WAS A PRINCESS"

This clever comedy in three acts was presented by the Omega Delta Sigma Friday night, May 16. The cast under the direction of Professor Hartung presented the play in a very commendable manner. One of the features that added to the background of the presentation was the new scenery which was made by members of the sorority.

Music between the acts was furnished by the Bond and Key Sextet, Marjorie Phillips, Mr. Jack Aschinger, violinist, and Mrs. M. M. Roswear, organist, both of Williamsport.

Upper left—"Lefty" Danks, portside twirler, who hurled superb ball against Juniata on Friday, although beaten by a close score.

Upper right—"Russ" Heim, veteran centre fielder, whose hard and consistent playing has helped Susquehanna to win several games this year.

Lower left—"Al" Snyder, the other half of the "Amos 'n Andy" combination on the Orange and Maroon squad. He is playing his last year of college ball and his ability to sacrifice was demonstrated in the Ursinus game.

Lower right—"Russ" Heim, who pitched brilliant ball in the Elizabethtown game to win a regular berth on the hurling staff. Heim's home town is Montoursville, and he is playing his last season for the Ulerlymen.

Center—"Swede" Palmer, who was switched as a first baseman to shortstop to make room for "Pappie" Ramik. Swede played a scintillating game afield in the Elizabethtown battle.

ed at the school. He was one of the outstanding West Branch League players several years ago and played at times with Sunbury and Northumberland.

He has built up athletics at Mifflinburg High School to a high standard and has proved quite popular with students. Other faculty members and townspeople. His election as supervising principal meets with general approval.

Athletic Head at Tamaqua Resigns

The resignation of Robert Hartman as director of athletics of the Tamaqua public schools has been submitted to take effect at the conclusion of the present term. Coach Hartman went to Tamaqua five years ago, following his graduation from Susquehanna, where he was a varsity player in several sports and a football star.

Under his coaching Tamaqua High shook off its athletic lethargy it had been manifesting and rose rapidly in regional and State Scholastic sport circles.

S. U. Alumni Association Executives Meet

Executive Committee of the Susquehanna University Alumni of the Lewistown District was pleasantly entertained at luncheon by Mrs. Charles Cox. After the luncheon, the president of the Lewistown Club, Harold Faust, conducted the business meeting during which a constitution governing the local body was adopted and definite steps taken to outline plans for several meetings during the year

1930-1931. One important clause was incorporated in the constitution which is as follows: "All graduates of Susquehanna University and all other persons who have been in attendance as students at the University residing in the Lewistown District are eligible for membership in this club."

The Executive Committee, with only two members absent, decided to levy a 50-cent per capita tax in order to raise enough funds to cover incidental expenses; such as mailing notices of meetings, stationery, etc. Any eligible person in the Lewistown District, which comprises Yeagerstown, Burnham, Reedsville, Belleview, Milroy, Mt. Union, Huntingdon, Mifflintown, Port Royal, Millerstown, Thompsontown, etc., is urged to mail name, address, and mailing fee to Miss Esther Cressman, treasurer, 233 Valley street, Lewistown.

The committee further decided to hold a "Susquehanna-Family" basket picnic at Greenwood Furnace, Thursday afternoon, June 12 William Riden, of Yeagerstown, was made recreational director for this occasion and has already planned competitive sports for the entire family. Several faculty members from S. U. are expected to be present at that time to bring greetings and inspiring messages from the Alma Mater.

S. U. BAND GIVES FINE CONCERT

First annual concert of the Susquehanna University band was presented last Tuesday evening, May 13, with the approval of a host of music lovers and friends of the university.

The concert was given in Seibert Hall at 8:15 o'clock. Professor Elrose L. Allison held the baton as a most successful director. To Professor Allison goes the credit for the organization of this recent band at S. U.

The program was divided into five parts, opening with two band numbers—"Dunlap Commandery," a march by R. B. Hall, and "Lustspiel," an overture by Kellar-Bela. Messrs. Balentine, Swann, Shoemaker, Nicodemus Hess, Rogers, Krock, and Johnston, composing an octette offered the next two numbers, "The Trumpet Call Away," by Dow, and "Two Little Fleas," by Bogart. Robert McNally accompanied them at the piano.

Valse Triste, Opus 44, by Sibelius, Hungarian Dances 7 and 8 by Brahms, and "Coronation March" by Meyerbeer were the next selections played by the band.

Mr. Johnston then held the stage by giving two readings, "Simpser Fidelis," by Sousa, "The Perfect Song" by Brill and "Campus Memories" by Sereby were the closing numbers of the program.

Standing, the band bid goodnight by playing the "Alma Mater."

CRUSADERS DEFEATED BY JUNIATA INDIANS

The Orange and Maroon had another opportunity to score in the fourth when "Lefty" Danks got his second hit behind the pitcher's box. Good then nickered Snyder for his first hit. Speigelmeyer then hit a ground ball to Laporte and Good was caught coming down to second with Speigelmeyer safe on first, but Speigelmeyer failed to play safe and playing too far off the bag "Lefty" was caught off third.

The Indians hit another lucky streak in the fifth when they scored another run without a single hit, but with two free passes given to Steel and Petty and several slippups on the part of the Little Crusaders' defense netted the Juniata Indians another unearned run.

Junliata pushed their last tally across the plate in the sixth. Laporte, the first man up, singled. Harley out on a sacrifice fly to Malasky. Gracey then brought the runner in from third. Petty skied. Snyder safe on first on a passed ball, but "Lefty" then retired the side himself by striking Steel out with three runners stranded on first, second and third.

Susquehanna failed to threaten thereafter, but the Indians worked "Lefty" into a hole in the ninth, when the Orange and Maroon defense again cracked momentarily. Steel singled. Atalski drew a base on balls and Andrews was hit by a pitched ball. Then with the bases crowded the Orange and Maroon infielders moved in to play the runner at home and on a ball hit to Danks by Laporte "Lefty" played it home and got the runner. Harley, the next man up, did the same trick with the bases full. Speigelmeyer taking the ball and playing it at third for a forced out. Line-up:

MAY QUEEN CROWNED BEFORE 1200 PEOPLE

(Continued from Page 1) hands to the other. Curious, Alice follows the footman who has received the letter, and comes to the house of the Duchess. Everything seems to be upset here. There is too much pepper in the stew and everyone sneezes. The baby cries and the cook is irritable. Alice is glad to escape from the house.

She walks along and suddenly finds herself in a garden, where queerly dressed gardeners are painting the rose bushes. They tell her it is the queen's garden, and just then a solemn procession enters. First come the ladies, next the courtiers, then the Knave of Hearts, followed by the King and Queen.

The Duchess is with the Royal pair and the guests and the Royal Children follow. The White Rabbit is walking nervously about and seems disturbed when he sees Alice. Then the men invite Alice to play croquet, but the wickets keep moving and everything is in such a hubbub that she is glad when the game is over.

The Queen and her attendants go on to the palace and Alice thinks she hears someone calling her. Her sister is telling her she has slept long enough and it is time to go home.

Ullerymen Defeat Hamilton College

Orange and Maroon Nine Battered Their Way to Victory Last Thursday; Malasky Has Home Run

Bob Donnell won his second game for the Orange and Maroon this year when he pitched a 10-3 game over Hamilton at Clinton, N. Y., Thursday afternoon with his teammates giving him perfect support in the field.

Donnell held the Hamilton team to seven well scattered hits, and went through five innings without being nicked for a single bingle. In the first inning one hit was registered without damage and then he went the next five innings without one safe hit, in the seventh easing up a bit they managed to chalk up three hits and their first run, then there was another hit in the eighth and two more in the ninth.

Harvey started on the mound for Hamilton, but was forced to retire in favor of Eggleston in the sixth inning, who continued the rest of the game.

The Orange and Maroon flashed better form on the field than in any other game this year and gave Bob Donnell perfect support. The game was replete with sharp hitting and fast plays throughout.

The high spot of the game was Malasky's home run in the ninth inning. Malasky's drive was a long well hit clout over the right fielder's head. Frank failed to bring in any extra runners on his drive for the bases were clean. Malasky was hitting the apple right on the nose during the day, for he managed to come through with four hits in five trips to the plate.

Al Snyder, continuing his hitting clip from the previous day, connected for three hits in five trips to the plate. Ramik broke even at the bat, hitting safely twice in four tries.

Previous to the game Coach Ullery shook the batting order up considerably and worked out splendidly in the first game it was tried. A new face was seen behind the bat too, for the first time this season. "Muss" Traxler caught his first game of intercollegiate baseball Thursday afternoon and made a wonderful impression behind the plate. During the afternoon he made some nice pegs to the bases and figured in two assists, and cut a man off at home plate, which would have meant another run.

The Little Crusaders counted their first runs in the opening of the second inning. Snyder, first man up in this frame, singled and Malasky then connects for his first clout. Malasky moved to second on Crowley's error and Bob Donnell then scored both runners on a nice long double. Traxler skied out and Donnell moved up on a base on a sacrifice by Haman, but fails to come when Good fled out.

Susquehanna again tallied in the third with Ramik drawing a base on balls, advancing a base on a sacrifice (Concluded on Page 4)

Crusaders Suffer First Defeat

S. U. Trackmen Lost Their First Meet Saturday, to Juniata in a Close Score of 64-62

The Orange and Maroon track team went down to their first defeat this season when they were dropped by Juniata at Huntingdon, Saturday afternoon 64-62. This meet was also the final meet of the year.

The meet was run off after a down-pour of rain had flooded the field and track which proved to be quite a handicap, and besides this the condition of the track which the Little Crusaders were unaccustomed to was quite a drawback. Through the meet the points see-sawed back and forth and at no time did Juniata have a commanding lead.

Glenn took a first place in the 120 yard high hurdles to earn his letter and Shaffer won his letter in the pole vault clearing the bar at 10 feet 3 inches.

100 yard dash—Won by Apel, Juniata; second, Weliky, Susquehanna; third, Fetner, Juniata. Time, 10 2-5 sec.

500 yard dash—Won by Carolan, Susquehanna; second, Helm, Susquehanna; third, Gormar, Juniata. Time, 5 min. 10 sec.

1 mile run—Won by Fetner, Juniata; second, Weliky, Susquehanna; third, Gormar, Juniata. Time, 5 min. 10 sec. (Concluded on Page 4)

Gerhardt Ends Track Season Undefeated

Miller Gerhardt, Ace of the High Jump, Sets Two New Records in Undefeated Season

Miller Gerhardt, Susquehanna's high jump ace ended his career in college athletics last Saturday in the Juniata meet at Huntingdon. Miller has gone through his senior year undefeated and has set two new records for himself.

In the first meet of the season against Delaware he broke the school record, setting a new one at 5' 9 1/2". The following week he bettered his mark by another inch. At the Central Pennsylvania Collegiate Track Conference, Gerhardt set a new conference record of 5' 10 1/2". Last Monday the "Ace" defeated Mackey, captain of Bucknell and Saturday again found Miller reigning supreme at Juniata. Along with the high jump he hurled the javelin and one year was a member of the mile relay team which represented Susquehanna at the Penn Relays.

During the past basket ball season Gerhardt was a member of the Varsity squad.

Susquehanna Downs Bucknell Trackmen

Crusaders Take the Field in the 220 Yard Dash and Javelin and Down Their Collegiate Neighbors 70-56

Susquehanna jumped into a lead in the initial event of their dual meet with Bucknell at Lewisburg last Monday afternoon when Johnston won the 220 hurdles. Neiswenter, of Susquehanna, and Jablouski, of Bucknell, tied for second place.

Susquehanna placed in every event in the meet and in two of them, the 220-yard dash and the javelin, the Crusaders carried the field.

Gerhardt, Susquehanna's high jump ace, remained undefeated in this event; when he bested Captain Mackey, of Bucknell, Gerhardt proved himself a double winner when he topped the field in the javelin.

"Joe" Winters set a new Susquehanna record, when he heaved the discus 116 feet.

The running of Coates in the mile and 800 and of Boothe in the 2 mile proved to be spectacular performances. Both men led their fields and won by an easy margin.

Captain Weliky, of Susquehanna, romped away with the 100-yard and placed third in the broad jump.

Colgate Defeats Susquehanna Nine

"Lefty" Danks and His Team Mates Hold the Strong Colgate Team to 7-1; Ramik Scores for S. U.

The Orange and Maroon lost their first game on the New York trip at Hamilton, when they lost to Colgate 7-1, after Colgate had won from some of the best college nines in the country, like Cornell, Syracuse, Penn State and Michigan.

"Lefty" Danks took the mound for the Little Crusaders and pitched real ball during most of the game, but in the fifth inning ran into a little tough luck, when the Colgate boys started hitting everything that he put across and coupled with several bad plays in the field they hit "Lefty" for five hits and pushed six runs across the plate, like Cornell, Syracuse, Penn State and Michigan.

It may be said that Susquehanna was outclassed by Colgate, for they had a better hitting and fielding club. Another bad feature of the game, which was a break that was going against the Orange and Maroon was the wet and soggy condition of the playing field. The game had to be delayed an hour before it was cleared off enough to play.

The hits that the Orange and Maroon counted were well scattered, for the lone run came in the last frame (Concluded on Page 4)

WHY Y. W. C. A. AT SUSQUEHANNA

College life develops youth only as they give of themselves. No one can expect to master a lesson by placing a book on his table and falling asleep beside it. This is just as possible as securing the most benefit from activities by passing them by without some inquiry as to their value.

The one large organization of college men and women that is coming to the top today, because of inquiry as to its value, is the "Y." Both Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are much alike in principle, in that they have the same goal. However, the way is a bit different. Here, we shall make an inquiry of the Y. W. C. A. The purpose is divided into two parts: (1) to provide a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God; (2) we determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people; in this task we would seek to understand Jesus and follow him.

Misinterpreted ideas, as to the real purpose, have been removed by this new purpose. The organization is not one of long-faced, seclusive girls, but one of the all-around, smiling girl, who wins favor wherever she goes. A true spirited "Y. W." girl does have the full and creative life; i. e., one of work, play, social life, and of worship. She is the one who sets a goal, goes after it and gets it. She greets you with a merry "hello," and you are happy in her presence. You say of her, "She's a real girl." She develops this personality, and lives the full and creative life only through a growing knowledge of God.

It is groups of this type of college women who deserve and have the name of Young Women's Christian Association. They have found joy in their new adventure and are determined to make this life possible for all people. The new vision to them has become a reality. Time, money and much effort is put into assemblies, conferences, magazine publications and personal visits, in order to carry out the second part of the purpose. Immediately following close of college, hundreds of college men and women and leaders spend a period of time in conferences to learn more about this new life and how to share it with others.

The nearest one to our campus is the "New Eaglesmere" at Forest Lake, located near East Stroudsburg, Pa. Here we meet 500 college men and women who realize the freedom of twentieth century youth and are utilizing it. They, being representatives of at least sixty colleges and also leaders of the student and faculty groups, show that we are meeting with some of the best people of our land and of other lands, for there are always foreign representatives. The Y. W. C. A. is equally represented with the Y. M. C. A. Here we truly live the full and creative life with leaders, who make our visions realities.

Over the entire world we have similar groups coming together throughout the entire summer and during the school year. This is a world wide movement. Being a member of the Y. W. C. A. at Susquehanna makes you a member of the Y. W. C. A. of the United States of America and a participant in the World's Student Christian Federation.

Susquehanna is on the march! We are all proud of her progress. She can march only as fast as her constituents will allow her. If one section of the army lags, the whole march is hindered. The Y. W. C. A. is on the march! Shall our organization fill her place in the ranks and do her part to keep Susquehanna on the lead?

A CHANCE

The saying is "An opportunity knocks but once," and it is now knocking to the students of Susquehanna. The Commencement season is the supreme time when the students and the alumni of the institution can get together and work for their Alma Mater. Commencement season this year at Susquehanna is to be one of the greatest in her history. The success of this season will make an impression on our Alumni and help us put across the drive for the coming year, which is for the betterment of Susquehanna. In order that we may do this we must have a complete cooperation of the student body, and it is requested that all students who can possibly remain for this week of activities do so and aid the furtherments of their Alma Mater.

Courtmen Again Tie Bucknell

Petry and Kiracofe Win Singles; Adams and Burford Take Doubles for Tie

Susquehanna's racquet men climaxed a brilliant court season of no defeats last Thursday afternoon by again holding the Bucknell University netmen to a 3-3 tie on the local courts in a return engagement with the Bisons. A match scheduled with Lebanon Valley Saturday afternoon was cancelled on account of rain.

The Crusaders split even in both the singles and the doubles matches, Captain Kiracofe and Petry winning their singles and Adams and Burford winning their doubles match.

Kiracofe, returning to the singles line-up after being out over a week because of a slight indisposition, played Baker, captain of the visitors, and took the match after being extended to the three sets, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4. This was easily the most interesting match of the tournament.

Petry, playing the same man he met at Lewisburg Saturday, won his match in easy fashion, 6-1, 6-2. Adams and Speer, also playing the same men they met at Lewisburg, lost their matches with the Bucknell aces, not without having put up a fierce and game struggle, however.

Adams and Burford, playing the first doubles match, were teamed with Baker and Wright of the Lewisburg. After taking the first set, 6-3, they dropped the second 4-6, but regaining their former stride, they took the third in easy fashion 6-2. Kiracofe and Speer, playing Englerth and Beide of the visitors' team, lost their doubles match, 6-2, 6-0.

The final scores were:
Singles—
Adams (S) vs. Seide (B), 2-6, 1-6.
Speer (S) vs. Englerth (B), 3-6, 6-8.
Kiracofe (S) vs. Baker (B), 6-2, 2-6, 6-4.

Petry (S) vs. Wright (B), 6-1, 6-2.
Doubles—

Mrs. X

A Negro girl went to a bank regularly to draw her weekly pay. She could neither read nor write, so made an X on the receipt. Then, one day, she made a mistake.

"What's the matter, Mandy? Why don't you make an X as usual?" asked the cashier.

"Why," Mandy exclaimed, "Ah done got married yesterday and changed mah name."

SPORT BITS

"Russ" Shilling, former captain, and now Coach Uley's assistant, dismissed from his mind baseball duties the other night and went hunting on the campus. "Russ" came through in his usual style by bagging an owl.

Although the team was idle on the Lebanon Valley trip, Maurice Shaeffer furnished the entertainment on the bus coming back. Maurice's one joke about "Shep" proved to be pretty popular.

Malasky and Zak, two of Susquehanna's athletes are now turning towards the "gentleman's" game. One night last week both were seen playing tennis with two "fair ones," with Ramik acting as the official.

Meyers, the Freshman speedster, likes to be called certain "pet" names, and the one he likes most is "chesty."

There were some well recognized faces on the Juniata baseball mine who are remembered from football, especially Andrews the classy first baseman and backfield runner, and Petty who scored two touchdowns over the Orange and Maroon last year.

Captain Good always likes to be on the side of "Lucky Luck" and is always seen to pluck four-leaf clovers before the game.

There must be some psychological effect of Snyder's red shirt, for "Al" has been having a little tough luck this season.

"Inspirations" seemed to have quite an effect on the track team. Captain Wolky and Knouse saw theirs a few minutes before leaving on the trip, while "Lefty" Reynolds saw his the night before.

Bob Donnell donates "Josephine" to the baseball team as their new mascot.

After the creditable showing of the track team at Gettysburg, Prof. Grossman felt like making "whoopie" at the Junior Prom after he came back.

Gerhardt pulled another fast one, when he broke the record for the high jump in the Central Pennsylvania Conference meet at Gettysburg. He established the new record at 5 feet 10 1/2 inches.

During the New York trip it was learned that Malasky likes a nice juicy oyster right before every chew that he takes.

Ramik is a pretty desperate character to handle on a baseball trip, for he proves to be an "eye-opener" for the women.

Al Snyder claimed that he was a wise man among a car load of fools Thursday night on the way home, when he wanted to stop off in Scranton. Well, he got his wish anyway.

When the bus broke down thirty-five miles outside of Scranton at 2:30 at night everyone started to hunt for his position.

The breakdown proved to be pretty handy for Bob Donnell, for he at once fell for the "stenos" at the garage and sure took his time about things.

Bill Herman and Lolly Strop furnished the entertainment on the trip and they sure got themselves in some ticklish situations.

"Lefty" Danks was thrown for a loss before they entered New York State. According to the different expressions the great Empire State was lowered considerably.

While the boys were hunting for the "hot dog shops," the coach was hunting for the best eating houses in town, but he got fooled in Hamilton and Clinton.

The fellows put on a bold front when they admitted they were traveling salesmen from Pittsburgh at Hamilton.

"Mussey" Traxler and Manager Crossman claim that they were so homesick for Seibert Hall that they lost twenty pounds apiece.

STANDING OF TEAMS IN THE INTER-CLASS LEAGUE

Table with columns: W, L, Aver. Sophomores 2 1 .667 Freshmen 3 2 .600 Juniors 3 2 .600 Seniors 0 3 .000

As a result of a victory over the Juniors last Tuesday afternoon the Sophomores took the lead in the inter-class baseball league last week. The Juniors and Freshmen, still deadlocked for a place, were moved back to second position. This came about through a win by the Freshmen over the Seniors on Wednesday by forfeit and a 10-8 victory of the Juniors over the Freshmen on Thursday afternoon.

The inter-class baseball league schedule closed last week, but there are still a number of postponed games. They will probably be played this week.

U., has for the past three Sundays conducted he services at St. Luke's Lutheran church in Sunbury in the absence of Rev. L. F. Duerr who is not sufficiently recovered to resume his pastoral work. Mr. Daubenspeck made a very favorable impression in his sermons. In addition to his theological work, Mr. Daubenspeck is an outstanding athlete for Susquehanna. He played on the backfield on the football team and was assistant coach. He also is on the track, putting the shot in the field events. Featured Dancer The daughter of Mr. Albert Gawinske, class of '06, President of the Pittsburgh Susquehanna Alumni Association was one of the principal dancers in the annual krismes of the Frank Eckl Ballet School which was presented in the Nixon Theatre of Pittsburgh. Weaver is a teacher in the Wilmington High School at Wilmington, Delaware. We have learned through him that several other S. U. grads have positions in the Wilmington schools, among whom are Rev. Park Huntington, Arthur Easterbrook and Ellis Lecrone. Mr. Weaver also gives us the very interesting news that Samuel Stauffer, '17, has been appointed to the superintendency of the Wilmington City schools at a salary of $7500 per year. Russel Williams is principal of the High School at Sugar Notch, Penna.

Bryce Nicodemus, leader of the Campus Owls, will leave with his orchestra for a summer's engagement at Bedford Springs Hotel, Bedford Springs, Pa. where he played last season. With the exception of one member the orchestra is composed of Susquehanna students.

Bryce Nicodemus presides at the drums and manages the affairs of the band. Bryce also conducts the Campus Owls during the winter season and is well known about the campus and frat houses of all the leading colleges.

Dan Nesbit, of Sunbury, has charge of arranging the music for the band and this is his second year at Bedford with the boys. Dan is the son of Joe Nesbit, who is well known in dancing circles of the State. Dan presided in the band at the saxophone.

Sherman Good, captain of the Susquehanna University baseball nine, hails from Middleburg, where he practiced on the piano until now he can really tickle the ivories in a mean manner. "Goodie," as he is known to everyone, is chief melody maker of the sextet.

On the trumpet is Jack Ambicki, of Shamokin, in his second year with the band, and Arthur Gelmet, another boy from Middleburg, harmonizes with the boys with his trusty banjo. Arthur is also a soloist, as are all of the members of the band.

A new member of the band this season although not new to the personnel of the Campus Owls, is William Adams, of near Pittsburgh. Bill will play the violin and his name completes the interesting list of six student musicians from the local University campus.

After the summer all but "Nick," who will attend Jefferson Medical School, will resume their studies at Susquehanna.

Little Nancy had been visiting and the grandfather clock had made a great impression. She attempted to describe it to her mother, and said, "Daddy, you think we ought to have one."

"What kind was it?" asked the mother.

"Oh, it was tall and didn't once stop wapping its tail!"

At two different stages in the game Susquehanna threatened with a man on third and no one down, but failed to get the run across the plate.

Malasky and Snyder did the most stick work for the Little Crusaders with two hits apiece. Al Snyder seemed to step out of his hitting slump and twice hit safely in four trips to bat, one of his hits being a nice double. Ramik scored the lone tally for the Orange and Maroon.

Conroy toed the rubber for the Colgate nine and outside of the fifth inning he never seemed to have an edge on Lefty Danks' pitching. Dowler, Hagy and Callan did the stick work for the Colgate nine, having three hits apiece. Two double plays also helped Colgate to kill Susquehanna men on bases. Both these plays were made by Dasher to Bonacker to Hagy.

Colgate opened the scoring in the third inning with Callan hitting for a single and advancing on a sacrifice hit by Conroy. Advancing another base on a double by Dowler and scored when Bonacker picked out one of Lefty's sliders for a double.

The next scoring took place in the fifth, which proved to be the decisive inning for the Orange and Maroon. Dowler first man up, started off with a single then Bonacker was safe at first on an error. Dowler then scored on a single by Hagy. Tery then scored on a sacrifice hit made at second, but the man was safe and too late at first. With the bases crowded Dasher singled, Bonacker Hagy in the meantime threw out at second by Holman. Cotterel singled scoring Terry and Dasher. Enoch skied to Herman, but Callan managed to come through with another single, scoring Cotterel, and he then scored on an error. Dowler was then out on a play. Good to Ramik to end the rally. During the remainder of the game Danks held the Colgate sluggers to a few well scattered hits without further scoring.

During the final frame of the game Susquehanna scored her first marker when Ramik was given a free pass to first. Malasky then singled and Herman advanced both men on a sacrifice hit. Stroup then sacrificed, scoring Ramik at home. Shaffer ended further scoring on a fly to Dowler.

hit by Spigelmyer and scored on a single off Snyder's bat. Malasky then singled, but was out at second on a play by the shortstop.

Stroup scored in the fourth inning on two errors and a long sacrifice fly by Captain Good.

In the seventh with Donnell letting up a bit Hamilton tallied their first marker on singles by Lawton, Eggleston and Harvey. Further damage was avoided when Rienzo fled out to Stroup and Hilier and Crowl struck out. The Little Crusaders tallied two more runs in this inning with Ramik leading off with a single. Spigelmyer then clouted for a base and Ramik scored on Snyder's single. Spigelmyer then crossed the rubber at home when Malasky connected for his third hit of the game.

In the final frame of the game Hamilton came through with their final two runs. Harvey first man up, singled, but was out on a play at second. Rienzo was then issued a free pass and Hilier was safe at first on a fielder's choice and later advancing an extra base. Henderson then singled, scoring the runners at home. Henderson tried to steal home and was caught on a pretty play at the plate by Herman to Traxler.

The Orange and Maroon boys made the final frame interesting by surprising their host with four more runs. Malasky, first man up in this frame, connected for his circuit blow. Donnell was given a walk and Traxler fled out on a try for a sacrifice hit. Herman then connected for a single and Stroup was safe at first on an error. Herman scored on a sacrifice fly by Good and Stroup moved up a base and scored on a nice clean single off Ramik's bat. Spigelmyer out to Eggleston for the third out.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES MARK END OF EVENTFUL YEAR AT SUSQUEHANNA

Seibert Hall Chapel Scene of Impressive Ceremony, When Class of 1930 Received Diplomas and Degrees Were Conferred This Morning

Seventy-second annual Commencement of Susquehanna University concluded impressively early this afternoon in Seibert Hall Chapel, when Dean George F. Dunkelberger recommended the candidates for graduation and President G. Morris Smith conferred degrees upon them.

Awarding of many prizes for excellence in college work was a delightful feature of today's year-end program. The faculty and graduates marched from Selingrove Hall across the upper campus to Seibert Hall, where they entered the auditorium to the strains of a march played by the college orchestra, under the direction of W. Donald Hemphill, of the Conservatory of Music.

Salutatory address was delivered by Frank E. Ramsey, of Selingrove, who chose as his subject, "The Importance of a College Newspaper." Ramsey was qualified especially well for this theme, having been the able editor of The Susquehanna the past year.

Miss Anna Wilbur Moore, of DuBois, as first honor graduate, was the valedictory speaker, the subject of her oration being "Women's Contribution to Chemistry."

Following the address by Dr. N. J. Gould Wickey, these degrees were awarded and prizes awarded:

WORLD DON'T OWE YOU A LIVING, BUT ONLY THE OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE ONE

Learning, Labor and Love Necessary to Achieve Outstanding Success in Battle of Life, Commencement Orator Declared This Morning

Valedictorian

ANNA WILBUR MOORE
First Honor Student, Resident of DuBois, Whose Graduation Address This Morning Dealt With "Woman's Contribution to Chemistry."

Pointing the way to an outstanding career rather than an indifferent success, Rev. N. J. Gould Wickey, of Washington, D. C., secretary of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church, delivered a masterful address before the graduating classes of Susquehanna University this morning in Seibert Hall, declaring:

By N. J. GOULD WICKEY, Ph.D., D.D., Washington, D. C.

"Education has been wrongly conceived as a preparation for life. The error in this conception is that youth are living while being educated. Today education is generally that to be life itself. But here life is conceived too much in the mechanical sense of merely existing. There is a higher conception. Education is the means whereby youth can possess life, rather than life possessing him. Life is thus considered to be a balanced development and growth, and the person experiences a peace and serenity, happiness and richness not otherwise experienced.

"To achieve this goal one must have learning.

"Knowledge is power, always and everywhere. The person who knows has an advantage over the person who does not know. Education is not a luxury; it is a stern necessity of the modern age.

"Youth has not been slow in responding to this demand. High school attendance has increased during the past 30 years 100%. The attendance at colleges increased from 76,000 to 850,000.

"The taxpayers have responded likewise to the demand of the times. School costs increased from $140,000 in 1896 to $1,036,000,000 in 1920. This enormous expense is justified in that education is an investment. It costs more not to educate than to educate.

"Accordingly, it is required that first of all, education must develop the individual himself. Here is where we must begin in the consideration of one's relation with others. Hence the advice of Socrates, 'Know Thyself.' But no one lives unto himself. There must be a proper understanding of others. Most economic, social and political disturbances have come as a result of the misunderstanding of others.

"Most educators stop here in the extent of the educational process. We believe that the culmination of the educational effort for the individual must be in his knowledge and relation of God. No great individual, social or national character has been developed apart from religious instruction, and such characters have not long survived the decay of religious instruction.

"This education process must not stop with high school and college commencement; it must be a life process. The University of Michigan has taken unique steps in this direction. And the (Concluded on Page 2)

Life is Hardship, Dr. Fry Declares

Baccalaureate Sermonizer in Trinity Lutheran Church Sunday Morning

"For What Is Your Life?" was the theme of the sermon delivered before a large throng in Trinity Lutheran Church Sunday morning by Dr. F. F. Fry, D.D., of New York City. The occasion was the Baccalaureate Services of the Seventy-second Annual Commencement of Susquehanna University.

Dr. Fry, who is the newly elected secretary of the National Board of Missions of the United Lutheran Church, held his audience spellbound as he presented his vital message.

Life is a larger, richer, and fuller meaning; victorious, spiritual, life that never ends, was Dr. Fry's keynote. He said in part:

"What is life? Have you ever tried to measure it?"

"It is a troubled sea with man a bounding ship upon it; it is like a wayfarer, an eternal struggle; it is a vast exchange with profits and losses on the ledger book of each individual; it is a vapor, not one that falls to the earth, but one that rises and lives; life is not a clod that lies motionless and dead.

"Life is the breath of God. "The best place to study thru life is on a college campus. A college faces the sunrise; it has the spirit to do and dare; it refuses to believe that we are heading toward an abyss.

"Today we look upon a larger world than we ever looked before. No matter how we look at America today, it spells for us radiant opportunity.

"The symbol of America's progress is 'Wheels.' There are wheels in machinery, wheels in airways, wheels in subways, wheels in automobiles, wheels in trains, wheels in education. So often 'wheels' symbolize speed. America needs to look in the direction she is going.

"The problem of today is how to train young men and women to give these wheels proper direction.

"People today want to be comfortable. They want attractive homes, attractive furniture, attractive cars, good music, fine books, everything exquisite. (Concluded on Page 3)

Alumni Organization In New High Record

New Constitution Provides for Extension of Representation Thruout the Alma Mater Field

Unprecedented advancement in every phase of their activities during the year characterized the report to the Alumni Association of Susquehanna University at yesterday's gathering.

The assemblage also adopted a new constitution, which as an innovation provides that the organization shall be directed by a council, composed of the officers, the accredited representatives of every district alumni club and the designated representative from every class that has been graduated.

Luther D. Grossman, general secretary, also showed that the alumni file now includes the names and addresses of 1,700 graduates, believed to include all from 1879.

Alumni groups have been formed during the year in Centre county, Harrisburg, Mt. Carmel, metropolitan New York and Lewisport. Thus they will add their important compliment to the groups existing already in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Johnstown, Wilkes-Barre and Williamsport.

These officers and representatives were chosen for the coming year: President, Rev. John B. Kinsley, Northumberland; first vice president, Rev. Paul M. Kinports, Hershey; second vice president, M. P. Moller, Jr., Hagerstown, Md.; recording secretary, John J. Houtz, Selingrove; treasurer, Dr. George E. Fisher, Selingrove; general secretary, Luther D. Grossman, Selingrove; alumni editor, Miss Sarah Seal, Selingrove; statistician, Prorologist, Dr. Frank P. Manhart, Selingrove; alumni representatives on the athletic board, George S. Schoch, Selingrove; Jay M. Riden, Sunbury; Ralph Witmer, Selingrove, and Russell Shilling, theological department.

Chronicling News of Susquehanna Events

Proclaiming Susquehanna's accomplishments thru the Fourth Estate, the university's publicity bureau, under the direction of Luther D. Grossman, furnished thousands of columns of live news to the press during the year.

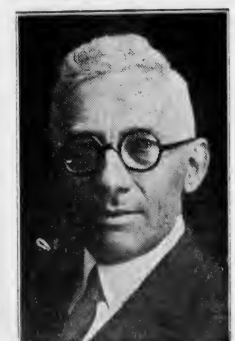

The mailed matter covered 175 news events, sent to 150 newspapers, or a total of 26,250 separate releases. Many (Concluded on Page 4)

THRU THIS ENTRANCE

THE CLASS OF 1930

AN EDITORIAL BY PRESIDENT SMITH

Class of 1930 takes its leave of Susquehanna's campus with the hearty good wishes of the Faculty and the Board of Directors. The class numbers eighty and embraces in its membership those who have prepared for various vocations—teaching, law, medicine, the gospel ministry, business and many other fields.

This class has meant much in the development of Susquehanna. They have shown that they know how to co-operate for the promotion of the good of the University. The administration esteems highly their open-mindedness and ability to see new points of view.

The class has inaugurated a forward-looking movement in giving to their alma mater a foundation fund for an endowment to aid worthy students who might not otherwise be able to get an education. The desire of the class is that the interest be loaned to worthy students, and it is hoped that from time to time other classes will increase the fund. This fund will serve a real need as a number of able and serious-minded students can be assisted when the fund grows large enough.

The progress of the University depends in a very real sense on the high quality of our alumni. We discover that wherever our graduates have gone out to render service with distinction, wherever we have representatives in whose lives high ideals of education and service are exemplified, there is an open door of welcome to Susquehanna and her educational program.

Therefore, members of the class of 1930, go out with unwavering faith in God, with humility, and with love of all mankind to let your light shine and your lives count for constructive service in the things that are right and good.

When Junior Takes His Pen in Hand

People go about Venice in Gorgonzolas. A brunette is a young bear. A figure of speech is a way of talking or writing by which you say what you don't mean, and yet mean what you say. A circle is a line which meets its other end without ending. The Normans introduced the Prugel System.

Locals Prominent in Guild of Organists

Community organists met in the First Presbyterian Church, Sunbury, Sunday afternoon, and heard Dr. William Wolfe, of Lancaster, State president of the National Association of Organists, in an interesting address on "The Merits of the N. A. O."

This address was followed by the organization of a local chapter with the following officers:

- President, Prof. I. W. Rothenberg, Sunbury.
- Vice president, E. Edwin Sheldon, Selingsrove.
- Secretary, Mrs. Harold Blue, Northumberland.
- Financial secretary, Prof. Elrose L. Allison, Selingsrove.
- Treasurer, Prof. Percy M. Linebaugh, Selingsrove.

Dr. Franklin Williams and Miss Eva Herman, both of Selingsrove, are also members.

SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES HELD ANNUAL DANCES LAST WEEK

The social activities of the school were brought to a fitting climax on Thursday and Friday evenings by the annual commencement dances, held by the various Sororities and Fraternities. Thursday evening was occupied by the four sororities. The Alumni Gym was the picturesque resort of the Kappa Delta Phi and the Sigma Alpha Iota societies. The Bond and Key House was made merry by the members and friends of the Omega Delta Sigma, while the Sigma Sigma Delta enjoyed their dancing in the home of the Epsilon Sigma. Friday evening the fraternities of the campus bid adieu to their year's activities to the tune of jazz bands in their respective houses. Many alumni and friends of the various organizations were present to witness the festivities of the two evenings. In every doorway and street old friends met once more to exchange their greetings.

World Don't Owe You a Living

outstanding educational development of the past two years has been the matter of ADULT EDUCATION.

"To the angle of learning must be added the angle of labor.

"Man is a creature of action, not only of intelligence. The youth of today do not understand the need for hard sweat-producing labor. A generation ago college youth found their own positions. Today they wish the college authorities to find the work for them, and in some cases do the work, that is, what the students neglected to do, or left undone.

"The Scandinavian fathers laid the foundation for a great civilization in the great Mississippi Valley by their willingness to endure the most severe and trying hardships and labor. That spirit is an absolute need in life. Man's university shows the value of information; but the University of Experience shows the necessity of industry.

"This labor must be expended for the sake of one's self. We do not believe that the world owes one a living; we believe the world owes us an opportunity to make a living.

"Facing the world we must neither be pessimists nor optimists; we must be possimists (from the Latin possum, posse meaning to be able). This is a new word which means an individual who says, 'It can be done and I shall try to do it.'

"But again no man liveth unto himself. We cannot escape our social obligations. Our social relationships must be such as to allow higher loyalties to school, country and universal ideals. So our labor must be expended in the interest of others.

"To labor in the interest of universal ideals, is to labor for God. Learning of God is the first step, but laboring for God must naturally follow. And it is interesting to note the more we labor for God the more we learn of God. We come to know God's Will by doing His Will.

"The third and most neglected angle of life is LOVE.

"Today there is a famine of love. The world is dying for a little bit of love. This love must be expended on one's self. The lives of all of us would be nobler and better were we really to love ourselves. We have to live with ourselves and so we must be interested in ourselves to the point of the willingness to give up anything which would in any wise destroy one's self.

"Again, we cannot escape our neighbor in this life. A life that fails to practice love in human relationship lacks the essential of progress. No form of communism and social construction can succeed without love.

"But today such love has become a dead letter. Our charity is organized. The giver is lauded and the receiver laughed at. Wherever the church has failed, it has been due to the fact that it has been devoid of the speculation than of Christian love.

"The culmination of the love life must be the love of God. If the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, the love of the Lord is the completion of wisdom. Without the love of God, the world has no meaning, existence no peace and death no hope.

"Life's Highway may be difficult to travel, but success will come to the individual who will take with him Life's Triangle of Learning, Labor and Love in the service of Self, Others and God, Life's Trinity."

Telling Them

"There will be services this evening at the usual time," announced the preacher. "Our subject will be 'Casting Pearls Before Swine,' and I shall be glad to see as many of you present as possible."

Now It Can Be Told

Teacher: "Johnny, why does Missouri stand at the head of mule raising in the United States?"
Johnny: "Because the other end is too dangerous."

Dr. and Mrs. Smith Hosts at Reception

"Pine Lawn," the presidential home of Susquehanna University, was the scene of a reception, given in honor of the Class of 1930, by Dr. and Mrs. G. Morris Smith, Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The affair was planned originally to have been held on the lawn, where Japanese lanterns, festooned from the towering pine trees, would have added their picturesque contribution to the scene.

But the showers of the evening changed all that, and instead President and Mrs. Smith received in their home the guests, including members of the board of directors, the faculty, alumni, students and friends of Susquehanna.

Misses Mildred Arbogast, Catherine Betner, Anna Cleaver, and Frances Thomas, charming co-eds, presided at the tea tables, while the music was furnished by Elrose Allison, Lois Brungart, and Kathryn Morning.

At the present time Susquehanna has ten district alumni associations whose headquarters are at: Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Johnstown, Lewis-town, Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre, Centre County, Harrisburg, New York and Mount Carmel.

The Trustees took action toward the preparation for the campaign for $650,000 which will be carried on in the fall. $500,000 will be added to the endowment and $150,000 to the further improvement of buildings and grounds, which includes improvement to the laboratories and adding books and equipment to the library.

Memorial Services For Honored Dead

Union Cemetery Scene of Impressive Devotions on Sunday Afternoon

Memorial services were held in Union Cemetery on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in honor of David A. Day and his wife, Rev. Day was for many years an outstanding Missionary in Africa. Rev. Day was a graduate of Missionary Institute, now Susquehanna University.

The services consisted of a song service and an address given by Miss Christie Zimmerman on the "Life of David A. Day." Miss Zimmerman stressed in her remarks that the field of Missionary Work needs more workers.

It is to this cemetery that Susquehanna goes to honor her dead, for there rest the mortal remains of Dr. Jonathan R. Dimm and Dr. Charles T. Aikens, former Presidents of the institution. It is also the resting place of several of the board of directors as well as a number of distinguished alumni of Susquehanna University.

From this beautiful spot the spirits of the departed dead keep watch over their mother Institution and guard her progress. These as well as others, who have gone to their reward, shall ever remain in the hearts of all Susquehannans.

Preach Grace and Love, He Declared

Rev. H. Clay Bergstresser a Susquehanna Alumnus, Addressed Theolog Grad.

Rev. H. Clay Bergstresser, of Hazleton, delivered the commencement address to the graduating class of the Theological Department in Trinity Lutheran Church on Sunday evening.

Rev. Mr. Bergstresser used as his text the 6th verse of the Fourth chapter of Paul's Letter to the Colossians. "Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt."

Rev. Mr. Bergstresser outlined the importance of speech to the members of the class, as speech is the means of impressing others, and the medium of conveying one's thoughts to others.

Rev. Mr. Bergstresser pointed out how Christ with His life and influence salted the lives and the speech of His disciples. He impressed the class with the thought that the only way for them to season their speech with salt was to live close to Christ.

He admonished the class not to preach pleasant things just to please the congregation, neither to preach their own hatreds and bitterness, but to preach the grace and love of Christ to comfort those who are heavy laden, and need the comfort and love of the Master.

Rev. Mr. Bergstresser pointed out that the only means of learning the love and comfort of Christ was thru a diligent study of the scripture, and the way of showing the love to others is thru a perfect understanding of it, since one cannot preach the love of God until he fully understands the love of God.

In closing Rev. Mr. Bergstresser reminded the graduating class that the fruits of the spirit are not eloquence and power of speech, but love, joy, peace, meekness, and self-control.

It is the tale of rubber, easy riding wheels. "Today we travel rivers; measure distance in seconds. The air is our messenger and our means of travel. Race, speech, nationality, seas, mountains, rivers, are no longer barriers. Can we feel that we are alive in such an age?"

"What is your life 'Standard Pattern'? Are you out for the best? Can anything less than the best satisfy you?"

"Too many college graduates are choosing the unperfected pattern as their standard, instead of the best they can find. A life without a purpose is a ship without a rudder. Life has a meaning, a mission, a method, a motive.

"Life is a fellowship. It should be a partners' life with God and Christ. If God is your partner you are bound to win. Life is leadership. The difference between a good and poor student is often a case of better leadership. The world today is hungry for leaders.

"Life is hardship. If a person has not had it he has missed the purifying, refining values of life. We certainly seek to enrich our personality,

"Admiral Dewey's command at Manila was 'Steam Ahead,' and he won. Can't we abound continually in a blessing and goodness for others in an everlasting spirit of service?"

An augmented choir under the perfect direction of Prof. E. E. Sheldon, Director of the Conservatory of Music, presented the anthem "Gloria," with Dr. Franklin Williams, head of the mathematics department, singing the solo. Bertha L. Rodgers, teacher of voice in the conservatory, drew the depths of meaning as she sang Harriet Ware's "The Cross."

Among those in the choir were the familiar faces of William Roberts and Margaret Keiser, former students in the Conservatory. Prof. Percy Linebaugh was at the organ.

Dr. Franklin P. Manhart, D.D., Dean of the School of Theology, offered the prayer. The services were under the direction of Rev. Dallas G. Baer, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church.

Susquehanna Professor Deals With the Bible in Light of Recent Research

Announcement has been made by the Christian Alliance Publishing Company that a revised and enlarged edition of "Bible Studies in the Light of Recent Research," by Augustus William Ahl, A.M., Ph.D., professor of Biblical Literature in Susquehanna, is ready for publication.

The new edition contains an introduction by Dr. Leander S. Keyser, professor of Systematic Theology at Hamma Divinity School, Wittenberg College. Dr. Keyser is a theologian of note and the author of many books, two of which are being used in the college.

This enlarged edition contains several features not found elsewhere: invaluable notes bearing on Oriental research up to the present, references in the Old Testament books in the New Testament, synopsis of the Messianic Prophecies, Historical Background of the ancient nations in accordance with the latest results of Archaeology, historical sketch of the Old and New Testament, outline of the life of Christ and Paul.

Besides these special features there is a chapter on religion, the Canon, Inspiration, Revelation, Ancient Records, and the Bible Hebrew Poetry, Prophecies, Harmony of the Gospels, Chronological tables and a short introduction to each Biblical book with a brief outline of the contents.

The whole book is an attempt to blend sound scholarship with the faith of the Fathers. It is excellent as text book in English Bible and for Higher Institutions of learning, Sunday school teachers and private studies.

Copies may be secured at the College Book Store or direct from the publisher.

Dr. Ahl is also author of "Outline of Persian History Based on the Cuneiform Inscriptions."

Crusaders Dropped Susquehanna Hit Only One Decision Hard to Triumph

Captured Central State Class B Championship Besides Other Big Victories

Registering victories in dual meets over the University of Delaware and Bucknell and winning Class B championship honors in the Central Pennsylvania Track Conference meet with Drexel, Susquehanna's 1930 track combination closed an exceptionally successful season. Only one reverse was handed the Crusaders and that by their old rivals, Juniata, who eked out a 64-62 victory in the final meet.

Starting with prospects of only a fair season, Coach Grossman's progress gradually improved with form until they struck their championship stride in the conference meet.

The Crusaders displayed unusual strength in the sprints and middle distances. Captain "Bill" Weliky performed consistently in these events and showed marked improvement in the broad jump. Meyers and Reynolds proved very capable running mates in the sprints. The former also developed nicely in the broad jump in his first season of competition.

Swarm and Knouse were the mainstays in the middle distances with the former also displaying splendid form in the running broad jump. With Captain Weliky, Meyers and Swarm in the broad jump, Susquehanna had an unusually strong field of contestants in this event.

The distance runs presented to Coach Grossman one of his most difficult problems. But as the season progressed, Carolan came along nicely in the mile, while Hartline, Knepp and Hepner offered keen competition to their opponents in the two-mile. Heim, although primarily a baseball player, was a valuable man in the distances in several events.

The work of Johnston, Glenn and Neiswenter in the hurdles was an important factor in the success of the season. All of these men will return to college next year.

Surpassing the work of all other members was the consistent performance of Gerhardt in the high jump. He met and defeated all opponents throughout the entire season and in addition set two new records.

The first, a new Susquehanna record of 5 feet 10 1/2 inches, and the other a new Conference record of 5 feet 10 1/4 inches. Gerhardt, together with Zeak, who throws the discus, are the only men lost to the squad via the graduation route this June.

In the pole vault, Coldren and C. Shaffer gradually developed, with the latter reaching his peak in the final meet, when he won the event at Juniata. Shaffer also was a point garnerer in the javelin, sharing honors with Rupp, Gerhardt and Winters.

Winters, although performing well in hurling the spear, did his best work in the discus. In winning this event in the Bucknell meet he set a new Susquehanna record, thereby sharing honors with Gerhardt in establishing new Susquehanna records this season. He showed improvement in the shot-put as the season progressed.

Malasky, the regular center fielder on Susquehanna's nine, was available for two of the meets, in the shot-put. His improvement in this event was surprising and in the meets in which he competed he was successful in taking second place. Wagner proved himself a center in both the shot and discus.

Other members of the 1930 squad available for the 1931 campaign include Getz and Hess in the high jump, Malasky in the discus and Haines, Hassey, Dotkey, Bishop and Schoffstall in the middle distances, mile and two-mile runs.

Donnell Twirls Pals to 11-6 Win; Good Ends Career in a Blaze of Glory

Susquehanna University won a freestyle game from Lebanon Valley College Saturday afternoon on the new University Field by the score of 11 to 6.

Donnell, Susquehanna University wrestler, won his third victory of the season by handing Lebanon Valley its twelfth defeat, with the exception of the fourth inning when Lebanon Valley pounded him for four runs. Donnell had the game in hand.

Spiegelmyer, local third sacker, led the Ulerymen at the bat with three singles. Captain Good, diminutive key-stone tender, played his swan song game in a blaze of glory by collecting a triple and a double at an opportune time.

He also played sparkling field by accepting eight hard chances out of nine. "Pappie" Ramik, hard-hitting first baseman, and "Al" Snyder, flashy left fielder, also played their swan song game for the local collegians.

Albright started scoring for Lebanon Valley in the initial frame when he lifted a Donnell pitch over the center-field fence for a long circuit clout. A three-run rally by Susquehanna in the fifth inning put the Orange and Maroon in the lead by a run, one error and four hits, two of which went for two bases, sent the tallies across the plate and from then on Susquehanna strengthened its lead.

40 Awards Given in Spring Sports Here

Juniata Be-towed Upon Those Who Represented Orange and Maroon Teams

Forty separate awards for participation in spring sports were announced today by the various Committees on Awards.

Susquehanna completed her 1930 Spring sports campaign last Saturday when the Crusaders registered a 11 to 6 win over Lebanon Valley.

The season just closed found Susquehanna enjoying the best era of spring sports in a number of years. Under the leadership of Captain Kiracoff the Orange and Maroon tennis team either won or tied every match played. Susquehanna was the victor in her matches with Washington and Lebanon Valley. Two matches each were played with Juniata and Bucknell, Susquehanna winning one match and tying one against each opponent.

Captain Good's nine turned in 5 wins with eight defeats against them. P. M. C., Elizabethtown, Ursinus, Hamilton and Lebanon Valley tasted defeat at the hands of Coach "Bill" Uleriy's men, while Mt. St. Mary's, Penn State, Bucknell, Juniata and Colgate turned back the Crusaders.

Captain "Bill" Weliky's cinder path men contributed to a successful season by sharing Conference Championship honors with Drexel and defeating Delaware and Bucknell. Juniata alone was successful in registering a win over the Crusaders on the cinder path.

of these stories carried illustrations of 200 different subjects, depicting the personnel and scenes of news in the making at Susquehanna. The list of newspapers supplied included the metropolitan dailies of the East, as well as the smaller dailies and larger weekly newspapers in the territory where reside Susquehanna alumni and students.
In order to handle the spot news of sport at Susquehanna in up-to-date manner the university installed a newspaper wire service on the athletic field. Over that system, loops are built up direct to the editorial rooms of Philadelphia evening newspapers and press associations that the running story of events may be flashed for succeeding editions and the final story of events interrupted immediately after the last event.

40 Open Practice on S. U. Gridiron

Crusaders Promise One of Their Strongest Walls in History—Backs Are Light but Fast

During the past two weeks the bronzed warriors of Susquehanna, about 40 strong, have been whooping it up at the University practice field. By "bronzed" it is actually meant as brown as Al Smith's proverbial derby, the result of these boys having spent the summer out in the open to keep in the pink of condition. "Crusaders" seems to be the best descriptive word for the husky linemen as they have been whooping it up in the boiling sun during the past two weeks.

All of which is a long round-about way of saying that 20 linemen have reported to Coach Bill Ullery and his assistant Harper a week ago last Wednesday in wonderful condition and will give the Crusaders one of the most powerful front walls in the history of the institution. These athletes are nearly all big and the picture of physical fitness.

One of the most serious losses to the 1930 grid campaign is Frank Malasky, plunging backfield ace, who has been incapacitated because of a very serious operation for appendicitis. He will be lost to the squad for the entire season. However, he will assist Coaches Ullery and Harper during the season.

Susquehanna's 1930 grid machine will be built around the eight letter men remaining from last year. This group includes Capt. A. Garman, center; Auchmuty, guard; Berger, center and guard; Winters, tackle; Wolf, Barber and Adams, ends, and Moser, fullback.

With the 1929 line practically intact, but the backfield being cut deep by graduation and failure to return to school, Coach Ullery intends to bank his hopes on strong and fast charging line and a light and speedy backfield. Two nasty gaps in the backfield left by the graduation of John Wall, Susquehanna's triple-threat man and who was the mainstay at that position for his four years in college. The other is Wormley, flashy halfback.

This year "Skippy" Glenn will carry the burden of punting and Moser is expected to do most of the line plunging and Sprout available to play a half-back position or fullback. The rest of the backfield will be chosen from a list of exceptionally fast men. Scott and Myers will probably head the list, due to their previous experience. Scott, who has had three years varsity experience, will be available for the quarterback position.

During the past week Extrom, a big husky Sophomore, returned to his studies after a year's absence and is expected to be a valuable addition to the forward wall. Extrom tips the beam at close to 200 pounds and plays a tackle position. Bedford, another big boy, who has been absent from the football squad since his Freshman year, has again donned a uniform and is slated to plug one of the tackle positions. Wilkie is also coming along nicely at the guard position.

The entire personnel of the squad includes Capt. Garman, Auchmuty, Bedford, Carl, Berger, Witkop, Winters, Wolf, Speigelmeier, Schoffstahl, Extrom, Fisher, Kramer, Reider, Suter, Hudkins, Handford, Slegle, Barber, Adams, Hartman, and Ruch, all linemen. The backfield men include Spear, Sprout, Glenn, Meyers, Scott, Moser, Van Neufs, Rishel, Bernardi, Slotterback, Grove and Krear.

SIX HOLE GOLF COURSE IS COMPLETED

Susquehanna is again enlarging her athletic program. Under the direction of Prof. Grossman, a six-hole golf course is being erected on the campus.

The different holes are scattered over the different athletic fields, but with the tees and greens off the playing fields they will not interfere with each other in any form. From time to time the greens and tees will be improved and kept in excellent condition.

Students who wish to obtain some exercise and at the same time overcome the natural hazards and the lengthy drives on the course will be able to secure clubs at the gymnasium stock room, but they will have to furnish their own golf balls.

The course will be closed when the different groups are using the athletic fields.

Y. W. ENTERTAINS GIRLS OF SEIBERT HALL AT TEA

A real opportunity for the new and old girls to get acquainted, and for the "big sisters" to introduce their "little sisters," was offered last Tuesday afternoon when the Y. W. entertained at a tea. Nearly all the girls who had already returned to school attended the tea and found it a real pleasure to be with their old friends. Etta Mumaw and Dorothy Leshler poured.

FRESHMEN MELD GET-TOGETHER

During freshman week a freshman "get-together" was sponsored by the Y. W. and Y. M. All learned the names of their new classmates when each one was asked to rise in front of the whole group and tell their names and addresses as well as their nicknames. The crowd was then divided into five groups, each one of these going into separate rooms to plan a stunt to be presented before the group. All enjoyed themselves and found some new friends through this simple, informal "get-together."

73rd Session Opened Freshmen Week by President Smith

Dr. Smith Defines Requirements to Fit Students for This Very Complex Age

Susquehanna University officially opened her seventy-third session last week after a delightful freshman week program and with the rush of enrollment completed. Dr. G. Morris Smith, president of the university, delivered the opening address at the dinner chapel exercises.

PRESIDENT G. MORRIS SMITH Susquehanna President, Who Delivered Forceful Address at Opening of Collegiate Year

Due to the last minute rush of enrollment which was carried on until late in the evening no figures as to the total of students of the university could be supplied by the office, although the attendance this year is a large one in the college, Conservatory of music and theological department.

In his address Dr. Smith told of the requirements needed by the students in fitting themselves for a very complex age. His subject was "The Scholar for the Day," and in it he included some startling figures which make the age complicated and hard to understand. His timely talk follows:

The Scholar for the Day

A little over 100 years ago a commencement speaker at Harvard addressed the graduating class in these words: "Young people, you are going out into a very complex civilization." And this when there were no trains, no trolley cars, no telephones, telegraphs, no repeaters, no automobiles, no radios, no Ford motor plants. What, I wonder, would this man say, if he were alive today. Probably, just the same thing, though with far greater justification—"This is a very complex civilization."

Let us take a look at the kind of world we find ourselves in beyond these lovely walks and quiet academic shades.

First, there is a complex industrial order, revolving around machines, and motors and time clocks. The discoveries of James Watt and Thomas Edison have revolutionized industry, and with the new order have come machine production, division of labor, specialization, shorter hours, more wealth, more leisure. This new condition makes it imperative that we be prepared to do some special thing with excellence. If we are to fit ourselves into the industrial order with a minimum of waiting and with the highest usefulness.

I call your attention to a very curious fact that society today is suffering from two evils, each of which should be made to counteract the other. On the one hand, there is under consumption, famine, need of the necessities of life. On the other hand, there is to be considered unemployment. Sir Arthur Balfour has figured that including Russia there are 900,000,000 people suffering from underconsumption of food and commodities. Now put over against this need the statement that in Europe 10,000,000 people are unemployed, 2,000,000 of whom are in Great Britain. Nowhere is a greater problem for some of you college men to work out—900,000,000 with too little food.

Penn Grad to Coach S. U. Linemen

Lou Harper, Former U. of P. Tackle, Will Assist Coach Ullery This Season

Lou Harper, a graduate of the Wharton School of Business at University of Pennsylvania 1930 has been elected to assist Coach Ullery to guide the destiny of the Orange and Maroon eleven through the present season. Harper will have charge of the line and Coach Ullery the backfield.

Harper comes to Susquehanna highly recommended by Lou Young, veteran football coach at the University of Pennsylvania. During his Freshman year he was a member of the Penn Frosh and has three years experience playing varsity tackle and guard. He is a Penn letterman. Harper received his early education at the Lincoln High School, Cleveland, Ohio, and starred four years on the high school's athletic teams.

At Penn, Harper was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, was a real "live wire" on Penn's campus and prominent in campus activities and student committees.

He was very closely associated with Rev. Jack Hart, Student Chaplain at Penn. A member of the Student Vestry, governing body of Student Chapel and Settlement House and was the executive for an organization of about a hundred men of various committees and departments. During his Senior year he directed play activities for young men at community centers in and around Philadelphia.

During the past summer Harper assisted in the Coaching School at the University of Pennsylvania.

NOTE The Presidents of the different classes and fraternities are requested to arrange for selection of a representative to be the director of Inter-Mural Sport Activities for men in their respective organizations.

These directors are requested to meet in the Gymnasium Office Thursday evening, Sept. 25 at 7 o'clock. Sport activities will include inter-class soccer, tennis, cross-country, basketball, boxing, baseball, track and golf, together with the Freshman-Sophomore football game. It will also include Inter-Frat basketball.

Orange and Maroon Round Into Shape

Scrimmage Ends Week of Practice and Shows Entire Squad in Excellent Condition

The Orange and Maroon football squad just finished a tough week of football practice, but the entire squad is gradually being whipped into perfect condition for the first game two weeks off, with Wagner College on the University Field.

The schedule for a day's practice session is composed of about twenty minutes of calisthenics, wind sprints and limbering-up drills. The squad is then divided between the backs and linemen. Coach Ullery then takes the backs, who run down punts for about the next fifteen minutes, and then much time is devoted on the different passing plays. While Coach Ullery is thus engaged, Coach Harper is drilling the line in blocking and tackling. Every day both the backs and linemen have dummy tackling, while daily scrimmage of ten or fifteen minutes length culminates in mock games nearly every afternoon. After the scrimmage sessions the practice ends with the squad running signals.

Saturday afternoon the squad worked through a stiff scrimmage session, which lasted about forty-five minutes. The squad was divided into two teams, the Orange team and the Maroon team, both being about equally matched.

The scrimmage gave clue to the coaches that there are several points, both on the offense and defense, which will need to be polished up before the first game. It may be assured that these rough spots will be polished off before that time.

During the scrimmage the linemen showed up well on the defense and the fast and shifty backs on either team ripped off some nice runs, and it can be expected that they will gain much yardage for the Crusaders in their first game.

The longest runs of the afternoon were made by Van Neufs, Meyers, Glenn and Scott. Moser also displayed consistent power in his line plunging.

- The teams lined up as follows:
- | | |
|-----------|--------------------------|
| Orange | Maroon |
| Barber | R. E. Speigelmeier |
| Winters | R. T. Kreamer |
| Witkop | R. G. Auchmuty |
| Garman | C. Schoffstahl |
| Hartman | L. G. Schoffstahl |
| Hudkins | L. T. Bedford |
| Adams | L. E. Wolf |
| Van Neufs | R. B. Scott |
| Glenn | Q. H. B. Krich |
| Speer | L. H. B. Meyers |
| Moser | F. B. Sprout |
- Substitutions: Orange—Bernardi for Barber, Reider for Adams; Maroon—Berger for Kreamer, Kreamer for Schoffstahl, Schoffstahl for Auchmuty, Suter for Carl.

FACULTY HOLDS FORMAL STUDENT RECEPTION

On Wednesday evening, September 17 the faculty gave its formal reception to the student body in Seibert Hall. During this time students and faculty rubbed elbows, while new acquaintances were made and old ones renewed. Students were received into the Dining Hall by the welcoming hands of President and Mrs. G. Morris Smith, Dean George F. Dunkelberger and Miss Naomi K. Hade.

Music was furnished during the evening by a trio consisting of Professor Allison, piano; Professor Hemphill, violin; Lois Brungart, cello. Elaborate refreshments were served during the course of the evening.

BOB WILSON TO LEAD VESPER SONG SERVICE

Mr. Robert Wilson, of Williamsport, has given his services to the vesper committee, condescending to act as song leader for the Sunday night meetings as long as he shall remain upon the campus.

Mr. Wilson is a senior and is very well liked by the student body. His experience in choral work has covered quite a number of years. He has belonged to Womans' Seminary Glee Club, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College choir, Susquehanna University Glee Club and many church choirs. Without a doubt the direction of Mr. Wilson in the song service will produce a greater success to the vesper gatherings.

WELCOME

During the past week Susquehanna's student body has been gathering once more upon her campus, ready to resume their activities where they were left last June and, in the case of the Freshmen, for the first time to start on the road of activities which the world today knows as higher education.

There is a great clamor upon the campus as old friends meet once again, ready with a zest to begin their work. But, how long will this zeal last? Just as long as you last. This is our year to bring Susquehanna to one of her high points on the road of success and in this determination we must remember that "a chain is no stronger than its weakest link."

To the newcomers at Susquehanna we expect you to take on the full burden and strive for the betterment of your new Alma Mater, ever remembering at all times to uphold her traditions and aims.

Susquehanna welcomes you to her campus where we are sure you will find real and profitable friendship and in return we expect real friendship from you.

We have returned to our campus to find it in excellent condition in spite of the dry weather. The authorities in charge have kept things in fine shape and now it is our turn to help. We can help by being thoughtful and remembering it is your school and the looks on the outside determine what is on the inside. So let us keep the campus in perfect order by keeping it neat at all times.

CAMPUS ECHOES

The campus generally regrets the fact that some of the old students failed to return. The seniors will also be missed, but as long as we have a few of the bigger and better students with us like "Jack" Auchmuty, Howed Kimmel and "Al" Garman we should worry.

Danny Graham, one of our new waiters, is certainly a hot dish juggler.

Some of our enterprising Sophomores have succeeded in selling the Fresh the radiators and chapel seats. Well, they ought to know why all they bought 'em last year.

E. Bollinger's famous Pony Express Mail Service Co. has been liquidated and has been reorganized by no less an efficient gentleman than Mr. Walter Irwin, known to the campus as "Shaw."

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. are very happy because of the fact that there are so many good-looking girls.

There is no use of the Freshmen thinking about a get-away as most of their look as though they hadn't arrived yet.

Grossman's Golf Course is growing very popular. It's unique feature is that it has a football field.

It is marvelous how supercilious our Freshmen of yesteryear have become on their return to the campus as Sophomores.

AMUSEMENTS

Tuesday presents Charles Kaley and Cliff Edwards in "Lard Byron of Broadway."

On Wednesday, Belle Daniels will present "The Merry Widow."

MEN ADDRESSED BY STATE SECRETARY OF Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Leo Kohl, State Secretary for the Y. M. C. A. in Central Pennsylvania, was the speaker at the first mass meeting of the Y. M. C. A. of Susquehanna University on Thursday evening. Mr. Kohl presented a short informal talk on "God as a Reality to the College Man." Being full of actual experience Mr. Kohl made the meeting an interesting and an inspiring one. Mr. Kohl also addressed the student body in chapel on Friday morning.

The work of the Y. M. C. A. as a religious organization can be carried out more successfully with men like Mr. Kohl, who are behind the Y work as a whole, spending their lives to help the other fellow get a better vision of God.

3RD SESSION OPENED BY PRESIDENT SMITH

15,000,000 people idle. It is a problem of adjustment of the idle to constructive service, and of a more equitable distribution of goods. "Why stand ye here idle?" "No man hath hired us." It would seem these 15,000,000 unemployed should be given an opportunity to feed, clothe and shelter 900,000,000 under-nourished. With 15,000,000 people working, could not the 900,000,000 be adequately fed? Can you solve the puzzle? Can you think it through? Why haven't the 900,000,000 half starved money to buy with? Then there would be plenty of business, and only the lazy would be out of work. Maybe! Can you think it through? College men are needed, because they are trained to think things thru.

"May I say this, that if you apply yourselves to the opportunities on this campus, there is no reason why you should want for a place to serve. I say, if you apply yourselves. But the mere fact that you are here will not guarantee you a position when you graduate. Can you fit easily into the world's life. A valedictorian here had three positions offered her at the same time. Plenty to do—no idleness—why? Because she excelled. But another graduate may say, "I have no school." Why? He had not excellence.

Another characteristic of the modern world is controversy. There are many fissions, political, social, ecclesiastical. There is much strife, much competition. Europe is divided into twenty-six nationalities and the basis of her stability is a map that is not loyally accepted by the nations within it. France and Italy are jealous of each other. The Franco-Italian line south of Switzerland has been a scene of obstinuous preparedness on both sides. The Orient wonders whether it cannot shake off the domination of Europe.

There are the Indian national's allying around Mahatma Ghandi, asking for a large degree of self government. And poor China with famine avaging its people, dragging out an incessant Civil War—China resentful of foreign domination of courts and customs, and of extra-territorial rights—China in terrible confusion—that few of us can understand completely. But surely it is a sore spot. But let us come closer home and direct our gaze to the south of us. Latin America seems a face of feuds and revolutions. Three governments—Peru, Bolivia and the Argentine, almost simultaneously changed presidents under the pressure of armed evolution. The stress and strain of political to college men and women a great challenge in Christian diplomacy. What is it that is needed to soften and wear down the friction points in the world? Is it not a broader view of life that has been characterized as the international mind? Is it not remembering that all nations are equal in the love of God? There is no first nor last. Is it not by adopting the spirit of Jesus that strife shall cease—that spirit which was love itself—that stooped to wash disciples' feet and that mounted a cross to find it an everlasting crown. The sickness of our times is due to misunderstanding.

College men are challenged by a life of clear vision and unutterable, self-giving to reconcile the warring elements in the world.

Love is irresistible in allaying strife, and the measure of its genuineness is its willingness to sacrifice.

In the third place, things are somewhat topsy-turvy in life, and poorly balanced. Is it right that the cause of world missions should get a budget of $44,000,000 a year while the cost of war runs $9,000,000 per hour. That education should receive less by far than luxuries, insurance, or war? In other words, five hours of war exhausts a year's appropriation to missions.

Now, whatever we may say of our world and however we may lament the apparent inequalities in it, the poor distributions of the world's wealth, the social maladjustments, the national and civil strife, and the lack of correct evaluations, yet we must admit it is a challenging age in which to live. In the midst of its complexities, there is a great chance for men and women trained to think things through, aflame with a desire to love and serve, and whose eyes have been fixed on Christ's face, and therefore see things in their true perspective.

To meet the exacting demand of modern civilization, our college students must become intellectually eager, curious to know the truth, patient to investigate the facts. Do not be too quick to make generalizations. True scholarship is patient, active, ever in search of the truth and ever seeking to improve outward and inner conditions. It is when you have learned to delight in study and research, that many will desire to go on to the graduate school. We must develop thinking men and women.

The scholar for this age must be true, honest, sincere. He must be eager to do the right thing no man's eyes are on him. His workmanship must be sterling. As Horace Bushnell said, he must believe it always pays to be honest, never to cheat.

Then the true scholar must have faith in the heart of the universe is God, love. Without this faith we become pessimistic. A boy learning to swim fights for small margins, he beats his hands violently about in the water. On the other hand, if he only knew it, by believing in the upholding power of the water he could rest back easily and tread lightly. So you and I need not fight for the small margins of life. In our lives we may be serene if we have faith in God's love and power. Surely at the heart of the universe is as much kindness and consideration as in a swimming pool. Fear not, only believe.

In the conclusion, for this coming age we need more scholars, men and women with trained minds, ever seeking the best, with restrained judgment, and with an attitude of love to man, because of faith in God.

Crusaders to Open Grid Season Sat.

King of College Sports Will Open at S. U. With Wagner College; Starting Lineup is Uncertain

Football, the king of college sports, will have its opening Saturday afternoon at Susquehanna, when the Orange and Maroon eleven meets the Wagner College team here. The kickoff will take place at 2 o'clock.

Although Wagner is little known for its football ability, it is not in any way to be taken lightly by the Susquehanna griders. Last year Juniata, who had a strong eleven, was down by the aggregation from Staten Island by the score of 12-0. If this score means anything the local grid men will have a real fight on their hands Saturday.

The Orange and Maroon team, with a much changed line-up from last season, should prove especially interesting to the local football fans. The heavy backfield of last season, will be replaced by a light secondary this year, while the line also will probably be slightly lighter in weight.

With the increase of speed in the line-up Susquehanna should undoubtedly put forth a more spectacular brand of play than it has displayed in several years. Much can be expected from Scott, who will probably start at quarterback. During the little time he got into the games last year his work was sensational.

Moser, the only heavy backfield player, will hold down the fullback position. His work of three seasons establishes him as a reliable man for this position. Glenn is certain to be stationed at halfback. His fine running, good punting, and accurate passing will be of untold value to the team. Meyers will probably fill in the other halfback position. His brilliant work in every practice has practically earned him his position. Other backfield members who may possibly start the contest are Sprout, Speer, Van Neusy, and Rishel.

The starting line is very uncertain. Wolf, Adams, Spielmeier or Barber will start at the ends. Winters, Extram, Berger or Bedford will play tackle. Auchmuty and Witkop seem to be the outstanding candidates for guard, while Captain Garman is certain to hold down his position at center.

Coach Ullery has been putting the squad through stiff workouts for the last two weeks. He will probably hold hard practices on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday this week and then will probably ease up slowly until Saturday afternoon.

CRUSADERS TO OPEN SEASON IN NEW UNIFORMS

When the varsity eleven trots on the gridiron on Oct. 4 meeting their first foe of the season, they will be all "decked out" in new uniforms.

The color schemes will be practically the same as other years, but the material will be of a much finer quality. The linemen will be attired in the maroon jersey with orange stripes and the heavy moleskin trousers, together with a bright new headgear and new footwear. The backfield men will wear a trowser with a ribbed maroon stripe running from the knee to the hip.

Following the games this equipment of the varsity squad will be thoroughly cleaned and laid away for the next encounter. Each man on the squad is outfitted with two complete uniforms, one used for the games and the other for the regular practice sessions.

If there is anything to the saying "clothes make the man," we should have plenty of real men on the 1930 football squad.

Susquehanna Grads Attend Convention

S. U. Will be Represented by Twenty-Four Grade at United Lutheran Church Convention

The following Susquehanna graduates will be delegates at the convention of the United Lutheran Church in Milwaukee during October 7 to 14. Rev. Drs. Albeck, Carpenter, Dunlap, Guss, Hipsley, Sassaman, Teufel, Traub, Swank, Uber, Wagner and Weidley and Rev. Messrs. Brown, Greensohn, Greninger, Harris, Kiefler, Lubold, Middlesworth, Ross, Shannon and Zimmerman. Dr. W. C. Beck, of the Theological faculty, and Mr. Oberdorf are delegates also.

Besides these it is probable that President Smith and Dr. Manhart, Dean of the Theological Seminary, will also attend.

Playing Last Year

WINTERS

Joe Winters will begin his fourth year of varsity football at Susquehanna next Saturday, when Wagner College will be met on the University Field. Joe is Susquehanna's big man on the line. He is tall, rangy and fast, playing consistently and hard. A play off tackle always results in a gain when "Joe" makes up his mind it is going to be. Not only in offense, but in defense Joe is a large asset to Coach Ullery's front line. With his huge hands he smears the interference, making tackle after tackle to hold the opposing team to small gains.

Joe also is a basketball player, being one of the fastest men on the floor for his size. At track Joe shines at the shotput and javelin. In his spare time Joe trains by handling the epileptics at the colony when they get a little misbehaved. In this way he is earning money to put himself through school. He is a member of the Phi Mu Delta fraternity. Joe comes to us from Sewickley, Pennsylvania, where he participated in all major athletics. Before coming to Susquehanna Joe spent a semester at Pitt.

INTER-SORORITY TEA

On Saturday afternoon the Inter-Sorority Council gave their annual tea to all the new girls. This one was really quite an occasion, and the Council can well be satisfied with the affair. On the receiving line were the presidents of the three sororities, Signe Alfred, of Omega Delta Sigma, and president of the Council this year; Ida Schweitzer, of Kappa Delta Phi, and Dorothy Lelscher, of Sigma Alpha Iota.

As faculty representatives there were present, Miss Stroder and Mrs. Smith.

Y. W. C. A. ACTIVITIES

The Y. W. C. A. has been very active on the campus this fall, taking an active part in Freshman Week, doing its best to welcome the newcomers and make them feel at home at S. U.

The return of the old students did not stop activities, but Y. W. has still been on the job, canvassing for new members. The Cabinet has had several meetings, talking over plans for the year. On Thursday evening, September 25 a very impressive installation service was held for the members. The beautiful candle-light service was used. The meeting was in charge of Miss Sarah Rhoads, membership chairman, and the candle-light service was led by our president, Miss Inez Sarver. Eighty members have been received this year.

Committees are now working on the coming Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. play, which will be given on November 6, 1930. All are reminded to remember this date.

Leads Crusaders

CAPTAIN AL GARMAN

Captain Alton Garman will represent Susquehanna on the gridiron for his last football season. This is the second year that "Al's" popularity has elected him as the leader of the football team. Without a good center a football team is lost, but such is not the case with the Orange and Maroon eleven. Besides being able to throw that ball between his legs, Al always manages to help open a hole for the backs. At defense Captain Garman can certainly back up the line. One play he ruins the opponent's pass, the next he smears a line buck, always stopping the opponents from advancing.

Al believes that this is an age of "specialization," and he says that football is his game. Although he enjoys playing other sports he'd rather be a spectator. Since golf has made its debut at Susquehanna "Al" has decided to "take up" the game as a minor sport.

"Al's" football career began in the Sunbury grammar school, where he was captain, led his young cohorts to many a victory. During four years at high school he played at the center post.

He is noted for his after dinner speeches. He has received many trophies, including radio announcements, but he says he shall finish his education first. He is a member of Bond and Key Club.

Inter-Class Tennis to Open Wednesday

Herb Rummell to Have Charge; Manager Will Pick Teams and Carry Out the Schedule

The Inter-Class Tennis Tournament will get under way Wednesday afternoon. The tournament will be under the direction of Herbert Rummell, who has arranged a schedule.

Matches are to be played off in the three days designated. In case of wet courts other dates will be set as soon after scheduled dates as possible. The different classes are expected to have a manager named who will pick teams in the different classes. The managers of the various teams are expected to make the necessary arrangements as to time, etc. The results will be placed on the schedule card in the gym office.

After the final match the championship will be determined and the trophy awarded to that team winning the greatest number of individual matches.

The following schedule has been arranged:

- Oct. 1 to 4th—Sophomores vs. Seniors.
- Oct. 6 to 8th—Juniors vs. Freshmen.

Faculty Guests of Rotary Club

Dinner Given to S. U. Faculty by Selinsgrove Rotary Club in Honor of the New Members

Members of the Rotary Club entertained the faculty of the University at their regular meeting in the First Lutheran Church on Thursday evening, at which time a regular dinner was served. There were thirty guests present and the purpose of the meeting was to welcome the nine new members of the faculty to Selinsgrove.

Dr. G. Morris Smith introduced the faculty members to the Rotarians and A. D. Gouzer introduced members of the club to the faculty. Marion S. Schoch, editor of The Selinsgrove Times, gave an interesting talk on the past of Selinsgrove. He brought out many interesting points in the early history of the town which are not generally known.

Starting Quarterback

SCOTT

Raymond Scott will again be the diminutive quarterback of the Little Crusaders when they meet Wagner College. "Scotty" has proven his ability as a great football player by holding down a varsity berth for three years. He is the heaviest man on the team, weighing only 133 pounds, but his speed is remarkable. Tearing around the ends for long gains is his great specialty, and many a time has he made the opponent's 200 pound brutes look foolish. Despite his short stature he is a sure receiver of passes, and runs back the punts in true All-American style. "Scotty" hails from Mt. Carmel. He played quarterback for Mt. Carmel High School the year they were Pennsylvania State champions. He also engages in track, where he shines in the dashes. "Raymie" is a member of the Phi Mu Delta fraternity.

ORIGINATES HOLE-IN-ONE CLUB

John Balentine, of Summerville, N. J., originated the Susquehanna hole-in-one golf club last Saturday morning when he sank the second hole of the new Susquehanna six hole golf course with but a single stroke.

The second hole measures about a hundred yards and lies between the baseball field and the railroad tracks. Now that Balentine has originated the honor club at Susquehanna all new members are invited. All that is required is a hole in one.

PI GAMMA MU TO HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

Pennsylvania Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, the National Honorary Social Science Society, will hold its first regular meeting of the year on Monday evening, October sixth at 6:30 o'clock.

PRESIDENT SMITH SPEAKS AT CHURCH MEMORIAL

The tenth annual memorial service was held at the Immanuel Lutheran Church, between Muncy and Hughesville last Sunday at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. G. Morris Smith delivered the main address. Several other ministers also spoke at the memorial service. This church is the oldest in Muncy Valley, being founded in 1794, and for a long time served three congregations.

DEAN DUNKELBERGER SPEAKS AT SUNBURY

Dr. George F. Dunkelberger was the speaker at the Sunbury Kiwanis Club meeting last Friday evening. His subject was "Will Power," and his address very powerful.

Inter-Mural Board Has First Meeting

Sprout Elected Chairman; Heads of Committees Appointed and Schedules Arranged

At the meeting held last Thursday, September 25, the following representatives of the various fraternities and classes were present: Bond and Key, Winfield Hudkins; Phi Mu Delta, Randolph Harvey; Epsilon Sigma, Russel Sprout; Phi Lambda Theta, Harold Kimmel; Seniors, Richard Scharfe; Juniors, Herbert Rummell; Sophomores, Charles Geisweit. This body is to be known as the Inter-Mural Board and will have charge of all inter-fraternity and inter-class athletics.

Russel Sprout was elected chairman of the Board and was authorized to appoint members of the board to have charge of the various inter-mural sports. It will be the duty of these men to arrange schedules and secure officials for the different activities.

Plans are now being made for the inter-class competition in the fall sports.

The sports for this fall will consist of inter-class soccer, inter-class tennis, inter-class golf, inter-class cross-country and the annual Frosh-Sophomore football game.

This board will also have charge of inter-class basketball, inter-frat basketball, inter-class boxing, and the annual Indoor Meet.

The following have been announced as the heads of the various sports: Scharfe, director of inter-fraternity basketball.

Kimmel, director of inter-class basketball.

Geisweit, director of inter-class soccer.

Rummell, director of inter-class tennis.

Harvey, director of inter-class golf.

CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES

A glance at 1930 football rule book reveals certain outstanding changes in rules which are found to change considerably the technique of the game this year.

The most effective change has to do with the shift, which has been so effective in past seasons. This feature of the game has been practically eliminated. A penalty of fifteen yards will be given for any form of shift by any member of the team. There must be a half of at least one second between the shift and play.

False starting signals will be penalized also. No false move either on part of quarterback or on part of any member of team, which tends to draw opposing teams into off-side movement will be heavily penalized.

Aside from the changes in rules, emphasis will be very strongly placed this year on the lateral pass, a very effective play of past seasons and this fact will tend to place emphasis on speed rather than weight.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE TO GYM

Many improvements are being made in the Gym. During the past week a hand ball court has been installed in the basement, and preparations are being made for the installing and fitting of a first aid room. This room will also be used as a training room and will be thoroughly equipped for such purposes.

ALTERATION IN GYM SCHEDULE

New plans have been made for Juniors by Professor L. D. Grossman, director of Physical Education. Juniors will be permitted to take their tests in gymnastics at the beginning of the semester and if they qualify by meeting certain requirements they will be allowed the privilege of electing golf or tennis instead of the regular gym classes. They shall also be allowed to select periods convenient for themselves.

This plan is being worked out by Professor Grossman in order to give the upperclassmen more privileges.

FRAT PLANS NEW HOME

Epsilon Sigma Fraternity held a meeting last Saturday evening at which time they voted to build a new home on West Walnut street. The plans show that the new project will cost the club approximately $20,000.

SUSQUEHANNA'S SPIRIT OF ATHLETICS

Many people look forward to winning teams on their college athletic program. This is indeed worth the while to look for, but there is still something more nobler and finer back of a winning team, and this is a true spirit of honesty and loyalty. We can see from many instances that if we use winning as an end in itself and don't find these finer and nobler traits and without these we lose in the end.

True college spirit is found in the man whose heart has warmed to the love of his college, whose eyes have caught the vision of the ideals that his college possesses, whose brain has thought over and understood those ideals until they have become the very fibre of his being. Above all he will be willing to sacrifice himself, his own personal glory, for the sake of his college; will be willing to give his money and time to his institution. When he has done this he will never forget the gleam of idealism that he received in the old halls, the vision of his chance to serve his fellows. The man who does these things, who thinks these things has the true Susquehanna spirit.

This is the spirit the Susquehanna athletes have when they play for their Alma Mater. It has been said that at Susquehanna the boys play for the love of the sport and the physical benefit they derive from participation in them, and not for an annual salary as an impelling motive.

This spirit is brought out clearly when Coach Ullery issues his first call for candidates. During the Ullery regime there has been on an average of forty to fifty huskies respond to his call. Enough men to form three and four teams every night and then "stick it out" for the remainder of the season, not because of any pecuniary gains received, but for the love of the game and a desire to do something worthwhile for their college. This is not merely true in football, but in other sports as well.

Susquehanna's athletic coach and other officials are to be congratulated upon their development of this fine spirit. Susquehanna has had a hard time to get a foothold in athletics and we all know that this is one of the things which helps make the name of the institution.

If we take our old schedules and look over Susquehanna's past record, we have not done so badly for a smaller college. We really see that we have not won all of our games, but the ones that we did lose, we lost to a better team and generally by a small margin.

Let us now look to the future, forgetting all the mistakes that have been made in our athletic policy for there were many. Let us look on the brighter side for this splendid Susquehanna Spirit is bound to get us somewhere, for it has already brought us up on the ladder of progress, and is bound to take us up still further.

As we all know, Saturday will be our first home game, as well as first game of the season. Until that time there must be instilled into every loyal student some more of the Susquehanna Spirit, which will be necessary to sweep our foes off the field as we meet them. The least we can do for this fine group of men who will represent Susquehanna in the coming football campaign is to be on hand Saturday afternoon and give them the "biggest hand" that has ever been given a Susquehanna team. They have the Spirit! Now we must also get it to make it a successful season.

Professor Boyer Wins Tennis Championship at Williamsport

Professor Frank Boyer, recently superintendent of the State school, was the double champion in the Williamsport tennis tournament. He defeated J. E. L. ... The tournament was held at Williamsport, Pa., on Saturday, September 27, 1930. The towns represented in the tournament were Williamsport, Pa., Jersey Shore, Pa., Selingsrove, Pa., and ...

Letter Received from Susquehanna Graduate

A letter has recently been received from Rev. G. R. Groninger, '25, of Mechanicsburg, formerly of Pottsgrove. He now has a church with a membership of 400, which is quite an advance over the pastorate from which he came. He states that he will miss the fields in the Susquehanna Synod, but hopes to make new friendships in the South in which he is serving. He also wishes Susquehanna a prosperous year this year.

Dr. Zillessen Meets With Success at Clinic

Dr. Frederick Zillessen, a former Susquehanna physician, is meeting with fine success with his studies at the Mayo Brothers' famous clinic at Rochester, Minn.

He is a student in advanced surgery, pathology, etc., and has begun his second year. He will remain at the clinic for one more year. Dr. Zillessen is a graduate of Sunbury High School, Susquehanna University, and the University of Pennsylvania, and served as an interne at the Misericordia Hospital at Philadelphia, after which he built up a large practice in Sunbury.

Death of Susquehanna Graduate

During the summer months Rev. Hammie A. Strall died at Liverpool at the home of his son, Rev. Gilbert Day Strall. Rev. Strall studied at Hartwick Seminary, N. Y., and Missionary Institute. He was licensed by the Franckean Synod in 1872 and ordained by the same synod at Clay, N. Y., June 6, 1874. He continued in the active ministry for fifty-one years, retiring to make his home with his son in Liverpool December 1, 1923.

During his ministry he served the following churches in the order named: Postenkill, Payette, Orleans Four Corners, Clay, Postenkill, Nindem, Gallupsville, Black Lake, Sateville, Freysbush, and Postenkill. Called three times to serve the church at Postenkill, it was his first and also his last field of service as an ordained minister.

As requested by the deceased, Dr. F. P. Manhart, D.D., preached the sermon.

Pastor Resigns

Rev. Russel P. Knoebel, '23 and '27, resigned as pastor of the Orkney Springs Parish, Orkney Springs, Va., to become pastor of Bellwood Parish, Bellwood, Pa. His resignation was reluctantly accepted, for during his pastorate remarkable progress has been made in all the congregations of this parish. Church buildings were renovated, and attendance in Bible Schools and at services exceeded that of previous years. Also the best financial reports in the history of the four congregations were submitted at the congregational meeting.

Accepts Pastorate at Jersey Shore

The vacancy that existed in Grace Church since the removal of Rev. Joseph E. Law to Williamsport, has been filled by the acceptance of the call extended to Rev. H. F. Shoaf, '17, '19, '22, at Jersey Shore, Trinity Church at Avis, Grace Parish consists of Grace Church and the Garman Church in Clinton county. Mr. Shoaf comes from Kulpmont and will now reside at Jersey Shore.

Published Articles in "The Lutheran"

Several articles under the heading "Lights and Shadows of Home Mission Work" written by S. N. Carpenter, D.D., of Birmingham, Ala., appear in last April's issue of "The Lutheran" magazine. Dr. Carpenter received the degrees of A.B., B.D., A.M., and D.D. in '98, '00, '01 and '17. A few remarks from his articles follow:

"Home missions are the frontiers of the church. When times of depression come, they are the first to be affected. The mission is then like the architect and the mason in the building trades—first to be laid off, but first to be employed again.

"Losses in the church are felt more keenly than elsewhere in a mission, because the church is comparatively small. But experience has taught us that membership in mission churches is composed of choice souls, whose very presence in the mission indicates the quality of their spirit. Times of depression can be made times of opportunity, stepping stones to success.

"One of the challenges of our work is the fact that the Lutheran Church is not indigenous in this section of the South. We have no native population from which to draw. Our people are practically all from other States or cities. This fact has its redeeming feature. Our people are mostly skilled workmen, high class artisans and leaders in industry and business. They are men and women of initiative, courage, spirit and ability. The fact that we are comparatively unknown is a challenge which can hardly be appreciated in places where the Lutheran Church is virtually dominant. Ours is the task of witnessing some of the best known truths of church history. We are the first and the largest church of Protestantism."

Alumnus Addresses Conference Group

At a meeting of the National Lutheran Educational Conference at Chicago, a large crowd was addressed by Prof. William Herbert Blough, of Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio. Prof. Blough was graduated from S. U. in '24. He had for his subject "Student Attitude Toward the Church." He proved significantly that the church college is showing results in favor of loyalty to the church which has established it and sacrificed for it. He presented graphs indicating the attitude to the church exhibited by students in all classes at both a Christian college and a State institution. The freshmen at both institutions start with about the same attitude towards the church, but in the senior year, although there was much divergence in the Christian college, the students at the Christian college are more interested in and loyal to the church than the students in the State school.

Child Born

A child has been born to Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Rearick, of Carlisle. Dr. Rearick was graduated from S. U. with the class of '21. Mrs. Rearick was Miss Dorothy Schoen, of Selingsrove. She took preparatory work in the Academy at S. U., and later attended Shippensburg Normal School.

Rev. Botsford Has Retired

From the Lutheran Ministry Rev. Chauncey R. Botsford, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church at Cumberland, Maryland, for the past twelve years, has retired from the ministry and gone to the Memorial Home Community, Penney Farms, Fla. Rev. Botsford is widely known in Northumberland, having served as pastor of the Lutheran Church there for eight years. He left Northumberland twenty-five years ago, and after serving a pastorate at Berwick, he became Field Secretary at S. U. Rev. Botsford stated that he did not feel strong enough to carry on the work of the parish and felt that a younger man should be chosen.

Elizabeth Bloom Studying at Syracuse

Miss Elizabeth Bloom '24, of Sunbury, is studying civil engineering at Syracuse. During the years 1929-1930 Miss Bloom was working at the Syracuse Lighting Company.

Begins Teaching

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Garman are at their new home in Schuylkill Haven, where "Rip" has begun his duties as coach of athletics in the high school.

Walter Stauffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Stauffer, of South Market street, has begun his teaching career at Gloomy Glen, near Philadelphia.

Had Picture in Magazine

In a recent issue of "The Lutheran" a picture is published of the Junior and Senior choirs of the Church of the Advent at Brooklyn, N. Y. The pastor of this church is Rev. Fred. Crossland '18.

SPORT BITS

All ready for the "grass drills" boy? Alright, let's go.

The boys are getting plenty of carrots to eat now, anyway this is a good rabbit food. No wonder one hears such remarks like "let's hop into it now fellows," from the coaches on the field.

Malasky must have some use for his wound or one would not hear him make a remark like "good ole incision." Tough luck, eh, "Peanuts."

The boys are gradually making additional holes in their belts as the season rolls on.

Capt. Al. Garman and Scott made his team mates—"now watch you don't tear the dummy when you hit it fellows."

John Ballentine has the distinction to be the first member of the famous "hole-in-one club."

Capt. Al. marman and Scott made another bold attempt to eat in the dining hall, but were evicted from the popular resort for the last time.

We are proud of our famous life-guard, Jack Auchmuty, but the way a certain fluid gushes forth from his lips one might think the opposite of him.

Campus Echoes

After at least one successful get-away the Freshmen finally succeeded in eluding the wily sophomores and electing officers. It must be wonderful to be a Freshman.

Among the several visitors to the campus during the past week were Muzzy Traxler, Alexander Sokolovsky, Ralph Lenker, Frank Weaver, and former students renewing old acquaintances.

Once more Hassinger's walls resound with strains of martial music. The band men must practice. However sweet the cadence during waking hours it becomes as "a sounding brass and tinkling cymbals after 10.30."

Many of the students must have been seized with an attack of nostalgia as so many went home over the weekend. Cheer up, the first few weeks are always the hardest.

An old Spanish custom was beautifully revived one mellow evening last week when the Frosh serenaded the girls of Seibert.

The men's Glee Club will undoubtedly be a success this year, judged by the number of campus harmonizers.

Miniature golf has become very popular with students of S. U. this fall. People who hitherto have been unable to differentiate between a hazard and a green are rapidly becoming disciples of Bobby Jones. One Freshman made the remark that the reason it was called miniature golf was because in a minute—you're all finished playing.

Students are to be generally commended for their early rising. Never before has the dining hall been so popular at breakfast time. We wonder will it be the same when old man winter fastens his icy talons upon the campus.

DOUBT IT OR NOT

Will U. Believeit

This column is being written weekly. Don't believe it! In The Susquehanna. Don't ask why. You know every good newspaper has such a column and why not The Susquehanna. Good writers. I am told, receive from a dollar a line to five dollars a word. The best that Will shall get is Cain for being tardy with his column.

I have actually seen Andy Kozak, prominent bass horn player, or what have you, eat no less than three loaves of bread for each meal. This does not include the numerous slices that he "dunks."

There are certain frosh that have written home for more funds to pay for each radiator in their rooms.

One frosh football man actually went out in search of a "scrimmage line."

Shorty still has aspirations of being a letter man on Susquehanna's checker squad. As yet he has not defeated last year's subs, so Shorty doesn't look to most of us as Varsity material. Some say he is in poor condition. Under the severe training of Pa Hassinger and with a gallop each night at twelve about the track he should be ready for an intercollegiate tilt soon.

Do you really believe that a hole can be made in one on Susquehanna's semi-miniature golf course (coarse)? Ask Ballentine to show you.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

What happened to all the squirrels? The only thing that we can figure out is that the dining hall ran short on meat or that they moved to a vicinity that had a few more nuts (very few).

Some of the students think we have a good bunch of Freshmen. We think they're right, but don't forget that everybody knows everybody else at Susquehanna. Let's speak. As a matter of fact, the rest of us may note this also.

Saturday seemed to be the formal opening of Prof. Grossman's golf course.

The big problem for some of the boys was to keep their own "gills." From the ability displayed on making changes we think there are some around who should have been horse traders.

There has been a lot of talk among the students of trying to have the city line moved down to the railroad tracks, so we can have Sunday golf. We doubt whether or not this is advisable.

Just when we think all our expenses are paid we find an additional one. Most of us have purchased a flashlight, that is one light that doesn't flicker.

Through the aid of the Administration and the kind permission of the Street Car Conductor the Freshmen seem to be able to have quite a calm and peaceful get-away.

This column is being published for the use of Alumni, Faculty and Students. We want questions pertaining to Susquehanna in general. You ask 'em, we answer 'em, and the more you ask the better we will like it. Put your questions in a sealed envelope and either put them in the box outside the Credits Office or hand them to one of the editors. If you will have your questions in by Friday noon they will be answered the following week.

The Ideal Roommate

"Roomie, are you going out tonight? If you are, my suit just came back from the cleaners, help yourself. The last time you wore it you soiled it with grass stains, but the tailor fixed it and it only cost a dollar. There are plenty of cigarettes in the pockets. Oh, by the way, I just bought a new tie that will go nicely with it. You can wear it if you like. I just sent down for some shoe cleaner and as soon as it arrives I will clean that pair of shoes for you. I meant to clean up the room this week, but did not have time. Ah, don't worry old man I'll clean it up before you get back. As you go down the street stop at the white house next to the feed store and get my date. Here are the tickets to go to the Country Club. Well, you are just about ready to go, but first you must take this five with you, for you may run short. I am having the garage man send the car up. I hope he filled the tank for you. Good-night, old pal. Have a good time.

"Papa, what is science?" asked the little Hebrew boy. "Science is dese things vot say 'No Smoking,'" replied the father.

We suppose the real christian is one who keeps biting his tongue when he plays golf.

Tom: "What would you say if I asked you to marry me?" Tilly: "Nothing, I cannot laugh and talk at the same time."

Miniature golf has one advantage. If you should lose your ball, all you have to do is pick up the course and shake it out.

Will Rogers says: "Should you run out of gas on the desert in a miniature car, just empty your pocket lighter."

Is there anything more impressive than seeing a big man in plus fours playing baby golf.

We see by the papers that W. & L. has got a new president, and if they can get a couple good ends, a halfback and a tackle the prospects for this year will be bright indeed.

One thing this country needs is more colleges that work their way through students.

The biggest joke of the campus—the Frosh get-away.

"I grade by the curve system," said the professor, as he glanced at the row of co-eds in front of him.

And then we have Freshmen who bought two chapel seats because they expected a visitor.

"THUS MEETING" There will be an important "Thus Meeting," or otherwise known as pep meeting. When? 7:45 sharp Friday evening of this week. New yell, yes. Everyone out. Frosh none of you are excused either.

—Come out and see the Crusaders open the football season.

Y. M. C. A. WORK AS OLD AS HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY

Missionary Institute Was Home of First Chapter Which Was Composed of Fourteen Members; Work Has Grown With School

On November 27, 1886, fourteen students of Missionary Institute met in Philo Hall for the purpose of deciding whether they should have a college Young Men's Christian Association. These fourteen young men were: Fostle, Jr., Peter, Blair, Streby, McClain, Stouecephor, Ayess, Neifirt, Shields, Whitebread, Heckman, Nickel, Ewime and Fostle, Sr. They then became the charter members of the association. This organization was conceived and born in prayer and the members consecrated themselves to serve their Master as He would have them. From this first meeting it has always been a working body, working for the higher things of life. This organization was born at a time when Missionary Institute was on the upward climb and has continually fostered the religious life on the campus. Now that Susquehanna University has become the outgrowth of Missionary Institute, at least some credit is due to the Y. M. C. A. for their ever helpful cooperation, service and prayer.

Any one who believes in the purposes of the Y. M. C. A. may become a member. These purposes are: To lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ, to lead them into membership and service in the Christian church, to promote their growth in (Continued on Page 4)

College Band Makes Its Debut Saturday

Band Makes Splendid Appearance on Field; Puts Spirit in Team With Their Peppy Airs

Susquehanna University Band made its initial appearance at the Wagner game. Dressed in their clean uniforms they presented an inspiring sight to the spectators as well as the players.

Leaving the campus at 1 o'clock the Band marched down W. Walnut street to let some of the townsfolk know that Susquehanna's football season was beginning. Marching north on Market street for several blocks and counter-marching to return and proceed up W. Walnut street the band soon drew an audience. Just as they entered the field playing the Little Crusaders received the first kickoff. When the time outs were called the band kept the interest of the crowd at highest pitch by their peppy airs.

The College Band reorganized on Thursday evening, October second. Its newly-elected officers are Bryce Nicodemus, president; Ray Minnick, secretary; Paul Haines, treasurer; Jess Newcomer, business manager; William Bureau, librarian; Walter Irvine and George Oberdorf, stage managers.

INDIANS MAKE PLANS TO MEET CRUSADERS

Juniaata is already making extensive plans for the coming contest with Susquehanna. The Indians are out for a scalp again this year, and will try to gain another victory over their ancient rivals. Last year Juniaata defeated the Orange and Maroon for the first time in the history of the institutions.

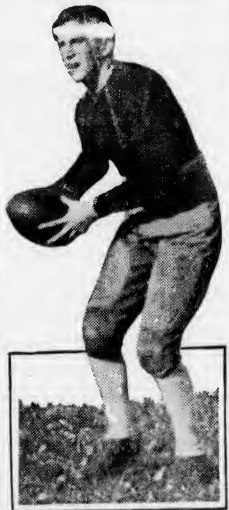

In order to make a try for the honors again this year, Juniaata plans to charter a special coach and send a cheering aggregation to the campus on November 8, which will number at least a hundred. Enthusiasm has already run high on the Juniaata campus and they will be out for all they can get with a perfect setting on Susquehanna's annual Homecoming Day.

To counter-act the enthusiasm on the Juniaata campus, plans have been already laid for the coming event by the Orange and Maroon's loyal followers. The Little Crusaders will have left behind them by this time the record of some of the hardest skirmishes of the season, and will be all set to settle the "old scores" and turn the tables on their ancient rivals.

Come one, Susquehanna. Let's start making preparations to scalp the Juniaata Indians.

—Patronize Susquehanna advertisers.

Injured in Game

Warren Wolfe will play his last year for Susquehanna at the end position. He was one of Susquehanna's outstanding players last season and with his ability and constancy he is sure to be one of the mainstays again this year.

The wonderful display of fighting spirit Warren showed in the Juniaata game is a goal for the best of ends to equal. It is the Wolfe spirit that helps maintain the spirit of the Little Crusaders.

No coach could ask for a better pass snatcher nor a better wing man. Warren starred against Wagner on Saturday in his usual flashy form but injuries forced him from the game. It may be a short while before he may play again, but he can be assured that all are anxious to see him back in the lineup again.

S. U. FORENSIC COACH IS ENGLISH TEACHER

Miss Clara Corbin, new English teacher at the University, has been chosen as the coach of the girls' and men's debating teams of the University, according to announcement by Dr. G. Morris Smith. A letter from Rider College temporarily schedules the opening debate of the men's team.

Lawrence Fisher is manager of the team of men and Miss Mary Weaverling is co-ed manager of the girls' team. Many prospective members are left from last year's team and many fine new additions to the forensic circles are expected.

Y. M. AND Y. W. TO GIVE THREE PLAYS

Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. three one-act plays will be presented on November 6 under the direction of Miss Corbin, the new English instructor. The titles of the three plays are: "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," "Shall We Join the Ladies?"—both by Barrie, a popular dramatist, and "The Work House Ward," by Lady Gregory. Any one interested in dramatics is invited to enter the try-outs, the date of which will be announced later. Proceeds from the entertainment will be used by the two groups for a new project to be called "A Susquehanna in India."

ATTENDED INAUGURATION

President G. Morris Smith and Dr. Frank P. Manhart represented Susquehanna University at the inauguration ceremony of Dr. Samuel Zwemer on October 1, 1930, as Professor of History of Missions at the Princeton Theological Seminary.

Varsity Guard

Auchmuty is rounding out his third year as a varsity linesman. Driving hard and hitting low has made Jack one of the mainstays of the Orange and Maroon eleven, and has been responsible for many big gains through the line. Fast, clever thinking with plenty of courage and determination make it tough for the opposition as Jack has a reputation for breaking through and getting the ball carrier before he hits the line of scrimmage. Auchmuty spent the summer in New York as a life guard and from the looks of things in Saturday's game with Wagner he is following out his summer's work as he saved the team from setbacks from his position at guard.

Auchmuty hails from Tamaqua and is a graduate of Staunton Military Academy, where he played Varsity football. Auchmuty is a member of the class of '32" and a member of Phi Mu Delta.

Classes Start Golf Tournery October 8

Schedules Have Been Arranged: Finals For Class and Individual Championship to Take Place Homecoming Day

Professor Grossman and Harvey, director of golf, have drawn up a schedule for the coming golf tournament to be played on Susquehanna's new course starting Oct. 8, the final round to be played on Homecoming Day to decide the class championship with the individual championship honors.

In a joint meeting Saturday morning, Prof. Grossman and Harvey drew by lot the different numbers to be matched so as to eliminate any unfair matching of individuals. Each class is to be represented by four of its members. The match play is to be 18 holes.

As the course on the campus is gradually being improved, it is also gaining many friends and it is certain that the enthusiasm will run high during 'this golf tournament. There has not been a day since the opening of the course that it has not been crowded with new and eager enthusiasts.

The first elimination series will be started October 8 and must be finished and results handed to Director Harvey before October 18.

Thereupon a schedule will be immediately drawn up and posted for second round to be finished and results turned in by October 25. A schedule will then be posted for the starting of the third round to be finished by November 1, with results going to Harvey. The final match of the tournament will be played on Homecoming Day, November 8, to decide the class winning the championship and the individual champion of the tournament.

Schedule can be played in any order, but must be started by October 8 and finished with final results of first round by October 18.

DR. SMITH DELIVERS RALLY DAY ADDRESS

Dr. G. Morris Smith gave the Rally Day address on Sunday, October 5, at the Lutheran Church at Millburg, of which Dr. William R. Bearce is the pastor. Dr. Bearce is the president of the Board of Trustees of Susquehanna University.

Triple Threat Man

Harold "Skippy" Glenn, one of Susquehanna's most promising backfield stars is out again for "big game" this season. "Skippy" hails from State College, Pa., where he participated in all major sports. During the past year Glenn has advanced rapidly in football circles and has become Susquehanna's triple threat man. In the opening game of the season "Skippy" was getting 50 to 60 yards from his portside boots. Beside his excellent kicking he is unexcelled as a broken field runner and can always be counted upon to make distance on off-tackle plays and end runs. "Skippy" does most of the passing on the eleven. A well-timed pass enabled the Orange and Maroon to score their first touchdown of the season. Besides Glenn's football abilities he has served in the capacity of basket ball captain for two years and earned his letter in track. Glenn is a member of the class of "32" and a member of Bond and Key Club.

FIRST RECITAL GIVEN BY NATIONAL CHAPTER

Tuesday evening in Seibert Hall the first of a series of programs to be given by the Susquehanna Chapter of National Association of Organists, during the coming year, was rendered by Percy Mathias Leinbach, of the Conservatory. Prof. Leinbach was assisted by:

Miss Mary K. Pottenger, pianist.

W. Donald Hemphill, violinist.

Dorothy F. Leisher, soprano, and Chorus.

National Association of Organists is a national organization sponsoring better church music, using their influence for the securing of better organs, and uniting and developing a better spirit of cooperation among musicians.

Susquehanna chapter, which includes Selingsrove, Lewisburg, Sunbury, Northumberland, was installed by the State president, Dr. William Wolfe, in May, 1930.

Officers of the local chapter are:

Prof. Rothenberg, Sunbury, president.

Prof. Sheldon, Conservatory, vice president.

Prof. Leinbach, Conservatory, treasurer.

Prof. Allison, Conservatory, financial secretary.

Mrs. H. Blue, Northumberland, secretary.

The program of Thursday evening was as follows:

Organ—Sonata tripartite; Alla Fantasia; Romanza; Marziale, Gordon B. Nevin.

Soprano Solo—A Birthday, H. Woodman—Miss Leisher.

Organ and Piano—Symphonic Piece: Dialogue; Romance; Scherzo, W. Clokey.

—Mr. Leinbach and Miss Pottenger.

Violin Solo—Ballade and Polonaise, Vieuxtemps—Mr. Hemphill.

Organ—Prelude in G minor, E. Edwin Sheldon; Little Song, Percy M. Leinbach; Laudate Domini, F. Fryberger.

Chorus—At Twilight, Thome-Barnes; with violin obligato—Mr. Hemphill.

A heavier Susquehanna football eleven overpowered the Wagner College team 27-7 Saturday afternoon in the opening game of the season on University Field.

The outstanding feature of the game came in the fourth period, when Suter received the kickoff on his own 20-yard line and with beautiful interference raced the length of the field for their lone touchdown. The Orange and Maroon eleven featured with many long runs, mostly slashing gains through the line. Susquehanna outnumbered Wagner's first downs by a wide margin.

George Moser, the Little Crusaders' plunging fullback did most of the consistent ground gaining for his teammates. Moser gave a perfect exhibition of driving line pluges and then by his twisting and side-stepping eluding would-be tacklers many times. "Skippy" Glenn played a wonderful game at the halfback position, and had perfect control of his portside kicks. Glenn had several nice runs to his credit also. Speer played a nice game and proved a valuable ground-gainer by ripping off nice runs. Scott, Susquehanna's diminutive quarterback, displayed good generalship in running the team, also totting the ball for several nice gains. The playing of Exton and Warren Wood stood out on the line for the Little Crusaders.

S. U. Co-eds Organize a New Athletic Club

Miss Reeder to Direct Club; Officers Were Elected at Meeting Last Monday

A meeting of all women students who have earned either their letters or numerals in athletics was called on Monday afternoon, September 29, for the purpose of organizing a Girls' Athletic Club. Miss Dorothy Reeder, Girls' Physical Director, presided at the meeting, explaining that the women athletes of the University should be organized, and outlining the purposes such an organization should serve. The idea was favorably and enthusiastically accepted by the girls who were present. Accordingly the election of officers for the proposed organization was held. The results were as follows: Miriam Keim, president; Lucille Lehman, vice president; Diana Lizards, secretary-treasurer.

The organization will generally aim to encourage participation in, arouse interest in, and sponsor the girls' athletic activities on the campus.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC CLUB TO SPONSOR PLAY DAY

On Saturday afternoon, October 18, a Play Day in which all women students are urged to participate will be held. The event is an innovation at Susquehanna for which reason its directors are particularly anxious that it be a success. It will be sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Club and will be under the immediate direction of Miss Dorothy Reeder.

The nature of Play Day as planned will be as follows: As the girls report on the athletic field their names will be taken and they will be designated to either one of two teams. It will be the object of each team thus formed to win the most events, thus securing a majority of points. The events staged will be tennis, archery, hockey, baseball, quilts and track. Besides these, individual points may be won for one's own team by challenging members of the opposing team to such stunts as Indian wrestling, baseball throw, tumbling, animal imitation, the soccer ball kick, the hockey ball drive, etc. The variety of activities and stunts will make it possible for practically every girl to participate in some way.

Committees have been appointed to care for every phase of Play Day. The success of the event now depends upon whether or not the girls will come out and play! Remember girls, it's up to you!

WHERE'S YOUR PEP?

It is often said that the first appearance in public is bound to bring stage fright, and the writer seems to think that is what happened to the students in the grandstand at the game on Saturday. The fact of the matter is, to have looked at the audience from the front you would never have surmised that there was a football game going on, least of all that our own team was in the lead and doing very well. If you will not cheer when your team is in the lead we don't know what to expect when they are losing, you'll probably go home.

An editorial in last week's paper spoke of the "Susquehanna Spirit of Athletics," so let's get it and get behind that team. It does a team good to know that the whole "gang" is behind them. They are not out there fighting for themselves, but for you and your school, as well as theirs.

We did well at the pep meeting on Friday night, but we forgot it too soon. Our next game at home is with Ursinus, and the team will need all the support they can get, so let's start now and get ready for this game and keep it going the rest of the season. Talk it up everywhere and don't forget it when you get on the athletic field.

CHANCE

Waring's Pennsylvanians got their start at a university, and it wasn't Pennsylvania either.

It came to light here just recently that the famous jazz orchestra was so broke back in 1921 that the members decided to bust up, and would have done so, had not Fred Waring been invited to come up and play at the University of Michigan.

Here's how it happened:

One of the boys went to Ann Arbor, where a friend told him that the University of Michigan committee was looking for a small band to play in an old gym for the overflow crowd at the annual Jay Hop. The committee already had two famous bands for the main dance. The orchestra member telegraphed to Fred. Fred wired the committee and the band assembled.

"That was the greatest night ever," Fred tells the story himself. "We stole the crowd right away from under the Big Names. All our success started in that old gym. And we didn't even have hotel money. A fraternity put us up on condition that we play free for their house party the next night."

From there the band went to a croit theater and radio station and after one night they got an eight-week stage contract. They've been going ever since.

ALUMNI NOTES

ALUMNA GIVES TALK ON THE "PASSION PLAY"

Dorothy Goff, '28, who spent the summer abroad, gave a very interesting discussion on the "Passion Play" before a group of girls one evening last week. She first gave a history of the Play and followed with a short account of the Play itself. Following are some extracts from her talk:

"In 1632 there was a plague, causing sickness and death, in Oberammergau and the villages surrounding. Within seven months in 1633 there were only two couples remaining from the town population of 600. In every little village there is some memorial, such as a church or a cross. The High Council of the church decided to give a play every ten years called the "Passion Play," and from the time this decision was made, not one person died from the plague. The Play, however, has not been given every ten years. The World War interfered, making a space of over ten years, and the last presentation was in 1922. There has been some talk of presenting it again in 1933, but this is uncertain.

Oberammergau is in the valleys surrounded by mountains. The chief occupation of the people there is wood carving. They make no living from the Play. 25 per cent of the returns go to the state, 10 per cent to the church, 10 per cent to the hospital and the remaining is divided among the actors. In 1922 the chief actor received only $8 and the others all less. There are 600 people in the Play.

"It cost $200,000 to build the theatre where the Play is given. There is a seating capacity of 5,000 and the theatre is crowded at every performance. The seats are so arranged that everyone can see well. They speak very loud and distinctly, but in German. Books are printed in English to enable the audience to follow. These 5,000 people are cared for in the homes of the actors.

"Beginning with May the Play is given three times a week until July and August, when it is given four times, and begins again at three in September. The Play begins at 8 a. m. and continues until noon. At this time the players go home, where the great majority of them must cook their own meal. At 2 p. m. the Play is resumed and continues until 6 p. m. It covers everything from Christ's Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem until the Ascension. Part of the stage has no roof and the players act even in the rain, special robes being furnished for the occasion.

"There is a tableau before every act. The acts are from the New Testament and the tableaux from the Old Testament. Each tableau is connected with the act following. Some of these are: (1) sons of Jacob sleeping to Kil Joseph with the scene of the high priests conspiring against Christ following; (2) Joseph sold by his brother; and Judas betraying Christ for pieces of silver; (3) Naboth condemned by false witnesses and Christ condemned. There was a chorus which sang between tableaux and acts.

"For the last three times the part of Christ was played by Anton Lang. But being too old to take the part this time, it was taken by Alois Lang. Anton Lang gave the prologue.

"It is thought by many that perhaps the best actor in the Play is Judas Iscariot. The deep emotion of pity which he arouses among his listeners, leads to this belief.

"All the actors are well suited to their parts and act them very naturally. The tableaux are so perfect that the men seem to be statues. The scenes are very realistic and beautiful that of the crucifixion of Christ. The ascension is a tableau.

"One might suppose that it would be tiresome to sit for eight hours watching the Play. But huge crowds sit in such enthusiasm and interest that there is not a sound. There is no break between acts and tableaux. Each follows directly after the other, the only break being when the chorus sings.

"Miss Goff made her talk very interesting by showing pictures of the actors, the scenes, and the village. She answered a number of questions which the girls asked. Miss Goff will probably speak at some other time concerning the rest of her trip.

FACTS CONCERNING OUR NEXT GAME

Saturday, Oct. 11, the Little Crusaders will journey to Haverford College to meet one of their biggest tests of the year on the gridiron. Although the Orange and Maroon went down to defeat at the hands of Scarlet and Black eleven last year they will be considering this engagement a supreme test.

Last year when the Scarlet and Black handed the Little Crusaders a 19-6 defeat they had a very heavy college eleven, but they have lost several valuable men through graduation.

Captain Conn heads the largest squad in Haverford football history and the problem of predicting the standing lineup is yet quite uncertain. A possible lineup of the backfield men will be Cadbury at quarter, Dothard and Rice at left and right half, respectively, and Battey at full. Logan will probably see service at quarter, Tripp and Simons at the halves, and Pheasants at full back. It is said that these two backfields are of practically equal ability.

They will almost surely have veterans Captain Conn and Crawford as ends; the massive Fields seems a sure bet for one tackle post, with Harvey as his possible running mate; Baker and Masland at center.

Although the Haverford eleven was favored by a powerful Ursinus aggregation by a score of 20-0 in their first game of the season, this does not mean that they are an easy team by any means. Capt. Conn and Fields stand out as a tower of strength on the line.

Y. M. C. A. SPONSORS RELIGIOUS SERVICE

Mr. Paul Ashby of the Theological Seminary, is in charge of the religious service at the Epileptic Colony. Last Sunday the Y. M. C. A. sponsored the service at the Colony. A quartet composed of Messrs. Rhoads, Beam, Berger and Wilson, sang at the service. The talk of the morning was given by Mr. Wilson. The service was well received by the patients of the Colony. This is part of the field work of the local organization.

ORCHESTRA MET TO ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR

Susquehanna University has the prospects for one of the best, if not the best orchestra in its history. The first meeting of the organization was held on Tuesday evening in the auditorium, at which time the officer were elected for the ensuing year. The new officers are: President, Margaret Markle; vice president, Andy Kozak; secretary, Anna Linebaugh; treasurer, Chester Beam, and Lois Brungart, business manager; Penn Dively and Walter Irvine, stage managers.

Several valuable members were lost by graduation last spring, but the new material looks very promising. The brass section has been strengthened considerably, while the entire string section from last year is back. Professor Hemphill is eager to get down to hard work and make a real organization. He has already purchased new music, including some fine, rather difficult, but beautiful symphonic numbers.

NEW GIRLS ENTERTAINED

All of Susquehanna's new co-eds, together with members of Omega Delta Sigma, journeyed to "Shady Rest," a cottage along Penn's Creek. A peanut scramble called everyone to action, preparatory for a treasure hunt, which yielded valuable booty. Expert cooks handed out food to appease healthy out-door appetites. No sooner was the food consumed than in dashed a wild herd of Indians which was introduced to the company. Then began the heart-rending tale of "Wild Nell, Queen of the Prairies," and her struggles against the hardships of the frontier and her final rescue from the Indians by "Handsome Harry," her clandestine lover. Poppa is touched by the rescue and grants his parental blessing. Other O. D. S. performers entertained and so with the "Good Night" song the bus was reloaded, and the journey back to Seibert Hall was completed, in time for pep meeting.

The Sophomore Class took the lead in the inter-class soccer league at the first week's play by winning its first two games. The Seniors also have a perfect average, having won its single contest.

The league opened last Tuesday, September 30, with the Seniors defeating the Freshmen 5-2. The Freshmen played well in the early stages of the game, but fell to pieces in the latter half.

On Wednesday the Sophomores won from the Juniors by a forfeit. On the following day the Sophomores defeated the Freshmen 6-2. The yearlings put up a hard battle, but were outclassed. The fine defense of the winners and the good work of Kapac for the losers stood out.

Campus Echoes

The peaceful village of Selingsrove was transformed into a bustling, seething mass of humanity, one nite last week, when the Freshmen, escorted by the Sophs, passed in grand review through the streets to the martial strains of music furnished by the Freshman band. The mob was held in check through the noble efforts of Chief Romig.

Many of the men living on the campus have furnished their rooms with rugs, chairs, floor lamps and what not, from the furniture sale down town. Hassinger Hall is now an antique collector's paradise.

While the beautiful harvest moon has added to the joys of some, it has terrified the offerings of many lone youths.

Reichley's candy shoppe seems to have an added attraction for Sammy Pascoe. We wonder why?

Harold Kraemer, the popular Sophomore president, came back from the Lock Haven game without a scar. He was so pleased that he went home to Shamokin Sunday morning to tell mamma and papa all about his first game.

Kozak's smile has broadened since he made the girl's hockey team.

The somewhat informal violin recital given by Mr. Francis Devers in Hoffman's room was a huge success.

Never before in the history of the college has studying been so popular. One Freshman was observed emerging from the library with seven large volumes.

SPORT BITS

The Orange and the Maroon started off the 1930 season with a bang.

Captain Al. Garman managed to keep his cohorts looking "pretty smart" during the first encounter of the season.

Bob Reeder was slightly embarrassed in Lock Haven's gridiron.

The Jay Vees knew they were in a football game at Lock Haven and also had stiff competition in a dual track meet.

We all know that Malasky was in the hospital this summer, but the way he was running around up at Lock Haven he must have been serving an internship.

Scott, Susquehanna's diminutive quarterback, made another wide end run for Mt. Carmel immediately after the game.

"Sherty" and the Orange and Maroon band made a snappy impression in their first appearance.

Cheer Leader Norton took the role of "Mother Hubbard" between halves.

The Orange and Maroon eleven came out of their first encounter in fine shape with one exception. Warren Wolf, starting at the wing position for the last two years, received a bad arm injury in the first quarter of the game. Wolf will probably be out two or three weeks. Wolf is a hard working player and one of the best pass snatchers out for a wing position during the past two years. His speedy recovery will be greatly needed in coming contests.

DOUBT IT OR NOT
by
Will U. Belicveit

A certain column writer asked what had become of the squirrels. Will maintains that he has gathered definite data as to their whereabouts. A personage known as George relates these facts (as you know George knows squirrel lingo). These tree creatures told him that they did not prefer taking RULES.

Doctors George Hess and Frank Malasky used no less than two hundred yards of adhesive tape at Lock Haven. Do not misunderstand me, this was not done to keep the team together, but to keep the game in progress.

The first dog of the season crossed the field during the Wagner game. We are all anxiously awaiting for the rabbit that almost broke up a football game here last season. Some say that Bill Herman will keep him off the field this year. As you no doubt know Bill's rabbit pen is in Middleburg.

Tennis racquets were not used as admission tickets for the Selingsrove game, instead the boys all hollered fore. The term fore, used on Susquehanna's course, denotes that three more are coming.

Harold Kimmell, pride of Rockwood, received news from home this week. Kimmell tells us that they are taking down the sign board in his town so it shall not be left out of the next census.

Many of the rooters in the stands last week should be going to Gallaudet.

COMMENTS and QUESTIONS

What happened to the spirit at the football game?

Some of the students seem to think they are attending recitals where noise is uncalied for. Those who want to hold hands with their fair ladies and whisper sweet nothings might have a section reserved for them, so that those who are back of the team may not interrupt them. When a demonstration is called for between the halves to let the boys know that the rest of the school is with them, these people of higher ranking and of monochalant temperament might begin a checker game or finish their needle work.

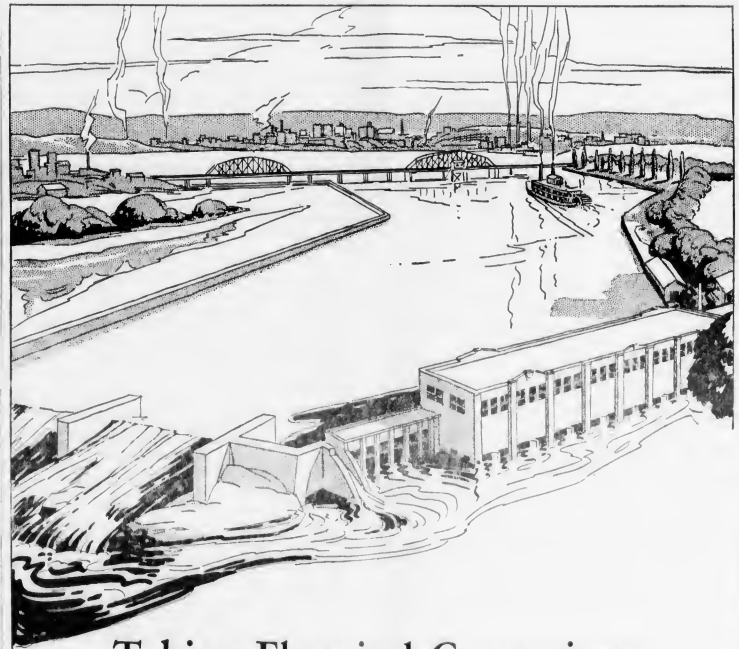

Football uniforms are taking great strides in the fashion world today. N. Y. U. with their violet shoe strings, which were no doubt designed in Enclitt, whereas the Crusaders' new suits seem to indicate that they were a new creation of Paris.

After the J. V.'s came back, S. U. reminded one of an infirmary. As they helped each other about the campus, a doushbov might look back and think of the attack on the Rhine.

Even the Frosh come out to at least become acquainted with the game of soccer. The Junior fellows have not protected their rights on the field.

Does it take S. U. graduates long, especially teachers who leave here, to obtain either fur coats or cars?

Some came back early and received

Taking Electrical Convenience From Ol' Man River

THE total capacity of waterwheel generators built by General Electric in the last ten years is more than enough to supply light and power for twenty cities of one million population.

Installed in power houses along the waterways, these machines transform the strength of mighty rivers into useful electric energy for homes, for industry, and for transportation.

The vision and skill of college-trained men are largely responsible for the continuing leadership of General Electric in its service of furnishing machines and devices that provide the swift, sure convenience and the economy of electricity — on land and sea and in the air.

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY TO SPEAK

Harold B. Ingalls, student secretary for the Middle Atlantic Field Council of the Y. M. C. A., will speak at a meeting of the local Y on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock in Seibert Hall Chapel.

INURED AT LOCK HAVEN

There were many injuries in the J. V.'s game at Lock Haven last Saturday. The most serious was that of Morse Shaffer who was taken to the Lock Haven hospital. It was believed he had a slight concussion but as the matter is not a serious one he will be able to return to school in a couple of days.

Christian faith and character, especially through the study of the Bible and prayer and to induce them to devote themselves to united effort with all Christians to making the will of Christ effective in human society, and to extending the Kingdom throughout the world. The Y. M. C. A. is governed by a cabinet consisting of four officers, two faculty advisors and as many committee chairmen as are needed. The officers and faculty advisors are elected by the association while the committee chairmen are appointed by the president with the approval of the faculty advisors. The vice president of the association serves as a member of the Central Pennsylvania State Student Council and also as a member of the Middle Atlantic Field Council. The state secretaries and the district secretaries give their services to the local associations in their respective districts. An effort is made to have every member as a working member. The local Y. M. C. A. is a member of the state, national and world associations.

The Y. M. C. A. endeavors to render service in every possible way, but the highest service that it endeavors to render is to show the Man of Galilee to the students. The members of the Y. M. C. A. are urged to do this by personal conversation and by personal example as well as in many other ways which follow. A vesper service is held every Sabbath evening at 5.30 in Seibert Hall Chapel. This service is held in collaboration with the Y. W. C. A. The Y. M. C. A. conducts a Sabbath school class for college men. Bible-study discussion groups are held every Sabbath evening at nine o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. room. Mid-week prayer meeting services are held every Wednesday evening at ten o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. room. Several conferences are held each year to which the students are urged to go, the first one this year will be held at Dickinson College in Carlisle on December 5, 6, and 7, and it is hoped that Susquehanna University may have a large delegation at this conference. Several speakers are brought to the campus each year to help the student to secure a broader outlook upon life and to live nearer to the Jesus way. Some of them for this year are: Dr. Jack Harp, of the University of Pennsylvania, and a friend of every student who knows him; Harold B. Ingalls, Y. M. C. A. secretary for the Middle Atlantic Field Council, and Leo H. Kohl, Y. M. C. A. secretary for the Central Pennsylvania State Student Council. Faculty firesides are held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. where students are invited out to spend the evening at the homes of various professors. These firesides are great stimulants in bringing the faculty and students closer together. A great missionary project is being undertaken this year which will result in the establishment of a "Susquehanna in India." Susquehanna students may then feel that they have a direct part in bringing the gospel to the people of India. Deputation teams are sent out to H-Y clubs, to young people's societies and to churches where they often take charge of a service.

The Y. M. C. A. renders a great service during freshman week when the members of the cabinet return to school even before the freshman to prepare for their reception. During that week they make every effort to have the freshman established aright in his new surroundings and to acquaint them with college life. The Y. M. C. A. stands upon the ROCK OF AGES and may she ever stand secure.

WAGNER FALLS VICTIM TO S. U.'S MIGHTY HORSEMEN

Nearly all of Susquehanna's ground was gained through the line by a continual battering by the backfield. Wagner managed to gain possession of the ball several times in Susquehanna's territory, but the strong Orange and Maroon line proved master of the situation and held while the Wagner backs were hitting a concrete wall.

The game was slowed up considerably by penalties on Susquehanna, who should have netted several more touchdowns, and the Orange and Maroon also made several costly fumbles in Wagner's territory.

Susquehanna ran its first score over the line on the sixth play of the game. Glenn made a beautiful 40-yard run around end. On a well executed pass from Glenn to Meyers for a gain of 35 yards, put the ball over the line for the first six points. Moser kicked the extra point from placement.

The second touchdown came in the second quarter after the Little Crusaders had been held for downs on Wagner's 5-yard line. Sutter kicked to Scott, who ran the punt back to the 30-yard line, and Wagner was penalized 15 yards on the play. Speer then made about a 10 yard gain through the line and Moser was given the ball to push it over the rest of the distance for the second touchdown and he also kicked the extra point.

In the opening of the second half after both teams interchanged punts and received penalties Moser took the ball over for the third touchdown on two plays. When Moser hit the line, it seemed as if he was drilling his way through and was hard to stop after he got started. Moser's trusty toe again proved true as he kicked his third extra point during the game.

The final Susquehanna touchdown was a result of a drive which started on the Orange and Maroon 40-yard line. Glenn, Scott and Speer, with large gains carried the ball to the Wagner 18-yard line. Moser took it the remaining distance for a score with plunges through center. His try for extra point missed the uprights for the first time.

Play by Play

Glenn ran the kickoff back to his own 33-yard line. Moser hit center for three yards and Glenn immediately cut around end for a beautiful 40 yard run. Susquehanna was held for three downs, but a well executed pass from Glenn to Myers for a gain of 35 yards, put the ball over the line for a touchdown. Moser kicked the extra point from placement.

Besch received the kickoff at his 34-yard line. Wagner punted to the center of the field. Susquehanna was penalized 5 yards and then 15 yards and Glenn kicked to the Wagner 35-yard line. Wagner was penalized 10 yards. Carey dashed around end for ten yards. Scott received a pass for a gain of 20 yards. The visitors punted to the Susquehanna 5-yard line. An exchange of kicks brought the ball to the 15-yard line. Prater recovered a Susquehanna fumble on the 8-yard line. Glenn made a fine punt to the center of the field. Carey received a pass for a gain of 15 yards as the quarter ended.

Sutter went through for a first down but Wagner was held for downs on the Susquehanna 18-yard line. Glenn slid off tackle for 12 yards. Moser spun through center for 28 more. Scott circled end for 13 more and the locals continued to hammer their way down the field until they reached the 5-yard line, where they were held for downs. Scott ran the Wagner punt back to the 30-yard line. Again Susquehanna changed its way down the field, but this time Moser took the ball across for the touchdown. He also kicked the extra point.

Wagner received the kickoff on its 25-yard line and immediately punted to midfield. Moser hit the line for a first down as the half ended.

Moser ran the kickoff back to his own 40-yard line. Speer took the ball to the Wagner 46-yard line for a first down. Scott and Glenn with long runs took the ball to the Wagner 15-yard line. The ball was brought back 15 yards on three successive penalties against Susquehanna. A pass over the goal line was grounded and Wagner thus received the ball on its 20-yard line. Scott ran a poor punt back to the Wagner 35-yard line. Moser's heavy plunging carried the ball to the 4-yard line, where Susquehanna fumbled and Wagner recovered. Carey at once kicked to his 30-yard line. Wagner was penalized 15 yards and Moser took the ball the rest of the way for a touchdown on two plays. He immediately kicked the extra point.

Moser kicked off to the Wagner 34-yard line. Extrom threw the visitors for a loss of 5 yards and a penalty of 5 yards was imposed upon them. A partly blocked punt was recovered by Susquehanna on the Wagner 40-yard line. The Orange and Maroon was penalized 25 yards for clipping. Speer gained 15 yards as the quarter ended.

Glenn made a fine punt to the Wagner 6-yard line. In an exchange of punts Glenn kicked over the goal line and Wagner received the ball on its 20-yard line. Wagner immediately kicked to the Susquehanna 40-yard line. Glenn, Scott and Speer with large gains carried the ball to the Wagner 18-yard line. Moser took it the remaining distance for a score with plunges through center. His try for extra point missed the uprights.

Sutter received the kickoff on his own 20-yard line and with beautiful interference ran the length of the field for a touchdown. Carey kicked the extra point.

Wagner kicked off to Moser, who ran the ball back to his 42-yard line. Susquehanna worked the calfskin down the field to its 20-yard line with steady drives, but the game ended before another score could be made.

Inter-Frat Basket Ball Opens Nov. 24

SSchedules Have Been Arranged and Practice Periods Assigned to the Various Fraternities

During the past week a schedule has been worked out for the Inter-Fraternity Basketball League under the direction of Richard Scharfe and Prof. Grossman.

In past years there has been much interest and keen competition displayed toward these games and the Non-Frat group won the league championship last year. Due to a slight conflict with varsity basketball during the past year it has been thought best to start the practice period and regular schedule earlier than previous years. All games will be played in the Alumni Gymnasium in the evening. The following practice sessions have been arranged for by Director Scharfe: Epsilon Sigma, Monday nights; Bond and Key, Tuesday nights; Non-Frat, Wednesday nights; Phi Lambda Theta, Thursday night, and Phi Mu Delta, Friday nights. All practice sessions are to be arranged between the hours of 6:30 and 7:30 p. m.

SUSQUEHANNA AND HAVERFORD PLAY TO SCORELESS TIE SATURDAY

Crusaders Gain Seven First Downs to the Red and Black's Five; Glen, Moser and Rishel are Ground Gainers for Susquehanna

The Little Crusaders held a strong Haverford eleven to a scoreless tie by a hard battle on the Walton Field at Haverford Saturday afternoon. Both teams struggled vainly during four quarters to push the ball over, but without avail. Tight defensive work by both teams held the gains to a minimum. In the first half the Orange and Maroon had Haverford on first downs five to three, but in the second half the downs stood two apiece. Several times would-be ground gainers were downed for severe losses. Only once were the Orange and Maroon goal line threatened and this came in the second quarter, when Dothard raced down the left side of the field for about fifty-five yards, but was forced out of bounds near mid-field by Scott. Haverford's try for a placement kick in the fourth quarter also failed. In the first half the lines of both teams was holding tight and very few holes could be opened up for the back-field men. Some beautiful kicking was witnessed in this first half, when both teams resorted to kicking to keep the ball out of dangerous territory. "Skippy" Glenn had perfect control of his portside kicks which helped the Susquehanna linemen to hold Haverford. On the punting and kick-off plays both teams played hard to check any attempt of long runs. The average distance of the play being run back by Haverford was around ten yards. Besides Glenn's excellent kicking he had several beautiful runs which netted the Little Crusaders much needed yardage. Scott was again barking off the signals and again displaying fine

Miss Isobel Horn Speaks in Vespers

Miss Horn, Daughter of Missionary in Japan, Spoke on the Work of Missions in Japan

The Lutheran Missionary Work in Japan was the title of Miss Isobel Horn's talk, which she presented to the Vesper group on Sunday evening. Miss Horn was born in Japan in Tokio, where her father has been a missionary for a number of years. She attended public and high school at Tokio, where she came in contact with other nationalities and hence has a fine philosophy of life, seeing humanity in a wider and finer sense than many of the American students, who have only existed in their small centers of civilization. Miss Horn has crossed the Pacific only six times in her life and she is attending Susquehanna University with the idea of some day returning to the land of her birth, where the need of supervised music instruction is sadly missing.

The content of her talk follows: "Ever since Commodore Perry entered the Japanese ports Japan has opened her country not only to commercialism, industrialism, socialism, and political maneuverings, but also to the religious peoples of the world to the western civilization. The Roman Catholics and the Protestants entered Japan to convert the Japanese. They suffered much persecution at first, for time after time hundreds of converts were either exiled or executed.

Gradually the utmost hatred of another religion lessened. Today many religions exist in Japan. Shinto is the national or royal religion, and Buddhism is the popular religion. These two are the strongest, while Christianity is considered the third strongest. The Lutheran Church has but three thousand converts in a little over half a century of effort, but numbers are not the great desire of the missionaries.

The missionaries influence the Japanese in various ways. A big help is found in the children, who, learning about the ways of the Christians, go home and tell their parents. Cooking and sewing classes are held for women before each class is held for the devotional period. The Japanese are fond of western food and clothes, just as Americans are of Japanese, and hence are eager to learn. Gradually they assimilate Christian ideas until they often become baptized and join the church.

The mission at Kumamoto, near Tokio, where Rev. Mr. Horn is located, has a boys and girls boarding school. The boys' school is called Kynaha-Gakulin, while the girls' is called Kynaha-Jo-Gakulin. Here Christian as well as non-Christian people are educated. Many of those who are not Christians join the church before they leave. Whatever the result they will never forget what they learned and often after they are out in life will see that Christianity is far better than Shintoism or Buddhism. The mission also has an Orphan Home or the Colony of Mercy, where old and poor men and women are taken to spend their

Y. M. C. A. ESTABLISHES 'SUSQUEHANNA IN INDIA'

The Susquehanna University Young Men's Christian Association has taken charge of a foreign missionary project which will be known as "Susquehanna in India."

"Susquehanna in India" is the Thund church and school in the Sattulur Parish of the Narassavupet-Vinukonda Field. The missionary in charge of this field is the Reverend M. L. Dolbeer, a graduate of both Susquehanna University and Susquehanna Theological Seminary.

Susquehanna students may now feel that they have a vital interest in taking the message of Christ to the people of India.

ALFRED UNIVERSITY HAS NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM

Alfred University and the Orange and Maroon will "lock horns" Saturday night under a new flood light system which was recently installed at Merrill Field. Alfred University's football stadium, drew the largest crowd in history of the school four weeks ago when the Purple stopped Clarkson with a 27-0 score. Additional seats had been installed which seated 3,000 more people but they were overcrowded an hour before the game began.

Forty giant searchlights bathe the stadium in a soft glow of light, being mounted on 10 sixty-five foot western cedar poles, which were trucked from the State of Oregon. These lights have a total wattage of 52,000 watts with a total candlepower of over 12,000,000 plus, making Merrill Field one of the most powerfully illuminated college football stadiums in the east. These lights not only offer a most novel presentation, but they also offer one of the most beautiful sights imaginable by showing the outlines of the entire wooded hillside on South Mountain.

Only two games have been played under the new arc lights, but the Purple will meet Susquehanna as their third contest in the stadium this year and in their annual Homecoming Day. Extensive preparations are planned for Homecoming Day with the installation of bleachers seating 1,000 additional spectators and with two bands. A cap rush will be held between the halves of the Susquehanna game by the Freshmen class.

Y. W. C. A. HELD FESTIVAL

An hour of pleasure was enjoyed by the members of Seibert Hall on Thursday night, when the Y. W. C. A. sponsored a foot sale and appetizing lunch was served. If you don't believe this ask a girl who had some. The festival was held in the social room and the tables were arranged around the room in restaurant fashion. Plans are progressing for the coming Y. M. and Y. W. play, November the sixth is the date. Everybody reserve this date for an evening of pleasure.

PHI MU DELTA INSTALLS NEW CHAPTER AT PENN STATE

Mu Alpha, the local chapter of Phi Mu Delta national fraternity, journeyed to Penn State over the weekend where they installed Mu Epsilon chapter. Mu Epsilon, prior to its acceptance, was known as Omega Delta Epsilon. Fifty members were inducted into the national by the local chapter assisted by the national officers. The Penn State chapter raised the number of chapters to nineteen. The activities opened Friday evening with a smoker at the fraternity home. Saturday morning the chapter was officially installed. A banquet Saturday evening in the country club brought the activities to a close.

DRUM MAJOR APPOINTED FOR THE S. U. BAND

Clifford Johnston of the class of '31, and member of the Bond and Key Club, is to be the first drum major of the Susquehanna Band. The lack of a drum major of the band in the last two years, Professor Elrose Allison has been on the lookout for a man to fill the job, but he could locate no one during the first two years of the band's existence. "Cliff" Johnston comes from Altoona, where he learned his tricks with the baton.

Professor Allison has been making plans for parade drills. Every Friday afternoon will be spent on the field, perfecting these drills, and the work now will no doubt prove to be of much greater interest. One outstanding drill will be the formation of the block "S" from marching formation. Its execution necessitates the perfect cooperation of every man in the band. Each man must not only know what to do, but when and where to do it. No doubt there will be some blackboard drills so that the football men will not be able to boast about having skill practice.

If things shape out as the plans show, Susquehanna's band will be a thing every student should be proud of. Men who have heard bands of even larger schools state that in tone quality and execution we are among the upper "400."

As a result of the soccer matches during the week the Sophomores took the lead from the Seniors in the inter-class league. On Monday, October 6, the Sophomores defeated the Seniors in a rough and tumble match by the score of 5-2. At half time the second year men led 4-0.

On Tuesday the Seniors defeated the Juniors 3-2, in a contest that was marred even more by rough tactics on both sides. This game was the closest and most interesting of the week.

The Sophomores kept their record clean by downing the Freshmen for the second time by the score of 4-3 on Thursday afternoon. At half time the second year men held a 4-1 lead, but the second half found the yearlings constantly threatening.

FACTS CONCERNING ALFRED'S TEAM

The Purple Presents Heavy Team for the Orange and Maroon: S. U. Will Also Have Strong Team

Alfred University's Varsity eleven which is under the tutelage of Coach "Ghoss" Galloway, former Colgate star, is experiencing a football revival this fall with a 27-0 victory over Clarkson Tech, a scoreless tie with the strong Hamilton gridlers, and three touchdown defeat at the hands of St. Lawrence's heavy scoring machine.

The Purple presents one of its strongest outfits this year both offensively and defensively in recent years. Galloway's ends both have three years of varsity experience and have proven strong under fire in crashing through opposing interference. His tackles are both rangy and are outstanding defensive men. The Purple guards appear to be short the husky and seem to act as strong points in the Saxons' attack. Monks, the only member of the line who has had less than three seasons as a regular, has proven himself as a Colossus on the offensive and a star at backing up the line.

The Saxons' ball teters present another experienced combination with heady "Sid" DeLaney calling signals, "Tom" Servatus bucking the line, and Captain Staiman and Phillips bearing the brunt of the attack in passing, kicking and broken field running. Both DeLaney and Staiman starred on Coach Wolf's wonder team of Lock Haven, Pa., which gained the mythical, national high school championship in 1924.

After the recent Haverford battle Coach Uley expected to take a combination to Alfred which will be one of the strongest put on the gridiron this season. They will have their seen service in two battles and will be all set for the coming scrimmage. The team will leave for Alfred on Friday.

BULL FESTS

This seems to be a simple subject, but editorials are written for all papers and on all subjects. Now it is very plain why we have chosen this subject.

The foundation of Modern Bull Fests dates back to the time of Socrates. It was the method of education in his time, as it is a way in which students trade knowledge nowadays. Socrates started his sessions with a question just as they are started today.

These questions are of different types, sex, religion, sports, and man. On every schedule there should be time for a student's recreation, for as the old saying goes "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." This, to most students is play, for they enjoy in telling their tales and listening and arguing with their fellow students.

We agree that some of the sessions are not of the best and are cheap talk, but these can be bettered by those who have higher ideals, and when in such a session talk on a higher plane.

A real fest, as we said before, starts with a question. It may have been brought up in class or it may concern the individual. We may not realize it, but this is a real practice in philosophy, because we form our own opinions.

In some of the European Universities the professors join in these sessions and anything is discussed. This is considered informal education. Do you think it is a good idea? Are you acquainted with your professors in such a way? Do you believe that your fellow student knows more about your capacity than your instructor?

This method has its values and defects. Its advantages are that it allows a student to bring up questions and discuss them as they would not otherwise be. Subjects are also threshed out to the finest point as they are very seldom done in the class room. Its defects are that some foolish subject will be brought up, this we must be careful of and only discuss those topics which will broaden our knowledge, for this is what makes the fest's educational.

The thing that should be our aim is more display of literary talent and greater insight on our topics for such sessions.

CHANGE IN SPORT

Cross country, described by the Nebraska Alumnus as a more or less ancient sport for college athletes, has been removed from the Big Six Conference sport calendar this fall in favor of milder, but still highly strenuous, running competitions.

No more will the track suited athletes labor through mud and cold over hill and dale, only to arrive in the stadium just as the football squad returns between halves and steals all the glory.

Conference coaches have decided in favor of a two-mile team race, all on the stadium track, instead of the five-mile grind over the surrounding countryside.

Six men will be used, as in the past, with five counting in the totals. Ten points will be given first place, nine for second, and so forth, with the team scoring the greatest number of points winning. In cross country one point is allowed for first, two for second and so on, with the low score winning.

Races will be run between halves of every conference football game this fall. The new plan will be tried this year, and if found to be satisfactory will be used in the future.

Twenty-six per cent of the annual income of residents of the United States is spent on food.

The highest temperature during the past summer season was recorded in Death Valley, Eastern California, where the thermometer registered 130 degrees one day.

The following countries have a lower per cent of illiteracy than the United States: Japan, New Zealand, Germany, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Scotland, Netherlands, Ireland, Switzerland, England, Canada, and Wales.

Argentina purchases one-half the 25,000 windmills which are manufactured annually in this country.

ALUMNI NOTES

Missionary Drowned in African Waters
Rev. J. Daniel Curran, who has been a missionary in Africa for the past fifteen years, was drowned near his post of foreign duty. Rev. Curran was graduated from the college in '08 and from the seminary in '11. Immediately after his ordination, he departed for Africa, where he had labored with marked success in the Christian mission field. He was president of the mission.

Celebrates Several Anniversaries
C. B. Harman, D.D., of the classes of '97 and '00, had a joint celebration of several anniversaries on October 1. He celebrated the tenth anniversary of his pastorate at St. Paul's Church, Grand Island, Nebr., the twenty-first anniversary of his becoming a member of the Nebraska Synod, and the thirtieth anniversary of his ordination to the holy ministry and of his marriage. Dr. Harman has accomplished a splendid work at St. Paul's and has been a strong force for Lutheranism in Nebraska.

George Spaid to Get Commission
George Spaid '24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spaid of Selinsgrove, who has been a student at Kelley Flying Field, Texas, expects to be commissioned a second lieutenant this month. Spaid has done very good work in his year at the aviation school and in spite of illness which kept him in the infirmary for a month, he believes he will qualify for the commission. He has taken several long flights during the past few months.

Commended in "Velvet Hammer"
One of the latest of the victims to be mentioned in the "Velvet Hammer" of the Harrisburg Evening News, is Bruce M. Dreese, of Herndon, a graduate in the class of '17. Mr. Dreese was high school head in Burnside, Clearfield County, for five years, and is now principal of Herndon High School.

Another S. U. graduate spoken of in the "Velvet Hammer" is William C. Bowser, of Hanover. He has been very successful in his work at that place as high school coach, athletic instigator, and classroom educator. He joined the Blue Ridge Baseball League and played for six successive years.

To Enter Mission Field
Miss Christie Zimmerman is now studying at the New York Biblical Seminary with a view to qualifying herself further for her work in the foreign mission fields, to which she has decided to dedicate her life.

Miss Zimmerman was graduated with high honors from Susquehanna University with the class of 1925. She became a member of the Derry Township high school faculty the following year and taught there with exceptional success the following four years. Her marked talent as teacher brought her constant advancement in that profession. However, she decided to undertake a broader scope of that work than merely the academic and thus will fit herself to include religious teaching in her profession.

Miss Zimmerman will sail from San Francisco on the seventeenth of October to go to Honolulu, Kobe, Manila, Singapore, Hong Kong, Shanghai, Penang, Colombia and Ceylon. From there she will travel on train to the Guntur mission, made famous by the late Dr. Anna S. Kigler, who established a hospital there. From Guntur she will be sent to smaller places, wherever her services may be needed.

Resigns Position
Samuel Allison has resigned his position with the Bureau of Standards at Washington, D. C., and has taken the position as assistant professor at Massachusetts Techn. where he is also taking graduate work.

Among Our Alumni
Miss Mary Pottler, '24, is a member of the Tressler Orphan Home at Loyalsville.

Frank Ramsey, graduate of Susquehanna University last spring, is employed as instructor of English in the Hollidaysburg High school.

H. Eugene Steffen is beginning his third year as principal of the schools at Dalmatia. Mr. Steffen is a graduate of the class of '25.

After studying during the summer in Madison Wis., Clark Kuster, '21 and '22, is entering upon his ninth year as teacher in the Erie Junior High school.

Miss Helen Salem, '16, is teaching in the Hampton, N. Y. High school. Her sister, Miss Olive A. Salem, has resumed her work as a member of the Berwick High school faculty.

Charles Marks, '29, is now teaching science and mathematics in the Yards High school. He formerly taught at Roaring Springs.

Miss Ruth Moody, '28, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Moody, is a teacher of English at the Tioga High school.
Summer M. Swayer, '10, is again teaching science this year as a member of the Sunbury High school faculty.
Miss Marjorie Phillips, '30, is teaching at Paxinos.
Miss Sara Brungart, '25, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. E. M. Brungart, is teaching in the high school at Millfinburg.
Miss Edith Erdley, '30, is teacher of English, social studies, and physical education in the Dalmatia High school.
Miss Anna Moore, '30, is teaching in the Kyrletown High school.

Wit That's Fit

The Three Woulds

I would I were beneath a tree,
A-sleeping in the shade;
With all the bills I've got to pay,
Paid!

I would I were beside the sea,
Or sailing in a boat;
With all the things I got to write,
Wrote!

I would I were on yonder hill,
A-basking in the sun;
With all the work I've got to do,
Done!

He: "Have you read to a field mouse?"
She: "How did you get them to listen?"

Say It With Fruit

"After I had sung my first selection, I heard a gentleman from one of the papers say: 'Fine! Fine!'"

"Dear me! And did you have to pay it?"

Bridegroom (in poetic frenzy as they strolled along the shore): "Roll on thou dark and deep ocean, roll!"
Bride: "Oh, Gerald, how wonderful you are. It's doing it."

Scientists claim a mosquito can fly ten miles. We wish they would move flying in the summer and less alighting.

A negro cook answered the telephone the other morning and a cheerful voice inquired: "What number is this?"
The cook, in no trifling mood, said, with some asperity: "You-all ought to know. You done called it."

A saxophone is produced in America every forty seconds. It is estimated that if they were all piled in the Sahara Desert, it would be a good idea.

Maybe ten years hence the pedestrian will be hunted with sawed off automobiles.

Boss: "Mike, I'm going to make you a present of this pig."
Mike: "And it's much obliged I am Sor. It's just like you, sor."

Waitress: "Oh, I am sorry I spilled water on you."
Patron: "That's all right, the suit was too large anyway."

"Emily has decided to marry a struggling young farmer."
"Well, if she has decided he might just as well stop struggling."

Teacher: "What did Juliet say when she met Romeo in the balcony?"
Flip pupil: "Couldn't you get seats in the orchestra?"

Judge: "What is the charge, officer?"
Officer: "Driving 'em in an extreme state of infatuation."

"Hello, old man! How are you getting along in your gardening?"
"I'm 'rithmetic. Last tomato last year. It was a peach."

AMUSEMENTS

Today is the last time to see The Divorcee at the Starley.

Wednesday and Thursday The Big House will be the feature, with an all star cast.

The Return of Doctor Fu Manchu brings us that famous character of a thousand faces, Lon Chaney.

Saturday's attraction will be The Border Legion.

Here is a treat that no one can afford to miss, we have all read his sayings and here is a chance to hear them as well as see him. Will Rogers featured in So This is Paris.

A Circus Sidelight

First Circus Clown: "What's all the noise about in the dining tent?"
Second Ditto: "Somebody put some red pepper in the fire-eater's soup."

SPORT BITS

"Lefty" Grove has pretty good control, but "Skippy" Glenn could show him a few tricks in that line himself with his pert tricks kicking.

If ever out on the athletic field and hear the word "fore," you want to begin hunting for cover.

During Saturday's encounter Quarterback Scott called for very few plays and the coming week will be spent in perfecting a new series of plays for the Havford battle. The team had several faults in the first game, but both Coach Ullery and Harper will be out to polish up this rough spot on the defense and offense during the practice sessions scheduled for this week.

The coming week will be devoted to intensive drills in forward passing and running back punts, augmented by several scrimmages, which will serve to wipe out outstanding weaknesses and have also toughened the men physically.

The boys rode "first class" this week, carrying Amos 'n' Andy right with them.

We must give the Havford boys credit for at least one thing, and that is that they have a good crew of "scouts."

The biggest attraction of the day was Ray Scott (135 lbs.) vs. "Primo" Fields (265 lbs.). Nice going "Scotty," looks like a big future ahead.

Several of the boys ought to feel pretty good, with their pictures in the Philadelphia papers.

Malassy claims he was lost over the week-end. If you have nothing to do Frank, you had better look after that "certain party" in Danville.

"Tubby" Moser had several of the boys hunting for their false teeth on Saturday.

How would this sound? Harvard 0, Susquehanna 0. Seems as if Havford is confused with Harvard.

This trip sure was hard on the fellows who wanted to stop off in Philadelphia.

There is probably a rumor on the Havford campus now that Susquehanna pays its football players. It happened that some "love letters" were mistaken for "pay checks."

We are glad that Spelgelmyer did not get kicked in the eye Saturday, for there is a certain party on the campus who thinks he has such bright eyes.

We hear that one of the members of the football squad tried to make a date with the dean of women at Beaver College.

We hear that a girl friend of Bony B was taking pictures of the game.

DOUBT IT OR NOT — by — Will U. Believeit

The boys of Hassinger on Friday night were very irritable and could stand for no Selingsgrove Hall roomers displaying their wit. The result was that the radio program was made to fit Hassinger's Sons' tastes and one of the opposite faction was sent to bed. Ask Bob Sala for verifications and complete data.

The Frosh are out for a win on Home Coming . . . ? Maybe the Sophs can't see it that way, but ask any of the boys of the ROONOC (Royal Order of Nature's own Color). They may not be as green as they seem . . . ? Just maybe.

The mystery was solved that raged in the English classes of Professor Hartung. He assured the class that his ailment was not the gout, but simply a bad sprain.

The conscientious lads of Hassinger, during the S. H. S. games now pull down their blinds and stuff cotton in their ears when they do not have the price of admission.

The casualties this year in soccer outnumber the injuries of Lock Haven. The Seniors blame the Juniors, the Juniors "pass the buck" to the Sophs, the Sophs to the Frosh. Well the Frosh really don't understand.

The radio at Hassinger is now in the greatest endurance contest of the century. It began Monday with setting up exercises, continued throughout the week, ending with static on Sunday. All that is needed is someone who is willing to stay with Philco.

Perhaps you didn't know it, but the studio in G. A., known as Dewitt Bouline, has the charms that the conservatory envies. More than that they shall sing any numbers on request and can be stilled at request also. The latter part of the above was shown at nine o'clock Thursday of last week, to the sorrow of the music lovers in the building.

Actual count was taken at the game of those students who participated in the victory: 22 players, and 39 who aided by cheering. While the rest of the student body merely attended. Cheers are not usually given by means of mental telepathy. A person sitting with his back to the crowd might have thought that the rest of the student body had gone home for the week-end.

SORORITY NOTES

The various sororities are again reminded that the Social Editor is the one to whom all sorority news should be handed. The ignoring of this fact will bar the news of the sorority ignoring it from The Susquehanna.

On Friday evening, October 10th, all the girls who decided to make Susquehanna the scene of their educational pursuits this year, found themselves the guests of the Kapa Delta Phi sorority.

Two large trucks were the means of transportation, and after much squeezing and squealing, they set off to that fair and much maligned city, Freeburg.

Here the newcomers and the members of the sorority ate the most delicious chicken and waffle dinner that could be had anywhere. There was a little delay in getting everybody served but that only served to whet their appetites to the limit and helped the girls to enjoy it all the more.

After dinner, a troupe of vaudeville performers, the like of which has never been seen before, (and we hope never will be seen again) made its appearance. There was a strong lady, a tight rope walker, a couple of wild wind tango dancers, and an orchestra, which was wonderful to behold and even more wonderful to hear.

After a little dancing the girls all piled into their trucks and the homeward journey was taken. Everyone joined in the opinion that the Kapa Delta Phi had again put on an original and highly enjoyable party.

SUGAR HALTS SLEEP

Hamilton, N. J.—Those who are having trouble sleeping at night are probably consuming too much sugar, according to results of experiments conducted in laboratories at Colgate University. There it was found that it is possible to stay awake for a much longer period of time by eating sweet foods than others. The sugar produced restlessness which hindered sleep.

FRANK CONDON DISCOVERS WHERE MIDDLE AGE BEGINS

"I shouldn't wonder if I could amass a small fortune if I worked the thing properly, but after thinking it over I have determined to be a benefactor of humanity, a noble person trying to help his fellowman along the rugged trail, with no thought of self, and consequently I am going to inform a waiting world at once, free, gratis, for nothing, that you definitely enter the portals of middle age the day, hour and minute you begin to discuss your bodily ailments and fallings; to mention doctors, hospitals, specialists and operations and to find conversational fodder amid the deficiencies of your own teeth, adenoids, tonsils or appendix. That is the day you pass over into middle age. That day you have ceased to be young, and it doesn't matter whether you were born in 1921 or 1896, or how old you are by the calendar of Augustus Caesar.

"There are plenty of men and women who are never going to be either middle-aged or old. They will die young, because by virtue of a lucky gift from the empyrean gods, they never have the slightest desire to debate their pains and ills in public. They are in the minority and are pleasant people to know and have in for bridge, for they have time to discuss matters of general interest. The others—the hopelessly middle-aged boys and girls—are the pitiful victims of a mental habit and, sadly enough, they refuse to stay at home by the fire and have their dissenses in solitude. They demand publicity for their petrified arteries, and they are going to have it.

"Once upon a time a person who talked and thought consistently about his personal machinery was called a hypochondriac and dismissed as a victim of a mild dementia, but now times have changed—science is everywhere with us; everyone knows all about germs, disease, symptoms and psychoses; and you are fortunate if you have any friends left who listen to life except through a stethoscope.

"I personally have a list of acquaintances who are facing a dread future. Life is pretty bleak, because they are middle-aged and do not wish to talk about Rudy Vallee. They prefer Angina Pectoris. So I have a new rule. I am never again going to ask anybody how he feels unless he is just nineteen years old. Then I know he is all right and feels all right and will ignore my question and start talking about ukuleles or football. This is going to save me a deal of time.

"The secret of youth is never to say anything about a pain in your stomach; never to go near a hospital except to visit the afflicted; never to let a strange surgeon look down your throat, for if you do he will howl for your tonsils; never to begin the practice of having your teeth photographed, because once they have the portraits of your trusty tusks, your day as a healthy human being are ended; and never to mention the word 'infection' to anyone over fifty years of age unless the room has several large doors and windows through which you can leap."

FARMS IN NEW YORK

New York—As unbelievable as it sounds, there are 320 farms within the confines of New York City. This metropolis, devoted to industry and money-making, houses 250 farms in Queens Borough, 66 in Staten Island and 4 in Brooklyn. They are all truck farms.

The Gracious Press

The Brooklyn Eagle and other American newspapers, succumbing to the courteous urge, have abandoned the "Continued on Page 2" line for the more gracious "Please Turn to Page 2." Something should be done to counteract this tendency before it is too late. First thing you know, the reader will be floored by these requests:

"Story Resumed Tomorrow. If You Don't Mind."

"Other Pictures on Page 11. With Your Kind Permission."

"See Page 14 for Weather Forecast. Asking Your Pardon."

Contrary Minded

The argumentative town councilor was on his feet, bent on pulverizing his opponents.

"Mr. Chairman," he said, "Councilor Jones says this is a case of six of one and a half a dozen of the other. But I say no—most emphatically no! It is exactly the contrary."

"You know, Ma'am, I wish I'd saved one of those old dollar bills just for fun."

"Oh, I thought of that. I saved one."

"Gee, where'd you put it so you wouldn't spend it?"

"In the bank, of course."

The Buffer

"Be careful, Junior. See that you don't hit your fingers with the hammer."

"I shan't. Mother. Daddy's going to hold the nail for me!"

COMMENTS and QUESTIONS

Why isn't there a light burning in front of the library on Sunday nights? The reason this question was asked we do not understand, except it would protect the bushes from being trampled upon by the Sons of Seibert. Then, we would feel sorry for a pair if they should fall on the hard concrete steps.

Why does Lou Harper wear Gum Pants? Ask the coach.

Lights out at ten-thirty in the girls' dormitory must be a very good rule. Girls, do you realize that in after life you may make use of this when waiting for the evening male.

It seems that the fellows in former times serenaded the co-eds more frequently. Is it that they lack the talent? No, it seems that the girls never repaid the visits. Girls, yours is the challenge!

Why are frosh always green and Wuntertutz? That is probably as hard to answer as why there are so many keys on a piano and yet no doors.

Who is the season's greatest find at St. Sbt? Ask Spigelmyer?

Questions are coming in very slow, we wish you would ask more, we can answer anything, even your love affairs.

We are expecting some of our girls to apply soon for teaching positions, but we did not expect them to apply for cooking positions, at least so early in the year. Any information concerning this last application will be appreciated by the Phi Lambda Theta boys.

It seems that the tablespoons at Seibert Hall have proved inadequate to feed the girls at cereal at breakfast—they use tablespoons instead. What can be done about this? We advise purchasing shovels.

Seibert Hall Echoes

WE'VE BEEN TOLD THAT: Marjorie Michaels is recovering from her operation for appendicitis, and is now able to sit up and take notice.

Diana Lizards is an absolute devotee of the popular Navy song, "Anchors Aweigh."

Esther Geisel is the girl who has taken to wearing red this year. Miss Augst is so conscientious that she sent a telegram to her Hall Chairman to please appoint a proctor in her place, for when she went to leave she forgot to ask someone to take her place.

The sight of a strange man in one of the rooms robbed a girl, who is usually loquacious, of the use of her vocal organs for awhile.

A general excels in the direction of home made Seibert Hall a very empty place this week-end.

Though the girls have been a little reluctant to make use of the new golf links, the first brave young lady is about to lead the rest of us out; so you fellows had better look out when you hear that word "Fore" caroled by some sweet young thing.

The girls are going to try to give their usual impersonation of the dumb guard at the next home game, unless some brave cheer leader is able to prove to them that it is NOT unlady-like to yell for the team!

The Seibert Hall social season opened when the men of S. U. fared forth to trip the light fantastic toe as guests of the fair co-eds at the dean's dance.

One well known upper classman, upon being asked how many hours he was carrying, answered he was carrying six and dragging the rest.

MISS ISOBEL HOHN SPEAKS IN VESPERS

In a few years of life on this earth in peace, realizing the love of Christ through the missionaries. Then there exists a Rescue Girls Work. Many young girls are sold as Gusha to act as dancers and playthings for drunkards. The proprietors of these dens buy the girls from the parent who is often in great need of money. Think that this is the only way to obtain it. The mission rescues many of these girls and changes their base hard life to one of happiness and love.

One often doubts whether missions are of any value. The answer is positive for morally Japan has been elevated. Today the selling of girls is considered an outrage. There exists more happiness in the Japanese home where Christianity has penetrated. The other religions are adopting Christian methods. Buddhism has its Sunday schools, kindergartens, sermons, and religious meetings. Yes, Christianity through missions pays and it is the duty of every Christian member to support both by prayer and finance the fields in foreign lands.

generalship. Moser deserves much credit for the consistent gains through the line, because of his plunging and ability to spin. 'Skip' Rishel received his first real test under fire and is given credit for several nice gains and his consistent running.

The Susquehanna line displayed some real strength and at times held like a stone wall as the Haverford backs kept battering away trying to break the scoreless tie. Captain Garman, Extrom and Witkop retired from the game early, after they had received slight injuries. All played a good game of football. Auchmuty played the full time at the left guard position. Winters and Barber also played full time on the line. Adams played a good game at the wing position, filling vacancy left by Wolfe. Fisher showed up well at the pivot position for the first time. Hudkins and Berger played a real game of football at tackle and guard positions. Fields and Conn played well for Haverford on the line, while Dothard stood out for them in the backfield.

Susquehanna—Berger for Witkop, Myers for Rishel, Witkop for Berger, Rishel for Scott, Spigelmyer for Adams, Fisher for Garman, Hudkins for Extrom.

Referee: J. R. Lehecks of Lafayette.

Field umpire: F. L. Gilbert, of Williamson. Head linesman: F. R. Gillender, of Penn. Time of periods—15 minutes.

Play by play:
First Quarter

Susquehanna kicked off, and the kick is run back 35 yards, but the Orange and Maroon line then held Haverford for downs. Moser then gains several yards through the line on short bucks before the ball is booted out of Orange and Maroon territory by Glenn. The line again comes to the rescue as Haverford is held for downs. Moser then hits center for five yards. Glenn then passes with Scott on the receiving end, which netted about four yard. Rishel fumbled and Glenn punted. The punt is again exchanged as Haverford failed to get a first down. Glenn slid off a kick for a yard and Moser netted about same as the kick is again returned. After being held for downs kick again returned as Glenn skirts right end for four yards, but was forced to kick again. At this point the Main Liners lost thirty yards on a bad pass from center and kicked. Glenn then slips through tackle for slight gain. A fifteen yard penalty then inflicted for holding. Scott skirts an end on a reverse play for nine yards. Haverford then intercepted a pass. Haverford goes through for first down, but rally checked when Glenn intercepted an attempted pass.

Second Quarter

After the change of position of ball Rishel skimmed through a tackle for about eleven yards. Glenn again gains on an end run for about five yards. Moser knocked off five yards on a fake reverse. Scott then reverses for another five yards. Glenn then kicks. Haverford punts after ball is lost on downs. Moser then twists through center of line for six yards and Glenn makes first down on an off-tackle play. Moser again battered at line for two yards. Rishel netted two yards through tackle. Dothard then slips through tackle for his fifty-five yard run. But on the next play Haverford fumbles and Susquehanna recovered. Failed to make first down and Glenn again punted, but Haverford is held for downs. Moser, on a center buck, gains about five yards. Glenn through tackle for three yards. Moser again hits line for two yards and first down, and on a fake reverse gains five yards. Scott reverses for ten yards around the end for another first down.

Third Quarter

Haverford kicks off. Myers received, but fumbled, and Haverford recovered the ball. With the Susquehanna line backed up against the wall they held Haverford on the ten yard line. On the exchange of punts Haverford fumbled and the Orange and Maroon recovered. Scott then reverses for two yards as Meyers tried end for a two yard gain. Glenn punts out of danger. Haverford penalized five yards and punts. Moser fakes a reverse but with little gain. Glenn squeezed through tackle for a gain of six yards. Moser fails to gain more than yard through tackle and Glenn punts. Haverford punts as they were held for downs. Glenn returned punt on a pretty run which netted better than fifteen yards, this was the longest returned punt of the game. Glenn and Scott gain several yards as Haverford intercepted one of Glenn's passes.

Fourth Quarter

Haverford opened the quarter as they pulled Fields from the line to try a placement kick, but missed. Glenn and Meyers gain but four or five yards as the ball is kicked again. Haverford then held for downs and they kick. Glenn on two tries gains but two yards and then again kicked. Haverford forced over a first down, but is held for downs again on the Orange and Maroon thirty yard line. Moser on three center rushes gains about nine yards, but Glenn is again forced to punt. Haverford held for downs and kicked. It is at this stage that Susquehanna started a march down the field that if the time would of lasted but a minute longer the Little Crusaders would have gained their second victory. Glenn starts the rally as he shoots off tackle for three yards. Rishel reverses his field for a nice gain of about ten yards. Incomplete pass. Meyers takes the ball through a hole in center of line for about seven yards. Glenn again tries tackle for four yards. Moser hits center for two yards as Rishel reverses again for five yards. Moser hit center for several yards as the final whistle blew ending the game with the ball on Haverford's ten yard line. Score 0-0.

Susquehanna Alumni Raymond P. Currier Attend Convention Speaks to Students

Many Alumni Attend Convention in Milwaukee; Luncheon is Given to Alumni Delegates

In connection with the meeting of the United Lutheran Church at Milwaukee, Susquehanna alumni met at the Hotel Randolph for a luncheon on Thursday, October 9. Singing was led by the Reverend W. E. Swope, of Lebanon, Pa., after which the invocation was given by Dr. Chalmers E. Frontz, of Albany, N. Y. A delicious chicken dinner was served in the midst of much good fellowship. Dr. Harry Michael, of Johnstown, Pa., introduced the toastmaster, Dr. M. M. Albeck, of Zelienople, Pa. Dr. Albeck had every one around the tables say a brief word, and there was much wit and humor exhibited. At the conclusion of the round table, President G. Spanish Club Elects Officers for Year

Club Opened Year With First Meeting Held Last Friday Evening; Paul Edwards Elected President

The Spanish Club of Susquehanna University opened its second year of organization last Tuesday evening, October 14, with a meeting in the social room of Seibert Hall. The meeting was more of a business affair in which plans for the coming year were made.

The most important work of the evening was the installation of new officers. The leaders of the club for the coming year will be as follows: Paul Edwards, president; Eleanor Sheriff, vice president; Lena Bald, secretary; Martha Gessner, treasurer. They will succeed the officers of last year, who were Herbert Rummel, president; L. Myer Fairchild, vice president; Lena Bald, secretary; May Estler Potter, treasurer.

The appointment of committees to run the various affairs of the club will be made soon.

Mr. Currier Spoke in Chapel and at a Mass Meeting Wednesday; Here Under Auspices of Y. M. C. A.

Raymond P. Currier, educational secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, spent Wednesday on the Susquehanna campus. Mr. Currier was brought here under the auspices of the local Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Currier spoke at the regular chapel service at which time he threw out a challenge to the students to consider the world before they settle on a location to perform their life's work. Immediately following chapel he spoke to the students of the theological seminar and presented the needs of the foreign field to them. Following this he spoke to the students of the class in Greek Drama, again presenting the cause of world service. In the afternoon he spoke before the Junior Economics class. At this time he spoke on that great character "Gandhi." "Gandhi" is one of the most talked of men today and hence this lecture was very interesting as it came from one who is intimately acquainted with the affairs as they actually exist in India. In the evening he spoke at a mass meeting in the chapel, at this time speaking largely of his own experiences on the missionary field. After this meeting he met with those who are interested in the Student Volunteer Movement. The rich background of his own experience made him very valuable to us here at Susquehanna during the day that he spent here.

Mr. Currier is a man who combines in his own experience an understanding of the problems of world missions and of student life in our generation. He has the A.B. and A.M. from Harvard. For almost ten years he was on the staff of Judson College, Pangloss, Burma. After a year of home service with one of our mission boards, he went to the Indiana State University as Y. M. C. A. secretary. He then spent four years as associate professor of English at Franklin College, Franklin, Indiana. He is now educational secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, and editor of Far Horizons.

German Club to be Formed on Campus

Students in Eager Desire to Learn a Speaking Knowledge of German Will Organize Club

Professor Gilbert has formed plans for the organization of a German Club upon the campus. Quite a number of the students are interested in German and there is no better way to get a speaking knowledge of a language than by actual conversation. The club would have its entire programs in German. Without a doubt the German songs and games will be interesting and lots of fun.

At Muhlenberg, Professor Gilbert says the success of the German student in conversation was due to the few hours spent in the German Club. Students who are interested shall appear on Thursday evening at 6:45 in the Seibert Hall social rooms.

SUSQUEHANNA GIVES P.-T. A. DELEGATES TEA

At 4:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon 300 ladies of the P. T. A. convention, which was held in Sunbury, were entertained by Susquehanna University at a delightful tea given in the Seibert Hall parlors.

Mrs. G. Morris Smith, wife of the president, and Mrs. Charles T. Aikens poured the tea at the reception and other ladies of the auxiliary of the university were in attendance to assist in the reception of the delegates to the State convention.

NOTICE
Herbert Rummel, business manager of the Lantern '32, announces that the photographer shall be here this entire week to take all pictures, individual and also group pictures. The photographer will be on hand at the Seibert Hall parlors at all hours of the day. It is urged that every one attend to the matter as soon as possible. The success of the Lantern depends upon every person's cooperation.

Two of a Kind

ADAMS

SPEER

Two boys who are of strength to Susquehanna's football machine are "Bill" Adams and Reed Speer. Both boys hail from Crafton where they had played football and all major sports. "Bill" Adams guards the left end of the line while Reed is a back who can be counted upon for gains. Both of them are studying for the medical profession and are real students. Bill and Reed are members of the varsity tennis team, and both of them play basketball. Two fellows couldn't be more similar in their likes and dislikes. Adams plays the violin where Reed is as smart a man with the traps as can be found. Both play with dance orchestras during the summer time. They are members of the class of '32 and of the Bond and Key Club.

WHAT'S IN A NAME
Jing Johnson, former Philadelphia Athletics and Baltimore Oriole pitcher, now athletic director of Ursinus College, believes that question will be answered this football season—insofar as the Ursinus eleven is concerned at least.
Names of the Ursinus squad reveal the person of G. I. Hero as a candidate for center. "I hope he lives up to his name," says Johnson. Then there is O. K. Smith, former Lower Merion back.
Super and Thoroughgood are a couple of others of interest while the all-nature, all-everything boys should be able to use names like Hunter, Ekke, Black and Robbin when they make their November selections.

Co-eds Hold First Play Day Saturday

First Event of Its Kind on S. U. Campus; Teams Were Picked From Last Year's Letter Earners

At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon Play Day was initiated at Susquehanna. Ideal autumn weather put plenty of pep into the girls. Upon entering the field, each girl drew lots from which she either received an orange or a maroon color. Thus they were divided into two teams. The Orange team consisted of the following girls: Jean Keltner, Barbara Jones, Diana Lizdas, Ludlow Nichols, Pauline Court, Miriam Keim and Estela Pearl. The Maroon team: Margaret Fink, Flora Ellmore, Martha Gessner, Corinda Sell, Ruth Maury and Lucille Lehman.

The first number on the program was a hockey game. It was well played and each member of the two teams showed real form. The score was 2-0 in favor of the Maroon team.

Next came a baseball game. The Orange team came back at the Maroon by winning the game by a large margin.

A relay team was then picked. The following girls ran for the Orange: Barbara Jones, Ludlow Nichols, Miriam Keim and Diana Lizdas. The Maroon runners were Margaret Fink, Martha Gessner, Corinda Sell, and Ruth Maury. The Orange were the victors.

After these three major sports came the challenging. Quoits, tennis archery and other such games were played among the individuals of the two teams.

The final score was 8-8, a tie. The girls couldn't have been more evenly matched to one another. This Play Day was in preparation for the probable Play Day with Bucknell, some time next spring. From all indications, the next Play Day will be a record breaker.

FACULTY COMMITTEE

Dr. G. Morris Smith wishes to announce that the following faculty committee will be in complete charge of Parents' Day on this Saturday. The committee is as follows: Miss Naomi K. Hade, Dr. George E. Fisher, and Professor Jacob R. K. Stauffer.

Art Exhibition by Arthur A. Miller

Crusaders Lose Hard Game to Alfred 7-0

S. U. Lost Its First Game Saturday Night When Crusaders Score 26 First Downs to Alfred's 3

The Crusaders lost one of the toughest games during its gridiron history Saturday night at Alfred, losing 7-0. The game was played on Alfred's Homecoming Day before a crowd of about 3000.

Both teams were handicapped by the extreme cold, which caused some fumbles on both sides. The Orange and Maroon were also playing under strange conditions when they were compelled to play under floodlights.

It was a hard game to lose for the Crusaders, but they were fighting every minute of the game and completely outplayed their opponents in every department. There surely must have been some sort of a "jinx" floating around these New York mountains when a team has outscored their opponents in the number of first downs 26-3 and then in the end lost the game.

The lone tally of the game came in the first quarter. Servatius kicked off and after the Orange and Maroon failed to gain any territory, Glenn punted to Alfred's 48-yard line. Then with Alfred in possession of the ball the first time of the game, Capt. Staiman skirted right end and by hard interference, and made for the final chalk mark by making a run of fifty-two yards for the touchdown. Staiman then made the extra point by kicking a placement.

At no time after the first several minutes of the first quarter when Alfred made all of her three first downs did they menace the Susquehanna goal line. The Orange and Maroon forward wall was chargin' hard and broke through many tireless men's plays before the line of scrimmage.

The Crusaders had several opportunities to score during the game, and they made all of their gains on steady marches up the field. The aerial attack of the Crusaders was working smoothly and some wonderful passes were completed for long gains. The longest pass completed was slightly over forty yards. The Orange and Maroon had the ball within scoring distance at least three times, but it seemed that the breaks went against the fighting Crusaders when they tried passes to make the necessary ground. And when they tried to hit the opposing line for yardage they failed to make the necessary distance.

It may be said, that the boys played the best football of the year and that they were not up against a better team, but that for some unknown reason they failed to come through by means of touchdowns.

It was hard to pick out any outstanding person on the line, for it was functioning better than it has any time during the season, but it must be said that Auchmuty played a good game at the guard position and it was he, by his fierce charging through the line that spilled many an Alfred play before it got on its way. Speigelmyer also played a good game at end after he had been substituted for Barber in the first half.

In the backfield, which was slightly changed from the previous starting line-ups, made nice gains, the bulk of the work being done by Rishel, who played a real game at halfback, and Moser's brilliant line plunging was a feature, together with "Skippy" Glenn's great kicking.

Perrone, playing at right end for Alfred, was the main cog in Alfred's defense, while Capt. Staiman made some nice gains and was responsible for their three first downs.

First Quarter

Servatius kicked off and Sprout fumbled on the first play. Glenn then got off a nice punt for about 52 yards. With Alfred then in possession of the ball Servatius skirted right end for a beautiful run for 50 yards for a touchdown. Servatius then kicked the extra point. Servatius kicked off again and Rishel returned the punt for about 30 yards. Glenn gained 3 yards on a wide end run. Speer then took the ball through the line for a first down. Moser again hit line for 3 yard and on next play Glenn gains a first down when he slides off tackle for 13 yards. Rishel knocked off 3 yards and Glenn is forced to punt to Alfred's 37-yard line. Alfred then gains two first downs on gains through the line, but is forced to punt to Susquehanna's 20-yard line. Glenn slices tackle for 6 yards and Alfred is

WHERE IS OUR COLLEGE SPIRIT?

Had a visitor appeared upon our campus fifteen minutes after the Wagner game he could not have known that there had been a football game here and that we had won. All was peace and quiet, just as it was the afternoon before. There was no student bonfire, no highly elated students on the streets; in fact, there was no display at all of the true college spirit, either at the game or afterwards.

Had that same visitor gone into the gym, however, he would have instantly recognized the fact that there had been a game and that Susquehanna had won. For there he would have seen a squad of riled but happy football players who had just played their heads off in their earnest endeavor to bring a little more prestige and glory to their Alma Mater. What did they receive for their work? A pat or two on the back, a word or two of praise, and the students of Susquehanna resumed their regular routine.

College spirit is a wonderful thing. It creates a love within the student for his college and makes university life more worth the living. It wins games for the college. Where is that all-powerful spirit at Susquehanna? It is not unknown; rather, it is only dormant. It has been dormant too long. Why not bring it back to a wonderful and glorious life?

This Saturday we are going to have a splendid opportunity to do this. For the second time Susquehanna is observing Parents' Day. Susquehanna is going to play Ursinus here on the local field. Your parents are going to be here. Let's show them that Susquehanna does possess a school spirit. Anything less than a hundred per cent student attendance will not be satisfactory. Anything less than a deafening roar from the cheering section will be below passing. Give the team the best that is in you and cheer them on to victory. After the game CELEBRATE. In other words: Let's be as true sons and daughters of Susquehanna should be; full of the real college spirit.

Book Heim, one of the most popular men on the University of Pennsylvania's campus and an ardent friend of our Assistant Coach Lou Harper, will be on our campus November 3, 4 and 5, and will discuss student problems. Keep these dates in mind.

THE VIOLIN MAKER OF CREMONA—STAR COURSE NUMBER FOR OCTOBER 27

Taddeo Ferrari, the violin maker, Ralph Steffen, basso; Filippo, his pupil (a hunchback); Kenneth Morrow, tenor; Sandro, his pupil, Ralph Appleman, baritone and violinist; Giannina, his daughter, Mary Krakowski, soprano; Domini, an apprentice, George Reynolds, tenor; at the piano, Magdalen Massmann.

The Violin Maker of Cremona is Francois Coppee's masterpiece. It is a comedy drama, set to beautiful music, that will immortalize itself in the hearts of its hearers. It will be acted by a distinguished cast of singers and players. The production will be staged and costumed by Sandor Radanovits, who is supreme in his field.

The scene is laid in the shop and salesroom of Taddeo Ferrari, a famous violin maker of Cremona. The time is about 1750 A. D. Wishing to make Cremona still more famous in the future, old Podesta has left his gold chain to the apprentice who will make the best violin. Inspired by this fine example, Ferrari has pledged his daughter and his house to the winner of the prize. Filippo, the hunchback, and Sandro—a dashing, handsome fellow, both pupils of Ferrari, are favored to win. The two are both in love with the daughter, Giannina. She loves... but all that will be unfolded in this beautiful love story, full of great dramatic moments, intrigue, jealousy, tender love scenes and great self sacrifice.

Second part of the program will be a grand concert, featuring the All Star Male Quartet and Mary Krakowski, soprano, and Magdalen Massmann, pianist—in a program of grand opera selections, oratorios and popular light operas—some of the best in song literature.

Prominent in the cast will be Mary Krakowski, who has one of the most beautiful soprano voices in all Chicago. Of her Glenn Dillard Gunn said—Miss Krakowski has a voice of uncommonly beautiful quality. It is a true lyric soprano. It has range as well as quality.

Ralph Steffen, basso, who was once soloist in "The Little Church Around the Corner," and whose light opera successes include an important role in Schubert's production, "Blossom Time," Kenneth Morrow—brilliant young American tenor who was leading soloist with The Cadets on a concert tour through New England this past summer.

Ralph Appleman—baritone and violinist—star of the Cathedral Choir and The Solbers Studios Chorus.

George Reynolds a fine young actor.

Magdalen Massmann, pianist, of Edward Moore, was a Tribune critic, who said: "She is a pianist of distinctive talent and plays with breezy energy."

This is the Star Course number and will be presented in Seibert Chapel Hall, Oct. 27, at 8:15 a clock. Single admissions $1, course ticket $4.

HONORARY GREEK CLUB HAS MEETING

Phi Kappa, the local honorary Greek Club on the Susquehanna campus, held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening, October 16, 1930 at the home of the sponsor, Dr. A. William Ahl.

After the business meeting three members of Phi Kappa presented papers. William Rover spoke on the subject: "The Country (Greece) and Its People and the Age of Legends from 4000 to 1000 B. C." Kenneth James spoke on the subject: "Sparta and Athens from 1000 to 100 B. C." William Swarn spoke on the subject: "Persian Wars 500-479 B. C. and the Athenian Empire under Pericles."

Mr. Rover said: "In 1500 B. C. the Nordri Greeks invading Greece, suppressed a high civilization then 2,500 years old. But, upon the remnants of the civilization, they build a high culture unparalleled in the world's history."

Mr. James' paper fell into three main groups—the age of the Kings, the age of the nobles, and the age of the tyrants. The separate history of Athens was studied from the year 1000 to the reform of Cleisthene.

Mr. Swarn said: "After the Persian invaders had been repulsed from Attica for the third and last time, Pericles came into power. Under his leadership the Greeks attained their highest peak of art and literature."

JUNIOR VARSITY TIES LEWISBURG HIGH SCHOOL

Coach Malasky's Junior Varsity team fared some better this week-end when they held a strong Lewisburg High School team to a complete tie Friday afternoon on the University Field.

Both teams were playing under a handicap when they were forced to start the game in the rain. Both teams displayed some good football at different times and the Jay Vees came near scoring on two different occasions. During the second quarter of the game the Jay Vees worked the ball up the field on line plunges and several well executed forward passes until the ball was lost on downs on about the one foot line. During the second half they again came within scoring territory and tried a forward pass which was intercepted. At no time during the game did Lewisburg really threaten the Junior Varsity's final chalk mark.

Herman, a few men on the line, showed up well as a tackle position, as he played down with Risko, Swartz, Carl and Schuler. In the backfield Slotnick and Reinhard were the conspicuous players for the Jay Vees. Handker displayed a real skill as a line player and was seen to stop on a few end runs.

LET'S FORGET THE PAST

All of us are going to forget the lone defeat such as it was, by Alfred last Saturday night; we are now going to turn our attention towards Ursinus.

As it is now the Crusaders are probably rated as the "under dog" by the outsider, but Coach Ullery and the boys are going to give all they have next Saturday on the annual Parents' Day and a victory here would cover up the defeat suffered at the hands of Alfred.

The Crusaders have come out of their skirmish in excellent physical condition and during the week by intense drilling they will profit by some of the mistakes which they have made thus far. A lot of attention will be devoted to the improvement of an aerial attack which worked so smoothly Saturday and also guard against an aerial attack and build up a strong defense.

Both Coaches Ullery and Harper are well pleased at the showing the boys made against Alfred and are confident that they will come through for them on Parents' Day next Saturday.

1930 Schedule Sept 27—Lehigh (lost 0-12). Oct. 4—Haverford (won 20-0). Oct. 11—Dickinson (won 19-7). Oct. 18—F. & M. Oct. 25—Susquehanna. Nov. 1—Gettysburg. Nov. 8—Muhlenberg. Nov. 15—Swarthmore. Nov. 22—Army.

UPS AND DOWNS OF THE URSINUS BEARS

When Coach Kichline of the Ursinus Bears, brings his proteges to the campus on Parents' Day, October 25 he will be out to continue his long list of victories.

So far this season the Ursinus Bears have won three games out of the first four starts. The only eleven to turn the tables on the Bears thus far was Lehigh in the opening game, the final score being 12-0. In the second game of the season Ursinus defeated Haverford 20-0 on their own gridiron. After his victory they then journeyed to Carlisle where the Bears bagged another victory 19-7.

Last Saturday the Ursinus Bears pulled the unexpected when they defeated their traditional rivals, Franklin and Marshall, at Collegeville, 19-0.

The Ursinus team has remained practically intact from last year, and with a strong forward wall and a fast and hard hitting backfield they have managed to put three opponents out of the way.

On the line they can boast of two good ends, Coble and Egge. Both are regular pass snatchers and with them at the receiving end of the passes they have gained much ground. Another bulwark of strength on the line is McBeth, who plays the left tackle position. McBeth has had a lot of experience and is rated as a clever and a hard charging lineman. Julo has been holding down the pivot position for the last three years and he also adds a lot of strength on the line.

Defender playing the quarterback position is a good around wainer and the originator of many long and well timed passes. Sterner is the fastest man on the team and is responsible for many runs around the end. Miller and Swader do most of the line cracking. Miller also kicks off and is a good passer.

WOLFE SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Warren Wolfe has again been surprised by a "jinx" this season when he is compelled to sit on the sidelines and watch his team-mates in action. Wolfe is in practically the same situation that Johnny Wall, Susquehanna's former football star, was last season when he was kept from the starting line-up for the first time during his football career which covered a span of seven years.

Warren Wolfe starred with his brother on the Sunbury High school team for four years and was seen in a starring line-up. Wolfe went through four successful seasons at Sunbury. Upon entering Susquehanna, his ability was immediately noticed by the coaches and had no trouble securing for himself a wing position, and played regular in every game until last season when he was forced out on account of a nose injury.

During the present season Wolfe ran immediately afoot the "old jinx" again when he was injured in the opening game of the season with Wagner. During the pre-season training and in practice games and up until the time he was compelled to leave the Wagner game, Wolfe displayed the best brand of football that he has shown and certainly was started on the right track for his most successful season. Wolfe is an excellent defensive player, he seems to have acquired much skill in swooping down the field to get under punts and on the offense he was considered the best pass snatcher on the team.

At present Wolfe's injury is coming along very nicely and it is hoped by everyone that he may again be seen in action on the Orange and Maroon Varsity.

AMUSEMENTS

Son—"Dad, I got in trouble at school today and it's all your fault." Dad—"How's that, son?"

Son—"Well, I ask you how much $1,000,000 was, and the teacher said 'a heckuva lot' wasn't the right answer."

Visitor—"And what sort of man are you going to be when you leave prison?" Prisoner (in for twenty years): "An old one, lady."

Husband—"From the glimpse I had of her this morning, I rather like our new cook. There seems to be plenty of fun in her." Wife—"Yes, she's gone."

SPORT BITS

Assistant Coach Malasky, of the Junior Varsity squad, started to give his proteges swimming lessons Friday afternoon.

Warren Wolfe "weathered" the storm and was seen in action in the official capacity of a head-lineman.

Coach Ullery must like the "horns" on the Capitol City Bus lines for the boys have ridden in the same bus for two consecutive trips.

Coach Ullery not only lost a tough game at Alfred Saturday, he also lost financially on the trip. While members of the team were hunting up extra wraps the Coach happened to be burning his.

Johnny Wall, former star quarterback for the Orange of Maroon, witnessed the tilt with Alfred and was impressed by their showing. By the way, Johnny has a pretty good "sales talk" now.

Harold Crossman, Susquehanna's foremost baseball manager, also witnessed the game accompanied by one of his students.

Strope Fox and Hoffman claim they will not return to Buffalo when they are assured of fair weather.

COMMENTS and QUESTIONS

Were the signs on the campus placed in their respective places for decorations?

No, absolutely not. The signs that are so neatly placed on the campus reminding students to give the grass a chance really mean what they say.

PLEASE KEEP OFF THE GRASS.

Is it too cold for golf? Golf is still a popular sport. It was suggested that with fur lined gloves to combat the cold.

There will be much excitement on the campus this week when Ma and Pa come to see us while the furious Ursinus squad traveling from Collegeville to lock horns with one of the best teams Susquehanna has produced in years.

Prepare for the big day with lots of pep.

I am in love with two girls. What shall I do?

The particulars are not sufficient in this case to give a very definite answer to this question. You have not told us why you love either of them.

Someone would like to know who is the best prevaricator in seven States.

There are several in the local vicinity who could compete. The man who tells you supper is at six when it is really served at five is the foremost and most unpardonable.

The writer of this column shall endeavor to locate the greatest prevaricator on the campus. Readers who may send us your lies which you have told or heard told. Who will be the Champion?

Seibert Hall Echoes

WE'VE BEEN TOLD THAT: Certain people think that they have the identity of the author of this column all down pat. Well, they're all wrong.

Hazleton is the popular resort which has claimed so many of our fair number this week-end. They left here in droves, to take in the air at this famous resort.

Olive Forcey is getting very absent-minded these days. Due to the work of the over-zealous Mr. James, Olive had to make a wholly unexpected trip to the library the other night.

The Dramatic Club will give our girls the chance to 'emote' that they all have been looking for. If you were at the tryouts the other night we're sure you were all impressed by the large number of actresses who have been hiding their light under a bushel.

The girls are again reminded that our next football game is this coming Saturday. Please remember the disgraceful showing we made at our first Home Game, and in order to blot that out of our minds, be sure to cheer and cheer some more.

"Just where did the car hit you?" asked the magistrate. "We-1-1" said the injured girl, "if I had been wearing a license plate it would have been badly damaged."

DR. BIRCH'S NOTEWORTHY BOOK

Rev. T. B. Birch, Ph.D., D.D., professor of philosophy in Wittenberg College, a graduate of Missionary Institute (now S. U.), is the author of a monumental work just published. It is entitled De Sacramento Altaris. It contains the existing texts of William of Ockham's great work on The Lord's Supper, gives an English translation, many explanatory notes, shows the use made of it by Luther in the development of his philosophy and theology and shows how from the days of Ockham (d. 1349) to the present many of the world's leading thinkers in statecraft, philosophy and theology were indebted to this master thinker of the later Middle Ages.

Dr. Birch was encouraged by leading scholars in Europe to prepare and publish this because it was needed in the world's scholarly circles.

The preface contains a paragraph of some additional local interest. "For the original suggestion of the need of a readily accessible and critical edition of Ockham's De Sacramento Altaris and for continued encouragement to complete the task, I am indebted to Professor Frank P. Manhart, D.D., LL.D., Dean of the Theological Seminary of Susquehanna University."

The price of this fine volume is $6.

A pass, Glenn to Moser, gave the Orange and Maroon another gain of 5 yards. Glenn slid off tackle for 7 yards for a first down. The Orange and Maroon again executed a well timed pass, Glenn to Speigelmeyer for a gain of 30 yards, which placed the ball on Alfred's 17-yard line as the game ended.

400 ATTEND SUSQUEHANNA'S PARENTS' DAY CELEBRATION

A Banquet Was Served in Honor of the Parents; Rev. A. C. Shue Expressed Attitude of Parents, Dr. Dunkleberger Spoke for the Faculty Susquehanna University celebrated her second Parents' Day on Saturday, October 25, at which time about 400 parents visited the campus. The main event was the banquet in honor of the parents at the Horton dining hall at 12:15 o'clock. The crowd was so large that some had to be turned away while others were served in the parlors of Seibert Hall.

President G. Morris Smith was toastmaster for the occasion. Seated about him were the entire faculty, Dr. Thomas C. Houtz was called upon for the invocation. The toastmaster greeted all the parents and welcomed them to the college and campus, to enjoy a better acquaintance with each other, and asking them to lend their cooperation in making Susquehanna the best school possible.

Representing the parents, Rev. Allen C. Shue, pastor of the Methodist Church of Sunbury, made a short address expressing the attitude and sentiments of the parents. In reply, Dr. George Dunkleberger, Dean of the College, in behalf of the faculty presented very acceptably a talk to those parents present. He stressed the great advantage of becoming better acquainted with the parents who indirectly help to make the reputation of the school by the children they send here.

Following the dinner an opportunity was given to all parents to meet the faculty members in the Seibert Hall Parlors, after which everyone went to witness the game against Ursinus.

After the game the Y. W. C. A. served tea and sandwiches in the social rooms of Seibert Hall and so another chance was given to form new acquaintances. The day was cold and biting so that hot tea and sandwiches put the parents in a fine attitude to leave Susquehanna's Campus.

Jack Hart to be on S. U. Campus

Most Popular Man on Penn Campus Personal Friend of Coach Harper. Here November 2, 3, and 4

The Reverend Jack Hart, student pastor at the University of Pennsylvania, is to be at Susquehanna November 2, 3 and 4. Jack Hart is a graduate of Penn '07, and has been on the campus since graduation. He is one of the best known college speakers in American colleges and universities, having traveled throughout the length and breadth of the United States.

He was the first man to organize an entire student church at Penn; the Student Episcopal Church is governed and composed of students only. Even the vestry is made up of students upon the campus.

Dr. Hart is greatly interested in youthful things, which explains his huge popularity. He is a well known baseball and soccer player. All athletes admire him, for he is asked to go with all teams on their trips. Often he goes holding services for the boys either in the trains or at the hotels.

At Penn he is the leader of all pep and spirit gangs and is the real cause of the wonderful school spirit. Jack Hart is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity and Friars Honor Society. Our Assistant Coach Harper was closely affiliated with Jack Hart while at Penn. Coach Harper was chairman of the Student Vestry and Jack Hart's right hand man, or Rector's Ward.

Sophomores - Frosh Prepare For Battle

Frosh Under Coach Wolf and Sophomores Under Coach Foulkrod Are Making Ready for Grid Battle

The Freshmen and Sophomore football teams are going through intense daily work-outs for the annual clash on Homecoming Day on November 8.

The Frosh are under the skilled eye of Warren Wolf, who has starred on the Crusader Varsity for the past three years. Coach Wolf has worked out a very complete set of plays and it may be assumed that his team will make large gains by the aerial route.

The Freshmen team promises to have a very fast backfield and should have one of the strongest teams in years.

The Sophomores are coached by "Wally" Foulkrod, and practically the same team has reported to him that played in the contest last Homecoming Day. "Wally" has in store a real supply of plays and plans to outwit the Frosh.

Both teams are going through signal drills daily, together with tackling and blocking practice. Both teams are in excellent physical condition and a real battle is in store.

The class of '32 won the contest for two consecutive years. Last year the class of '32 beat the Frosh in the most decisive score in the history of these contests, 28-0. The year previous the class of '32 won from the Sophomores 2-0.

FRATERNITY BASKETBALL TEAMS START PRACTICE

The different teams in the Inter-Fraternity basketball league are already under way with their practices. Each team has its own coach and manager. The first game will be played November 25, after the closing of the football season.

At a recent meeting of the Intra-Mural Board, which will regulate the inter-fraternity basketball series, the following rules were drawn up.

- (1) The first game shall start at 6:30 and end not later than 7:40.
- (2) The second shall begin at 7:50 and end not later than 9:00.
- (3) A team not ready to start on time shall forfeit one time-out for each two minutes or part thereof.
- (4) The non-appearance of any team shall constitute a forfeit of the game to be played, same to apply to postponed games.
- (5) In case of non-appearance of both teams, each team will be given a defeat.
- (6) Postponement can be made only with the consent of the two captains and the Director of Intra-Mural Basketball.
- (7) In the inter-fraternity league only the men who are active undergraduate members, represent that group. All pledged men are eligible to play on the non-fraternity group.

WITH THE SORORITIES

Kappa Delta Phi is told by Harriet Leese, that Dickinson is a G-r-r-a-n-d school. Ida Schweitzer, of the same sorority, tells us that she is not averse to broken noses. Beatrice DeWire is now interested in all political matter, you see; she has just had a very important birthday.

Y. M. C. A. NOTICE

Llewellyn E. Harper will speak at a Y. M. C. A. meeting on Tuesday evening, October 28, in the chapel promptly at seven o'clock. All men students and faculty members, whether members of the "Y" or not, are invited to attend. Mr. Harper was very active in Y. M. C. A. work during his undergraduate days at the University of Pennsylvania and has a real message for all of us.

Several buried Roman coins were recently discovered on a golf course in Scotland, and that's why we play too.

Fastest Back

John Meyers, former State College athlete, is rapidly coming into his own as a backfield luminary for Susquehanna. He is at the present time rated as the fastest man on the squad and his playing to date has bordered on the exceptional. He is equally adapted to passing and carrying the ball and is a star on the defense.

Jonnie played a great game last Saturday against Ursinus when he was Susquehanna's biggest ground gainer. It is also expected that he will be one of the squad's greatest assets in future games.

Meyers has also proved his speed as a member of the varsity track squad, where he runs the 440 and 220-yard dashes. He is a member of Bond and Key Club.

Y. M. C. A. OFFICERS ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING

On Wednesday afternoon, October 22, 1930, the Y. M. C. A. officers of the Susquehanna University Y. M. C. A. journeyed to Williamsport, Pa., where they attended a district meeting. The colleges represented at this meeting were: Lock Haven, Bloomsburg, Dickinson and Susquehanna. Those from Susquehanna who attended were: Dr. A. William Ahl, faculty advisor; H. Wils-n Sieber, president; Lewis R. Fox, vice-president; Robert R. Saia, secretary; Herbert G. Hohman, treasurer; and Samuel G. Bivolis, vespers chairman. Lewis R. Fox, as chairman of the district, presided at the meeting.

PARENTS' DAY TEA GIVEN BY Y. W. C. A.

The error made by Cheer Leader Graham in announcing that a tea was to be given by the Y. M. C. A. was, we think, an incentive to many parents to come out and watch their boys act as tea pourers. At any rate, the tea which was sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., in the Social Room of Seibert Hall, was a pleasantly crowded affair.

The rites of the tea cup were performed by Elyhime Miller and Josephine Hoy, with as many other hostesses as space would permit. Indeed, every girl, whether she had parents here or not, was ready to help all the parents feel at home.

The game was talked over, greetings were exchanged, and the closing of this year's parents' day was brought about in a quiet and graceful manner. More than one mother was heard to remark that she was so pleased with the way her daughter had learned to act as hostess. This tea is just another silent reminder to all, that the Y. W. C. A. has gone ahead in leaps and bounds this year.

IS JACK A DULL BOY?

No, but he will be if we have all work and no play. To prevent such a tragedy, the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. will present three one-act plays on Thursday, November 6, 1930. The chosen casts have begun work and we are sure that you will enjoy a fine production. Time: 8:15 p. m., Seibert Hall Chapel. Admission: 35c.

College Verse to be Published Next May

Can You Write Verse? Here is Your Chance to Try; Every College Student is Eligible

A new anthology of American college verse will be published in May, 1931 by Harper and Brothers, it has been recently announced by the publishers. The book will consist solely of poetry written by students attending college during the 1930-31 college year. It will be edited by Miss Jessie C. Rehder, Randolph-Macon '29 and Columbia University '30.

All students, either undergraduate or graduate, attending any college during the current year, are invited to submit poems for inclusion in the anthology. The verses will be selected for publication solely upon their literary merit, it was announced. If the venture is a success it is expected that it may become an annual affair. The verses may be written upon any subject, but must be limited to fifty lines or less. Students wishing to make contributions should mail their manuscripts to Anthology of College Verse, c-o E. F. Saxton, Harper & Bros., 49 East 33 Street, New York City. All contributions must be in the publishers' hands by December 10, 1930.

PREPARATIONS UNDER WAY FOR HOME COMING DAY

With the Annual Homecoming Day drawing near, everyone is starting to make preparations for the event. The main attraction of the day will be a football game between the Juniata Indians and the Crusaders. With the Indians being an ancient rival of the Crusaders and only having won one of a long string of contests this game promises to be a thriller.

Last year the Indians with tomahawk in hand massacred the Crusaders for the first time by the score of 12-0. This game was played on the Indians' field and played under miserable conditions so that neither team was able to display their real wares.

This year the contest will be played on the University Field under better conditions. When they take to the proverbial warpath this year the galloping Crusaders will be out to put up the best fight of the season. While the Indians proved to be "plenty bad medicine" last year it is hoped for a decisive victory this year, with the perfect setting being Susquehanna's Annual Homecoming Day.

On the other hand Juniata is just as confident or even more so than the Crusaders are. They are making elaborate preparations for the event and plan to send a large squad of rooters to the campus by a special train from Huntingdon.

Juniata has one of the strongest teams in the history of the institution. The team is again captained by Andrews, one of the smoothest gridiron players in college football. Andrews directs the team from the quarterback position and is responsible for Juniata's major gains. He is a left-handed passer, can kick and is also the smartest ball-carrier on the team. Petty, Harley and LaPorte are the other members of the backfield, while Holsinger, Jamieson and Burket are a tower of strength on the line.

In playing what will probably be the strongest team it will meet this season Susquehanna put up a great fight to hold Ursinus to the score of 21-0 here on Saturday afternoon. A large number of parents endured a biting wind to watch the contest.

The Susquehanna line put up an unexpectedly strong fight against the rushing attack of Ursinus. Although heavier in weight Ursinus failed repeatedly to force its way through the Orange and Maroon line during the opening quarter. Susquehanna did little better with the visiting forward defense, but had the edge during this period of play, due to the superior punting of Glenn.

Ursinus suddenly changed its mode of attack during the second quarter. Long passes and sweeping end runs led to two touchdowns. Earlier in the period Rishel stopped two threatening attacks by intercepting a pass and falling on a Ursinus fumble. However, the rangy Coble finally snared one of Sterner's long passes and went to the two foot line before being downed. Susquehanna held for two downs, but Dotterer went over for the touchdown on the third play. A few minutes later Ursinus scored again when Miller dashed around left end from a fake kick formation.

The third quarter found Ursinus scoring again with the same form of attack. Sterner finally dodged his way around left end from the 40-yard line to score the touchdown.

From that point on and throughout the last quarter Susquehanna took up the offensive and continually threatened Ursinus with a fine aerial attack. Although within scoring distance three times the Orange and Maroon lacked the punch to put the ball over the final marker.

Fine Parade Drill is Given by S. U. Band

Band Appeared for the First Time on Saturday Led by Its Drum Major; Gives Exhibition Drills at Half

Susquehanna University Band presented a very beautiful and colorful drill on the athletic field during the halves of the Ursinus game. Beginning at the bleachers the band marched to middle field where, under the direction of Drum Major "Chief" Johnson, they pivoted right and proceeded to the eastern end of the field. Here they counter marched and retraced their steps to the other end of the field, to again return and at center field pivot right and approached the bleachers. Counter marching at the bleachers they halted for a few seconds and immediately from march formation began to form the block S.

In this position they played the three verses and choruses of the Alma Mater song, while the cheer leaders directed the singing. Then upon command of the drum major they marched back into formation and striking up a well known air they proceeded to the western end of the field and back again.

The entire drill was done to perfection and a great deal of credit is due to Professor Elrose Allison, who is director of the band.

MASQUERADE PARTY TO BE HELD SATURDAY NIGHT

A grand and glorious masquerade party is being planned for Saturday night, November 1, to be held at the Alumni Gymnasium. Everyone is to come masked, ready for a very enjoyable evening. There is no admission, but bring along a few stray buffaloes to feed your disguised self. Sandwiches, ice cream, and real good cider will be on hand for those desiring a little nourishment. Any one can miss the fortune teller, for you must learn all about your past and future. It will be fun from beginning to end.

It is something that Susquehanna has not had for several years, so let's make it a real success. Come, one, come all.

WHY ARE EDITORIALS WRITTEN?

Editorials for college papers are difficult to write. They must be written carefully so that they do not offend the faculty, or student body. They must be written in a simple style, so that even the alumni know what the writer is talking about. If they are written unconventionally or radically, the editor is warned by all these factions.

Sometimes, I believe such items are written to take up space which the other departments fail to use. Then on the other hand I believe it is just a custom and are written because other papers use them.

We take off our hats to the style that is used by Carnegie Tech in its Pioneer. The writer speaks as he thinks and is sometimes unbiased.

Do you wonder at the fact that editors have a short life, when you think of the hours they spend thinking of topics to expound on and find to their surprise that only the minority of the readers ever look at their column?

The average reader of any paper, first turns to the sensational news, next to the humor or sports and then if he has time to the literary works. This I believe gives the editor room to put quotation marks around his editorials and give his pencil and brain a rest. It seems when more papers are published more editorials shall be copied. Yet all newspapers must have editorials.

ADULT EDUCATION

Something entirely new in the way of adult education, and another method of keeping in touch with alumni, has been instituted at the University of North Carolina here in the form of The Alumni Book Club.

The new program, believed to be unique, circulating as it does at a nominal cost a list of selected books recommended by the faculty of the University. To make the affair a success, three University agencies are cooperating with the faculty—the alumni office, the library extension service and the university library.

Under the plan of the Alumni Book Club, a list of five new books which may be borrowed by the alumni is furnished each graduate. Each book will be mailed to the borrower, accompanied by a critical review, written by a member of the faculty best informed on the subject dealt with in the book.

This commentary is designed to show the book's relation to other books on the subject or to furnish information about the author and his work.

Meeting at Sandusky, O., recently the Ohio division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, decided to place a marker at the Mount Vernon, O., birthplace of Dan Emmett, author of the Southern anthem, "Dixie."

Orange, N. J., and East Orange, N. J., have different laws about Sunday movies. A theatre owner whose building is located on the dividing line between the two cities ropes off the East Orange side of his auditorium, and hereby obeys the law in that city, while he puts on his Sunday movies in the Orange side of the theatre.

Three hundred and seventy-eight students at the New Jersey College for Women who worked during the past summer, earned a total of $44,550. The average length of employment was eight and a half weeks.

Oberlin College students of zoology were treated recently to the rare sight of fresh water jellyfish, discovered by Dr. R. A. Buntington, head of the department, in the Vermilion River, west of here. Dr. Buntington told his classes this was the sixth time in zoological history that jellyfish, regularly found in salt water, had been found inland.

ALUMNI NOTES

MARCUS A. HAVICE AND SOME OF HIS DAHLIAS.

Health, success, happiness. A reality, but Marcus Havice, 30, former Cleveland, claims he has found all three. They have sprung from an acre of ground on the outskirts of the city.

Five years ago Marcus Havice was pastor in Trinity Lutheran Church in Lakewood. The reward for his labors was a married health. A physician had a verdict of death. But the physician left one alternative. "Get out, plain, into the open."

Marcus Havice accepted the advice. "He doctor placed at his disposal a bit of land, a cottage and a car," he said. "I'm glad I did."

"There was a plot of best garden soil, a dishing business instead of work. Their studies was to serve as an inspiration for the boy which he must rebuild. Now physical and mental vigor are his at the age of 39. His blooms are the pride of the countryside.

"One hundred and ninety different varieties of dahlias now grace the once barren spot of land. One thousand two hundred different plants are sheltered here where the blazing gold of the King Midas vies in beauty with the sinuous 'harm of the cherry red of the Fort Mammoth bloom. The Havice pride are flanked on all sides by other flowers—lovely things. They lose their identity, however, before the majesty of the towering dahlias. Many of the stalks are more than six feet in height. Most of the flowers are larger than dinner plates. It is hard to believe that five years ago the gardener of these flowers knew nothing about floriculture.

The fame of Marcus Havice has spread beyond his plot. Blossoms from the Parkdale Avenue fancier have found their way to Georgia plantations and Texas ranches as well as to the gardens of wealthy Clevelanders. The flowers spent in dahlia culture have made him an authority. Various garden clubs of Cleveland now call on the services of the minister gardener to expound the gospel of beauty in dahlias.

The penniless man of half a decade ago now has a modest account in a bank. He has paid his financial debt to the doctor. Honors have come through the dahlias as well as health and financial security. At the recent gladiolus show, Mr. Havice was given honorable mention for his blooms despite the fact that they were dahlias and not gladioli as required. Members of his family who have assisted him in his flower culture are proud of his success.

When asked whether he regretted leaving the ministry, Mr. Havice shook his head and smiled. "No," he said, as he looked across at his almost-an-acre. "I'm still dealing with God and beauty."

Picture in "The Sunbury Daily"

There is a picture in "The Sunbury Daily" of Earl Thomas, a graduate of the class of '25. Mr. Thomas is manager of the Millinburg baseball team—1930 champions of the West Branch League. At the fifth and closing game of the 2,000 persons witnessed the warpage of the Little World Series.

Child Born
A daughter was born to Rev. and Mrs. M. E. Case on October 19. Rev. Case is a graduate of the college in the class of '21 and of the seminary in '24. He is at present pastor of the Lutheran Church in Sewickley, Pa.

Celebrates Anniversaries

Dr. C. B. Harman, 97 and 90, closed his tenth year as pastor at Grand Island, Neb., and the twenty-first in the State on October 1. On October 3, Dr. and Mrs. Harman were host and hostess to the members and friends of the church in Grand Island and to the other two congregations served during the pastorate in Nebraska. This took place on the date of their marriage thirty years ago. This reception was in commemoration of this, as also of Dr. Harman's thirty years in the ministry and the years in the State and city where the couple now reside. It was held in the city auditorium and was said to be the finest affair of its kind ever held in the city.

Seibert Hall Echoes

WE'VE BEEN TOLD THAT
Ruth Nelson had an added attraction on Parents' Day. Ruth thinks that it is just as easy to entertain two sets of parents as it is to entertain one.

If you look around, you'll see the actors in the Y. W. and Y. M. plays. You'll know them by the preoccupied look (known in bourgeois circles as that "hungry look"), they have. A sort of "All my life I've waited for two lines, and now—"

The latest device known, in that great game, "How to Get a Man," is feed 'em candy when you bring 'em into Seibert Hall parlors.

Several sets of parents were very interested in seeing our fair co-eds, and finding out their habits, life histories, etc. As one mother put it, "I want to see that girl who is making my son forget to study."

Mary Hutchings entertained a homecoming couple, friends from New York on Thursday. We hear that advice from such like is priceless.

Wilma Walker regretted that she was unable to bring the Puddle-Jumper along, but she promises to bring it on Alumni Day.

The cheering on Saturday was fair and warmer; however, we have hopes that by the end of the season, we will be able to hear a good Bulldog yell above the snores of the blasé town-folk, who aren't among the ones who benefit by this college.

Ye Seibert Hall Echoer hereby offers a suggestion: Why not make it compulsory for all Fresh to sit in a certain designated place in the grand stand, and cheer?

SOCCER STANDINGS

Sophomores	6	0	1.000
Seniors	2	2	.500

The Sophomores practically won the inter-class soccer championship when they defeated the Seniors, their closest contenders, by the score of 3-0 last Tuesday afternoon. At half time the Sophomores stood 0-0, but in the second half Carolyn started the second year men on their way to their sixth straight victory, when he booted a spectacular goal.

On Thursday the Juniors downed the Freshmen 5-2 and are now threatening the Seniors for second place.

COMMENTS and QUESTIONS

What happened to the lights on the campus? During the past several weeks there have been no lights in on the campus excepting those strung about from tree to tree in a "Bake Sale" or "Ice Cream Social" style.

We have found out that in Cambridge, England, the Cambridge students have created what is known as a "Sunday Sermon Sweepstakes." This means that the organizers have charts made of past performance of ministers and the students place their bets on any one which they choose, betting that they will not preach more than a certain length of time.

Who had more dishes broken in Horton Dining Hall? There are many reasons. First, a prize list has been posted in the kitchen, telling the cost of each dish; second the waiters do not wear roller skates, and third, we do not have Parents' Day every Saturday.

Why is there are so many boys wearing fur coats on the campus this year? There have been many fur sales during the past year and then many of the stray dogs that used to wander about our campus are missing.

Someone has asked if Saturday was Parents' Day or DuBois Day at S. U. The Tom Mix variety was well represented and we were thru a big band, and hope they return again.

How can we get more noise at the games? First we had suggested that the students sit closer, but now that that has been done the most efficient way we can suggest is to get loud speakers.

SPORT BITS

It sure would be pretty tough on some of these Seibert Hall boys if they would have to use crutches. How about it, Barber?

Captain Al Garman was given a rest Saturday afternoon. With several rests such as this, his wit alone ought to defeat the Indians on Homecoming Day.

Coach Ullery is still trying to figure out how we lost the Alfred game. I suppose everyone else is trying to solve the same mystery.

McBath, the Ursinus captain, has never worn a headgear since he was injured in high school. It seemed that his game didn't suffer from the neglect to protect his shock of black hair.

The Hamilton College Press Board recently paid a compliment to "Skippy" Glenn, when he was said to be one of the most consistent punters in college football today.

Al Barber, who held down the right wing position, sustained a fracture of the leg in the Alfred game. We wish Al a speedy recovery and the best of luck.

Malasky claims that he has worried more since he has taken over the duties of coach of the Junior Varsity than he did the whole time he was in the hospital. By the way, Frank must know of a pretty good hair tonic.

Well! It is true that Johnston does add color to the band.

Auchmuty displayed some skill as a fancy diver in the game Saturday afternoon.

CRUSADERS AGAIN TO INVADE NEW YORK

On Friday morning the Crusaders will again invade New York State, when they will journey to Clinton to meet a strong Hamilton College eleven. To the present the Hamilton gridiron warriors have won one game, tied another and lost two contests. The contest they tied was with Alfred with a 0-0 score.

Hamilton has been all season without the services of its captain and star quarterback, Risky Morris of Endicott, who has been forced to retire from athletics on account of stomach ulcers. He is assisting Head Coach Arthur W. Winters and Assistant Coach Weber in directing the team. Bill Morris, the largest and fastest back on the squad, has been out of the running since the first quarter of the Alfred game. The first part of the year, with an injured knee, it is expected that he will return this week and play in the balance of the games on the schedule.

Coach Winters' warriors played their best game of the season in the Buffalo contest, out-manuevering the Bison aggregation throughout, but losing on a blocked punt, which soon put Buffalo in a position to score, early in the first quarter.

Kinsley, one of the outstanding sophomore athletes in the school, handles the punting assignments for the team. He has been keeping up a good average and has not been out-kicked this year. He took all-around 3rd at excellent quality.

Finley, an end, and DeLano, general, are the best offensive players on the team. Esbroek and DeSerno are also to be feared, while Rinzo hits a line well and does some good defensive work.

The Hamilton squad can hardly be said to be a balanced one. There are several assignments of present occupying number positions or players as first three string backs. Coach Winters was disappointed from the first, when several lettermen he had planned on, including the captain, were unable to play.

The sophomores who are included in the first string list are J. T. Wilson, sub-end; Lee DeSerno, tackle; Kinsley, back; Ollikaimeis sub-quarterback; Fay, back; Bremer and Sellers, guards; J. Sline, sub-tackle; Jensen and Bellaty, backs.

Hamilton's probable lineup: Position, Name, Weight. L. T. Hitchison 170, L. T. DeSerno 182, L. G. Sellers 165, C. Risher 175, R. G. Bremer 169, P. T. Esbroek 182, R. F. Finley 178, Q. B. Ollikaimeis 148, I. H. Kinsley 175, P. H. Crowley 159, F. B. Rinzo 191.

1929 Record: 14-Clarkson 10, 6-Rochester 10, 6-Amherst 10, 19-Hobart 10, 30-Trinity 10, 0-Trinity 10, 0-Haverford 38, 6-Union 25.

1930 Schedule: Sept. 27, Alfred (0-0), Oct. 4, Clarkson (Won 12-0), Oct. 10, Rochester (Lost 30-0), Oct. 18, Buffalo (0-0), Oct. 25, Hobart, Nov. 1, Susquehanna, Nov. 8, Haverford, Nov. 15, Union.

DEI DEUTCHE VEREIN ORGANIZES

The German Club, Dei Deutsche Verein, held its first meeting on Thursday evening in Seibert Hall parlors. The meeting was chiefly for organization. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year: Andrew Kosak, president; Ester Geisel, vice president; Marian Walborn, secretary; William Al treasurer. Professor took charge of the meeting and conducted as much of the business as possible in German. Having distributed typed sheets with all the necessary parliamentary procedure in German the process was not so difficult. Meetings shall be held every third Thursday of the month.

Some books were ordered, for the success of any German club depends upon its songs. Some discussion on the possibility of obtaining club pins. Each meeting is to be ended with some refreshments. Pretzels, limberger and beer were suggested, but the matter rests in the hands of the entertainment committee.

All who were present at the first meeting are charter members of the Dei Deutsche Verein; others must pass the examination of the membership committee and be exposed to a severe initiation. The programs will be of fine calibre and worthy of anyone's spare time once a month. All who have had two years of German or more are eligible for membership.

All Campus Selection Picked the Big Three

Left Guard: Ray Watkins—the town bully, who boxes any player, regardless of size, sex or age.

Left Tackle: Glen Roy Budd—the juggling warrior was given the edge over Pete Kawolchik, due to his fine work in the ICS game.

Right Guard: Shorty Irvine—the busiest man on the campus, also former Vasser star.

Center: Had Kimmell—the pride of Rockwood, by far the best prodigy of all times.

Right Guard: Howdy Lukehart—the DuBois Dodger, taking a slight edge over Flying Star Fisher.

Right Tackle: Chester Beam—Burn 'em up Beam was given a unanimous vote over William Sieber.

Right End: Sammy Pascoe—the coal region terror plays a celer (misprint) game.

Quarterback: Bob Filson—the best signal barker ever turned out at Ogdwawa, also all-time cheer leader of Dewitt Boudine.

Right Halfback: Whitey Shilling—the Prince of Head Writers easily nosed out his only challenger, Norm Brought due to Brought's standstill playing.

Fullback: Jimmy Brubaker—due to his fine work ranked all "wild-bird" selections aside.

Other selections: The Four Mile Drivers—Hip Shaking Brought, Miss Key Judge, Shake 'Em Up Wilmer and (the) Fox.

Had Kimmell, the man who is famous in the eyes of the public, stepped to Jobstown to challenge Ralph Lohr's title as "Corn Husking Champ."

There was a day set aside for the parents at S. U. on Saturday, but we noticed that it was more than Parents' Day for some people. Many alumni were back. For more information ask the cheer leaders.

Bob Wills was asked to write a trail for every soldier of his experience on the campus that after his pep talk.

A fresh asked if it was meant to be a fruit and flowers to the cheerleaders.

The three the campus needs to be someone to inform the radio announcer, he correct scores.

CRUSADERS TO HAVE WEEK OF STIFF DRILL

A hard week of many stiff drill and practices are in store for the football squad for this coming week. The Crusaders came through the Ursinus game in good shape and it will be necessary to reach a still higher level for the coming Juniata and P. M. C. games.

The boys played pretty good football Saturday afternoon and we must say the Ursinus Bears had an edge on the Crusaders. We have seen several weaknesses on both the offensive and defensive play, and it is hard to say whether the Bears were twenty-one points better than us. Ursinus had a very good passing system and the Crusaders were drilled in perfecting a passing defense and also an attack before the game.

The Crusaders had pretty tough riding in the Ursinus game because of several injuries, but now with the return of several of the regulars, they ought to hit a real stride for the remainder of the season.

After seeing these slight weaknesses in play Saturday it may be assured that they will be ironed out before the Hamilton game and the boys will be going up to Clinton to bring back a victory.

After the Hamilton game preparations will be made for the annual Home Coming Day contest with Juniata when a victory will be so necessary. The Indians will bring one of the best teams that the institution has produced to the campus that day and the Crusaders are going to make a bold effort to "turn the tables."

Let us be a Susquehanna booster and try to help the Orange and Maroon through the remainder of the season without another defeat.

FACULTY MEMBERS GAVE RECITAL MONDAY EVENING

On Monday evening, October 20, the faculty of the Conservatory of Music gave a recital in the Seibert Hall Chapel.

Those appearing in the program were Frederick C. Stevens, tenor, and W. Donald Hemphill, violinist. Professor Stevens was accompanied by P. M. Linbaugh, and Professor Hemphill was accompanied by E. L. Allison.

This was the first appearance of Professor Stevens, who is the new voice teacher at the Conservatory. He is the possessor of a very fine voice, which was appreciated greatly by the audience, as was shown by the applause. His excellent diction and splendid interpretation were two of the outstanding features of his presentation.

Professor Hemphill needs no introduction to the students and the public of Seling Grove. He has appeared many times in recitals here, and recognizing him as one of our outstanding musicians, we all look forward to hearing him.

The program was as follows: Concerto in E minor (1760) First movement, Nardini—Mr. Hemphill. Mr. E. L. Allison at the piano.

From "Jephtha," Handel. Recit: "Deeper and deeper still;" Air: "With her angels"—Mr. Stevens. Mr. P. M. Linbaugh at the piano.

ORANGE AND MAROON DEFEATED BY THE STRONG URSINUS BEARS

Near the end of the third quarter Meyers received pass after pass from Glenn to bring the ball to the Ursinus 20-yard line. Miller halted the attack by intercepting one of the passes and running to midfield. During the last quarter Scott ran the ball to the 6-yard line with a nice end run, but Ursinus gained the ball again when Susquehanna fumbled. The local team again worked its way to the 7-yard line, but a pass over the goal line gave the visitors the ball.

Glenn and Moser were the mainstays in the Crusaders' backfield. Rishel, who played the game later, deserves credit for the brand of football he displayed. In the line Auchmuty was outstanding, while Extrom also did well at his position.

For the visitors Captain McBeth, Cobie, Dotterer, Miller and Sterner all played fine games.

Points after touchdowns—Sterner 2, extra point awarded, Susquehanna offense Substitutions: Ursinus—Super for Miller, Scirica for Dotterer, Smeigh for Hess, Frick for Sterner, Thorogood for Cobie, Miller for Seoder, Herron for McBeth, Morey for Dawson, Reese for Simon, Hallman for Sterner, Smith for Maier; Susquehanna—Berger for Wilkopt, Extrom for Hudkins, Rishel for Speer, Meyers for Sprout, Hudkins for Winters, Scott for Rishel, Reefe-L. Star Course Number Merits Much Praise

Prominent Soloist Present; "The Violin Maker of Cremona," and Concert of Mixed Selections

"The Violin Maker of Cremona," Coppee's masterpiece, was the title of the musical comedy presented on Monday evening at Seibert Hall Chapel as the first number on the Star Course. The production is a comedy drama set to beautiful music that was indeed immortalized in the heart of any one who heard it.

The cast for the drama was made up of the following: Mary Krakowski, who has one of the most beautiful soprano voices in Chicago. Of her Glenn Dillard has said: "Miss Krakowski has a voice of uncommonly beautiful quality. It is a true lyric soprano. It has range as well as quality."

Ralph Steffen, basso, who was once soloist in the "Little Church Around the Corner," and whose light opera successes include an important role in Schubert's production, "Blossom Time."

Kenneth Morrow, brilliant young American tenor who was leading soloist with The Cadets on a concert tour through New England this past summer.

Ralph Appelman, baritone and violinist star of the Cathedral Choir and Heidelberg Student Chorus.

George Reynolds, a fine young tenor, Magdalene Massmann, pianist, of whom Edward Moore, Chicago Tribune critic, writes: "She is a pianist of distinctive talent and plays with breezy energy."

The scene is laid in the shop and salesroom of Taddeo Ferrari, a famous violin maker of Cremona. The time is about 1750 A. D. Wishing to make Cremona violins still more famous in the future, old Podesta left his gold chain to the apprentice, who will make the best violin. Inspired by this example, Ferrari has pledged his daughter and his house to the winner of the prize.

Filippo, the hunchback, and Sandro, a dashing, handsome fellow, both pupils of Ferrari, are favored to win. The two are both in love with the daughter Giannina. She loves Sandro, her dashing fiancee, and the differences of the two were portrayed vividly in this select Star Course number. It is full of intrigue, jealously tender love scenes, and great self sacrifice as is shown by the hunchback. He knows that Giannina loves Sandro although he himself loves her greatly.

So willingly the hunchback changes secretly his masterpiece of musical creation with the mediocre work of his opponent so that Sandro can win to make Giannina happy. Sandro, however, also wishing to win changes the violins in their cases again thus returning Filippo's violin to the owner's case and getting his own in return. His wrong, consequently, hurts his. His wrong, consequently, hurts his confesses all to him. Filippo wins the coveted prize; but through the winning of this Filippo realizes that Giannina will not be happy with him; so graciously he accepts the prize only on the condition that the daughter be married to Sandro.

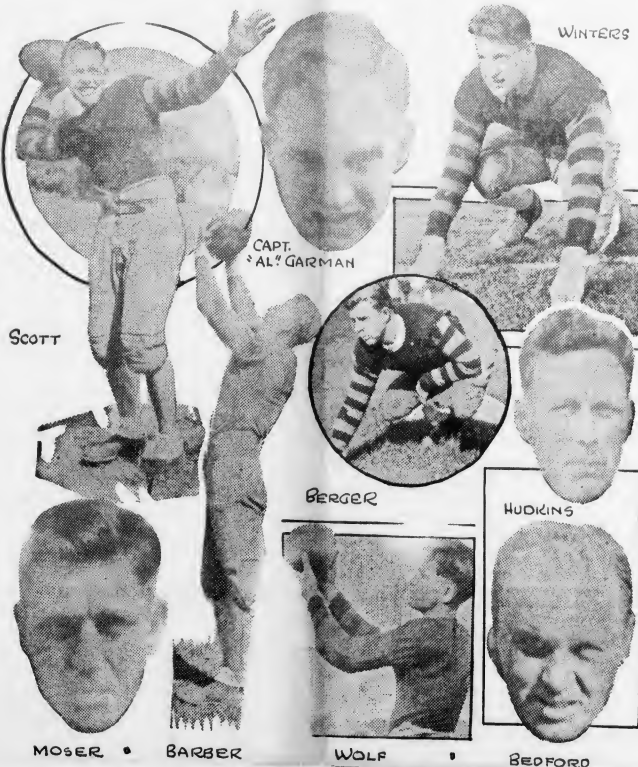

The second part of the program was a grand concert featuring the All Star Male Quartet and Mary Krakowski, soprano, and Magdalene Massmann, pianist, in a program of grand opera selections, oratorios and popular light opera numbers—the best in song and literature.

DR. HART HERE FOR SEVERAL DAYS

Dr. Jack Hart, the most popular man on U. of P. campus, is here for several days' stay. His first appearance was at a mass meeting last evening at Seibert Hall, where he addressed a very appreciative audience. Dr. Hart, a student pastor at Penn, being the Chaplain of one of the few all student churches in the country. His long connection with the campus has still retained for him a student's point of view of many problems. Everyone should take advantage of this great honor which Susquehanna is fortunate to have. Dr. Hart has traveled and is in constant demand. Once you hear him you cannot resist hearing him again.

One hundred married women attended the Vassar Institute of Euthetics last summer.

Will Play Last Home Coming Game

Ramie Scott, the diminutive Mount Carmel flash is still going around end for large gains. The work of Winters at tackle and Captain Al Garman at center has been an outstanding factor in the success of this season. George Moser at full back is showing All-American style in gaining yardage through the injured list with a broken ankle. "Ace" Hudkins has just been added to the line-up and is playing a whale of a game at tackle. Berger is a bulwark in the guard position while Bedford can at any time fill the tackle position. All are seniors and playing their last year for Susquehanna.

Large Homecoming Inter-Class Tennis Crusaders to Meet For Susquehanna Won by the Seniors Far Famed Rivals

Program is Arranged for Homecoming Day; Large Number of Indians Are Expected to be Present

Preparations are already being made for the coming Annual Homecoming Day program, which promises to be one of the best in years. The main attraction of the day will be the clash with Susquehanna's ancient rival, Juniata.

By all indications the Indians are coming down here in all their regalia and war paint and they intend to be on their annual warpath. On the other hand the Orange and Maroon will be out to seek revenge for the first defeat ever administered to the Crusaders, which was last year by the score 12-0. Both teams are pretty evenly matched and same amount of experience, which will make a very interesting football game. Juniata is coming on the campus highly confident of a victory and a defeat would sting their hopes considerably.

Juniata will bring a huge squad of rooters to the game on a special train and it may be assured that they will display plenty of pep and enthusiasm.

Some of the other attractions on the Homecoming Day program are the golf tournament, Freshman - Sophomore football game and different activities in the girls' athletic department.

To counteract the enthusiasm on the Juniata campus, plans have been laid for the coming event by the Orange and Maroon's loyal followers. The Crusaders will have left behind them by this time some of the hardest skirmishes of the season, and will be all set to settle the "old score" and turn the tables on their friendly rivals.

A real Pep Meeting has been arranged for on Friday evening, at which time we will be able to get the opinion of the individual players and following the Pep Meeting there will be a big "bon fire" with the many other accessories that will go with it.

Burford, Hermann and Weliky Are Undeafated; Lohr Won Two; Juniors Are Runners Up

During the past week the Seniors have added new laurels to their long string of activities during the four years at Susquehanna when they won the tennis tournament and the Inter-Class Tennis trophy.

The Seniors won the Inter-Class Tennis trophy with the decisive number of twelve victories to three defeats. The Juniors won nine and lost six matches.

The tennis tournament brought to light some real tennis material and every match was hard fought and good tennis was displayed on the courts. Weliky, Burford and Hermann went through the tournament without a defeat chalked against them.

The team was composed of Weliky, who was captain and manager of his class team, Burford, Hermann and Lohr. Weliky played sensational tennis, matched with some of the best players in the school. He won all his matches in straight sets. Burford lost but one set in the tournament. Hermann won all his matches in straight sets and at the same time displayed real form on the clay courts. Lohr, the fourth member of the team lost two matches and won one.

The seeding of the Seniors was as follows: No. 1—Weliky, No. 2—Burford, No. 3—Hermann, and No. 4—Lohr. The final standing of all teams entered was as follows: Seniors won 12 and lost 3, Juniors won 9 and lost 6, Sophomores won 7 and lost 8, and the Freshmen won 2 and lost 13.

The different class teams were matched together in five matches and the final standing in these matches was:

- Sophomores 2 vs. Seniors 3
- Juniors 5 vs. Freshmen 0
- Juniors 1 vs. Seniors 4
- Sophomores 2 vs. Juniors 3
- Sophomores 3 vs. Freshmen 2

Juniata Indians Will Bring to Susquehanna One of the Strongest Teams in Its History

So far this season Juniata has hit some pretty tough opposition and have won but two games thus far in the season, but this is no indication that they are a weak team. Juniata has one of the strongest teams in years, especially the backfield, which has been able to dent many a strong opposing line.

M. R. Swartz, who for the past seven years has been turning out winning teams at Dickinson Seminary is beginning his first year at Juniata. He is being assisted by Mike Snider, a four-letter athlete who graduated from Juniata in 1926 and who has since distinguished himself as a coach at Schuylkill Haven High School. Both these men have worked hard to whip into shape a team to put against a fast Gettysburg eleven in the opening game of the season and met with defeat. 20-0. Later on Dickinson met with defeat at the hands of the Indians and two weeks later the Indians went on a wondrous warpath and defeated Wagner 52-0. The other games lost were to Drexel, Waynesburg and Westminster all by close scores.

So far this season Juniata has not been followed by the old injury jinx, and every varsity man will be available for the coming Homecoming Day attraction with the Crusaders on the University Field, Saturday afternoon.

The Indians' stellar backfield includes Captain Andrews, a triple-threat man and one of the most dangerous backs on the opposition that Susquehanna will play against this season. Andrews has had four years varsity experience, is a good left-footed booter, passer from the port side and is a very fast and shifty broken field runner. It was Andrews and Petty last year who played havoc with the Orange and Maroon defense and were responsible for many

Orange and Maroon Ties Hamilton, 7-7

Crusaders Display Real Ability in Initial Period; Fail to Push Ball Last Yard for Winning Goal

Susquehanna saw hopes for another victory slip over the horizon Saturday afternoon at Seibert Hall. Field when Hamilton College held the Crusaders to a 7-7 tie after they had been in the shadow of Hamilton's goal posts at least three different times.

The Crusaders started off with a bang and managed to work the ball up the field by displaying a real attack. After the ball was taken to the edge of the final chalk mark, "Tubby" Moser pushed it across for the lone touchdown by Susquehanna, and then kicked the extra point.

Hamilton tallied their touchdown in the final quarter of the game when they managed to tie the score by blocking a punt, which was made from behind the goal line and then rolled out to the Crusaders' 13-yard line. After Hamilton managed to get a first down the Susquehanna defense tightened and held tight for three downs on the one yard line and then Crowley went over for the touchdown, and a pass, Rienzo to Fisher, scoring the tying point.

After the Hamilton touchdown tying the score, the Crusaders started a final drive down the field, netting three first downs in succession and put the Orange and Maroon on the host's one yard line, where the Buff and Blue held for four successive downs. Kingsley then punted out of danger and the threat was over.

Both teams played well on the defense, but the Orange and Maroon had the edge on the Hamilton eleven on the offense and time and again the Orange and Maroon backs broke away for long gains, but then the Hamilton defense held in critical points and Crusaders failed to tally. On one of these long drives Susquehanna had the ball over the double chalk mark, but was then moved back five yards on an off-side penalty and after this the Orange and Maroon backs failed to take it across again.

Both teams had eleven first downs, but Susquehanna had the edge on the number of yards gained in scrimmage with 244 to Hamilton's 234 yards. Both teams resorted to forward passes, with a few lateral passes mixed in. Hamilton completed two forward passes out of ten, and Susquehanna made three good out of six attempts. It was on one of these passes that Moser nearly broke away after receiving a long spiral from Glenn.

"Tubby" Moser again proved to be the outstanding man on the Orange and Maroon's defense and offense. "Tubby" was responsible mainly for the many drives and by his hard line plunging he made many a first down possible. On the defensive he proved himself to be a tower of strength in his brilliant work in backing up the line. Glenn also displayed good work in the backfield and again did brilliant work with his left foot and his passing and ball totting.

Captain Al Garman's return to the team gave additional strength to the line and in his return game played a wondrous defensive game. Both Auchmuty and Berger played good games at the guard positions, and Berger played extraordinarily well while playing under a handicap.

The return of Bill Morris, star ball carrier of the Hamilton team, greatly stimulated the Hamilton offense and Morris accounted for many of Hamilton's first downs and it was his recovery which gave Hamilton their only chance to score in the fourth quarter.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1930

WELCOME ALUMNI

All good schools have Alumni. Strange as it seems Susquehanna has them too, we have great Alumni, and ones who are just college graduates. We do not have graduates such as Yale has to boast of, namely Rudy Vallee (but we doubt whether Rudy cultivated his crooning aptitudes at Old Elfin). We have heard it said that Maine now bars saxophone artists from their campus. Now worthy Alumni we turn from the sublime to the ridiculous and welcome you back for the ONE BIG DAY in the first semester. We want you to feel that you are wanted and we will try our best to show it in our most humble way.

After you have been here and see the steps Old S. U. has taken forward you shall go back to your work with a boast at every opportunity for our University. We are open to suggestions and if you find us lacking let us know and we will try to right it.

Those who have not become acquainted with the new members of our faculty, it should be your duty to meet these people. They are now in our midst and have our interests at heart, as you have. You will find them very cordial and ready to receive you at any time.

We feel assured that you have not changed so much that you can not fit in with the students of the present Susquehanna. The same friendly spirit prevails just as we have always told the world about the dear Old Alma Mater, the school with the family spirit. Your mother institution welcomes you back as a father anticipates the arrival of his long lost son. May you enjoy and profit much by your return.

MORALITY NO LONGER VOGUE

Morality for its own sake is no longer in vogue, believes Dr. Hornell Hart, professor of social economy at Bryn Mawr College. Of this he says:

"We are through with the worship of any arbitrary ideal. Let us disavow, frankly and emphatically, some of the old conceptions. Morality for its own sake has no claim upon us.

"Orderliness, obedience, conformity, chastity, monogamy—such ideas are valid only if they promote deeper and more vital values. If they call out to the full possibilities of the self, only if they make for rich, intense, growing, creative experience.

"The question should be, not 'how can we prevent people from having sex experience not consistent with traditional morals?' but 'how can we aid people who seek fulfillment of personality to establish in their own lives those patterns of sex behavior which will bring to them and their associates the fullest and richest experience?'"

GOOD WILL FOUNTAIN

A marble fountain, symbolic of the friendship of the United State for Canada, was unveiled on the campus of McGill University, Montreal, Saturday, November 1, with elaborate ceremonies.

The fountain, designed by Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney, is the gift of a committee of good will composed of about 100 prominent citizens of the United States, including many college presidents, business men, writers, and Army and Navy officers.

Miss Ellen Ballou, a McGill graduate, now living in New York City, originated the idea of the gift. She is the organizer of the United States Committee of Good Will in Canada.

Vachel Lindsay, well-known poet, wrote and recited a poem especially for the occasion of the installation of Dr. Kenneth Irving Brown, 34, as president of Hiram College. Dr. Brown is next to the youngest college president in the world.

Tests made at the New Jersey College for Women indicated that sophomores are less liable to believe untruths than juniors are.

Dr. William F. Peirce, president of Kenyon College, has entered a sanitarium at Washington, Pa., to recuperate from an appendix operation undergone in August. He plans to take a month's vacation at Hot Springs, Va., before resuming his duties at Kenyon in December.

ALUMNI NOTES

Prof Particulars on the Life and Death of Rev. J. Daniel Curran

None of the white men saw Rev. Curran after the boat capsized, but the natives said that they saw him, but were too far away to help. The accident occurred on a Saturday evening at about 7:30 o'clock and the body was not found until the following Tuesday.

"It was believed that Rev. Curran was caught in a whirlpool and was not able to get out of its grip before he was drowned. The waters of the St. Paul River were practically a raging torrent at the time the accident occurred, due to the rainy season, which had just started."

Particulars of the life of Rev. Curran were given in the Lutheran magazine, it states:

Joseph Daniel Curran was born September 3, 1861, a son of Joseph A. and the late Margaret E. Curran, devoted members of St. James' Church. At the age of thirteen years he was confirmed by the late Rev. Edmund Mancos. After teaching several terms in the public schools of his native township, he entered the schools of Susquehanna University, where he completed college and seminary courses, graduating in 1891. In the autumn of that year he sailed for Africa to accept his commission to the Lutheran Mission at Morrovia, Liberia, where he continued to serve until the time of his death, a period of nineteen years. For the greater part of this time, he was missionary pastor of one of the Baltimore congregations of the Maryland Synod. He was the oldest missionary in number of years of service in Africa, and was president of the mission for the past several years. His widow, who was Miss Sarah Sharp of Fort Washington, Pa., has three sisters, and two brothers—survive. A union service in his memory was held with the Grace congregation of Red Lion, Pa., and the St. James' congregation of York county, Pa., participating.

Ordained to Ministry

On September 23, Rev. J. E. Sanderson, a licentiate of the Allegheny Synod, who was graduated from the college department in 1927 and then attended Gettysburg Seminary, was ordained to the gospel ministry at a special service in Temple Church, Altoona, of which Rev. F. R. Greiminger, 18, is the pastor. The sermon was preached by Dr. H. C. Michael, and the charge to the pastor was given by the president, Dr. George N. Lauffer. Mr. Sanderson has accepted a call to the Mount Joy pastorate of the West-Pennsylvania Synod.

SPORT BITS

If everyone keeps up the present amount of enthusiasm there will be a bad bunch of Indians to leave the campus this Saturday.

The boys will be learning about the "character" of Andrews during the week. Most of the boys learned a lot about him last year at Juniata.

Someone ought to start a novelty of having football players wearing suspenders. By the looks of things Bedford would be the first one to be on the market for them.

It's had enough when the boys start sporting black eyes around on the campus, but when the co-ed's start, there is something funny.

Next Saturday's Freshman-Sophomore football game will be the match of wits of two great coaches: Wolf and "Wally" Foulkrod.

There is a wonderful future for some chemist who would be able to discover a formula for "touchdown pills." I happen to know a particular individual who is in the market to purchase some at once.

LEARN THESE PEP SONGS

- We're out to win boys, We're out to win boys, For dear old S U.
- Dear old S U; Fight down the field boys, Fight down the field boys, For dear old S U.
- Dear old S U; Simplest thing, there's nothing much to it; We're going to score for we know how to do it; Carry that ball, Tear down their wall, And win again for old S U.
- Tune—Do Doodle Do Doo.

On the Banks of the Old Susquehanna Oh, we have a flashy team at old S U, And they'll fight for S U every man; It's the team of thirty-one, For your history's nearly done On the banks of the old SUSQUEHAN.

Refrain: On the banks of the old SUSQUEHAN; And forevermore she shall stand; For has she not stood— Since the time of the flood; On the banks of the old SUSQUEHAN.

We've a team that we boast of at S U; And true to S U she will stand; O' farewell gold and blue; For we fear that you are thru; On the banks of the old SUSQUEHAN.

We're going to beat J C at S U; Yes, we're going to beat J C at S U; They hold their banner high, But we fear that they must die; On the banks of the old SUSQUEHAN.

We hate to see this happen at S U; Yes, we hate to see this happen at S U; But since you want to play, We must conquer you this way; On the banks of the old SUSQUEHAN.

COMMENTS AND QUESTIONS

Are we going to have a bonfire on Friday night?

We shall have a bonfire Friday night providing the freshmen cooperate. The sophomores, no doubt, could see that the frosh collect together and do the work in Trojan fashion. It will not take a great deal of time, and it will test the spirit of both classes. Along with the fire we plan a pajama pow-wow. All freshmen who do not own such apparel will be wise and send an early SOS to the family, telling of your needs. This is always a big affair and this year shall not be an exception.

Don't forget students will sit in the stands designated and do their part in making this Home-Coming a scene never to be forgotten. Juniata will be here in full array and we must show them that we are on the march and out for victory. We must be ready to watch for all announcements and cooperate with those in charge.

Coaches Wolf and Graham predict a bad day for the Sophs, just about as bad a day for them as for the Blue and Gold, so Sophs we feel for you.

Says I to You

Were you pledged into the new fraternity which runs in opposition to the Pi Gamma Mu? If you were not I'll tell you all about it. There were approximately 128 members taken in. The faculty nominated these members into the Lower Strata and gave them their obligation as follows: More diligent work must be displayed or suffer the untold agonies of a "blunker."

To the ones that were listed as being "on the spot" we suggest that you polish up the "old lamp of knowledge" and redeem yourselves.

Several girls proved conclusively, that they still make "swell" little girls, at the Masque Ball on Saturday night. But the party as a whole certainly was well continued. The originality of the costumes was well worth commenting on.

Just a word about the cheering on next Saturday, that's all we wish to say, JUST A WORD!

G-E Floodlighting Wins Favor for Football - Hockey - Track - Baseball - Tennis

G-E floodlighting equipment has a winning record. Its victories are counted in terms of pleased spectators, increased attendance, satisfied coaches and players.

The development of G-E athletic-field floodlighting equipment was planned with every consideration for the fundamental and special playing conditions it must meet. That is why the big Novalux projectors give ample and evenly diffused light over the entire playing area.

The development of General Electric floodlighting equipment has largely been the work of college-trained men in the G-E organization — other college-trained men are largely responsible for the continuing leadership of General Electric in furnishing the many other products which bear the G-E monogram.

Many Masqueraders Make Merry on Sat.

Hallowe'en Party a Big Success: Dr. and Mrs. G. Morris Smith Capture Costume Prize

The Alumni Gymnasium last Saturday evening was the scene of a delightful Hallowe'en Party sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. organizations. The entire gymnasium was decorated to overflowing with masqueraded cheer for a good time. Piles of corn shocks were scattered everywhere with black cats, pumpkins and witches adding a final touch to the picture.

The evening began with a grand march so that all those in costume could pass before the critical eyes of the judges. The prize for the oddest costume was given to our own Dr. and Mrs. Smith, who were dressed as "Amos and Ruby," the Peasodot lovers. The prize for the best costume went to Mabel Pultz whose attire was that of a quaint, old lady. The prize for the funniest costume was earned by "Whitey" Schilling, who acted the part of "Jack in the Box."

After the presentation of the prizes by Miss Hade, a very splendid and interesting program was given. John Kindsvatner stated briefly the origin and existence of Hallowe'en. Following this a group of spirits who had returned from the great beyond congregated in the gym and danced to their own weird moans and sighs.

Bob Wilson presented to the merri-mocks the world-wide known magician, "Bobo," in the person of John Kindsvatner, whose power of concentration and telepathy was so great that he could at any instant tell "Bob" what he held in his hand, after, of course, Bob had told him. The program was ended by an impromptu act under the direction of Signe Alfred. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Of course there were refreshments, also fortune tellers, in the personalities of Misses Leitzel and Rhodes.

Every one certainly enjoyed themselves and when the closing hour struck there was a big sigh because the enjoyment had to cease. The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. wish to thank all who helped to make the party a success.

SCIENCE CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The second regular meeting of the Science Society was held Tuesday evening, October 26, at Steele Science Hall. Final organization was considered and the Constitution was adopted by President Smith Coldren and read by the program as a whole.

The program was composed of short talks by the members. Those who were present were: Dr. H. A. Surface, professor of Biology; Dr. P. T. Orebro, professor of Physics; Dr. F. G. Williams, professor of Mathematics; Prof. W. S. Scudder, assistant professor of Biology; Prof. J. R. Stauffer, instructor in Mathematics, and assistant professor of Mathematics and Chemistry, J. J. Heinz.

All spoke words of the society, inciting the students to take an active part in making it a real student organization. The comedy of the evening was presented by Professor Surface and Heinz in a verbal battle of wits. The result was a tie for each thinking that it was the victory. Professor Scudder gave three ruses for making a speech: 1. Get up on your feet and stand up. 2. Speak so the audience can hear you. 3. Know when to sit down. Although psychology is not in his line he gave psychology's recently discovered fact of why the lions didn't devour Daniel. When Daniel was cast into the pit he approached the king of the lions, and using psychology, he whispered into his ear "Say, there are going to be speeches after refreshments." Consequently the lions went back to their corners, and Daniel was unharmed.

CLOTHES

The days are growing colder now. The overcoats appear. The raccoon coat of college man. Belongs to yester year.

What have we now to take its place. To keep out the wintery air? The college boys wear fuzzy coats. That look just like a teddy bear.

The derby hat is almost gone. In fact it seems this Fall. That excites the Freshmen with their stinks.

There are no hats at all. Some lads wear funny little hats. A lot of them and not much brim. They make the Fat man look so fat. And the Thin man look so thin.

SIGMA SIGMA DELTA ENTERTAIN NEW GIRLS AT HALLOWEEN PARTY

Last Friday evening the Crebs' barn was the scene of hair-raising, blood-curdling sights, thanks to the assiduous work of the Sigma Sigma Delta sorority. At 6:30 a good old-fashioned party for all new girls was in full swing. The novel entrance by ladder, the clammy handshake, the gloomy reception, the foreboding sound of rattling chains overhead, the dismal wail of cmented spirits, the terrifying "Chamber of Horrors" added to an atmosphere worthy of the season when "punks are 'doom'd for a certain term to walk the night." Rosy apples bobbing in ancient tubs, luscious slices of home made pumpkin pie, apple cider, doughnuts, sandwiches, candy—a meal worthy the relish with which it was eaten.

The girls defied the nipping air by dancing and the playing of games, for which prizes were awarded. Madeline Steininger was awarded a prize for the highest number of points and Lucy Payne for the least.

The real thrill came when a gypsy hag, quartered in the darkest recess of that corn-becked barn, shuffled the all-knowing cards and revealed there whether the one and only would be tall, dark and handsome, or blonde, short and otherwise.

At 10:30, much to the reluctance of all, the girls were hurried back pell-mell to old Seibert.

OUT FOR REMAINDER OF THIS SEASON

It has been definitely announced that Warren Wolf, star end for the Orange and Maroon for three years will be out for the remainder of the season. His physician has recommended that he discontinue football for the remainder of the season.

Ever since Wolf's freshman year he has held down a berth on the Susquehanna varsity and has held it down well. One of his best games ever played was at Juniata last year. At this game anyone could tell he was a real fighter and a real winner.

In the first game of the season with Wagner, Wolf was hurt in the first quarter and it was discovered that he had a dislocated elbow. It was thought then that he would return for several of the remaining games on the schedule. The injury has been slow to respond to treatment and he will be compelled to carry it in a sling for several weeks yet and then after this there will be an effort made to straighten it out to its natural position.

Thus far this season it sure has been a bad year for ends on the Orange and Maroon. Al Barber, who had his leg broken in the Alfred game, is gradually improving and it is hoped by everyone that he will soon be seen on the campus again.

Barber had the misfortune to receive the worst injury of the season so far. His injury came during the first half of the Alfred game and at that time it was not known that his leg was broken until he returned to the campus and an X-ray picture revealed the fracture.

It is hoped by everyone that both of these men will improve rapidly and walk their best of luck in future.

PREPARATIONS ARE MADE FOR FRESH-SOPHOMORE GAME

Much preparation for the Freshman-Sophomore football game has been made and by the looks of things it will be one of the hardest fought battles in the history of these contests. The game will probably get under way by 12:30 Saturday afternoon.

As it stands now the Sophomores are conceded a slight advantage over the first-year men, but this is not unusual for they are rated as the "underdogs" every year.

Both Coaches Wolf and Foulkrod are gradually tapering off a long period of grueling pre-season training and both teams ought to be at the peak of condition by Saturday afternoon.

In the practice sessions a line of assistant managers have been posted around the practice fields so as to eliminate scouting. With both teams fairly equally matched in weight and with the assistance of their respective coaches who have worked out marvelous plays, they ought to come together with neither team having an advantage over the other. Weight is the dominating factor on both lines and in the backfield speed is the necessary requirement for winning a berth.

Coach Foulkrod has the good fortune of having two fighting brothers on his team and the Worthington combination should be a great combination. On the line the positions will be held down by another real group of fighters including Mammen, Hassey, Carolin, Ahl and McGeehan.

Coach Wolf is basing most of his hopes on his backs which are made up of Watts, Handford, Sloderback, Klansner and with several good substitutes this should be a real backfield. On the line he will have another well selected group of hard and fast charging fighters including Corl, Rauch, Muir, Lytle, Naubie and Anderson.

By all indications this will be a tough battle and everyone should start the day off right by backing up the Freshman-Sophomore game.

Petty is one of the fastest men on the Juniata backfield and can skirt an end with much ease. Petty is also a very good defensive player and is considered a tower of strength on the Juniata backfield. LaPorte and Harley are the two battering rams for the Indians and when yardage is needed through the line these two backs can always be counted upon.

Cook is a substitute back and holds down the fullback position, and is rated as good as Harley and showed up well in the game with Wagner.

On the line Holsinger and Burket are towers of strength at the two tackle positions, both are hard and fast charging tacklers. Jamieson, playing the pivot position, adds greatly to the strength on the line and with Peel and Light at the wing positions the Indians' line looks pretty good.

ALL-DAY CONFERENCE ATTENDED BY 200 PASTORS AND LAY WORKERS

Susquehanna and Wittenberg Colleges Have Made Most Definite Progress in Meeting Recommendations of Recent Survey

The all-day conference at Susquehanna University, held on November 10th, was attended by more than 200 pastors and laymen, representing practically every church in the Susquehanna Synod. From a number of sources the comment was heard that this was the best meeting that had been held by the Synod for many years.

The program was well arranged. After a beautiful number given by the Conservatory of Music and the college students, Dr. John Wagner opened the morning's program with an appropriate devotional period.

Then followed Dr. Wickey's talk, which was along the general lines of the Lutheran Stands in Christian Education. He paid a high tribute to Dr. Smith and to Susquehanna University in the progress that had been made during the past few years, and stated that all the Lutheran Colleges, Wittenberg and Susquehanna had made most definite progress in meeting the recommendations of the recent survey of the United Lutheran Church Colleges by the Columbia University professors.

Dr. Smith followed this up with a presentation of the University's immediate needs, i. e.: a $500,000 addition to the endowment, and a new classroom building to cost $450,000. As evidence of these needs, Dr. Smith outlined the enlargement of the faculty during recent years, and the higher standards both in student body and in teaching. He explained that classes were now poorly located and badly cramped, so that a new building for this purpose is imperative.

At the fellowship luncheon, which was presided over by Senator Benjamin Apple, excellent addresses, voicing the need of loyalty and good fellowship in our Synod, were given by:

Professor Frank Boyer of Milliflunburg; Mr. Dan Smith, Jr., of Williamsport; Mr. E. E. Bretninger, of Lewistown. The tables were then cleared out, and the group resolved itself into an open forum and executive session under the leadership of Mr. C. H. Drescham, who has had such a broad experience in raising money for Lutheran educational and other institutions. A resolution was passed recognizing the justice of Susquehanna's appeal, and pledging the support of all present to campaign for $650,000 at a time to be decided upon.

The next order of business was the time for campaign, and after a general discussion, it was unanimously agreed to leave this to the decision of the Executive Committee of Susquehanna Synod with the Executive Committee of Susquehanna University, and the campaign director.

The conference adjourned with prayer for guidance and strength in meeting the challenge of life.

An unusually fine spirit of goodwill was sensed throughout the entire conference. Pastors and laymen expressed themselves as having seen a new vision, and as being enthusiastically behind the present plans.

Those in attendance at the meeting were:

Aaronsburg Pastorate: Rev. Louis Lesher, Milhelm; H. S. Winkelblech, Aaronsburg; H. O. Stover, Milhelm. Beaver Pastorate: Rev. John E. Rine, Beaver Springs.

Bellefonte Pastorate: Rev. Clarence E. Arnold, 12 E. Linn street, Bellefonte; Frank M. Crawford, Bellefonte; W. C. Smeltzer, Bellefonte.

Fine Program Given By Miss Bewley

Miss Catherine Bewley, Native of Tennessee, Gives Characteristic Readings on Armistice Day

Miss Catherine Bewley, a native of Tennessee, presented on Armistice Day a program of readings characteristic of the people of the Tennessee foothills. Miss Bewley has lived a great part of her life among these people and certainly knows their customs, language, ideals, and outlook on life. Her program consisted of readings portraying the actual life in the foothills and her wonderful ability to speak perfectly their language, made the episodes seem only too real.

Miss Bewley spent her early years as a true mountaineer. But she decided to go North and prepare for the profession which she now follows, that of portraying the actual life of the mountaineers to the "foreigners," as they call the people in other States.

The people of these foothills have kept more old English and Scotch expressions than any other section in the country. Many of the expressions that they now use and that to us seem out of place and improper language were considered good English in Chaucer's time. The hospitality of these people is unsurpassable. Miss Bewley claims that if anyone lets her know they are going to Tennessee she can procure a whole week's stay for him free of charge. It isn't money that the Tennessee mountaineers are after. Money doesn't mean anything to them. A good horse or a good gun is something that is of real value.

So much of the stories about the killings heard by the northerners is superficial. They have law breakers just as we have here in the North and they are not proud of them. There are moonshiners, but nothing to compare with those up north except perhaps the quality of their product—and one has to believe Miss Bewley. To them the crimes of the cities are much more terrible than a feud and their feuds are certainly no worse than the gang wars. Education to them does not seem very essential, because it only makes them discontented with their own lives. But they are taking more and more to schools and education. They are proud of the fact, if they can write. The story is told of how a man who could read.

Hard Worker on Grid

SPROUT

Russell Sprout, better known to his fellow students as "Sprouty," is now ending his third year on the gridiron in the full and halfback positions. Last year "Sprouty" did not return to school, but lived a happy-go-lucky life of a telephone lineman. His return was good news for Coach Ulery. Behind the line Sprout can be counted upon to smear play after play and in the offense he gains many a yard through his driving power. Although Sprout has not seen much actual competition this year he is valuable reserve material. Not only on but also off the gridiron "Sprouty" is a hard worker and student. He is a member of the Epsilon Sigma fraternity.

Young Negro Speaks On Racial Problem

Wilson Has Fine Discussion Changing Negro Problem Today; An Ingenious Antidote For This Human Problem

On Wednesday evening the students of the University had an opportunity to hear and take part in a discussion of one of the most vital problems today—the inter-racial relationships.

The speaker was Frank Wilson, the Executive Secretary for Negro Student Work in the Y. M. C. A. He has been working a great deal in the Negro Colleges and schools and not infrequently has been called upon to discuss this problem with the students of the other colleges and schools of our country. He has two other partners in this work, and their work every year takes them into 130 colleges. They also do some work in Christian Associations, Liberal Clubs and any group that is interested in inter-racial relationships.

Mr. Wilson is a graduate of Lincoln University and Lincoln Theological Seminary, further than this he has been doing considerable work towards his Doctor's Degree at Columbia. He is a competent thinker, an able speaker and writer, and above all is one of the foremost younger Negroes engaged in religious work in America.

In the year 1928 he was sent with five other representatives from the United States to attend the meeting of the World Student Christian Federation at Mysore City, India. His contribution at this meeting was one of the finest delivered during the entire conference. At this time he traveled among Indian Colleges and Universities with Martyn Heeler, of Yale University, and David Potter, Secretary of the Student Division of the Y. M. C. A. His chief pleasure was to meet with and address the student groups with which he came in contact; it was found that he made such progress with the students in India that within a short time more American Negroes were sent to this land to take charge of the student work. Since Mr. Wilson's return to this country he has been traveling throughout the East, the Far West and visiting both white and colored colleges in the interest of Christian World Education and better relationships between races.

His topic for discussion on our campus was "The Place of the Negro in American Life." His speech on this (Concluded on Page 4)

The Crusaders defeated Washington College on a muddy field Saturday afternoon by the score of 13-0. The punting of both teams featured the game, with Susquehanna taking the offense most of the time.

The opening play of the game proved to be a real thriller, when Washington kicked-off to the Orange and Maroon's 20-yard line and 'Tubby' Moser, getting under the kick, returned it 40 yards back up the field. For a moment it looked as if Moser was off for a touchdown, but he was finally fowned on Washington's 40-yard line.

The Crusaders' first touchdown came in the first quarter, when they took the offense and started a march down the field, aided by the line plunging of Moser and several passes placed the ball in a position to score. Glenn took the ball across the final marker for the touchdown. Moser then drop-kicked beautifully for the extra point.

The Orange and Maroon had another chance to score in the first quarter when Scott ripped off 10 yards around an end and Myers added five more. Scott then knocked off another 8-yard run and from then on Moser gained about 30 yards on three line plunges, but the ball was then lost on Washington's 12-yard line.

Susquehanna's final touchdown came in the fourth quarter of the game when Scott was substituted for Myers and immediately upon entering the game carried the ball from the 15-yard line down the field on a beautiful 75-yard run. This was the longest run of the season, and it really was a thriller, with but one man on his heels, Scotty was downed on Washington's 10-yard line. Moser then carried the ball across on three line plunges, but the extra point failed on an attempted pass to Myers.

The boys were playing on a muddy field for the first time this year and failed to score as easily as expected. Washington displayed a stubborn defense at times when the Orange and Maroon were in dangerous territory.

For the Orange and Maroon, Moser, Glenn and Scott were the big ground gainers, and ripped off several runs which proved to be sensational. On the defense the Crusaders functioned smoothly, considering the patched-up line. Winters charged through the line several times for nice tackles. Extrom was seen for the first time playing at a guard position and Rummell saw action at end when he was substituted for Spielmeier.

The kicking of Glander featured for the Washington team. He got off some beautiful kicks which were averaging around 60-yards on quick kicks. Phillips played a good game at a tackle position. The line-up:

Washington College	Susquehanna
Gamber	L. E. Adams
Dwyer	L. T. Hudkins
Freeny	L. G. Auchmuty
Sherkey	C. Fisher
Dickerson	R. O. Witkop
Phillips	E. T. Winters
Glander	R. E. Spielmeier
Robinson	Q. B. Scott
Dobkins	L. H. B. Myers
Dean	R. H. B. Rishell

UNIVERSITY BAND PARADES IN SUNBURY MARDI GRAS

The Susquehanna University Band paraded in Sunbury's annual Mardi Gras parade on Armistice Day. This is the band's second time in the annual eventful occurrence, for they were in action last year, marching for the same organization, the Phi Beta Lambda fraternity, of Sunbury. Last year the club won a prize, which speaks well for the band. This year they again took second prize.

At present, the band is even in better and more perfect trim than before. Although it was probably the smallest band in the parade, without a doubt it was the best. The pep, martial stride and neat appearance gave the band real class. Its new addition, a drum major, indeed gives a touch of perfection to the entire group. Director, Professor Elrose Allison and each member of the organization deserves credit for the fine showing they made.

PREVENTATIVES

Red flames are about the only cold preventatives which are not being used by a special class in common cold study at Cornell University.

The class is testing as preventatives a half dozen of the latest scientific treatments combined with old-fashioned principles. Included are ultra-violet light, alkalization of the body by food that reduces hyper-acidity, diet, ventilation, special nose and throat studies and catarrhal vaccination.

"As far as is known," says the announcement of the course, "this is the first time that any university has organized as comprehensive a plan for controlling colds among the student body."

Convinced that cold control among the susceptibles will "go a long way toward preventing cold epidemics among the whole student body," Dr. Dean F. Sniffley asks that "cold prevention classes be joined by those having four or more colds yearly."

GIVEN ENDOWMENT

One of the largest and most unusual endowments ever bequeathed an American college of arts and sciences has just been accepted by the corporation of Amherst College.

The bequest, provided for in the will of the late Henry Clay Folger, of New York, provides that the trustees of Amherst College shall administer the new Folger Shakespeare Memorial Library in Washington, D. C., and shall pay the college one-quarter of the annual net income of the fund of $10,000,000 left for the maintenance of the building.

A clause in the will provided that if Amherst did not accept the gift, it should be transferred to the University of Chicago.

Amherst already has appointed a committee of distinguished alumni to formulate plans for the operation of the new Memorial Library. Included on this committee is Senator-Elect Dwight W. Morrow, former ambassador to Mexico.

The library building, of white marble, and to be completed in 1931, will be situated in the vicinity of the Congressional Library, on a spot diagonally across the street from the block on which the new United States Supreme Court Building is to be located. It will include a small Shakespearean Theatre, and will hold Mr. Folger's famous collection of Shakespeareana of more than 20,000 volumes.

Wilson Sieber was "The Leader of Real Brotherhood." "The Elements of Brotherhood" was the basis for the last talk given by Andy Kozak. With the rendering of several music numbers by local talent the meeting proved to be a successful and interesting one.

Frosh Eleven Crush Jay Vee Team 7 to 0

Frosh Show Real Strength on Offensive For Game; Teams Have Good Defensive in Dangerous Territory

The Frosh tucked a victory under their belt by defeating the Malasky-coached Junior Varsity, Wednesday afternoon by a 7-0 score. The Frosh showed real strength and it proved to be a very interesting game.

Both teams battled on even terms during the first period. But in the early part of the second quarter the Frosh started a passing attack after they had worked the ball down the field, mostly on off-tackle plays to the 35-yard line. At this point, Quarterback Klesner threw a 15-yard pass into the arms of Keller, who raced the other twenty-five yards for the lone touchdown of the game. Klesner booted the extra point on a beautiful kick.

In the last quarter both teams again threatened, but the lines held in dangerous territory and neither team failed to tally. The game ended with the Junior Varsity in possession of the ball near midfield.

Coach Wolfe's team played good ball throughout the game and showed a decided improvement over their showing in the game with the Sophomores last Saturday. The Frosh's line stood the battering of the heavier Jay Vee backs and on the offense the team was working perfect.

The Jay Vee's forward wall attack was built around Freddie Carl, who proved to be a tower of strength in the center of the line. Schlegel played a good defensive game at end, while Handford and Sloderback starred for the Jay Vees in the backfield.

Naugle, Keller and Lytle played good games on the line for the Frosh. While there were really no outstanding men in the backfield, Kapke was doing the bulk of the ground-gaining while Klesner was getting nice kicks off.

Line-up:

Frosh	L. E.	Schlegel
Keller	L. T.	Suter
Lytle	L. G.	J. Oberdorf
Naugle	R. G.	Gray
Anderson	R. T.	Myers
McMillen	R. E.	G. Oberdorf
Muir	Q. B.	Handford
Quintero	L. H.	Truckenmiller
Klesner	R. H.	Grove
Morrow	F. B.	Sloderback
Fursel	K. R.	Truckenmiller
Kapke	K. R.	Truckenmiller

Substitutions: Krear for Truckenmiller, Truckenmiller for Grove.

Officials: Referee—Rhoads; umpire—Berger; head linesman—Dorshimer.

Campus Echoes

Our students of yesteryear for the most part appeared very prosperous on their return to the campus Homecoming Day. Renewing of old acquaintances was a pleasure indeed.

Don't be alarmed, spring is not here even though one of the men of Hasinger Hall got out his old straw hat last week.

Some one said that Fox has become quite a frequent visitor at Seibert Hall. We wonder why.

Freshmen have laid aside their identification numbers. Upper classmen will now have to remember names. This should be good mental training.

Some one said that at a meeting of the Pre-Legal Club some students discussed the question of "How Far Is Up?" and that some remarkable points were brought out. George Paralis led the discussion.

Campus cases this year seem to be fewer, but more persistent.

Shorty Ervin, the busiest man on the campus, is petitioning congress for a thirty-six hour day, so that he will have more time to accomplish more.

Geistweit used to sing "I Wish I Had My Old Girl Back Again." He has quit lately. He must have fixed things up.

When bigger and better mustaches are raised; Johnston will raise them.

Jay Worthing and Sammy Pascoe say that the most effective way to make a hit with the girls is to appear indifferent and slightly bored.

Those who have not been exactly satisfied with their photo must remember that a photographer is not necessarily a magician.

INTER-CLASS BASKET BALL SCHEDULE ARRANGED

At a meeting of the Inter-Mural Board Thursday night some important matters were discussed and voted upon. With the opening of the Inter-Fraternity basketball league just two weeks distant, some important changes were made to the rules regulating these contests. It had been previously decided upon that varsity men were eligible to play in these games, but this matter was withdrawn from the rules. It now stands that no varsity man, who has earned his "S" in basketball will be eligible to participate in these contests.

Another important matter was the drawing-up of an Inter-Class basketball schedule. In previous years these contests were of real interest and there was always a good crowd of basketball fans to witness the contests. Several of the games will be played as a preliminary to the regular varsity games. The schedule will open with the first game immediately after the holiday vacation, January 6th and continue until February 28th.

The following schedule has been approved:

SENIORS WIN THE HOCKEY TOURNAMENT

Something unusual it is, for the Seniors to win any kind of an athletic tournament. When they get to be mighty Seniors, the girls are not requested to take any form of physical education, and when they are scheduled to partake in any athletic contest, it is as easy to get a full team out, as it is to make a deaf mute talk.

This year's bunch of Seniors played their hardest game of hockey last Monday. The Juniors have a bang-up team, and when both assembled on the field, the Seniors found that they were two players short. The whole first half of the game was played with the Juniors' full team against the badly crippled team of the Seniors. However, when the half was over, the Seniors were ahead. Another player for the Seniors turned up as the second half began. It was a fight to the death. It ended with the score 3-2, in favor of the Seniors.

It was a clean game. No injuries were sustained by either team, and the fight was a good one to behold! An on-looker's only comment was that the sportsmanship of a few of the Juniors could stand a little brushing up.

HONORARY GIRLS' VARSITY HOCKEY SQUAD CHOSEN

A varsity hockey squad of twenty-four girls, two teams, was recently picked by Dorothy Reeder, girls' athletic director, and Miriam Keim, president of the Women's Athletic Association.

The two teams will clash on Founders' Day, and a real hockey game with plenty of excitement is predicted.

CRUSADERS TO MEET P. M. C. IN FINAL FRAY

The Crusaders will be up against a hard foe Saturday afternoon when they hit Pennsylvania Military College on University Field as the main attraction on Founders' Day.

The Crusaders will be out to avenge the 12-6 defeat last season suffered at the hands of P. M. C. at Chester. The previous year before this defeat Susquehanna defeated the cadets in a thrilling contest on University Field. P. M. C. is coming to Selinsgrove with one of the strongest lineups that they have been able to present this year. During the earlier part of the season the cadets have been hard hit with injuries, which have kept some of their stars out of the lineups for her most important games.

So far this season Pennsylvania Military College has won three games and tied one. P. M. C. has defeated St. Joseph's College, Johns Hopkins and University of Baltimore. Played a 7-7 tie game with Dickinson and lost to Lehigh, Gettysburg and Albright.

P. M. C. expects to present a full strength team on University Field Saturday afternoon. Captain Warren, half-back, who has been out for four weeks with injuries, will get into this fight, also Walt Layer, star tackle, who has been out as long as Warren.

Warren is considered the best ball carrier on the team, he is fast and shifty and a good passer. In nearly every game he is able to rip off nice long runs and is considered a very dangerous man on an open field. Miller is another good backfield man who is fast and responsible for long runs.

Layer is the best man on the line, is a hard charging lineman and a hard tackler. Langton, playing a guard position, is the biggest man on the team and a hard man to solve on the defensive line. Kern, regular quarterback, will be out for this game and his loss may be keenly felt.

The probable lineup is as follows: No. Player Position Weight Height. 41 Fayer L. E. 190 6.01. 38 Gerner L. T. 165 5.10. 11 Langton L. G. 210 5.09. 9 McCugan C. 170 6.00. 23 Maljak R. T. 175 5.09. 26 Thwaite R. G. 190 5.10. 6 Cook R. E. 165 5.10. 3 Britten Q. B. 135 5.04. 8 Andrews L. II. 170 5.09. 14 Yosco R. H. 150 5.06. 7 Brennan F. B. 170 5.10. Substitutes: 4 Warren H. B. 175 5.10. 16 Miller R. H. 140 5.06. 2 Layer T. 185 5.11. 25 Kastian C. 185 6.02. 24 Redmond E. 150 5.06.

LIFE STORY OF A SUS-QUEHANNA NONAGENARIAN

The Reverend Thomas F. Dornblaser, D.D., has sent to the Library a volume recently published containing the story of his long and varied life. He wrote the following on a fly leaf: "The Author takes pleasure in presenting this volume to the Library of the Susquehanna University in recognition of the splendid instruction he received from Professor Peter Born and his associates in the years 1865-1868. A. D."

He also refers gratefully to Dr. Henry Ziegler, who confirmed him and who was first theological professor in Missionary Institute during his connection with it. The book traces the sturdy character, the great industry and the fine Christian character of an immediate forbear and his close relatives, who were active in the professions of the ministry, law and medicines as well as in such pursuits as farming and merchandising. His family also produced a number of soldiers, a grandfather having been a captain in the War of 1812, himself a soldier for four years during the Civil War, an uncle a Major General in the Civil War and his two sons being soldiers, one being killed in France in 1871.

The book is replete with interesting facts concerning life in Clinton county Pa., before the Civil War, with incidents of life in school and in different parishes in Ohio, Kansas and Illinois.

Many pictures add to the interest and value of the book, one of which is of especial interest to us here. It is a group picture of Dr. Born and six members of the author's class, including himself. Dr. Halthcox, author, Hoeglian and ex-secretary of the Board of Education of the General Synod; Rev. Dr. T. H. Koster, lately deceased, and Dr. J. H. Harpster, distinguished as a missionary in Indian and whose portrait is in Seibert Hall.

Dr. Dornblaser married five years ago as a second wife a German lady, in whose fine home near Berlin, he resides. He keeps up his American citizenship, returning every two years to vote. More vigorous years to him.

Attend the P. M. C. game Saturday.

NINE SENIORS PLAY LAST GAME SATURDAY

Susquehanna will play her final game on Founders' Day on the University Field, Saturday afternoon, which will mark the passing of nine varsity stars, who will graduate in the Spring.

The season is again drawing to a close with several games on the 1930 schedule won, several others tied and the rest lost. In the last column we can really say that we lost some "tough ones." The Crusaders are out to win that last home game, if for no other reason than for those nine faithful guardians of the Orange and Maroon on her gridiron for the past four years.

Perhaps, Saturday afternoon will mark the falling of the curtain for the gridiron sport for some of these men. It will mark the final curtain for them at Susquehanna and they deserve every bit of credit that we can give them.

Heading the list of the Seniors is Capt. Al. Garman, who has captained the Crusaders for the past two seasons. Al is a real fighter at the pivot position, which he has held down for four long years, and his knowledge of the game, mixed with his wit, makes him eligible for a real general.

Warren Wolfe will be unable to represent the Orange and Maroon on Founders' Day, for he has been out of the game with an elbow injury since the opening game with Wagner. During the past several years Warren has been having some tough luck with injuries, but this did not slow his game up in the least. Last year Wolfe was one of the hardest fighters on the team and one of the best wing men Susquehanna has ever had.

Al Barber is another of the hard luck boys, who will be missing Saturday afternoon because of a fracture of the leg in the Alfred game. Al will be forced to watch the game, from the sidelines, but we can all remember of some good football Barber has played during the past years. All of us would like to see his name on the line-up instead of being seated along the sidelines.

Wilbur Berger, the fighting guard and center from the coal regions, will be missing from the lineup Saturday afternoon. Berger has played varsity football for four years, and their isn't a harder worker or a better fighter on the entire squad. Berger seeks pleasure from tackling hard and smearing opponents' plays behind the line.

George Moser will don football togs for the Orange and Maroon for the last time Saturday afternoon, and this day will mark the passing of one of the best fullbacks the Crusaders have ever had. George is a hard worker and is seen in every play in the game. He is considered masterful in backing up the line. One of the hardest tacklers on the team, and his specialty is that of line plunging. George is a "heady" player and can always be counted on for gains. Moser was the most consistent ground gainer of the year, and perhaps gained more territory than any man on the team.

The passing of "Big Joe" Winters will be another hard blow to the Crusaders. Joe has played varsity ball four years and during his time he was the biggest man on the squad. Joe's position is at tackle and we can always account for Joe's side of the line. We may also add that Joe never plays an outstanding game, but plays consistently and is a hard and fast charger.

Ray Scott will bark signals for the Crusaders for the last time and then this will mark the passing of one of Susquehanna's smallest and fastest ball toters in the gridiron sport. Scotty is small in stature, but gains a marvelous speed on the gridiron and because of his small stature is the hardest man on the team to tackle. On the defensive Scott is always on the alert and a hard man to get by. Besides carrying the ball on end runs, Scott has another specialty and this is running back punts and is always a sure ground gainer and dangerous man on an open field.

Hudkins will also be passing Saturday afternoon, after playing a stellar game at the tackle position in his senior year. "Ace" has worked hard for four long years and deserves a lot of credit for "plugging" for a berth on the varsity eleven. "Ace" is a fighter, and in a game puts into it everything he has and can be counted on to play a good game this Saturday afternoon.

Bedford is another man who has been out for four years, but has had a little "tough luck" which has kept him from the varsity lineups during past years. Bedford played good football at tackle his freshman year and won for himself a berth on the varsity. It was forced to retire later with a leg injury. Lloyd again deserves a lot of credit for "sticking it out" during the past four years, and is certain to play a good game if on the starting lineup Saturday.

—Have The Susquehanna sent to your address regularly and read the news of your former classmates.

Captain Al. Garman, "What are you waiting for, pay day?"

"Rayme" again proved that good things may come in little packages when he ripped off his 75-yard run.

Al Barber is still trying to make the best with his "timbers."

1930 BASKET BALL SCHEDULE COMPLETED

The Crusaders will open their 1930 basketball campaign with the Alumni, which will be played December 12th, less than a month after the closing of the present football schedule.

After the close of the football schedule Coach Ullery intends to take several weeks rest before he issues a call for basketball candidates. After he does issue a call for basketball material he will have less than two weeks to work with them before the opening game.

Immediately preceding the opening game, Christmas vacation follows and then after the Christmas recess there will only be one week of practice before the second game of the season with Elizabethtown on the home court.

"Skipper" Glenn, star guard for the past two years, will captain the team and Randolph Harvey will serve as student manager.

Glenn, Palmer and Rummel will be the only remaining letter men from last year.

Complete schedule follows:

SPORT BITS

Alright, every loyal student at Susquehanna, help us to set a perfect stage for the P. M. C. game, by being in the cheering section. These nine Seniors have given twelve solid months of their lives for the gridiron sport at Susquehanna, while the rest of us have given little. Have those "ole stands" packed to give them a royal "send-off."

Joe Winters is already finding sport in fathoming out a way to make his teams work hard in practice when he becomes head coach of some large high school. Best of luck, Joe!

Wilbur Berger is going to "clean towards the classics" from now on. He will be present at Glee Club scrimmages regularly.

YOUNG NEGRO SPEAKS ON RACIAL PROBLEMS

topic was especially interesting, and all the students who heard the address were very favorably impressed with the thoroughness the simplicity and the directness with which he drew a mental and vocal portrait of the whole situation in the United States. He even gave the audience some of his personal experiences which hardly seem that civilized people could bring upon another race in this day and age. Mr. Wilson in about forty-five minutes discussed the problem that has been stated and he then called for a Forum which easily constituted another fifteen minutes.

The speaker seemed to think that educational facilities for the negro are rapidly increasing, as statistics show. In the past ten years there has been a fifty per cent increase in the number of colleges for the colored race and there has been 200 per cent increase in the number of pupils attending these schools. He also brought out that in the same length of time the number of negroes in the industrial arts has increased from 20,000 to 45,000. To alleviate a false idea that has sprung up in the United States he said that the negroes as a race are not involved in the distribution of any of the basic commodities. Mr. Wilson feels that the press has a great deal to do with the deplorable condition of the negro today. He cited several instances which show decisively that the negro has been kept back by false news of the press. Every petty crime that is committed by a negro is put on the front page, while the white man's crimes are to be kept quiet.

Mr. Wilson also spoke in several of the University classes before his departure on Thursday. He was accompanied on this trip by Harold B. Ingalls, one of the District Secretaries of Y. M. C. A.

FINE PROGRAM GIVEN BY MISS BEWLEY

raised a rumpus when he received a typewritten letter from his son. "What do you mean by writin' me readin' when you knows that I kin read writin'! Yes, the pride of these people in their accomplishments, their courage, and all their good qualities make them real people. To them the word civilization for our standard of living is too often a misnomer.

Miss Bewley's program consisted of three readings. In each one she contrasted perfectly the life and ideas of the mountaineers with the life and ideas of civilized Americans. A large analysis of these people from the foot-hills shows that they are no different than we, despite the fact that they have their peculiarities.

Large Celebration Is Given Alumni

Alumni Start Their Return Wednesday; Bon Fire Blazes Friday Night; Games and Dances Held Saturday

From Wednesday evening until Sunday morning the campus was a continuous round of activity. Preparations for Homecoming Day were begun in the middle of the week and continued through until after the last blaring tone had ceased at the different fraternity houses.

On Tuesday and Thursday night the Frosh showed their spirit by the way they collected the freewood for the "bon fire." From dark until a time that every good student should be taking several winks the skulking figures of the Frosh could be seen going about their work. On Friday evening, as many of the Alumni began to pour in, the real fun began. A pep meeting was held at 7:15 in the chapel and from then on the evening was under way with all of its vim, vigor and vitality. After the live wire pep meeting was finished the entire student body marched down town led by the band, and again the people of Selingrove were treated to some royal good entertainment. Marching back to the athletic field a large blaze was immediately in motion and the heaps of the results of the freshmen work was the means of keeping warm through another session of enlightening pep meeting. At different intervals during the evening a sad and solemn group of students could be seen carrying the casket of "Juniaata," and at the proper moment the whole caricature was cremated with fitting ceremonies. Some time on Friday night or very early Saturday morning the Frosh again did their duty well in painting up the town in white for the big home coming day. Saturday morning found a very large group of the alumni back for the fray with Juniaata in the afternoon. Classes were held up until 11:45 in the morning, so as to give the students time to prepare for dinner at 12:00. At 12:15 the Freshman-Sophomore game started on the lower gridiron. The boys were all in the pink of condition and the game was a real success. It was surprising to see how many of the alumni turned out to see Wolfe's Fighting Freshmen hold Foukrouder's Socking Sophomores to a scoreless tie.

3 Plays Presented by Y. M. and Y. W.

Three Successful Plays, Under the Direction of Miss Corbin. Were Presented Thursday Evening

On Thursday evening, November 5, at 8:15 the Y. M. and Y. W. presented a group of three one-act plays, in Selbert Hall Chapel. The names of the three plays were: "Shall We Join the Ladies?" "The Workhouse Ward" and "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals." These plays were under the direction of Miss Corbin of the English Department.

The play "Shall We Join the Ladies?" was based in a dining room scene in which the host tells the guests his plan of finding out which one of the guests has committed the murder of his brother. Some very peculiar and amusing circumstances arise during the discussion. In the end circumstances show that the butler has committed the crime and he hastily makes his exit. The cast was made up as follows:

Host—John Baletine
Sir Joseph—Mr. Lee Fairchild
Lady Jane—Miss Olive Forcey
Mrs. Preen—Miss Beatrice DeWore
Mr. Vale—Mr. William Morrow
Mr. Gourlay—Mr. Arthur Wilmarth
Mrs. Caste—Miss Mary Potter
Maid—Miss Dorothy Liesher
Lady Prathine—Miss Dorothy Hunter
Mr. Preen—Mr. Robert Reeder
Miss Vale—Miss Signe Alford
Mrs. Bland—Miss Mary Weaverling
Capt. Jennings—Mr. Harold Rowe
Miss Isit—Miss Virginia Andrews
Butler—Mr. William Carolan
Policeman—Mr. William Crabtree
The second play was "The Workhouse Ward" which took place in a Cloon workhouse. The play was made up of foolish argument between the two principals. Many witty remarks and strained circumstances were brought into the play. The cast was as follows:

Mike McInerney—Mr. George Truckemiller
Michael Miskell—Mr. Walter Irvine
Mrs. Donohoe, a countrywoman—Miss Daisy Reese
The last play was named "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals." This happened in a basement abode in a poor section of London. The play was true to the conditions prevalent during the war, but the plot of the play was so humorously arranged that some very foolish episodes were in the play. The cast was as follows:

Mrs. Sarah Ann Downey, the little old lady—Miss Ruth Maurey
London Charwomen
—Mrs. Emma Mickleham—Miss Margaret Markle
—Mrs. Amelia Twymley—Miss Sarah Harlow
—Miss Haggerty—Miss Madeline Steinger
—Mr. Willings, a clergyman—Mr. Walter Foukrouder
—Private Kenney Downey—Mr. Russell

EXTROM

John Extrom, the huge boy who hails from Emporium has been playing a consistent game at tackle. John was out of school last year but returned this fall to continue his education. His huge size and fighting spirit make him a valuable asset to the team. A sprained ankle kept him out of one game but he is in the line-up again. Extrom is a partner of Joe Winters at the Selingrove Epileptic Colony and always on the gridiron and off. He is a member of the Epsilon Sigma Fraternity.

Dr. Hart Spends Three Days Speaking and Discussing Student Problems on Susquehanna Campus

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week were coherent with the program announced in last week's edition, and Dr. Jack Hart, of the University of Pennsylvania was on our campus. He came to the school under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. and took charge of some very interesting programs. Dr. Hart is the chaplain of the school at Philadelphia, and he is held in great esteem by the students of that institution. He was friendly, frank, and thoroughly interesting to the students at Susquehanna. His simplicity, wit, and humor were basic in bringing out so clearly the truths that he wished to portray. His interest in the students was shown on Monday afternoon when he went out to gym class with the students and participated in a soccer game. On Monday evening his speech to the student body was based on "Life," which he elaborated on in a very complete, but nevertheless interesting manner. He has a very keen psychology of life and it has such truth in it that when he discussed it the students were pleased as well as augmented spiritually. One of his most important statements dealt with the conservation of life. He said: "Let us lose nothing of life, but rather let us conserve and help it." He warned anybody against anything that takes away from life. His feeling toward life is intensely interesting in the idea of broadening, helping and enjoying life. To show that life never can be successful he said: "I like the competition of life, it keeps us up to the highest point of perfection in every way." Self satisfaction is materially a basis for downfall and ruin. One Tuesday evening at 8:00 he again addressed the student body after the preliminary services had been held. The basis for this evening's talk was "Faith," and he forcibly brought out some of the necessary elements in student faith. He seemed to think that college life has both made and lost faith. Education is not an institution to prepare for life, but it is life, and without faith we are lost. He discussed his subject for the evening from the principles that make or break faith. Susquehanna put up a gallant fight, but fell before the Juniata Indians by the score of 13-7 Saturday afternoon on the Orange and Maroon gridiron. The day was ideal for the large number of alumni who witnessed the two traditional rivals in action.

The contest itself was a hard fought one, filled with injuries on both sides. The most serious were LaPorte for Juniata and Captain Garman for Susquehanna. Glenn recovered sufficiently to finish the last quarter of the game. Susquehanna displayed splendid defensive power throughout the game, and it was only through several deceptive plays that Juniata made its scores. However, the Crusader line failed to function on the offense as it did defensively. Time after time the Juniata forward defense would crash through and nab the local ball carriers before they had a chance to get started.

The outstanding feature of the Juniata team was its splendid backfield combination. Petty was easily the most outstanding, while Capt. Andrews and Harley were always dangerous. In the line Holsinger and Jameson played well.

Frosh-Sophomores Tie in Annual Battle

Hardest Fought Battle in History Between Freshmen and Sophomore Grid Teams Ends Scoreless

The Freshman-Sophomore game was one of the hardest fought battles in the history of these annual gridiron classics, as the two well matched teams battled to a scoreless tie, Saturday afternoon.

From the very minute of the kickoff till the final whistle that ended the game it was a fight for self-preservation and in different stages packed with some real thrills.

The Sophomores had an edge on the Frosh in the number of first downs but otherwise the game was played on fairly even terms. In the early stage of the battle, Coach Wolfe substituted nearly a whole Frosh team and a large number of these boys played with the Junior Varsity and with these substitutions came some real fight. Coach Wafly Foukrouder made but one substitution during the entire game but his boys were trying hard for a victory and several times started a real march which looked as if it might end in a touchdown.

Early in the first quarter the Sophomores took advantage of several weak spots on the Frosh line and sent fast and hard hitting backs through these holes for large gains. At the end of one of these marches the S-sophomores found themselves down on the Freshmen's 5-yard line but then with much needed substitutions the Frosh line held and the ball failed to cross the double chalk mark.

In the second half the Sophomores again threatened when they blocked a punt on the Freshmen's 20-yard line, but after making several yards the ball was taken again by the Frosh and taken out of this dangerous territory. Late in the last period the Frosh got a break when Edwards playing the quarterback position for the Sophomores fumbled on their own 35-yard line and with added penalties the ball was placed in more dangerous territory but the Frosh failed to start a rally.

The game came to an end with the Sophomores in possession of the ball on the Freshmen's 20-yard line, the ball having been worked up the field by the brilliant running of Bruce Worthington, who made several gains which netted at least fifteen yards each time.

Both teams had good punters, which helped to get the ball out of dangerous territory more than once. Swann handled the punting assignment for the Sophomores, while Klanser did the kicking for the Frosh and also played

For the Sophomores, Bruce Worthington and Edwards were the most consistent ground gainers, while Carl Cassin McEwan and J. Worthington played good games on the line. The

WITKOP

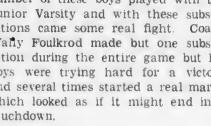

"Dutch" Witkop is another lad who has broken into the Varsity line-up this season. In his first year "Dutch" played the backfield on the Junior Varsity. But since linemen were in need Coach Ullery soon made a fighting guard out of "Dutch." To open a hole as well as stopping the opponents' rush is "Dutch's" specialty. "Dutch" hails from Buffalo, N. Y., where he thrilled the crowds on the gridiron in his high school days. He is a member of the Phi Mu Delta Fraternity.

Herbert Spigelmyer is Coach Ullery's last addition to the end position. "Herby" had been playing football at Susquehanna since his Freshman year. It wasn't until after Barber was injured in the Alfred game that "Spigly" got his first chance. He has certainly helped up the strong end of the line and can be counted on to smear the opposition.

SCHOOL SPIRIT SHOWS ITSELF

One of the things which Susquehanna has been trying to achieve for the past several years has finally arrived, and that is REAL SCHOOL SPIRIT. It was shown in many ways during the past week.

The bon fire before the game and the cheering at the game were of the greatest success, but best of all was the white washing of the town. Many of the townfolks were against it, but there are others who realize this is one way of an outburst of sentiment and have given their approval of the matter.

For the first time in years the citizens of Selmsgrove came to realize that there really was a college in their town. This is what we have needed for a long time. We want the people to feel that they have as much interest in the school as we as students have. As soon as this is realized by all it will be a great deal better for both Selmsgrove and Susquehanna.

This does not mean of course that every time we feel like it we should paint the town, but when there are big doings at the school, let's get the town people interested and bring them in on it, and let them know we are alive.

Again, let us not think that all of last week's work was done in vain, because we lost a football game, because it was not. We have won something far greater and that is College Spirit. And now let's keep up the good work and never again let it die as it has in the past.

CALENDAR CHANGE FAVORED

The proposed change in the calendar to give us 13 months of 28 days each—once a university's professor's idea—is gaining rapidly in popularity throughout the World, according to information available here.

The Conference on Calendar Reform, to be held at Geneva in 1931 is given as one evidence of this, as well as the fact that some of this country's most prominent industrial leaders are members of the National Committee on Calendar Simplification.

The 13-month plan would involve a year of 13 months, each divided into exactly four seven-day weeks. There would be one day in the year which would belong to no month and to no week, and this would be designated "New Year's Day," and have no other name. Obviously, it would be a holiday.

The first of each month would fall on Sunday, and the last of each month on Saturday.

On leap years there would be two New Year's Days.

Arguments in favor of the plan are that it would simplify all business transactions, that rents would be equal each month, that, because all holidays would fall on Mondays, weeks would not be broken into by holidays, and it would be more difficult to forget the day of the week on which a given date would fall.

There is another plan afoot to keep the months as they are, 12 in number, but equalize the number of days in each month so that each quarter year would be the same size as every other quarter year.

This plan, however, is no where near as popular as the 13-month plan.

Many agencies in the United States already use the 13-month plan as an auxiliary calendar.

Henry Martyn Mackay, dean of the faculty of applied science and professor of civil engineering at McGill University, achieved for the past several years has finally arrived, and that is Both Tarkington, well-known American novelist, is believed to have been cured of his partial blindness.

ALUMNI NOTES

Alumni in Pittsburgh Territory Notice

The officers of the Pittsburgh territory of the Susquehanna alumni met and arranged for a meeting of the entire association to be held on Friday, November 21. Dr. G. Morris Smith, president of S. U., will attend the meeting. Members of this association are urged to be present at this affair. Remember the 21st.

Best Rally Day in History of Church

The Rally Day this year of the Sunday school of St. Peter's Church at York, Pa., of which Rev. James H. Goss, '21-'24, is pastor, was the best in the history of the church. The address was delivered by the Hon. Albert W. Johnson, Judge of the United States Courts of the Middle District of Pennsylvania. He delivered a very forceful and practical message on the "Value of Bible Study." This was the first Sunday School Rally in the new church which the congregation built at a cost of $103,000 and dedicated in February, 1930.

Dr. L. D. Ulrich Very Successful in Wilkes-Barre

Twenty-one years ago L. D. Ulrich, D.D., a graduate of the Missionary Institute in 1894, received a unanimous call to become pastor of St. John's Church, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. At that time he was pastor of Trinity Church, Danville, Pa., which was his first pastorate after graduation from a Philadelphia Seminary.

At the time of his call St. John's had about 300 members. Services were held in an old frame church, which was becoming too small for its purpose, and soon after the arrival of Dr. Ulrich, it was evident that a new building was necessary. With characteristic energy Dr. Ulrich began taking subscriptions for a new building, and in a short time the new church was built. Three years later, due to fire, the building was repaired.

The church at present has a membership of more than 700 members. The increase has been brought about by Dr. Ulrich's never ending devotion to duty, as there has been no marked growth in population in that part of the city served by the church.

Dr. Ulrich is father of Mrs. Linebaugh, wife of Prof. Percy M. Linebaugh, of the Conservatory of Music.

Calvin V. Erdley is School Head

November's issue of the Pennsylvania School Journal, printed by the State Education Association, has a picture of Calvin V. Erdley on the front cover. Mr. Erdley is superintendent of the Hollidaysburg school and is president of the Central Convention District of the State. He has held the position as superintendent since 1925. After his graduation from Susquehanna in 1920, he had the experience of elementary school teaching in Snyder county and high school teaching at Phillipsburg. Before he went to Hollidaysburg he served as supervising principal at Phillipsburg.

Educational leaders in Snyder county are well known in the State and hearty congratulations are being extended to Mr. Erdley for the honor of being president of the Central Convention District. Continued success is wished the leader in his work as an educator.

Sermon Published in "Christian Herald"

In the November 1st issue of the Christian Herald, a sermon, written by Rev. A. W. Smith, of St. John's Lutheran Church at Williamsport was printed. Rev. Smith was graduated from the college department of S. U. in 1914 and from the seminary in 1917. The subject of the sermon is "The Way Home." A few extracts from this sermon follow:

"Religion is man's eternal quest for God. As we know him, man is a religious being. God made man a religious being by creating him with a longing for divine companionship, a sense of need, and a desire for God's approval. Now it is evident that man has lost his way to God and desires to return. At the bottom of most modern heresies lies that ancient doctrine of work-righteousness. Man, in his pride, wants to build his own ladder by which he may climb into the Father's presence. As a result, he fails to find the peace of God. Jesus said: 'He that climbeth up some other way is a thief and a robber.' 'I am the way; no man cometh unto the Father but by me.'

"The Way Home to God is a plain way. The name of Jesus is known all over Europe and America, and in non-Christian lands the gospel is speedily being propagated.

"The Way Home is an old way. Millions since Jesus passed on to glory have walked in the Christian way and reached home. That way has been so well traversed that a deep groove has been worn into the life and history of our race. The world with all its intellect and inventive genius will never discover any way of salvation which is more sure and safe than this.

"The Way Home is a narrow way. We must come in the appointed way or be rejected.

"The Way Home is a broad way. Jesus gave to mankind a universal invitation to enter upon that way. Christianity was meant to be a universal religion.

"The Way Home is a safe way. There are no wrecks along the Jesus Way of Life.

Rev. Smith concludes his sermon by addressing his readers, demanding which way they are traveling and asking them why they do not follow the Jesus Way, which is the only way that leads Home.

Sympathy

The "Susquehanna" extends sincere sympathy to Miss Julia D. and Paul Liston in their recent bereavement due to the death of their mother.

Last Year Grad Quite Popular in New Position

Miss Mary Eastep, who was graduated from the University last spring and is now teaching in the Reade High School at Mountaineer, Pa., is doing splendid work at that place. She has complete charge of all the English courses in the school and is head of the music department, directing a girls' chorus, a boys' chorus and the High School orchestra. She is advisor of the sophomore class, the dramatic club, and a Hikers' club. She is also in charge of the cafeteria. Besides this Miss Eastep has been chosen advisor of "The Scroll," the year book, and has secured the interest of enough pupils to begin the publishing of a quarterly, the first never ever edited in this school during the school term.

We are glad that one of our alumni has become so prominent in her new work in such a short time and finds it so interesting. We all wish that this success of Miss Eastep's may continue during her entire teaching career.

DOUBT IT OR NOT

Will U. Believcit

The waiters of Horton Dining Hall started a new organization. They called it The Singing Tray Bearers. The students we know would like music? With their meals, but there were others who objected and so their rehearsals were hindered.

You can hardly believe this one. The Sophs actually managed to hold the strong Fresh football terrors to a scoreless tie.

The dances Saturday evening were quite successful. There were no injuries, no floors caved in and even the faculty members had a good time. You ask how I account for the last clause; I asked them.

An actual count was taken at the game of the alumni that wore fuf coats. There were six out of every ten. That means in other words six out of ten S. U. grads are successful. More data shows that forty per cent had but two more payments to make and that twenty per cent were borrowed. Will expects to hear from alumni with love notes in the nature of "panning."

Den Graham lost ten pounds over the week-end, plus a voice. She also went home.

BARBER ONCE MORE RESUMES HIS STUDIES

Alvin Barber has again resumed his studies and is seen about on the campus after he had been forced to remain in bed during the past two weeks.

Barber happened to be another senior who had tough luck his last year and was forced to retire from the football squad after he had a bone broken in his leg in the Alfred game. The injury came in the early part of the contest and it was not known that the bone was broken till two days later. Since that time Al has been having trouble in trying to have the bones knit fast again.

During Barber's freshman year he was on the freshman team and showed great promise. During his second year his work attracted the attention of Coach Wiley and he made the squad. During his junior year he played very good football at one of the end positions and was rewarded with a letter.

Besides varsity football, Al has played basketball and baseball on the class and fraternity teams.

Al is a good student and always makes his presence known in the class room. We are glad to see him back on the campus again and wish him the best of luck.

GRIDIRON SEASON DRAWS TO A CLOSE

The football season is gradually drawing to a close and there remains but two more games on the 1930 schedule.

Last Saturday the Crusaders were in a real battle and it was one of the hardest fought kamms ever played on the local gridiron.

There will be little let-up in the daily practices of the squad and Coaches Ullery and Harper intend to keep their team in excellent condition up until the last game.

CRUSADERS TO MEET WASHINGTON SATURDAY

The Crusaders will journey to Chestertown, Maryland, for their last game on foreign territory this year with Washington College...

So far this season Washington has had a pretty tough schedule for a small college, and has lost to teams like Maryland, 60-6, Swarthmore 33-6, and last Saturday to Lebanon Valley 32-0.

Washington has practically the same team that they had last year and has really thrived in several of the games this season.

JACK HART INSTILLS NEW SPIRIT AT S. U.

(Continued from Page 1) failure of students to adjust themselves to their former faith. The student body in a college such as our own is usually made up of the type that come from good Christian homes; and very often when these students get away from home they neglect their religious duties and very often their faith receives very little attention. "We cannot be a success in faith unless we keep growing in it constantly." "Do not try to run a mature business on childhood principles." He stressed the point that lack of religious bearing at college will cause the faith that has been born in the student to disintegrate. The second principle of the evening was "Decisiveness." He concluded that will is the citadel of personality. The main issue under this principle was that there was a time to make a decision on every problem and it we resorted to lethargy at that time all is lost. The third principle was "Service." The person who gets a thrill out of life is the person who helps. He distinctly stated that the greatest kind of service was the kind that caused you to tell your best friends the things of importance that he does not know and those things he should know. The rest of the six principles were all negative admonitions which were of great value.

Both evenings after the service was finished he had a "Bible" meeting to explain these interested students what they had just received help from the young and old. "Bible" questions and "Bible" questions. He also gave a special program to the girls of Selbert. Had on Tuesday evening after the service program had been dispensed with. SUITABLE FOUNDERS' DAY PROGRAM RENDERED IN SEIBERT HALL CHAPEL

Appropriate Memorial Services in Memory of Rev. J. D. Curran and Founder of Susquehanna University Were Very Impressive

In conjunction and in commemoration of the establishment of Susquehanna University in 1858, Founders' Day was fittingly observed on our campus by a program in Seibert Hall Chapel at 10:45. This occasion marked the seventy-third anniversary of the institution. The program was dedicated to an alumnus who very recently lost his life in the Liberia Mission Field in Africa. The honored missionary was Rev. J. D. Curran, who was a distinguished and honored member of the missionary board at this place. A picture of the distinguished and honored founder of this institution effaced a principal place on the stage and throughout the whole of the program this memorial to Dr. Benjamin Kurtz held its unaltered position.

The organ, under the hand of Prof. Percival Linebaugh, pealed its soft music as the speakers of the morning, dressed in caps and gowns befitting their degrees, came upon the stage. Dr. Smith, Dr. F. P. Manhart, Dr. A. Pohlman, and Rev. David Day Dagle took their places as Dr. Woodruff took charge of the meeting.

The Men's Glee Club first sang a very beautiful number entitled, "Glorious Forever," by Rachmanninoff. This selection was very timely in this situation, as it expressed the feelings of the entire student body towards the illustrious founders of our school. A hymn, "The Church's One Foundation," followed the glee club selection, and the whole audience took part in the singing.

Dr. Manhart had charge of the devotions for the morning and his manner along with his keen selectivity of scripture were conducive to worship. He read the forty-fourth chapter of Ecclesiastes. In place of an ordinary prayer he read a portion from Dr. Joutet's book, "The Builders." He also read some phases of a book called "Family Prayers," by our college's founder. He followed up his divine worship by speaking for a short time about Dr. Benjamin Kurtz. He gave the most important points pertaining to his life history and dealt particularly with his life's work and his spiritual being.

Song sheets were handed out by the ushers and the whole audience again joined in a song named "Susquehanna's Founders." This beautiful ballad was written and edited by two of Susque-

Freshmen Take 1st Place in Marathon

Watts Wins Easily, Hartline Scores
Second, and Frosh Capture a
Total of 25 Points

Mentzer Watts, who seems to know a little something about distance running, brought honors to the Freshman Class on Saturday when he was an easy victor in the two mile inter-class race. The race, which was staged between the halves of the football game, was one that was packed with thrills, and ended with the Frosh having amassed 25 points to the Seniors' 9. The Sophomores and Juniors failed to score a point.

Bishop, representative of the Juniors, assumed an early lead and held it for one mile. As they passed the halfway mark, Freshman, Mentzer, passed him, with Watts third. Hartline, a Senior, fourth, and Muir, another Frosh, fifth. Watts took second place as they rounded the curve when Bishop collapsed. The cause of his succumbing was the fact that he had eaten rather heavily at the lunch hour.

At the mile and a half mark Kenny was still first, with Watts, Hartline and Muir immediately behind him in the order named. With one circling of the quarter-mile track, however, Kenny's pace slackened and Watts passed him. Hartline, a moment later, assumed second place when he, too, passed Kenny.

When half of the last lap had been run, Hartline began to sprint. Watts, seeing his opponent's action, did likewise and immediately drew rapidly away from him. Then he slowed down, and once more Hartline nearly overtook him. With apparent ease Watts repeated his sprint and continued it to the finish line, coming in about fifteen yards ahead of Hartline. He was breathing very lightly at the finish, considering the distance he had run.

Hartline came in an easy second; Kenny was third, and Muir was fourth. All excepting Watts seemed to experience difficulty in breathing at the finish, and it was very apparent that they had undergone a severe body strain. Watts, at all appearances, was nearly as fresh as he was at the beginning.

The time of the winner was 11:37.

Inter-Sorority Dance is a Great Success For All Sororities

Who said the sororities don't know how to present a real peppy dance? Ask the students who attended the Inter-Sorority Dance on Saturday night. All of the sororities in the school had an annual dance on Saturday evening. The Rhythm Kings of Sunbury to furnish the syncope.

Sixty couples thronged the parlors of that house as the dance got under way and the from the first jazzy strain until the last tone had died away at twelve o'clock there was not one moment of monotony. Not only did the students attend the dance but also some of the alumni. Four members were present who belong to the Omega Delta Sigma; they were the Misses Vesta Steininger, Ruth Pace, Lucille Smith and Dorothy Reeder. Three alumni members of the Kappa Delta Phi remembered to come back also; they were the Misses Evelyn Allison, Isabelle Slaughterback, Mildred Arbo-gast. Four faithful alumni of the Sigma Alpha Iota also returned; they were Miss Kathryn Morning, Mrs. Albert Soper, Margaret Morning and Mrs. Harry Brown.

The Rhythm Kings were right onto their music, and the dancers, although sorely vexed at the outcome of the game, did not let this keep them from enjoying the peppy strains of the most popular tunes. The Bond and Key House was used by the kind permission of the fraternity and the house, though spacious, was crowded to capacity.

The chaperones for the evening were Dr. Wood, Dr. and Mrs. Overbo, Mr. and Mrs. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Brungart, Mrs. Rodgers, Miss Naomi K. Hade, Miss Isabelle Strothers, Professor Linebaugh and Dr. George Dunkleberger.

S. U. CLOSES FOOTBALL SEASON BY LOSING HARD GAME TO P. M. C.

Crusaders Force Twenty-eight First Downs to the Soldiers Thirteen; Bad Breaks Keep Orange and Maroon Score Down Till Second Half

Susquehanna's valiant Crusaders, exhibiting that fighting spirit for which they are noted, went down to a glorious defeat Saturday, after completely outplaying the Cadets from P. M. C. in every quarter except the first. As the final whistle blew the score read 24-13. It marked the close of Susquehanna's 1930 grid season, and it also marked the close of the college careers of several of her loyal sons who have been luminaries this season.

Led on by Glenn, Scott and Moser the Crusaders came back after that disastrous first period to score two touchdowns and come dangerously near P. M. C.'s goal line twice more. Moser scored the touchdowns after these three men had cooperated in making sustained marches down the field and in placing the ball in scoring position.

Perhaps the most disastrous player to the Cadets was "the Skipper" of the Crusaders. Time and again his brilliant headwork, combined with an unerring ability to decide the best thing to do at the right time gave Susquehanna a slight advantage over the P. M. C. eleven in the quarterback position. Not only this, but Glenn consistently made gains on plunges and around the ends.

His punting ability also stood him in good stead when the Orange and Maroon was in dangerous territory. Only once did his steady booting fail, and that, on account of lack of time, the punt was blocked and the lucky Brennan, of P. M. C. was able to fall on the ball for a touchdown on this unlucky play. Throughout the entire game this lad was a source of forcing the ball into scoring position, and it is certain that had the breaks turned out a little differently his playing would have been more pronounced. Scott and Moser also made the game a real battle by their whirlwind offensive. Around the end and through the line, with these two playing demons always in the fray Moser would tear large gaps in the opposing line on one play, so that the secondary defense would play close, then without delay the diminutive Scott would tear around end for a substantial gain. This kind of spirit summarized the whole last half. On the defensive also these two backs combined with Glenn were the lads who brought pass receivers to the ground before they could break away for long gains.

Second Star Course Number—Quartet

Program of High Calibre is Based on Classical Gems of Today

The Durrell String Quartet presented a very fine program on Monday evening, November 17, at Seibert Hall Chapel. This was the second number on the Star Course. The quartet was assisted by John Percival, baritone singer, and Reginald Boardman, pianist. The music was such that the audience was enthralled throughout the entire performance.

The quartet was composed of the following: Josephine Durrell, violin; Edith Roubound, violin; Margaret Clark, viola, and Mildred Ridley, cello. The first number was "Two Movements from Quintet in F minor," by Franck. They were accompanied on the piano by Reginald Boardman.

John Percival then rendered the following vocal selections: "An Old Song Re-sung," Griffes; "Temple Bells," Woodforde-Finden; "Pale Moon," Logan, and "King Charles," White. The entire audience was thrilled by the superb quality of Mr. Percival's voice.

The String Quartet played "Four Movements in G major," Hayden. The violins seemed to have an uncommonly beautiful quality. Each number was received with a great deal of enthusiasm and applause by the audience.

Mr. Reginald Boardman gave three selections on the piano, "Waltz in E Flat," Chopin; "Nocturne in C Minor," Chopin, and "Malagaena," Lecuona. Mr. Boardman is not a stranger to most of us, because he played last year for one of the Star Course numbers. He has a distinctive talent and plays only the best. His numbers added a pleasant variation to the evening's program.

Mr. Percival then sang "Ruddier than the Cherry," Handel. He was accompanied on the piano by Mr. Boardman. His number was of a lighter nature and was rendered very beautifully. It showed to great advantage the range of his voice.

Manager Harvey, varsity basketball has announced that all prospective basketball candidates are to report to Coach Ullery in the gym on December 4, at 7:30 p. m.

Looking over the list of experienced men we find that there are nine available for this year's basket shooters. Glenn, Stineman, Rummell, Palmer, Winter, McGeehan, Scharfe, Caldren, Worthington, and Kozak are the men who have had experience and from whom will probably be chosen the nucleus around which this year's team will be built.

With four letters from last year on hand, Coach Ullery should be able to present a very strong team. Captain Glenn, Stineman, Rummell, and Palmer are those men who earned their letter under the Orange and Maroon last year.

By a peculiar coincidence we find Rubis, who was under Ullery's tutelage at Beckley four years ago, a candidate for this year's team. It is expected that he will present some formidable opposition to varsity aspirants this year in earning a position.

Likely looking Frosh who will be out yet Schlegel, Myers, Kapic, Hutchinson, Truckenmiller, Bernardie, and others. The opening game of the season is only a little over two weeks away. It will be staged with the Alumni as opponents on December 12th. That game is merely a "side-show" to show what Susquehannians may look for on the floor this year.

The regular schedule gets under way after the Christmas vacation, starting off with Elizabethtown on January 9. During the remainder of January Susquehanna continues to meet regular opponents. Immediately after the semester vacation, during which there will be a slight let-up, the Crusaders will go into the thick of the campaign with eight games to be played in the short month.

SUNDAY EVENING VESPERS

Vespers of Sunday evening were in charge of the Sigma Sigma Delta Society. The meeting was very interesting and had some Thanksgiving material that was timely. The meeting was in charge of Corinda Sell. The discussion was taken and followed through by several different members of the sorority.

Coach Wolfe's Boys Break Loose; Throw High School in Loss

Scoring two touchdowns himself and paving the way for one other, Kapic plunging, fighting fullback of the Freshman football team, led his mates on to a glorious victory over Selinsgrove High on Tuesday afternoon. The final score was 24-0. It marked the close of an undefeated season for the Frosh, having won three games and tied one.

Just as Kapic shone in the backfield, McMullen was the star in the line. Time and time again he broke through the opponent's forward defense to smear ball carriers for five and six yard losses.

The Frosh's first touchdown came early in the game. After Selinsgrove kicked off, Klausner returned the punt. The Frosh promptly took the ball on downs and Kapic tore off six to fifteen yard gains until he crossed the line after one of his terrific line drives that tore the Selinsgrove forward defense to pieces.

Keller intercepted an enemy pass a few minutes later and reared 45 yards for the second touchdown. It was a splendid run after a spectacular interception.

Persell accounted for the third six-pointer when he went off-tackle for eighteen yards. Prior to this fine run, Kapic had torn gaping holes in Selinsgrove's line as he carried the ball to scoring position.

The last touchdown came late in the game, when Kapic once more went on a rampage. Tearing off four first downs in a row he then slipped off-tackle for twelve yards and the last six-pointer of the day.

Klausner's punts and passes were another feature of the day, as well as Morrow's fast end runs that made big gains for the Frosh. Persell was the other big ground gainer for the first year men. The starting lineup:

Freshmen Selinsgrove
Giotta L. E. Kahler
Muir L. T. Herman
Nougle L. G. Wallace
Anderson C. Fry
McMullen R. T. Wolf
Lytle R. G. Wenrich
Keller R. E. Johnston
Klausner Q. B. Maginnis
Morrow L. H. B. Foster
Persell R. H. B. Boyer
Kapic F. B. Ditzler

SIGMA SIGMA DELTA PLAY

Would you like to see a dramatic interpretation of real American life? Then come to see Elmer Field Cona Gale's hit, Miss Lulu Bett. Sigma Sigma Delta production on December 11.

O. D. S. Play Well Presented

The Comedy Played Very Original;
The Cast Presented Fine
Display

The Omega Delta Sigma Sorority gave the student body, the faculty and the friends of Susquehanna a real thrill when they presented the first play of the season, "The Swan." The play was produced under the direction of Professor A. C. Hartung. The cast renders a hearty and appreciative "Thank You" to Professor Hartung. He has worked with them practically every night for many nights in order to make the play the success that it was.

"The Swan" is a romantic comedy in three acts by Ferenc Molnar. It was produced by special arrangement with Longmans, Green and Company, of New York. The dresses for the play were furnished by Roenblum's, of Sunbury. The cast of characters in order of appearance was as follows:

Dr. Nicholas Agi—Luke Rhoads.
Patricia—Ruth Jacobs.
Arsene—Eda Mumaw.
Princess Beatrice—Janet Letzleitl.
Alexandra—Edna Williamson.
Father Hyacinth—Robert Wilson.
Symphonose—Eleanor Sheriff.
Prince Albert—Lee Fairchild.
Colonel Wunderlich—Herbert Rummel.

Marie—Elizabeth Vorlase.
Princess Maria Dominica—Mary Esther Potter.
Countess Erdely—Muriel Camerer.
Ladies-in-waiting—Signe Alford, Helen Culp.

Hussars—Enza Wilson, Olive Forcey.
The first act took place in a room in the castle of Princess Beatrice. Princess Beatrice is trying to think of ways and means whereby Prince Albert will propose to Alexandra.

Luke Rhoads, the professor, is secretly in love with Alexandra. Princess Beatrice thinks that in order to make the Prince propose soon she will have Alexandra ask the professor to the reception that evening. The Professor after being invited by Alexandra, begins to have hope that he may even yet get the Princess to love him. Eda Mumaw and Ruth Jacobs played the part of little girls in this play. We wonder why two members of the audience would not believe that they were University students.

The second act takes place later in the evening. Alexandra pays more attention to the professor than she should have. He tells her of his love (Concluded on Page 3)

THANKSGIVING

The word Thanksgiving is one that gives to almost everyone a little tinge of remorse that they have never felt before. Not because they are not equally showing their feelings, but because they do not have the very finest spirits in their own soul and mind. If it were mere showing of feelings, the lack of that show would merely affect their reputation; but since it is the heartfelt portrait that we want it affects character. This Thanksgiving season is undoubtedly the most important to us because it is now and not in the future. The next most important feature that comes up is how shall we understand what is the best and most effective kind of thanksgiving spirit. Our many programs produced and used around the holidays are not the body of thanksgiving, but they are used only in the inspirational sense. It is the most natural thing in the world to bluff yourself into believing that you are thankful for the things, benefits, pleasures and goods that you have received merely because they and you are a combined feature. When you are alone, off in your room or some secluded spot, do you think back over the many blessings that you have received and then at once take heart in the world and in your doing the world some good. If that is the main contention of your inner-self you have reached a high standard in a contrite heart and consequently in the terminology of Thanksgiving. It is well at Thanksgiving, after you yourself have the right idea of its significance, to begin at once to arrange ways and means of developing your work in another angle. Charity is the greatest of the virtues. This does not necessarily mean the monetary aid which is very often distributed by selfish well-to-do portions of our population, but it does mean the distinctive sharing of your blessings with those who are less fortunate. At this time we are preparing to leave for a vacation in which Thanksgiving day will hold a big portion. Are we going to celebrate this initial day of the birth of the American nation without any forethought to historical basis which lies back of it; or will we begin a new era in our contentions and begin to assemble for ourselves a true and lasting intelligence to the treatment of this holiday?

FRESHMAN TRADITIONS AND SPIRIT

Almost three months have passed since a green bunch of Freshmen came to Susquehanna and true to form we can not say that we are an exceptional class. We have been placed under certain regulations which will equip us for the rest of our stay at the institution. Nevertheless, it is self evident that the class has a number of flaws to correct in its observance of these customs. The "code of Frosh traditions" is not a tyrannical subjugation, but rather a method of enabling the incoming students a means of "getting set" for the coming student days. At frequent intervals very indiscreet infractions of the Freshman code have been noticed and with a rather impolitic result. Dinks are a sign of chance for advancement, not of degradation. The acceptability of these regulations does not lie in the pleasure at present, but withal in the probabilities of the future. Perhaps every one of we Freshmen can be classed in one of the following classes, which rather keep us from at first grasping the true college spirit: Some of us, coming from large preparatory or high schools, have not yet outgrown the high school attitude. Others of us may have been so trained in our high schools to respect too much the values of a "high grade" and a few prizes that we cannot see the worthiness of working for anything in college except grades and scholarships. Others are too tied up with their own work to either work or play hard for the class, and then spend their time in yelping about the terrible imposition of the college traditions. Come on Frosh, do not forget the spirit behind the bonfire and the precedence before the Juniata game. Let us give the college code of traditions and regulations the best of our will power in the observance of them! Let us make our class the most public spirited and college spirited on the Campus!

Mary Esther Potter seems to have a decided interest in the Freshmen class. Well, we all like "Bob."

For "Flo" Edmore the music of the dining room chimes hath its charms.

Some of the girls of Seibert Hall wonder why "Mentz" Watts was so excited Thursday night.

Saturday night was a rather gloomy night for the Freshmen girls. Maybe!

SOPHIS ARE PROCLAIMED SOCCER CHAMPIONS

The powerful Sophomore soccer team clinched the inter-class league when they overcame a fighting Freshmen team, 4-0, Thursday afternoon. From the early part of the game to the final whistle the Sophomores were the aggressors and not once was their goal seriously endangered by the Fresh's attack. Swarm and Worthington led the victors on to the four goals by their fast and accurate footwork. There was no individual star for the Fresh, the entire team being outplayed every moment of the game.

The Juniors and Seniors played to a 1-1 stalemate in soccer following the Fresh-Soph battle last Thursday. It was a close, exciting game from start to finish, each team defending its goal well from enemy attack. The game was the result of a tie game played several weeks ago by these two teams. As neither side won on the play-off, the score will remain a tie and will not be entered in the team standings.

Standing of Teams

W. L. Pct.
Sophomores 7 1 .875
Juniors 5 3 .625
Seniors 2 3 .400
Freshmen 0 7 .000

These two games finish out for the season the soccer schedule and the teams rest after their contests have been put away for another year. This year's Sophomore team certainly did very nice results and to them go the Soccer Championship for the year. The Junior contenders were not too far in the rear but the Seniors and Freshmen lag far behind in the season's scoring. Congratulations Sophs!

SORORITY NOTES

The play, "The Swan," which was so notably presented by Omega Delta Sigma, was witnessed by two former members, Ruth Steele and Gertrude Walker. Welcome back, Alumni! Our only regret is that they don't come more often.

The Inter-Sorority dance held Saturday night proved to be a big drawing card for the Alumni. Ruth Pace, who is teaching at the Hanover Township High school, came back to "trip the light fantastic" and to visit, as all girls must do, with old acquaintances. Vesta Steinger, supervisor of music in Sunbury High school, was another guest at the hop.

The Fresh can't be such "Dumb Johns" as the Sophs would have them appear. We are told that the Fresh "trated" at the Inter-Sorority dance.

The Sigma Alpha Iota was well represented by Alumni at the dance. The Morning Sisters, Margaret, who is supervisor of music in the Hanover public schools, and Katherine, supervisor of music in the York schools, were both there.

Mrs. Harry Brobst, nee Helen Lehr, a former active member, hasn't forgotten Sigma Alpha Iota either.

UPPER CLASS BOYS HAVE A DIFFICULT TIME TO DOWN FROSH

The Fresh Gym Class soccer team went down in defeat at the hands of a team composed of upper classmen Saturday afternoon. The final score was 1-0. Both teams played fast, snappy ball, and it was a very close and exciting game throughout. The upper-classmen scored the lone tally late in the first half, after taking the ball in their own territory and making a sustained rush down the field that ended in the scoring of a goal.

INTERESTING Y. M. CONFERENCE

The annual Y. M. C. A. Student-Faculty Conference will be held at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pennsylvania, on December 3, 6 and 7, 1930. The theme of the meetings will be "Finding and Sharing God," or "A Quest for Life at its Best."
The conference leaders will be: Bishop William F. McDonnell, of Washington, D. C.; Dr. Paul W. Harrison, of Arabia; President C. C. Ellis, of Juniata College, and Dr. Charles H. Corbett, of New York City.
It is the hope of the Susquehanna Y. M. C. A. that S. U. may have a large delegation at this conference. The theme seems so timely, so urgent that everyone should be vitally interested. Further information may be secured from any of the cabinet members of the local "Y."

Suibert Hall Echoes

WE'VE BEEN TOLD THAT
Daisy Reese is helping a confirmed woman hater get rid of that ugly title on last Monday night. We won't tell his name, but we hope that you'll all see who we mean.
Some of these girls who just can't seem to stand the old place when there are football trips are Lena Baird and Margaret Ide. Both of these girls left to return when the team did. By our Chronometer, they're a little late, for the team is back, but they aren't.
The stylists say that curves have come back into style. Lots of us feel too, that they can say that to their heart's content, and we won't gain a pound. Ask Mary Weavering if she believes in reducing.
This little episode happened quite a while ago, but it's worth telling. One of our new Profs was helping some group of girls get some old clothes together for a play. He called up to the dorm and asked for Miss Miller, to tell her that he was successful in procuring something. Now everyone is aware that there are four Miss Millers here. As luck would have it, the Prof got the wrong one, and one of our returning young co-eds bearing that name heard, "Miss Miller, Professor W— says that you can have his trousers." Can you imagine her state of mind? We ring down the curtain with her answer, "Wh-wh-wh-wh did you do you want to speak to?"
The Loyal Sons of Selbert had many reunions during the week—Monday night at the Star Course, Thursday night the play, and Saturday night the dance.
Leese and Jacobs suggest that hockey matches be played after rather than before the dances.

"Gratitude"
The Fresh staff understands that they have been specially favored by this year's Susquehanna staff. The reason for this favor has not been disclosed, but withal the Freshman class feels that they owe a sincere thanks to the staff for allowing the Fresh issue to come out before Thanksgiving. Other years it was the custom for the Freshman issue to be published the week before final examinations, and this necessarily forced an extra burden upon the Freshman staff. We are indeed grateful for the precedence which has been shown us in this matter and the regular staff deserves the thanks of every Freshman for this exceptional privilege. Undoubtedly this "final examination issue" of other years was put out under difficulties and with extra labor, but this year the Fresh issue was put out at a time which was more conducive to literary work. The Freshman class extends to this year's staff their hearty thanks for their thoughtfulness.

French Club Holds Initial Meeting of the Year

The French Club, under the very able direction of Miss Allison, met in the social room of Selbert Hall on Monday evening, November 17. Besides several songs by the group and the election of officers, a one-act play made the meeting complete. The Misses Plummer and Benfer and John Senko deserve much praise for the manner in which they presented the play.
The officers elected for the present year are: Beatrice DeWire, president; Margaret Fink, vice president; Sara Shulls, treasurer, and Elizabeth Vorlage, secretary. It is hoped that even more of the French students will join in making the meetings successful.

for her. She kisses him because she pities him. Father Hyacinth also kisses him because he knows how brave he is for acting so honorably toward Alexandra.
The last act takes place early the next morning. Princess Beatrice and Father Hyacinth are anxiously awaiting the arrival of Princess Maria Domonica, the mother of Prince Alex. Father Hyacinth tells Princess Maria the whole story. She is a very wise and sensible woman. She immediately tells it to the Prince who comes downstairs and apologizes to the Professor for his haughty manner and despicable conduct of the night before. The professor is going away. Prince Albert asks Alexandra to marry him. She tells him that she will marry him but that she can only respect him and does not love him. He is satisfied with that.
Eleanor Sheriff, who played the part of the maiden aunt who knew everything and took charge of everyone, pleased the audience with her remarkable ability for acting. She added a humorous version to the play and kept the audience highly amused.
"Bob" Wilson certainly did make a wonderful priest. His jovial manner seemed so natural that the audience could not help but like the play if for no other reason than that "Bob" was in it. "Bob" certainly surprised us when he entered with his priestly robes and gray hair. "Bob" never acted a part of that type before. Needless to say that he committed himself in his usual good manner.
Mary Esther Potter had a very distinctive brogue as the mother of the Prince. One could hardly realize after hearing her speak so excitedly that she was the Mary Esther that we know as being very sensible and quiet. She fitted her part well and played it with ease and comfort.
Herbert Rummel certainly made a distinctive looking Colonel. His courteous manner and dry remarks kept the audience interested in him. "Herbie" again came up to our expectations just as he did last year when he had a lead in one of the plays.
The stage and property manager was Betty Wardrop. She did some exten-

GIRLS' VARSITY TEAMS
TIE BEFORE NICE CROWD

Two varsity hockey teams, composed of girls from Miss Reeder's gym classes, battled to a 1-1 tie before a large crowd Saturday afternoon. The game was held on the girl's hockey field just before the varsity football game.

The Orange team took an early lead when Gessner, center forward, scored a goal after a steady march down the field to the line. Up to that time the play had been close and with little advantage held by either side.

Coming back fast and furious in the second half the Maroons evened things up when Shue, inside right, shot a goal from a difficult angle. It was a beautiful shot and brought the crowd to its feet. Following that the game was very even, although both goals were endangered several times.

The Freshmen had two representatives on the teams. Pauline Crowe and Edith Frankenkfield played good, consistent games for the Orange team; Miss Frankenkfield aided greatly in scoring the goal for that team, while Miss Crowe, as goalkeeper, played a splendid defensive game, blocking shots many times that looked good for goals.

The line-up:
Maroon Orange
Marvin RW Fink
Shue IR Walborn
Jones CF Gessner
Jacob IL Sheriff
Harner LW Frankenkfield
Schweitzer RH Leese
Cesnel CH Lehman
Krebs LH Lizdas
Camerer RB Carver
Keim LB Wilson

S. U. CLOSES FOOTBALL SEASON BY LOSING HARD
GAME TO P. M. C.

Warren and Britten were the two shining stars in the Cadets' lineup. It was Warren who paved the way for Andrews to crash through the line for the first touchdown early in the first period. It was Warren again who smashed his way through the Crusaders' forward defense to make the third touchdown in the early moments of the second period. Previous to this Brennan got the best of Susquehanna's bad break and blocked a punt and scored the second touchdown. Britten shone defensively, backing up the line in a splendid manner. Thwaite, star tackle of the Cadets, drew out of the line to kick from placement the three extra points, and to kick from placement a field goal. His kicking and playing the line were other features of the day.

The second bad break for Susquehanna came in the last half of the first half. Moser had plunged the line consistently along with the rest of the backfield to bring the ball to the three yard line. With less than a minute for one play the natural thing to call was a pass over the goal line. The play went through, but the pass was incomplete and the ball was given the Cadets on their own twenty as the half ended. The break was rather costly, as a touchdown was very near at hand.

Plays leaning to the spectacular were afforded the spectators by Brennan and Moser, both of whom intercepted passes and followed up their interception with long broken field runs. Incidentally, both of these plays started marches which finally ended in scores. A few minutes after Brennan speared one of S. U.'s spirals, Thwaite kicked a field goal. Following Moser's interception on his own six yard line he ran it back to the 50. From there a steady drive was launched which ended in the Crusaders' second touchdown.

S. U. overhauled the Cadets in the first down, making 20 to their opponents. They needed a fair passing attack too, completing 11 out of 26 attempts, while the military boys tried twelve and completed six. In yards gained by rushing, Susquehanna overwhelmed P. M. C. 328 to 127. Neither side made a fumble, which was very unusual, considering the cold and wind that prevailed throughout.

Susquehanna's forward wall, while penetrated easily in the first period, held like a stone wall during the remainder of the game. With P. M. C. it was just the opposite, excepting that she held for two quarters, then melted before the savage onslaught of the Crusaders' big guns.

Punting honors went to P. M. C., which had a total yardage of 364 for 8 punts, or an average of 46 yards per punt. Susquehanna had a total of 217 yards for 7 punts, or an average of 31 yards each punt. Susquehanna's winning men, however, shone above their opponents in running down with the punts. In no case did a P. M. C. man break loose for a long run after receiving a punt.

SUTABLE FOUNDERS' DAY PROGRAM RENDERED IN SELBERT HALL CHAPEL

hanna's alumni, Streamer and Otto. Dr. Smith introduced Rev. David Day Dagle, a missionary home from Africa on furlough. His topic of the morning was based on Dr. J. D. Curran, and his associations with him. Dr. Curran was loved and adored by everyone with whom he came in contact. He stressed particularly the benefit he had derived from his travels and associations with this interested worker with the African element. He gave full details of the interior work which Dr. Curran was prone to do up until his ill-fated death in September, 1930.

Prof. Stevens then rendered a very pressing solo, "My Hope is in the Everlasting." He was also accompanied by Prof. Linebaugh. His solo was so timely because it came at a time of the program when they were bringing out the faith of the founders and alumni of the institution of which we are a part.

Dr. Smith gave some very interesting as well as startling information. There are or have been four alumni of Susquehanna in the African field in recent years. They are Dr. David Day, Dr. J. D. Curran, Rev. David Day Dagle and Miss Christine Zimmerman.

The chief address of the day was given by Dr. A. Pohlman, pastor of Temple Lutheran Church, Philadelphia. Although he is not an alumnus of S. U., he said that his impression of S. U. graduates were very good since the first one he has ever come in contact with. He seemed to think that a memorial service is not crepe hanging, but rather a rejoicing to know how happy those who have gone before are. Dr. Pohlman became acquainted with S. U. students very closely while he was at Gettysburg, and he saw in them a spirit of modesty, self effacement, and of true worth. He then paid tribute to the men and women who are graduates of this institution. Piety and reverence were also seen in them, but not ignorant piety, it was rather intelligent piety. One can obtain an education anywhere, but at Susquehanna one can obtain an inspirational experience. He spoke of the beautiful life of Dr. David Day. He had been reared in the simple, plain, poverty stricken home; but the spiritual influence of home was such that when he entered S. U. he fitted exactly with the spiritual atmosphere of the college. He benefitted very much by the real and initial touch of God to the student on this campus. We live by our ideals. We do our work by the information we get, we grow and we become by the inspiration we receive. David A. Day realized this and was wonderful because of it. Dr. Curran sensed something of this when he heard also. The life of Dr. David Day speaks to us, gives us hope, and light seems to appear and to inspire the individual.

Dr. Curran was born in September, 1881, and died September, 1930. He was a man in sympathy with the student. One must have something of worth to inspire the students and to interest them. Dr. Curran was filled with spir-

ALUMNUS PUBLISHES INTERESTING BOOKLET ON "SCALP LEVEL PASTORAL"

Rev. John A. Richter, Author of Many Well Known Poems, Has Recently Compiled a Booklet on Historical Facts of "Scalp Level Pastoral"

Recently a book, entitled "The Lutheran Church Book of the Scalp Level Pastorate," edited by the pastor, the Rev. John A. Richter, has come to our desk. It is an attractive booklet of 86 pages abounding in the historical material of this parish and giving a biography of the pastors who have served the parish during the 85 years of its history, and also presenting a poem read by Rev. Richter at one of the Commencement exercises of Susquehanna University. The title of the poem is "Mother of Educated Men." On another page is given a picture of little Friedrich D. Richter, of Syracuse, N. Y. He is the grandson of Rev. Richter and the tenth month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Friedrich Richter. This little fellow drew the first prize of $100 in the $20,000 Golden Anniversary Contest in the Northeastern section of the United States, as the most attractive child. We congratulate Rev. Richter on his good work and on his grandson. Following is the poem which Rev. Richter read at one of the Commencement exercises at this University: (Poem written for and read by Rev. Richter).

"Mother of Educated Men"
Like north-born birds in springtime
Come winging in musical quest,
Back to the tree that bore them,
Back to the same old nest—
So children of Man turn homeward
To bow at their Mother's breast.

The Mother of Man is a mortal,
She lives for a few short years.
The Man walks slowly after
With flowers and crepe and tears.
But the Mother of Men lives ever
To temper a thousands careers.

Spring after spring she's younger
Her hair's more gold than gray,
Despite new countless duties
That front her every day.
Duties of life and culture,
Duties she must obey.

Her old homestead grows larger
To mother her brood of boys.
More buildings here, more campus
there,
More helpers she employs,
More laughter comes to warm her heart,
And a great deal more of noise.

New youngsters flock the classrooms,
New voices shout in the hall,
New faces brighten the campus
A crowd of them every fall.
Youngsters just in the making,
Yet sons of a mother all.

A few short years of future,
And all these boys shall be men,
Doctors, lawyers, and statesmen,
Wielders of tongue and pen.
You and I and the rest of us here
May work in a new land then.

How do I know? Why, bless you!
Our own young skins she tanned,
She opened to us books of learning,
She taught us with a firm, strong hand,
And gave us the understanding
That the battles of life demand.

Later she murmured her blessing
And marshaled us out into life,
Farewell favors she gave us,
To many she furnished a wife,
To us others she granted counsel
For use in our daily strife.

Years of that strife now are over,
Years for some forty, some, two,
Some have seen battles hotter,
Than it seemed man could come through,
But we won, and now bring the laurels back
To our College Mother, You,
Susquehanna, Alma Mater,
Thrive on year after year,
Work on and God bless you
With gladness and rarely a tear,
This is the wish of these sons of yours
From coast to coast gathered here.

Over the Crusaders' Gridiron of 1930

High Lights of the Players of the Past Season and a Resume of the Battles Fought

We cannot close the record book of the 1930 football campaign very easily without saying something of the men who represented the Orange and Maroon on the gridiron. As we close the record of 1930 we also add that nine Seniors have completed their football careers at Susquehanna and that every one of these nine worked four long hard years to represent their Alma Mater on the gridiron.

Perhaps we can consider George Moser as the bright light during the past season. Moser played his last year and during his final year scored eight of the ten touchdowns during the season. This big, husky fullback was responsible for most of the gains for the Orange and Maroon and was the most hitting fullback ever to wear the colors for the Orange and Maroon. Moser is a very clever player and one of the best defensive players on the team. We can easily say that Moser was the outstanding player on the 1930 team.

In completing the backfield we have Scott, Myers, Rishell, Sprout, Speer and Glenn. Scott was the fastest man on the team and tore off some beautiful runs, playing at the quarterback position he knew his plays and knew how to call them. Scott was playing his last year and had one of his best years in college football. Perhaps Rishell was next to Moser and Scott an outstanding player in the backfield. Rishell was playing his first year and sure showed up well. Although he did not carry the ball very much he showed up well on the defense and is fast, and good for grunts when he does carry the ball. Sprout is another hard hitting back and played at halfback position and at fullback. Sprout has one more year in college football and it sure ought to be a big one. Speer played very little this year, but is considered the best passer on the team. Myers is a fast back, and with another year of experience should prove to be a valuable man. Glenn was the booter on the team and a very good long distance punter. Glenn played halfback and quarterback positions.

On the line, perhaps Capt. Al Garmann was outstanding. Al led the Orange and Maroon two years on the field and sure made a good job of it. Al was a real fighter and put plenty of pep and spirit in his team mates. Garmann was considered one of the best in his position, being the center all his passes being good and always a hard defensive player. During the season (Concluded on Page 4)

Son of S. U. Athlete Leads State Champs

Robert Sassaman, Son of Rev. I. C. Sassaman, Susquehanna Football Star, Captain of State Champions

"Bob" Sassaman, captain of Williamsport's State Championship football team, the 1930 season, is the son of an alumnus of Susquehanna and brother of Ira Sassaman, a present senior at the University and president of the Bond and Key Club. Rev. Sassaman was at Susquehanna during 1904-05-06-07. He was very active, as well as a star, in football. During his career he played four different positions, center, fullback, right guard and right tackle. In 1906 Rev. Sassaman was captain of the Orange and Maroon eleven.

Young "Bob" seems to be a chip off the old block, as he is very active in all athletics at Williamsport High school. He is a three letter man, playing fullback on the football team and guard on the basketball team and catches on the baseball team. "Bob" is a senior in High school and last year he was captain of the basketball team.

We are expecting that he will follow the foot steps of his father and older brother and be one of Susquehanna's Freshmen on the campus next year.

Strenuous Practice Started by Cagemen

Coach Ulery is Trying to Reel Into Shape a Squad Who Under Capt. Glenn Will Meet Alumni Friday

Basketball practice got under way Thursday night when twenty candidates reported to Coach Ulery. In his list of twenty who have already reported is a large number of experienced men. Several of the last year's varsity squad have been out for football this fall and reported in fine physical condition.

Coach Ulery intends to get down to real work at once in order to put a good combination against the Alumni Friday night. After the Christmas vacation the squad will only have several days of work until they will be compelled to enter the thick of the 1931 basketball campaign. The first game after the holidays will be with Elizabethtown January 9 at home. From this date on the campaign will continue continuously with the exception of the week vacation between semesters.

Coach Ulery has started the practice sessions with the fundamental drills in basketball, together with the usual calisthenics which will whip the candidates into shape for the season. Due to the lack of time Coach Ulery has started the practice sessions off by setting a hard pace, and intends not to let up until he has his varsity combination working together.

Three varsity letter men are included in the squad of twenty that reported the first night. "Skipper" Glenn heads this list and will again lead the Orange and Maroon on the court during the coming season. Glenn plays a forward position, is a fast and "heady" player on the court. "Skipper" is also a very dangerous shot and during past seasons has started many a scoring rally which has won games. Palmer is another letterman. "Swede" jumps center and at present is the best jumper on the squad, and should prove to be a big factor on the 1931 combination. "Herby" Rummel is the other remaining letter-man. Rummel plays a forward position, is a fast man on the floor and a good shot. Rummel is another tall boy, which will greatly aid in the varsity combination.

Some of the other experienced players who reported for the squad are McGeehan, who played a good game at last year's season, but was kept out a lot on account of injuries. Kozak is another guard who has had plenty of experience. Schartz is a forward who has been on the squad for four years and should be able to produce his final year. The Worthington boys are two more forwards and Bruce had experience last year. Both are good shots. Brinninger is another forward who has had experience, playing with the Junior Varsity last year, and much can be expected from him this season.

Some of the new men who have reported are Rubis, who has already played under Coach Ulery before. Rubis is out for forward and is a good floor man and excellent shooter. Some other promising forwards are Van Nuy, Rishell, Slotterback, Hutchinson, Bernardi, Keller, and Kapic. New men who are out for the guard and center positions are Reider, Fisher and Schlegel.

SPORT BITS

Several of the football players will now be able to spend quiet week-ends in or about the "favorite rendezvous" on the campus.

Everyone wishes a hearty success to Assistant Coach Harper in his next "reat enterprise. "Lou" has made many friends while on the campus and we hope to hear much of him in later life.

Bond and Key Wins Inter-Frat Title

B. & K. Take Three Out of Three for Fraternity Championship; Phi Mu Delta Are Runners Up

The Fraternity League is over and the Bond & Key is again the champs. This season there was a change in the time of the league, and one of the most interesting parts of the sport events was rushed through in short order. This year the Bond & Key aggregation seemed to play mostly as the occasion demanded. Even in the last game of the season when the score was on the wrong side for awhile and they seemed to have one of those nights when the lid is on the basket for everyone, they came through in the last few minutes with that which was demanded. The champs up until the last game showed distinct superiority over the foes that they had met. We are not sure what happened in that last game, but it sure was a well played game for the Non-Frat boys and the Bond and Key organization couldn't get away from that jinx during the first part of the game—but they did that thing which all good teams do and came back in the second half with enough to take home the cup.

We are sorry that the league is over and that it had to be rushed through as it was. There seems to be a place here for much interest and some development of sportsmanship under favorable conditions for a basket ball league. The best we can do is to wait until next year and see who wears the crown. From the following summaries you can pick your own all-campus or sit around and play all the games over or even pick out a better team for the championship, and all we have to say now is that it was a good league with good teams, good sports.

Susquehanna University has been placed on the list of the accredited colleges of the Middle States and Maryland by the action of the association meeting at Atlantic City during the Thanksgiving recess. Notice to this effect was given by Dr. Adam Leroy Jones, chairman of the classification committee. The action of the association was announced in chapel on Thursday morning of last week by President Smith of the University. This recognition came to Susquehanna largely because of the many recent changes and improvements in buildings, grounds, catalogue, and material equipment as well as the strengthening of the faculty, library and admission requirements.

Beyond a doubt this recognition can be considered the most important achievement in the history of the institution for many years. Because Susquehanna was not listed as a Class "A" college, graduates of the institution were frequently subjected to many handicaps in the way of becoming certified to teach in the secondary schools of other States and in the way of being admitted to the foremost graduate and professional schools in the country. Only too frequently our graduates were told by the authorities of these institutions that we cannot admit you because we cannot find Susquehanna listed on the approved list of colleges. Now the diploma of Susquehanna carries weight wherever it goes because of this promotion accorded to Susquehanna.

This attainment was the outstanding goal of President Smith at the time he received the presidency of the institution more than two years ago. He fully recognized at that time that such recognition must come to Susquehanna within a few years if she was to continue to hold her rightful place in the educational world. A program was immediately gotten under way in line with the standards and requirements for such classification as set forth by the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Middle States and Maryland. Under the leadership of President with the joint cooperation of the student body, faculty and Board of Trustees, Susquehanna was placed on the approved list of colleges by the action of the association on the twenty-eighth day of November, 1930.

COME TO OUR AID

Alumni of Susquehanna University, do you know what your Alma Mater has done since you left school? Do you know what she has in store for the future? Do you know where your class mates are and what they are doing? Have you heard the honor which has come to Susquehanna? Probably you have heard none of these simply because you do not receive "THE SUSQUEHANNA," which carries the latest school news.

Several years ago "THE SUSQUEHANNA" went on the rocks for want of finances. Last year the students came to its aid and by special assessment put it back on its feet again. This year the depression has affected its hard, advertising is scarce and hard to get, therefore we are pleading to you as Alumni, who should have the interests of your institution at heart, to help us through subscription to the paper. The Staff is sure that the benefit you will receive from it will be worth several times the price of the paper. Send us news of yourself and fellow Alumni and we shall be glad to publish it.

The season is here for good cheer, so take the small amount of your Christmas money required and treat yourself to an enlightening present. Below you will find a blank which, if filled out and returned to the Business Manager, will bring your paper to you weekly.

RUSHING

Every year, in every college that has clubs, whether they be Greek letter organizations or not, the subject of rushing is given a great deal of thought and a great deal of attention. The subject is not neglected here at Susquehanna.

At most colleges rushing is intensive as soon as school begins in the fall. Here we have the saving grace of having it postponed until the latter part of the first semester, letting the student become settled and acquainted long enough before he decides which group he desires to become affiliated with.

However, as soon as the new students arrive, they are appraised as likely material for the various fraternities and fraternities. This is but a natural state of affairs. Every group wants its quota of good students, clever athletes, and even social lights are not forgotten.

The next step is getting next to the student selected, and finding out how the chances are for becoming his pal, or in the case of a girl, her confident. Then everything done by the newcomer is applauded by the "brother" or "sister;" the most commonplace remarks are received as the exclamations of a genius, and we soon have as pretty a case of swelled head as can be seen anywhere, including the Scandinavian. This is especially true when rival groups both pull the newcomer around.

The Intersorority and Interfraternity Councils at Susquehanna got together a few years ago, and drew up a set of rules to govern this matter. It forbade the continual badgering of the new students by the representatives of the several groups, it set aside a certain period to be known as rushing season. We were credulous enough to think that this would work. Now we ask ourselves, has it worked? The answer, to anyone the least bit observant, is obvious.

This article is directed to the new students. The writer hopes that they will take into account the things which have been said and will look deep into the close friendships they have formed with upperclassmen and women since their arrival. Do these seem genuine? Ask yourselves why it is that various men and women of the societies represented on our campus seek you out. Put your conceit and pride out of the question. You will know, if you are really serious, that you are not so different from the rest of the students who have come here since the institution has been in existence, that you would be sought out so persistently. When the time comes for pledging, ask yourself which group you belong in; there is nothing more pathetic than the girl or man who has joined the wrong crowd. Remember that this perpetual admiration which is yours during rushing will not last.

The sorority or fraternity who deliberately breaks the rushing rules that members of their own group helped to draw should be the one that the new comer should avoid. You new students may be of service to the groups who have been abiding by the rules by not allowing yourselves to be swept along by girls or men whose main object is getting new material.

Bear this in mind constantly as rushing season approaches. Look beneath the surface and then choose, but not before!

Scibert Hall Echoes

HAVE YOU HEARD THAT:

Hazelton was quite a vacation resort over the Thanksgiving Recess. Students from Susquehanna just flocked there to inhale its balmy air, and partake of its cordial hospitality.

Inez Sarver is the authority in Scibert Hall on the subject of C. M. T. C. We wonder if she can also give any pointers on spring track training. Certainly Bill Swann, you haven't forgotten that!

Sarah Rhoads surprised one of our new Profs. one day, by saying as she passed, "Hello, Tucker." Poor Sarah was pretty well taken aback also, for she had intended to add the title, but a slip of the tongue caused the error. We would advise Sarah to keep away from the Latin Department.

We hereby present for your approval some famous Last Words:
 Ruth Jacobs: "If I don't get a letter—"
 Estella Pearl: "If I could only do this Greek!"

Lena Baird: "Oh, this Plant Biology—!"

Marie Miller: "Oh! This Ancient History—!"

Barbara Jones: "If school consisted only of basketball!"

"Ginny" Andrews: "Whatcha gonna wear, Dot?"

Sally Shaulls: "Who's goin' downtown?"

Mary Weaverling: "I'm SO busy—!"

Louise Miller: "What did you say?"

Ethlyne Miller: "Report for a demerit!"

SPORT BITS

Football has now slid into the past and we will now be interested in basketball for the next several months.

We all realize that those nine Seniors who played their last game for Susquehanna against P. M. C. will be missing many "happy moments" of football practice during the afternoons.

Several of the boys are getting very little rest between the two sports.

It might be of interest to readers of

The Susquehanna, if a "board of strategy" would get together and select an All-Opponent Team.

"Chesty" Myers has been one of the later additions to the guest book.

Wednesday and Thursday, December 17 and 18, "Remote Control," with William Haines, Mary Moran and Charles King. Story of a broadcasting studio.

Saturday, December 20, "Up the River," with Spencer Tracy, Claire Luce and Warren Hymer. St. Louis and Dannemora Dan are pals—as long as both are getting the benefits of their friendship. Jail to them, is a vacation because of their ability to break out of, and into, any penitentiary at will.

The new G-E low-grid-current Pliotron tube capable of measuring a current as small as 10⁻¹⁰ ampere

This Little Tube Measures Stars Centuries of Light Years Distant

BY MEANS of a new vacuum tube called a low-grid-current Pliotron tube, astronomers can gather the facts of stellar news with greater speed and accuracy. In conjunction with a photoelectric tube, it will help render information on the amount of light radiation and position of stars centuries of light years away. It is further applicable to such laboratory uses as demand the most delicate measurement of electric current.

So sensitive is this tube that it can measure 0.000,000,000,000,000,01 of an ampere, or, one-hundredth of a millionth of a billionth of an ampere. This amount of current, compared with that of a 50-watt incandescent lamp, is as two drops of water compared with the entire volume of water spilled over Niagara Falls in a year.

General Electric leadership in the development of vacuum tubes has largely been maintained by college-trained men, just as college-trained men are largely responsible for the impressive progress made by General Electric in other fields of research and engineering.

Vocational Survey of Susquehanna University Alumni

A search through the alumni files has shown that about 1442 of the S. U. graduates have reported their present occupations to the alumni office. The addresses are the only data obtained from several hundred, so the following statistics are not as accurate as they might have been if all had responded. These 1442 include graduates mostly since the year 1879. Very little material is available from the time of the first graduating class from Missionary Institute in 1859 until the year 1879.

The largest number doing any one work is the 533 who have chosen the educational field. This includes 33 college teachers, 386 high school or elementary school teachers, 51 principals, 32 supervising principals, 10 city superintendents, 8 athletic coaches or physical directors, 11 teaching and coaching, 4 county superintendents.

Ministers and missionaries claim the next largest number and we find 320 following this work.

Some, after following different vocations for several years, have married and we find 234 housewives.

Those who have entered the medical field number 49, including 6 nurses, 11 dentists, 1 druggist and 31 physicians.

46 have chosen to enter higher schools of learning and are studying for the ministry, law, medicine or other professions.

Fourteen, after attending law schools, have been admitted to the bar and are now practicing successfully.

The business world claims 14, including bookkeepers, stenographers and secretaries.

There are 9 retired, 5 farmers, 4 chemists and 4 authors and publishers.

Several vocations seem to have been less popular among our grads and there have been 110 placed in the list of miscellaneous which includes merchants, salesmen, laborers, manufacturers, editors, and those in all different fields of work.

The above record is the most official we can obtain, and although it does not include every alumni, it gives us a fair idea of the proportion of our alumni in different vocations at the present time.

Oldest Regular Reader of The Susquehanna Will Celebrate His 92nd Birthday in Short Time

The Susquehanna alumni congratulations to one of its oldest surviving alumni, Rev. W. R. Wicand, D.D., of Altoona, who will observe his 92nd birthday on December 17. Dr. Wicand completed his work in Missionary Institute in 1873 and received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Susquehanna in 1911.

Although Dr. Wicand is one of the oldest alumni still living, he continues his interest in his Alma Mater. He keeps in close touch with the alumni office and has always been a regular reader of The Susquehanna.

Dr. Wicand's son, Rev. H. E. Wicand, D.D., pastor of Zion Lutheran Church of Lancaster, is a member of the Board of Directors of Susquehanna University.

Alumna Author of Books on Relation Between Spain and America

Miss Lillian Estelle Fisher, '12, has resumed her position as professor of history in the Oklahoma College for Women at Chickasha, Oklahoma, after spending a year in Seville, Spain, where she was gathering material for her next book on "Fundamentals of Mexican Independence."

Miss Fisher received her Ph.D. from the University of California in 1920, and since then has spent much of her time in Spain in order to get first hand material for the books which she writes on the Spanish-American relations. She is the author also of a book concerning the administration in Spanish-American colonies.

While Miss Fisher was in Spain she held a scholarship given by the Spanish government for research in Spanish-American history. Miss Fisher was the first holder of this scholarship.

The Phi Mu boys failed to click in time as the more experienced combination was dropping the ball through the loops. OVER THE CRUSADERS GRIDIRON OF 1930

(Continued from Page 1) At had to be taken out quite a few times on account of injuries. At the guard positions we had Auchmuty, who was playing his third year of varsity football, and Witkop, who was playing his first year with the varsity. Both these men were very consistent players, both on the defense and offense. Auchmuty is considered a pretty good sized guard and is a hard tackler. During the past three years he has missed only several minutes of play, his freshman year playing every minute during the season. Both these boys have another year and it should be a good one.

At tackle, we had Joe Winters. Hudkins and Extrom. All of these boys are big and hard workers. Joe Winters was the biggest man on the squad and considered a lower of strength on the line. Joe was playing his last year. Hudkins was playing his first year of varsity ball and certainly showed up well, this was also his last year. Extrom, the big boy from Emporium, has two more years, and should have things well in hand by the time he is a Senior. This was Extrom's first year with the varsity.

Speigelmeyer, Adams, and Rummel held down the wing positions during the greater part of the year, due to injuries received by Wolfe and Barber, regular ends. Perhaps Speigelmeyer has been the most developed player on the line. Speigelmeyer is slightly handicapped with weight, but has proven that he deserves a place on the varsity. He is a good pass snatcher and a good defensive player. Adams is a real fighter and has held his position down well during the year. Rummel came out late in the season and was seen in action several times. All of these boys have another year and should be going well next year.

There were several promising players on the second team who had little chance to display their wares during the past season, but should be valuable in coming years. VanNuis is a quarterback who is plenty fast and knows how to carry a football and pass one. Fisher should hold down the varsity center position in coming years. Ted Poulitz is another backfield man who should be able to display his worth in coming years. Ted knows how to carry the ball, is a hard line-smasher, and should be good for many gains next year.

Susquehanna 7-Juniata 13, Susquehanna 13-Washington 0, Susquehanna 13-P. M. C. 24. The Crusaders just finished their 1930 campaign, but has a record marred with defeats. The season cannot be called successful very easily, but on the other hand we can not call it unsuccessful either. The Orange and Maroon went down in defeat on four different occasions, tied two and won two games.

This much can be said of the 1930 season, that the boys played some good football on different occasions and that Coaches Ullery and Harper did their best with material at hand to put a winning combination on the gridiron. The season started out with a bang, and the boys showed up splendidly against Wagner, but with the very next game the team failed to come through with the extra punch when the Orange and Maroon were down on their opponent's goal line. Anyone who saw the Haverford game would admit that the Orange and Maroon completely outplayed their opponents and should have had touchdowns.

Without trying to find alibies, we can very easily say that we had a chance to win every game on the 1930 card, and the only tough opponent we would have encountered would have been Ursinus, who was rated high in football this fall. During the season we outplayed all our opponents with the exception of Ursinus, and again with the exception of the Ursinus game we outnumbered our opponents in first downs. One of the hardest games for a football team to lose was the game played at Alfred. On the opening play of the game Alfred made a long run, which netted them a touchdown, but after this they were completely outplayed by the Orange and Maroon. They were outnumbered in first downs by the overwhelming number of 26-3. Their three came in the first quarter. When a team loses a game such as this one it is really tough.

Coach Ullery worked hard with the boys during the entire year and tried hard, as said before, to place a winning team on the gridiron. He also had a very capable assistant, Lou Harper, who drilled the line. Both coaches deserve much credit for what they did in their attempt to create a winning combination.

S. U. Cagers Defeat Elizabethtown, 31-21

Orange and Maroon Opened Collegiate Competition With Victory Friday Night; Rubis Led the Scoring

Susquehanna won its opening game in collegiate basketball competition when it defeated Elizabethtown College by the score of 31-21 last Friday night in the Alumni gymnasium.

Altho it was the first test for the Orange and Maroon five, the Susquehanna combination did not show the class that was expected of it. It flashed forth brilliantly during the first half, displaying mid-season form, but fell down during the last period of play to such an extent that the visitors several times threatened to tie the score.

However, the Susquehanna machine deserves credit for the brand of ball it displayed during the initial part of the game. Elizabethtown was outplayed to the extent that it scored its first point within three minutes of play left in the first half. At that time Susquehanna had already tallied fifteen points. The guarding of the Orange and Maroon eleven was especially brilliant during this half and stood far above its offensive work. The visitors rarely worked the ball past the center of the court and found the cords but once.

Elizabethtown came out strong during the second half and outscored the Orange and Maroon quintet. The local team seemed to completely lose its former punch and the visitors continued to throw in baskets until the Susquehanna lead was dangerously threatened. A last minute spurt with baskets by Rubis and Rummel gave a winning margin of ten points.

The outstanding feature of the game was the fine shooting of Lauer, who was mainly responsible for the Elizabethtown rally. Hackman did the best work on the defense.

The playing of Captain Glenn and McGeehan was most praiseworthy for Susquehanna. Their most brilliant work was during the first half, when they were mainly responsible for holding Elizabethtown to three points. At the forward positions Rummel and Rubis came thru in the pinches while Palmer played his usual steady game at center. Lineup:

Elizabethtown—21 Susquehanna—31
White forward Rubis
Bucher forward Rummel
Crouthamel center Palmer
Shield guard McGeehan
Hackman guard Glenn
Substitutions: Elizabethtown—Lauer for Bucher, Dieter for Shield; Susquehanna—VanNuy for Rummel, Fisher for Palmer and Kozak for McGeehan.

Field goals: Bucher 2, Lauer 3, Shield 2, Rubis 4, Rummel 2, VanNuy 2, Palmer 2, Glenn 3.
Foul goals: Lauer 4x5, Shield 1x2, Dieter 1x2, Hackman 1x1, Rubis 0x2, Rummel 3x4, Palmer 0x2, McGeehan 1x2, Glenn 1x3.
Referee—Quay.

Seniors and Juniors Win First Two of Inter-Class Tilts

A strong Senior team defeated the "Fighting Parsons" in the opener of the Inter-Class League by the score of 30-23. Paralis clicked brilliantly for Coach Scharfe's team, chalking up thirteen points, Harvey coming next with seven. Bingaman and Rhoads were high scorers for the ministers. Lineup:

Friday Nite Opened Inter-Class Boxing

Four Closely Contested Three Round Bouts Opened Susquehanna's Season of Boxing

Inter-Class Boxing was resumed Friday night after the basketball game with Elizabethtown. Four interesting bouts were put on and by the start of things spectators are liable to see some "real stuff" before the year is over.

Each bout consisted of three two-minute rounds and the bouts were officiated by Bill Herman.

The first bout was between Mentzer Watts and Freddie Carl in the 120-pound class. This was a clever exhibition of good boxing with Carl leading most of the bout and taking the final decision.

Schiffstall outpointed Gray of the Freshman class in the 135 pound group. This was not as good boxing as the first bout, but hard blows were exchanged.

Johnny Myers outfought Geiswelt in the 155 pound class. Both fighters were mixing it up a bit in this fight and it can be classed as the outstanding fight of the evening.

Harold Kramer exchanged blows with Al Myer, another Freshman, in the 170-pound class. Myer seemed to be an easy mark for Kramer's blows and was outfought the three rounds.

Alumni are Defeated by Crusader Quintet

Captain Glenn and Rummel Tally 12 Points Apiece; Old Grads Show Lasting Form and Condition

Susquehanna opened her basketball season by defeating the Alumni 33-28 in their annual contest. The Crusaders led the Orange and Maroon 18-9 at half time. We may call the game a wierd contest, but it was no test of the real strength of the Orange and Maroon varsity.

Many of the old Alumni were back to witness the game and many new acquaintances were made and many a memory was refreshed. Luke Rhoads was the latest addition to the Alumni circles to play in the contest, while Rowicz and Thomas were perhaps the oldest members of the Alumni. Rogle again proved to be the star of the game as usual. We will remember him as being one of Susquehanna's greatest athletes, participating in all sports.

Rogle started the scoring for the Alumni when he was given a technical foul to shoot, after one had been called because of coaching from the floor. Thomas then scored the first field goal and Rogle again followed with several in addition.

Coach Ullery started his second five and they played for the first seven minutes and at that time the score stood 12-0 in favor of the Alumni, when the first team entered the game. During the first half the boys were trying to play basketball, but the Alumni got the breaks because a member of that group happened to be officiating the game. During the second half the Varsity started to play the Alumni's type of ball and at the same time running the score up until when the final whistle blew the score stood 33-28.

Captain Glenn and Rummel led the Crusaders in scoring with a total of twelve points apiece. Each tipped six field goals thru the nets to make these totals. McGeehan played a good game at guard, playing a good defensive game.

Rogle led in scoring honors for the Alumni with seven points. Thomas had six points and Rhoads five points.

Shakespearean Plays to be Presented Sat.

Sir Phillip Ben Greet and Brilliant Cast of English Players Will Present "Twelfth Night" and "Hamlet"

Susquehanna University is fortunate in being able to offer to the student body and the community Sir Phillip Ben Greet, eminent English actor and producer, and the Ben Greet players in two Shakespearean plays "Hamlet" and "Twelfth Night."

"This famous group of Shakespearean players will present "Twelfth Night" Saturday afternoon, January 17 at 2:15 o'clock, and "Hamlet" in the evening at 8:15 o'clock.

SIR PHILLIP BEN GREET

Sir Phillip Ben Greet and his brilliant cast of English players are returning to America by insistent demand of leading universities and cities that had them last season and those that wanted them but were unable to secure them last season.

The 1929-30 transcontinental tour was an outstanding success. Universities like Columbia, Brown, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, and cities as Brooklyn, Boston, Richmond, St. Louis, Des Moines, Omaha, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle acclaimed them. They have what most productions lack—the magnetic power of drawing crowds.

Sir Phillip has been on the stage fifty years and has taught more actors than any other living man. He is world famous as one of the greatest living authorities on the English drama. His Shakespearean productions have set the standard both in England and America. In recognition of a life devoted to the cause of drama in education he was knighted by King George V of England, June, 1929.

When he presented "Everyman" in America, under the management of Charles Frohman, it was the first time a play had been offered in this country by a professional company, in the Elizabethan manner. The Ben Greet Players gave a season at the Garden Theatre, New York City, covered nearly 200 performances. They have visited all the leading American Universities many times.

Sir Phillip Ben Greet creates an essential atmosphere of medieval reverence. Nothing detracts from the play's significance. His only modifications of the true Elizabethan manner is in the use of richer and more elaborate hangings than were employed in the Elizabethan days. The simplicity of his productions is based on the theory that the stage should stimulate and inspire rather than relieve the imagination.

Sir Phillip has schooled his actors in the forgotten art of speaking words. When his actors speak, it is easy to understand the words and sense of what is spoken.

Phi Lambda Theta is Host of Conclave

Tenth Annual Conclave Held at the Susquehanna Chapter House During the Christmas Holidays

Epsilon Chapter of Phi Lambda Theta Fraternity, located at Susquehanna University, was the host to delegates from each of its five chapters at the Tenth Annual Conclave held December 29 and 30 at Selinsgrove.

This conclave brings much distinction and honor to Susquehanna Chapter and to the University, because it is the first conclave held at the local chapter and brought to the campus a group of thirty-five delegates from the various chapters of the National.

The members of the Epsilon Chapter arranged a very clever and enjoyable program to entertain their guests apart from the business routine, which took up most of the time.

A smoker was held in the Chapter House on Monday evening as the first social event of the Conclave, at which the guests enjoyed an evening of real fellowship.

The Conclave drew to a close Tuesday evening, December the 30th with a formal banquet at the Chapter House. Walter Foulkrod, president of Epsilon Chapter, serving as the chairman of the entertainment committee, acted as (Concluded on Page 4)

Susquehanna Five to Take Three-Day Trip

The Crusaders Will Meet Delaware, LaSalle and Ursinus in Their Tilt Over Week-end

With the first real victory tucked under their belt the Crusaders will journey to Delaware on Tuesday, the following day to LaSalle and end the trip with a game with Ursinus Saturday night.

Three games would be surely scored away in the form of victories the Orange and Maroon would be safely on the way to the best season they have ever enjoyed in basketball.

During the few remaining days there will be several stiff practice sessions in store for the courtmen. Coach Ullery will make an effort to perfect some clever and deceiving plays for his floor-men. On the whole the team showed up well in the Elizabethtown game considering the practice the team had before hand and it may be assumed that the team will grow much stronger as the 1931 season grows older.

Little is known of the teams which the Crusaders are to meet at the end of the week. Delaware has had some success in the past season and LaSalle is a very strong team and will be represented by a basketball team for the first time.

Ursinus already has several victories chalked up on their record. Ursinus also defeated the Orange and Maroon last season by the score 43-38, and with all indications it will be another real battle this year.

LITTSBURGH ALUMNI HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

The members of the Pittsburgh Alumni Association held their annual banquet at the Fort Pitt Hotel recently and renewed old acquaintances. The attendance was larger than usual, and the spirit of friendliness and hospitality seemed to prevail. The members were pleased to have Dr. G. Morris Smith present the main address of the evening. His enthusiasm and hearty interest in Susquehanna was contagious and it aroused in us a new and deeper feeling for our Alma Mater.

Reverend Haeger, newly elected president of the Pittsburgh Synod, praised small colleges and universities, and told of the days he and Dr. Smith spent together in seminary. Two new members were initiated into the "Royal Order"—Elizabeth Watkins and Robert Hostetter. Bob gave a little extemporaneous speech and made good use of his ability to make people laugh. The evening reached the climax in a cheer for Susquehanna and Dr. Smith.

Susquehanna Names All-Opponent Eleven

Judging from the Merits of the Members of the Crusaders' Opponents We Have Chosen The Team

Servatius, Alfred F. E. Morris, Haton

After the All American Board of Football has picked another great All-American Eleven, and many other All-Conference and All-Opponent teams have been chosen by competent judges of athletic talents, another competent group of football judges have decided on a Susquehanna All-Opponent team.

During the past season the Crusaders have met and competed with some splendid football talent and this group of eridion judges have tried to pick up the best of each of Susquehanna's opponents. This team looks splendid on paper and do doubt if these same men would have a chance to play together they would be able to do wonders.

Ursinus has been given the greatest number of choices on this team and there is no doubt that Ursinus was the best eleven that the Crusaders met during the past season. Ursinus was given three places on the first team and four places on the second team. P. M. C., Hamilton and Alfred each have two men filling positions on the first team, with others filling berths on the second team.

It seems that the ends that Susquehanna has played against have been considered very strong. Laver and Perrone have been given the choice of the wing position. Laver of P. M. C. has been a veteran opponent of the Crusaders and reached his peak of playing ability by the 1930 campaign. This big fellow has been the backbone and inspiration of his team during the past season. He was the best defensive end of the Orange and Maroon has played against this year and we will all remember the kick he blocked on University Field. His versatility has given him service at end, tackle and in the backfield. Laver is considered a good placement kicker and also "has talent as a kicker too" the field.

The other wing position goes to Perrone of Alfred. Perrone is a great defensive and offensive player and is considered a good pass snatcher, as no one has been able to surpass him throughout the year. He has no apparent weakness at the wing position and no doubt was a big factor in Alfred's freak victory over Susquehanna. The two other end positions go to Coble of Ursinus and Carl of Hamilton. President Smith Gives Fine Address in First Chapel of New Year

The first chapel period following Christmas vacation was marked by a special talk by President Smith. On Tuesday morning at this initial service he brought out some very significant facts and truths in his usual emphatic and delightful manner. He dealt definitely with the tests and trials with which we come in contact during the span of human life. No person can achieve usefulness in its most static meaning until he passes a certain set group of tests and trials.

The discussion was started by a fine example of Christ when he was subjected to numerous temptations by the devil. After forty days of fasting in the wilderness Christ was met by the devil and many temptations were cast in his path. These trials He overcame with sincerity and strength and with the utmost power cast the tempter from Him. Then the speaker gave some illustrations which the Apostle James gives in his writings. James said that when you fall into trials and tests meet them with rejoicing. Every trial should be faced with courage and preparedness. A faith in God is necessary for all the ordinary trials of man.

The next phase in his speech brought us directly down to the present and he (Concluded on Page 4)

BLACKLISTED PROFESSORS

Four Mississippi State institutions of higher learning from which Governor Theodore Gilmore Bilbo dismissed 179 faculty members and officials last summer were blacklisted by the American Association of University Professors, in session at Cincinnati, Ohio, during the holidays.

This latest attack on the Mississippi governor, who is accumulating for himself and his State the hostility of a large group of American educational and professional societies, was formulated by a special investigating committee of the professors' organization.

The institutions affected by the association's edict are the University of Mississippi, the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College, the Mississippi State College for Women, and the Mississippi State Teachers College.

The passage of the resolution means, according to Prof. H. W. Tyler, of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, general secretary of the A. A. U. P., that so far as the association is concerned, the four Mississippi State institutions will no longer exist as valid institutions of higher learning. Members of the association now teaching in those schools will not lose their membership in the organization, he said, but will be placed on the association's list of members who are no longer engaged in active teaching. Any member who accepts a position in one of the four schools will lose his membership in the association, under the rules.

Governor Bilbo's action is regarded by most of the societies connected with teaching as one of the "most audacious examples of the usurpation of academic tenure in this country's history," officials of the A. A. U. P. said.

While in session here the professors read an Associated Press dispatch quoting the Mississippi governor as declaring that the societies which are blacklisting the State institutions are "being misled by political propaganda against me."

A recent demonstration against the governor was put on by more than 200 students of the University of Mississippi, who have lost their academic standing in other colleges and graduate schools because of the affair. They burned Bilbo's effigy.

County Fair Takes New Jersey Post After Beaver Springs Charge

At the annual fair, 17-20-27, for the 25th year, at the Pavilion of the Beaver Springs Convention Office, announced the local fair, and left the Beaver Springs fair in charge of the fair at Jersey.

Mr. Rine is a graduate of Susquehanna University and its Theological Seminary. His first charge following graduation was as Ambler near Philadelphia. The Beaver Springs parish has been Rev. Announcement Made of Grad Who Was Married Five Months Ago

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Pearl Radel and Leon A. Burke. The ceremony was performed as July by the Rev. Joseph E. Law, a William port and came as a surprise to their many friends.

Mr. Burke is a graduate of the Susquehanna University and Bloomburg State Teachers College. For the past year he has been a teacher at the Susquehanna State School.

Mr. Burke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Burke of Selinsgrove. He was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1928. He is now a member of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania.

Wedding—Surprise to Friend

Everyone was surprised when Professor Donald Hemphill of the Conservatory of Music, returned to the campus after the Holidays and announced his marriage to Miss Margaret Morning of Hanover. Professor Hemphill is beginning his fourth year on Susquehanna's campus as instructor of violin. Mrs. Hemphill was graduated from the Conservatory in 1928, and is a sister of Miss Kathryn Morning, who was graduated last year.

Last Saturday evening the faculty of the Conservatory of Music gave a dinner and kitchen shower in Sunbury for the couple.

Dorothy Goff Speaker at Meeting

Miss Dorothy Goff, '28, was the principal speaker at a recent meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Selinsgrove. Miss Goff gave some interesting instances of her summer trip to Europe. She spoke at length of the Passion Play and many other humorous and delightful happenings while she was touring with her father and a party of friends. This is one of the first public appearances of Miss Goff since her trip to Europe and it was very well told and illustrated with a few photographs taken during the three months trip.

Miss Goff is teaching mathematics in the Selinsgrove High School. She has held this position since her graduation from S. U.

Sympathy

The Susquehanna extends sympathy to S. Bruce Burkhardt, '22, in the loss of his wife, who died on December 19, 1930.

Ex-Sunbury Physician Married

Sunbury friends were surprised recently to learn of the marriage of Dr. Fredrick C. Zillessen, former young Sunbury medical practitioner, to Miss Helen Lundahl, of Rochester, Minnesota, which took place June 28, 1930. This marriage was revealed by Mrs. Freda Zillessen upon her return from a holiday visit with the newweds. Mrs. Zillessen knew nothing of her son's marriage until she was greeted in Rochester by her son and his bride.

At the present time Dr. Zillessen is engaged in directing the erection of a laboratory in the St. Agnes Hospital at Selinsgrove. Dr. Zillessen will be spending the year in that time he expects to be recalled to the work of the Mayo Clinic in which he was first engaged. For the past two years Dr. Zillessen has been connected with the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, after leaving a large practice in Sunbury.

Dr. Zillessen is a graduate of Sunbury High School in the class of 1920. He took his pre-medical course at Susquehanna and received his B. S. degree in '24. He was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1926.

Mrs. Zillessen is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lundahl of Rochester, Minnesota, and she is engaged as laboratory technician at the Mayo Clinic.

Church Aids Unemployed

In an effort to aid the unemployed population locally, the members of St. John's Congregation of Tanamaque voted to proceed with their building program during the holidays instead of waiting until spring, the time planned to start the work. The estimated cost of the remodeling calls for an expenditure of $25,000, and local labor will be used wherever possible. The Rev. Earl Mohney, '17, '22 is pastor of the church.

Grad Reaches 92nd Birthday

Rev. W. R. Wiwand, retired Lutheran minister of Altoona, who attended Missionary Institute and completed his course in the seminary in 1873, last month celebrated his 92nd birthday anniversary. According to his own wish, the anniversary was celebrated very quietly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. M. Lawver, with whom Rev. Wiwand is living. In spite of his age, Rev. Wiwand is in good health, able to be outdoors at will, and has kept intellectual faculties.

A short account of his life follows, which was taken from a sketch written by himself.

Rev. Wiwand was born on December 17, 1838, in Berks county, Pa. After spending 18 years on a farm, he followed a number of occupations, including teaching, commercial work, and almsmanship until 1870 when he moved to Selinsgrove. After his ordination in 1873, he served as pastor of the Adoration of the Redeemer, and of the Methodist churches, and as steward of the theological seminary at Gettysburg. Several times his health failed, compelling him to resign for the time and resume his work later. He carried on a general store with his son-in-law, but physical infirmities caused him to hand all over to his son-in-law. He spent twelve seasons in Florida, California, LaJolla and Los Angeles, then turned to Pennsylvania and has since been making his home with his daughter in Altoona.

Rev. Wiwand also has one son, the Rev. Henry Eugene Wiwand, Ph.D., D.D., of Lancaster.

Holds Successful Rally

Christ Church, of Birmingham, Ala., held a successful rally on November 30. The rally signaled the third anniversary of the work of the pastor, Dr. Sanford N. Carpenter. During these three years of ministry the membership of the church has doubled.

At a service ten men of the congregation successfully rendered a playlet entitled "Armageddon," composed and arranged by the pastor. A large audience viewed the play. There were many requests for its repetition.

The congregation is growing in attendance and interest in spite of the adverse economic conditions of the past year.

Dr. Carpenter was graduated from the college department of S. U. in '98, from the seminary in '01, and received his D.D. in '17. For a number of years Dr. Carpenter was a member of the Board of Directors of Susquehanna.

Wayne Daubenspeck Installed as Pastor in Nebraska

The Rev. Wayne M. Daubenspeck, who was graduated from the seminary last year, was installed pastor of the Oshkosh-Lewellen, Nebraska, parish by Dr. W. I. Guss, president of the Synod of Nebraska. He is doing a good work in this field and is highly esteemed.

Rev. Daubenspeck is the holder of the Susquehanna record in Javelin. He was a varsity football player while in college and assistant football coach in 1928 and 1929.

Wife of Grad Elected Chairman at Mission Meeting

Mrs. W. E. Crouser, who so successfully guided the 1930 session of the Mount Hermon Federate School of Missions, was unanimously re-elected chairman at the regular annual meeting.

Mrs. Crouser is the wife of Rev. W. E. Crouser of the Grace Lutheran Church, of San Jose, California, who received his A. B. degree from S. U. in 1894.

Death of Graduate

Word has been received from Miss Jessie G. Myers of Gettysburg, concerning the death of her uncle, Rev. John Luther Kistler, who was graduated from Missionary Institute in 1869.

Rev. Kistler was professor of Greek and mathematics at Hartwick Seminary, N. Y., for forty-four years from 1876 to 1920. He had lived retired for the last ten years with his niece, Miss Myers. Miss Myers tells us that Rev. Kistler had a great affection for Susquehanna and often spoke of the time he was here.

Couple Celebrate Joint Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Schroyer, of Selinsgrove, quietly celebrated their birthday anniversaries last Monday. The couple have not only the same day of birth, but also the same year. Mr. Schroyer is a graduate of the class of '86 and is now engaged in the insurance business.

Attend State Gross Session

Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Gross, of Beavertown, attended the State Gross session held in Pottsville. Mr. Gross, who is master of the Beavertown Grange, is an alumnus of the class of '15.

Siebert Hall Echoes

WE'VE BEEN TOLD THAT—Daisy Reese has been the undoing of that famous little man later that we've told you about. We can't say that we blame Johnny a bit!

From personal observation we are here to say that when it comes to fashions in evening clothes, Susquehanna women are right in the money. The very latest in all styles was very much in evidence at the dance on Saturday. The long glove mode has reached its peak here. Long white gloves laced honers with several other colors. There mitts were also worn by quite a few of our girls. Materials in dresses were varied. Satin, taffeta, chiffon and lace were all seen. The consensus of opinion was that one would have had to go a long distance to find a more attractively dressed crowd.

The Siebert 'Hall Editor takes this opportunity to make an appeal for a globe to shade the electric light bulb over the door of the girls' dormitory. When that light first made its appearance there was a little shade over it. This was broken somehow. It does not take much attention to decide that that unshaded light is an eyesore. In the evening, with all the windows giving forth a pretty glow Siebert Hall is, to anyone who may be passing, a splendid sight, but that glaring bulb over the door spoils the picture completely. Let's have some kind of a little shade. What do you say to that suggestion? Let's make this an open forum, anyone who has any HELPFUL suggestions send 'em in. We're sure that the people in charge won't mind.

DOUBT IT OR NOT

This column did not lack material the last few issues, but it was forced to give way to more vital news, which took place about the campus.

"Stay as long as you like and take out all you can carry" at one time in my distant past used to be the familiar slogan of the "barkers" in the medicine shows but it seems to me the scene has shifted to Horton Dining Hall.

With all the plays that are scheduled for this coming year I doubt whether S. U. will have a great number of its students back next year. My reason: Flo Zeigfeld will be needing a few new faces for the theatergoers next season.

Do you know that the food wasted at the average meal would be enough to feed the people that are in need in America and one-half of Dogtown?

Hubbard has invented a helpful device for hitch hikers. It consists of an illuminated glove for night hikers. Hubbard discovered that he could not be seen so well in the dark regardless of his shining personality.

Most of the students wished that there was no vacation at Xmas, for they feel that they are not getting their money's worth. The rest of the institution disagrees and holds that vacations should start at the beginning of the week rather than the middle.

Measures should be taken so that the Freshmen boys could learn a few minor steps in the art of dancing, for in two years some of them will be forced to buy Prom tickets. In their present state the ticket will be but a piece of cardboard. Do you know that seventy-five per cent of them do not know a pivot from a shuffle, except those out for basketball?

JAY VEES PLAY IN PRELIMINARY GAME

Due to the failure of the Danville Y. M. C. A. to show up Friday evening two teams were picked from the Junior Varsity and this game was substituted for the Y. M. C. A. game. The Whites defeated the Red 28-24 in a thrilling contest with an extra period.

The Whites were leading up until the last couple of minutes, when Kopic came through with several nice field goals, tying the score at 24. An extra period of four minutes was played and B. Worthington and Keller buried the field goals, which gave their team the victory.

B. Worthington had a good night and led the winners with fifteen points. Kopic was the big shot for the losers, bagging eleven points. Lineup:

By action taken by the Athletic Board, the 1931 football schedule has been slightly changed. The game with Alfred, which was to be played on University Field, October 17th, has been moved to Alfred. In all probability this game will be played at night. We will remember that the Crusaders played there during the past season under lights and before the largest crowd of the year.

With this change there will only be three home games remaining on the schedule, the home games being Haverford, Hamilton and Washington.

Johnny: "Heart failure, marm."

A Jew was riding on the street car and had a bulldog on the seat beside him. A big Irishman was standing by and he said to the Jew: "What kind of a dog is that sir that he occupies one seat instead of a person?"

The Jew answered in a smart way and said: "He is part ape and part Irishman."

The Irishman answered: "Well then he is related to both of us, isn't he?"

Man, to small boy: "I hear your father took out fire insurance."
Boy: "Yes."

Man: "Why didn't he take tornado insurance?"
Boy: "My father don't know how to start one."

"I hear your wife has her room full of shot guns and pistols."
"Yes, she likes to have lots of arms around her."

"I hear you are going to Florida for the winter?"
"No, why do I want to go there when I get plenty of winter here."

Today is the last time to see Gary Cooper and Marlene Dietrich in Morocco.

Wednesday and Thursday John Gilbert comes to us in a different role in Way For a Sailor. The Three French Girls bring us Reginald Denny and Fifi Dorsay on Friday.

The attraction for Saturday is Richard Dix in the thriller, Shooting Straight.

Next Monday and Tuesday the Stanley again brings to us those two famous and funny characters, Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery in Min and Bill.

INTERSORORITY RUSH DANCE

The event which took place on Saturday was the much looked-for Intersorority Rush Dance. About a hundred couples attended and that old gym hasn't seen such a bevy of well dressed young ladies and gentlemen in a long time.

The music was furnished by the Rhythm Kings, an orchestra from Sunbury, who had a stock of the peppiest dance strains to be found anywhere.

On the receiving line was the president of each sorority, and her escort. They were Signe Alford, Ida Schweitzer and Dorothy Leisher.

The lovely dresses of the girls you will find commented upon in another column.

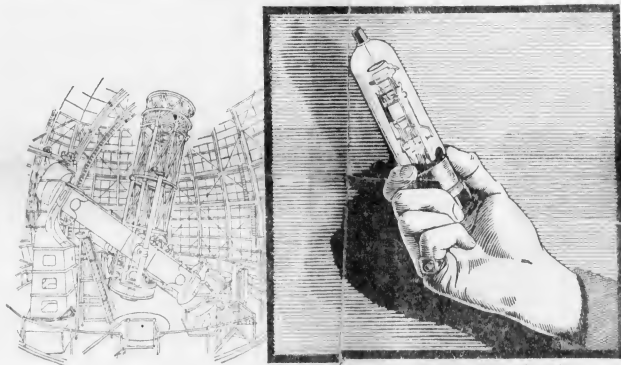

It was a successful dance in every way, and the committees in charge of it deserve to be congratulated.

The new GE low-grid-current Pliotron tube, capable of measuring a current as small as 10^-8 ampere

This Little Tube Measures Stars Centuries of Light Years Distant

BY MEANS of a new vacuum tube called a low-grid-current Pliotron tube, astronomers can gather the facts of stellar news with greater speed and accuracy. In conjunction with a photoelectric tube, it will help render information on the amount of light radiation and position of stars centuries of light years away. It is further applicable to such laboratory uses as demand the most delicate measurement of electric current.

So sensitive is this tube that it can measure 0.000,000,000,000,000.01 of an ampere, or, one-hundredth of a millionth of a billionth of an ampere. This amount of current, compared with that of a 50-watt incandescent lamp, is as two drops of water compared with the entire volume of water spilled over Niagara Falls in a year.

General Electric leadership in the development of vacuum tubes has largely been maintained by college-trained men, just as college-trained men are largely responsible for the impressive progress made by General Electric in other fields of research and engineering.

LaSalle Cagers Lose to Susquehanna Five

Entire Team Shows Good Defensive as Well as Offensive; Passing of Capt. Glenn Features First Half

The Crusaders won the second game in their scheduled three game trip when they defeated LaSalle at Philadelphia Friday night, 30-14.

The Orange and Maroon passers seemed to have gained their stride and played wonderful basketball to defeat the LaSalle five in such an overwhelming manner. The Crusaders held the lead throughout the game and were always leading the attack on the offense. During the first half LaSalle could only find the hoop once to bury their lone field goal in that half. This close guarding, and with the offensive attack functioning perfectly featured throughout the entire game.

"Patty" Rubis led the attack for the Orange and Maroon in the first half, sinking two nice field goals and making two fouls good out of three. Captain Glenn's excellent passing and McGeehan's close guarding also featured in the first half.

During the second half the LaSalle five started to drop a few field goals through the hoops, which raised their side of the balance sheet considerably. Captain Glenn again started the Orange and Maroon's offensive attack working by dribbling down the floor time and again and passing to some one under the basket to register points.

"Patty" Rubis, Coach Ullery's feet-footed forward, led the scoring attack for the Susquehanna five by scoring five field goals and making good two fouls out of three. Glenn came second with seven points.

The playing of Froio featured for the LaSalle five, scoring three field goals and a foul. He also did good floor and passing work. Lineup:

Whys and Wherefores of Our New Ice Rink; and Rules of Hockey

Because of the debut of a new inter-class sport, ice hockey, much interest has been created among the students and has already become established as one of the most popular sports.

Every effort is being put forth by Prof. Grossman to make the rink as up-to-date as possible and together with the regulation equipment he wants to provide as many thrilling matches as possible for the students. The supports for the tennis nets have already been taken out and are being measured off so as to make its regulation size. The ice will be divided into three sections known as the "defending" zone, the "neutral" zone and the "attacking" zone. The lines which shall mark off these different zones will be placed under the ice. In addition to these improvements there will also be the regulation goal nets.

In the inter-class matches there will be three twelve-minute played with a ten minute interval between the periods and a change of goals on each occasion. In case of a tie at the end of the third period a fourth period is played, and then in case of a deadlock the match will be called a draw.

Large Group Enjoys Shakespearean Plays

"Twelfth Night" Presented Saturday Afternoon and "Hamlet" at Night Before Large Audiences

"Twelfth Night" A pleasure beyond words awaited those who appeared for the performance of "Twelfth Night." Much had been heard about the Sir Philip Ben Greet Players, and everyone awaited the moment the curtain should rise with a feeling of expectancy. It is enough to say that they were not disappointed, for the production was everything that it was claimed to be.

It was enjoyed itself to hear the lines spoken so clearly and with such comprehension of their meaning. The smoothness with which the performance moved was remarkable. It was the kind of play that makes one realize the intellectual qualities of Shakespeare.

Ben Greet, appearing as Malvolio, the steward to Olivia, was a character and presentation that thrilled one through and through. Ben Greet truly was marvelous. Russell Thorndike as Sir Toby Belch, together with Enid Clark as Olivia were without doubt two of the best leading characters that have ever appeared in this vicinity.

A large and interested audience greeted Ben Greet and his group of English players in their presentation of "Hamlet" in Seibert Hall Chapel on Saturday evening.

It has been a long time since such a talented cast of actors have appeared on Susquehanna's campus. There were more curtain calls at the close of the performance than can be recalled at any previous entertainment.

The entire cast deserves much praise for their mastery presentation of Hamlet. Their delivery was well nigh perfect. There was no mumbling of words and all was done superbly easy with no hint of strain.

Ben Greet, himself, appeared in the role of Corambis and the first grave digger, bringing to the characters fluency of his artistic ability. Deserved credit goes to Russell Thorndike, who played the role of Hamlet, giving a splendid performance, both in his reading and acting.

The acting of Peter Dearing was indeed remarkable for a boy so young.

Crusaders Lose to Delaware Quintet

Susquehanna's Rally in the Last Three Minutes Tally All But One Point; Glenn and Rubis High Scorers

The Crusaders completed one of their most successful basketball trips that they have ever set out upon, by winning two of the three game series. Losing to Delaware on Thursday night by one point spoiled a perfect trip.

They took the second game of the series at Philadelphia with LaSalle by the score of 30-14, and then topped a fast Ursinus five on Saturday night by the score of 24-21.

The game at Delaware was a tough one to lose for the Crusaders, for both teams seemed about equal on the floor. Delaware was leading the Orange and Maroon 19-13 at the end of the first half. With but four minutes to go in the last half they were leading again by ten points when Glenn and Rubis renewed Susquehanna's scoring attack, which cut down the lead by nine points as the final whistle blew.

The game was a thrilling one throughout, with Delaware resorting to long shots as a scoring attack in the first half. The Crusaders, led by Captain Glenn, resorted to the same tactics in the second half. Glenn scored fourteen points in the last half and Rubis zipping the nets for four field goals.

Besides the splendid shooting on the part of Rubis and Glenn, both played brilliant games on the defense as Captain Glenn had his team working smoothly throughout. The only department that the Orange and Maroon lacked their stride in was the foul shooting, making good but 12 fouls out of 22.

Both teams launched excellent passing attacks, which worked the ball down the floor under the basket. Captain Glenn and Rubis were the center of the attack.

Seniors Open Hockey by Defeating Frosh

Seniors Downed Frosh 13 to 1 Friday. Welky and Herman Lead Seniors; Frutchy Scores for Frosh

The Senior puckmen immediately settled down to business as ice hockey made its debut at Susquehanna Friday afternoon, when they defeated the Frosh 13-1.

As the announcement was made of the first ice hockey match, much curiosity was aroused among the students, and a large delegation of spectators bated the cold, as they witnessed the first ice hockey match. The match proved to be very interesting and the Seniors were represented by a fast team.

The Frosh drew first blood when Frutchy dribbled the entire length of the course and shoved the puck past Goale Moser for the first score. The Seniors immediately returned the compliment when Welky dribbled through for their first point, and after this they came in rapid succession and as the Seniors' defense tightened the Frosh failed to score the rest of the match.

The Welky-Herman combination proved too much for the Freshmen, as this combination displayed a splendid dribbling and passing attack, which easily netted goals for them. Gelnet also lent valuable assistance to the dribblers. Witmer and Senko, playing defense, displayed excellent defensive work, as did Goale Moser.

Frutchy, a dribbler, proved to be the best on the Freshman team. His excellent dribbling and fast skating featured.

Susquehanna Junior Varsity Overwhelms Selinsgrove High Cagers By a 34 to 11 Score

The Junior Varsity walloped the Selinsgrove High School Five in their first tilt of the year Friday night by the score of 34-14. The Jay Vees proved to be too fast for the High School Five and were leading by a wide margin through the entire game. The Junior Varsity is blessed with two excellent pairs of forwards, and both combinations did plenty of damage. Kapz was high scorer with eight points, while Brinninger came a close second with seven markers. Worthington and Keller also played a good game at the forwards, and both were responsible for a large number of points. Shadle starred for the Selinsgrove Five, scoring six points. Lineup:

Crusaders Victorious Over Ursinus Bears

Ursinus Led S. U. Cagers by Two Points in First Half; Susquehanna Rallyes to a Three-Points Victory

The Orange and Maroon took the second game of the trip, when they journeyed to Collegeville to defeat a fast Ursinus combination Saturday night, 24-21.

Ursinus probably had the best team that Susquehanna has hit this season, but the Crusaders were clicking perfectly Saturday night and certainly recorded a notable victory. Although the affair was nip and tuck throughout, the Orange and Maroon displayed the better brand of basketball and managed to keep on the top most of the time.

During the first half of the fray the scoring was pretty close, each team scoring four goals from the field, but Ursinus made two extra foul shots. The score stood 14-12 in their favor at half time.

At the opening of the second half, the Orange and Maroon forwards started to make field goals at once, while the defense tightened and held the Ursinus Bears to two field goals. Susquehanna completely outclassed Ursinus in the second half and displayed a perfectly smooth working attack.

"Patty" Rubis was again leading his teammates in scoring honors, scoring three buckets and making good two fouls out of two tries. Rubis also played well on the defense and worked splendidly in the passing attack. Rummel also started to hit his stride in this game, scoring three field goals. McGeehan played one of the best games on the defense, holding Sterner, high scoring forward for Ursinus to two field goals and a foul shot. Miller played well for the losers, scoring seven points for his team.

Chairman Russell Sprout Appoints Two Members to Board

Russell Sprout, chairman of the Intramural Board, appointed the following directors. Welky, director of Ice Hockey; Neiswender, director of Indoor Track; and Geistweid, director of Boxing.

Boxing has already been ushered in at Susquehanna, with the inter-class bouts of last week. It is planned to have a regular boxing card each week. Most of these bouts will take place after the varsity basketball games in the Gym.

The Indoor Track Meet will be held in Alumni Gym on March 19.

During the past several weeks a skating rink has been placed in condition under the supervision of Prof. Grossman, and at the present is in excellent shape for skating. During the past week lights have been put on poles around the pond, so as to illuminate it for night skating. During cold weather the pond is paved with water instead of flooding it as has been done in the past. The spraying insures a perfectly smooth surface and many are enjoying the popular winter sport. College fans of ice hockey know the thrills that the sport provides, and it may be assured that it will also become very popular at Susquehanna.

Bill Welky, director of Ice Hockey, announced the following inter-class hockey matches:

Wednesday, February 4th—Juniors vs Seniors at 4:10

AMENDMENTS

Every thing, as well as men, must be adjusted to suit the times under which they live, and therefore the Athletic Board of Susquehanna University has recommended a number of Amendments to the Association, which will better its Constitution.

Most of the Amendments are just a slight change in the wording and those that are not in favor of our athletes. In the past years it has been difficult to secure a Varsity "S" in many of our sports because of certain stipulations. Managers had to take care of the advertising of all athletic contests and therefore took time from their regular duties. All such difficulties have been done away with in the proposed Amendments.

While these Amendments are for the betterment of our athletes, we ask you to consider the change as proposed under Article VIII, Section 4, (b) referring to the Cheer Leaders receiving a 7 inch Varsity "S." Do you not think it would be better to have a megaphone on the cross bar of the "S" rather than a plain "S" as is awarded to Varsity athletes who participate in sports. Others make this discrimination, as they class a Cheer Leader on a par with the managers, rather than the athletes. Why then should Susquehanna not make this discrimination when we are trying to put our athletes on a par with other schools.

We are pleading to the students, who are the ones who compose the Athletic Association, after careful consideration, to better their Association by adopting the proposed Amendments.

TO THE FRESHMAN

The time for pledging is near at hand, and it may be advisable for every non-fraternity man to read the stipulations of the Inter-Fraternity Council concerning this matter in his hand-book.

In the past there have been mistakes because some of the non-fraternity men did not understand these rules. Here are some of the things which we think are important. At the last meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Council a rule was passed that no fraternity should invite Freshmen to the dances on the twenty-fourth. If you have received a bid before the rule was passed, or if you are asked through some error, Freshmen, please don't accept, for it will help everyone concerned if you don't. No one is to be pledged before the 18th of February, and this means that you are not to wear any pledge pins before that time. Remember that on Sunday, February 15 at eight o'clock A. M. quiet period starts and it ends Wednesday, February 18, at 11 o'clock A. M. During this time Fraternity men and non-fraternity men are not to discuss fraternities or anything concerning pledging. One more thing, your list of preferences, or your preference, as you wish, is to be in the office by 11 o'clock February 18, and there are to be no late preferences considered. You will be able to help a lot if you remember things like this.

Japanese Grad Sends Interesting Clipping Concerning a Japanese New Year

A clipping has been sent by A. S. Iweda, a Japanese graduate who received his B. S. degree from S. U. in '22. Mr. Iweda is now a salesman. The clipping concerns the New Year's merrymaking in Japan. Following is a copy of the article as submitted:

To Americans, New Year's celebration is a religious observance that is a night of wild merrymaking. Day after day, the people engage in card playing, raffles, dances, and other amusements. In Japan, however, the New Year's celebration is a religious observance that is a night of quiet reflection.

The Japanese New Year's celebration is a religious observance that is a night of quiet reflection. The people engage in quiet reflection and prayer. They are accompanied by men who play traditional instruments like drums. The atmosphere is solemn and respectful.

merchandise, special confectionery, business, trivets.

Gay crowds frolic in the streets by stilt walking, top spinning, jumping ball playing and rope pulling. Boys and even men, fly kites and air toys shaped like birds, fish and butterflies. Girls have their special games to play.

On the sixth day of the celebration, when there is a little rest, and the decorations are usually taken down, girls will flat bamboo baskets go in the country to pick the "Seven Green Grasses" which are used in the following ceremonies, called the "Seven Blessings":

1. To wish for a long life.
2. To wish for a healthy child.
3. To wish for a good harvest.
4. To wish for a peaceful world.
5. To wish for a bright future.
6. To wish for a happy home.
7. To wish for a good government.

persons by masks, are supposed to charm away birds of ill omen.

It is on the first day, too, that the older people start to make calls to wish their friends "Shinnen-omedeto gozaimasu," as "Happy New Year" is called. This custom is said to have originated in the sixteenth century with the Dutch merchantmen, who made personal visits to their Japanese acquaintances to extend the season's greetings.

Although the celebrating goes on for 14 days, business does not cease for the entire period. The holiday is a legal one for three days only. On the fourth day the fire brigades of Tokio parade in the streets and perform gymnastic feats.

On the seventh day an interesting ceremony takes place at dawn, when the master of the house, the seven herbs the girls have gathered, chops them carefully and boils them in a kind of rice gruel to be served with ceremony at breakfast. The festival is brought to a close on the 14th day by the burning of the kadomatsu, a pine tree, which is placed at the threshold of every house to symbolize vigorous old age and endurance in misfortune.

It is a universal rule in Japan that all debts must be paid and accounts settled with the ending of the old year.

Even the poor have their day, for toys and holiday raiment are made inexpensive enough for the most destitute to purchase. And if they are too poor to buy them, they generally contrive to hire fine clothes for the occasion.

He speaks of him as "a man devoted to Africa, and willing to give his life service to help give the fullness of light and salvation to the black man." After Dr. Day, Mr. Curran put in the longest service.

Marriage of Grad

Alumni Author of Song

Following is a hymn of Dedication, written by Harry Thompson Domer, of Washington, D. C. Dr. Domer was granted his D. D. degree in '22. His father was principal of Susquehanna Female College.

This hymn is dedicated to St. Paul's Church of Washington and used at the laying of the cornerstone of that congregation's new building on November 9, 1930. Tune: Diademata.

Praise be to God on high!
The walls of Zion rise!
These stones Thy name to glorify

Lift anthems to the skies.
On saint and sage be built,
They form Thy Spirit's throne:
And Thou, O Christ, who bore our guilt,
Thou art the cornerstone.

Lift up your heads, ye gates,
So fair, so pure and bright,
Thy children, heirs to thine estates,
In pray'r and praise unite.
The suffering and the lost
Shall hear Thy gracious "Come."
And souls by earthly tempters tost
Shall find Thee their home.

Out from Thy Holy Hill
Send forth Thy beacon light,
That its bright ray, so calm, so still,
May pierce the clouds of night;
Till lands beyond the seas
The Gospel's call obey.
And all the earth, in bonds of peace,
Shall own the Saviour's sway.

Glorify to God of Hosts,
All glory to the Son,
And glory to the Holy Ghost,
Thou blessed Three in One!
Rejoice, ye stones, rejoice;
Ye towers, sing to the skies;
Ye courts, resound with angels' voice
And lead to Paradise!

Scribert Hall Echoes

WE'VE BEEN TOLD THAT

Scribert Hall was the popular place this week-end! Not that it needs any more attraction than its fair inmates to make it a much sought after place (who said that?), but the Ben Greet Players certainly helped along. We had the pleasure of opening the door for the gentleman and his entourage, and now we can say that it nearly comes natural to say "MLord."

Incidentally, more than one co-ed cast long looks on Mr. Peter Dearing. He may be only seventeen, but, girls, imagine his EXPERIENCE! One Sophomore girl was quite excited because she was told that he resembled her Freshman "beary" tell me, my dear, do they still use that word?, but she indignantly declares that her informers have no eyes.

When this goes to press, the S. S. D. Rush Dance will be the topic for rehashing, for its to be on Monday night. We, who will have to listen to the strains of music from the outside, wish you all a very pleasant time.

Now that they took our suggestion for a new light globe so to heart, (kindly notice the lovely shade we now have), will anyone offer another popular reform?

The heavy question now afoot is, who is the new night watchman, and where will he do his watching?

Talk about laughing death in the face, how about us here at S. U.? The week-end before exams, we go to basketball games and boxing bouts, and knock off a few hours at a dance. Well, it seems that we do our studying early here.

Wit That's Fit

Nit: Why do you always comb your hair before going to bed?

Wit: To make a better impression on my pillow.

He: You look like a sensible girl; let's get married.

She: Not me, I'm just as sensible as I look.

Dad: Why, when I was your age I thought nothing of walking four miles to school every day.

Son: Well, Dad, I don't think much of it myself.

Visitor: I suppose they ask a lot for the rent of this apartment.

Hostess: Yes, they asked seven times last week.

Senior: How's life as a freshman?

Freshman: I've only a hazy idea.

Betty Co-ed says that any girl who is looking for a thrill should try kissing a man with the hiccoughs.

Co: My face is my fortune!

Ed: Arc you badly in debt?

Last night I held a little hand. So dainty and so neat. I thought my heart would burst with joy.

So wildly did it beat. No other hand unto my soul. Could greater solace bring. Than that I held fast last night. FOUR ACES AND A KING!

Kind Old Woman: And is there no way that you can get rid of those terrible cooties?

Tramp: Oh, yes, all I has to do is just rub me hair wid alkibol and then put a handful of sand in it. Den de cooties get drunk and kill themselves by trowin' rocks at each oder.

What most people think of the College Dance:—

Sing a song of modern dance, A pocket full of rye. Four and twenty flappers

A neckin' on the sly. And when the dance is over And they are going home, Step on the gas.

There's a train to pass; Tweet, tweet, this ends my poem.

SORORITY NOTES

Kappa Delta Phi was very glad to have the Ben Greet Players here this week-end, because it brought quite a few of their sponaie back to visit. Among those to return, were Essex Bowford, Wilma Walker, Alma McCollough, Veta Long, Catherine Collins, and Phyllis Trometter.

A reader census was had by the present members and their sisters. We wish that there would be more such important functions to bring back our girls.

A Pirate Party will be the nature of the entertainment which Kappa Delta

Phi will have for their Rush Party to be given on Tuesday evening. A fine program has been planned, and everyone is looking forward to a good blood-curdling time. If you don't see some of the new girls hoppin' around on Wednesday, you'll know that they were forced to walk the plank.

The Good Ship S. A. I. was docked at the Conservatory of Music Thursday night, January 15, 1931. The passengers went aboard at 8 p. m., and after a half hour of going through long lines of red tape and last minute details the anchors were lifted and the ship sailed. Among those new passengers who sailed with the S. S. S. A. I. were Madeline Steininger, Winnie Matter, Margaret Williams, and Audra Martz.

The crew of S. A. I. manned the ship. Sailor Ide played an important part in arranging the entertainment during the voyage. Dancing and singing played a large part in the party-making and Sallio La Haza favored the passengers with several tap dances. A sea voyage always gives one a good appetite and this proved to be no exception as just ice was certainly done to the refreshments which were prepared and served by Sailors Markle, Wagner, Hoy and Stambaugh. At 10 p. m. the ship returned and the passengers were all given a pack of Life Savers before they went ashore as a remembrance of their voyage on the S. S. S. A. I.

PHI MU DELTA PRESIDENT
Wilbur Berger was elected to succeed Lloyd Bedford as president of Mu Alpha, the local chapter of Phi Mu Delta.

S. U. Five to Meet Lebanon Valley and Juniata This Week

Getting off with a marvelous start, the Crusaders having won four out of their first five games, they will again go on to the battlefield when they play Lebanon Valley Friday night in the Alumni Gym and on Saturday night will travel to Huntington to play Juniata.

Both of the coming games are considered tough ones and Coach Ulery will put forth his utmost effort to continue the winning streak. During the week there will be much stress laid on the Orange and Maroon's defensive attack to stop the powerful offensive attack of Lebanon Valley, which they will have to face Friday night.

Lebanon Valley will be coming to Susquehanna with a strong team, and one that has had plenty of experience. Every man on the first five has already had experience and led in defensive play.

This far Juniata has not made such an imposing record, winning two out of their first six games, but they have also hit some tough competition, such as Dickinson, Waynesburg and Bethany.

The Indians are again led on the court by "Fuzzy" Andrews, who is playing his fourth year of basketball at Juniata and is the high-scoring man. Tom Smith plays the other forward position, and is the fastest man on the entire squad. Jamison and Rupert, who is the tallest man on the squad, who is rounding into varsity material, take turns at the pivot position.

The squad averages scarcely 5 feet 10 inches in height, with Jamison, last year's substitute center, and Rupert, angular Huntington boy, the only players who touch the six-foot mark.

Smith W. Brookhart to Speak on Campus

Mr. Brookhart, United States Senator from Iowa, Will be Here in Star Course Number on Monday

When the Honorable Smith W. Brookhart, United States Senator from Iowa, appears here in the Star Course number of February 16 we will have with us a Senator who has attracted great attention while serving his first term in that capacity, due mainly to his splendid legislative and oratorical ability. Since his election to that office in 1926 Senator Brookhart has won his way to attention on the floor of the Senate Chamber until today he is on five of the Senate's important committees. Such an admirable record speaks for itself.

Perhaps a brief history of his life may more clearly show us the type of man we will hear next Monday evening.

His birth took place in an environment so common to the births of many of our famous men, a log cabin. It was located on a farm in Scotland county, Missouri, and there Mr. Brookhart was born on the second day of February, 1869. His education started in the small country school near his home and was completed in high school and Southern Iowa Normal. Having chosen law as his vocation in life he studied that subject in law offices at Bloomfield and Keosauqua, Iowa, to be admitted to the Bar by the Supreme Court in 1892. His life, however, has not been solely devoted to law, for he has served as farmer, teacher, lawyer and soldier. He served in the Iowa National Guard from 1894 to the World's War, excepting about five years, and saw action in the Spanish-American and World's War as second lieutenant and later major and lieutenant colonel of Infantry. Being an expert rifle shot, he was captain of the American Palma Rifle Team in 1912 which won the world's championship; following that he was elected four terms as president of the National Rifle Association of America. He has served as county attorney of Washington county, Iowa, for three terms and was chairman of the Republican State Convention in 1912. In 1922 he

Susquehanna Cagers Defeat Drexel, 29-27

First Half Ends in a Deadlock; Orange and Maroon Holds a Sufficient Margin in Second Period

The Crusaders opened their three day basketball campaign in splendid fashion by defeating the Drexel Dragons in a furious battle, 29-27, Thursday night.

In the closing minutes of the first half the score stood at a deadlock at fifteen-all, but with the opening of the second period the Orange and Maroon rallied beautifully to manage to keep a sufficient margin throughout. With five minutes to go, the Draons were in the weak end of the score by six points, but they managed to rally to cut down the Crusaders' lead to but two points.

Patty Rubis led the Crusaders in the scoring; attack and displayed a dazzling brand of basketball. Rubis scored four.

Crusader Courtmen Lose to P. M. C.

Orange and Maroon are Forced to Defeat in Hard Battle by P. M. C.; Capt. Glenn Leading Scorer

The Orange and Maroon courtmen got in trouble Friday night at Chester, when P. M. C. took the decision, 39-30. The Crusaders fell down in the second half, after playing an even terms with the Cadets the first half.

During the first half both teams were on about the same terms and at several stages the Crusaders had the score knotted, but the Cadets fired ahead. After the Cadets took the big end of the score, Susquehanna tied the score again near the end of the half 14-14.

In the second half P. M. C. started a scoring rally led by Captain Brennan, who cleared the ends with many long shots. After P. M. C. had piled up a large lead, the Orange and Maroon failed to recover.

Board of Directors Hold Annual Mid-Winter Meeting

In his report to the Mid-winter meeting of the Board of Directors of Susquehanna University on Monday evening, President G. Morris Smith pointed out that Susquehanna University started the present academic year with nine new professors, improved laboratories, and a much strengthened library.

The report of the president showed that there were 293 students registered in the summer session of 1930, while the present student body numbered 440, not including extension students.

Because of the numerous improvements made within recent years, President Smith reported that Susquehanna University is now accredited by the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Middle States and Maryland. On January 21st Susquehanna University was admitted to the Association of American Colleges, meeting at Indianapolis where, seated in its membership proudly at institutions of higher learning in the United States that have achieved certain qualitative standards.

Articles by Faculty in Various Journals

"Social Science," "The Journal of General Psychology," Contains Articles of Doctors Smith, Dunkelberger and Rumberger

Appearing in the first quarter issue of "Social Science," a magazine published by the P. Gamma Mu Fraternity, is the article, "Growth and Development of College Entrance Requirements," which was written by President Smith. Dr. Smith treats briefly the history of college entrance requirements, and more at length upon the modern methods of admission, first in the new plan or comprehensive examinations, and the psychological tests.

In a very convincing manner Dr. Smith puts across the idea that a more liberal academic requirement should be adopted and with that a more strict personal requirement. Until very recently the opposite has been the case in a great number of our colleges.

Two more members of Susquehanna's faculty are to be found with an article in a current issue of some leading publication. The January number of "The Journal of General Psychology," carries the report of "An Experimental Study in Perceptual Insight," by Dr. Dunkelberger and Professor Rumberger. The statement is in answer to the question: "How much of our imagination is governed by insight?"

The report contains tabulated results of tests performed by elementary and high school pupils of both sexes, half working with perceptual insight and half with the trial and error method. Like results are tabulated from similar tests performed with seventy college freshmen as subjects. In both instances, according to the results, perceptual insight failed to gain any noticeable percentage of solution in comparison with the high percentage amassed by the trial and error method. As the two authors state in the closing few lines of the article, "Individuals of this particular class and age display very little insight in the matter of perception, and their form-life and image-life seem to be directed through the medium of trial and error."

Seibert Hall is Host to Ladies' Auxiliary

Mrs. Aikens Thanked the Ladies for Portrait of Her Husband; Expects to Start Scholarship Fund in June

The Ladies' Auxiliary held its monthly meeting in Seibert Hall Saturday afternoon, February 7. Mrs. Luther D. Grossman had arranged the program. A piano solo by Miss Margaret Shipman, of Sunbury, was followed by readings by Mrs. S. R. Michaels, of Selmsgrove, and vocal solos by Miss Dorothy Leisher, of Susquehanna University.

The customary business meeting which followed was in charge of Mrs. Margaret Wingard, president of the Auxiliary. The nominating committee reported the reelection of the officers for a term of one year, and a favorable ballot was cast.

Mrs. C. T. Aikens thanked the ladies of the Auxiliary very sincerely for the gift of the portrait of her husband, presented to Susquehanna in gratitude for his twenty-two years of service to the institution.

The members were very happy over the report of the treasurer, Mrs. Aikens. The total receipts for the year were $512.79, with disbursements amounting to $376.20, leaving a balance in the treasury of $136.59. A motion was made by Mrs. Surface to transfer $100 from the surplus fund in the treasury to the Scholarship Fund, which the members are hoping to complete by June. The project is one which they have been working on for three years, and is intended for the aid of co-eds who find it difficult to make their way through school. There is now a total amount of $756.59 in this fund.

Miss Hude, dean of women, has kindly consented to coach the play, "Ladies of Cranford," adapted from Mrs. Gaskell's book by Mary Barnard Home.

CENSORED ADVERTISING

I wish, first of all, to explain that my title is misleading, for I do not intend to cover the entire field of advertising. These words are rather my personal expression of approval for the attitude of college authorities against cigarette advertisements in college publications. It is a noble thing, that such men give a part of their valuable time to a matter which some consider trivial, but which is an issue of paramount importance.

My first objection to cigarette advertisements is this: Would not the space now devoted to urging the Alumni to renew their subscriptions be usurped by them? It most certainly would. It is only this means of constantly reminding the Alumni to send in their checks that keeps the circulation up to standard. Without the Alumni subscriptions there would be no need for Alumni news, and the Reporterial staff would be overtaxed with the additional burden of filling this space.

I will pass over the question of whether or not the advertisements would influence more cords to smoke and as a result force the men to chew. This is an important point but I must continue with my second argument.

It is a recognized fact that cigarette manufacturers are eager to place advertisements in these aforesaid publications. This is a very bad thing indeed. In the first place, it makes the advertising manager's job too easy and deprives him of excellent sales experience. If he has more ads than he can use, he will not attempt to secure others. He will not be compelled to win over those who are persistent in their refusal to advertise. As a result the ballot for this office will be filled with the names of those who only want to add another activity to their list in the year-book, and not those who wish to do constructive work. In other words, the whole splendid idea of the position of Advertising Manager would be destroyed.

It is also a well known fact that tobacco magnates are willing to pay well for advertising space. This is also an evil. Imagine, if you have the courage, a college staff with plenty of money to do with as they pleased. Here again the sacred, age-old ideals would be broken down. Business Managers and Editors would no longer work for the glory of their Alma Mater, but they would become slaves of Mammon. "Money" not "College news for college students" would be their passion. There is even some danger that the morals of those weaker ones would be corrupted.

Should we then in the face of all this and in spite of it allow cigarette advertisements to appear in our college papers? I say no and I will fight against it as long as I live.

Bruce Carney Writes Song

The following song, "The Song of the Loom," was written by Bruce Carney, to whom Susquehanna awarded a D.D. degree in 1918:
O hear the song of the loom!
The same till the day of doom!
It merrily sings with its beams and springs,
And its melody floods the room.

How swiftly the shuttle flies!
To tarry it never tries!
With a "klickety klick" 'tis thither and back
Unseen by the untrained eyes.

Each journey it weaves a strand
In a web so strong and grand;
Just "Klickety klick, you must know
That I'm quick—
I never wait for command.

"My singing is tiresome, I know,
As ever and always I go;
My klickety klick and klickety klick—
But all patterns are woven so.

"My master stands always near,
Watching with eye and ear,
And with skillful hands ties broken threads,
Till my shuttle is woven clear."

And thus it sang o'er and o'er
The selfsame tune as before;
And I caught this thought as the shuttle wrought—
A lesson forevermore.

We are weaving the web of life,
And the chances for beauty sacrifice;
The colors are bright and, if woven aright,
We can save ourselves sorrow and strife.

Wherever our plans go twain,
We should quickly unite them again;
And then work along, with our heart made strong,
By the end which we hope to attain.

There is none but the Sovereign might
That can stop our shuttle's flight;
With anxious heart or careless art,
We are weaving both day and night.

For the wool is all held in band
In the frame of the Great Beyond;
And as years go by, while we smile or sigh,
We are nearing the end so fond.

Near us the Master stands,
And with strong, invisible hands,
He helps life run till the pattern's done—
Life's loom waits His commands.

And when it is finished quite,
My life will be held to the light;
And I'll joy to see if its richness be
Where 'twas woven by faith, not sight.

AMUSEMENTS

Today is the last time to see Ruth Chatterton playing a double role in "The River of Love."
Wednesday and Thursday's attraction is that story of war, "Three Faces East" with Constance Bennett and Eric Von Stroheim.

The golden day of the year, Friday the 13th, presents Loretta Young and Jack Mulhall in "The Road to Paradise."
Ethelred Lowe comes to us in "Men of Glass" on Saturday.

Monday and Tuesday of next week the Standard presents that famous serial, Janet Gayvor, with Charles Farrell in "The Man Who Came Back."

Seibert Hall Echoes

IT'S REMOVED THAT

There have been several additions to The Susquehanna staff, and not a few of them are girls. The freshmen are D'isy Reese and Ruth Bergstresser. Just what overclassmen there are, it is hard to say just yet. Just think, Ye Social Life Editor has an assistant now!

Do we have to tell you that the Frosh date rule is off? Did they step out on Monday night, to say nothing of Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday—Mmmmm—how do they do it?

There have been some changes in rooms this semester. Ginny Andrews decided that she liked second floor better than third, so she and Jo Pifer moved down there. However, we still see that Ginny spends a great deal of her time on third.

The few of us who stayed here between semesters didn't have such a horrid time, either. We had a little party, which was held in the Social Room, and the sorority rooms. Quite a few of the stronger sex favored us with their presence, and all seemed to regret the fact that they had to leave at eleven o'clock.

There was more than one nightmare caused by seeing "Dracula" at night! More permission were given for girls who room alone to go and spend the night with someone else than have been given for a long time. Hey—ARE there such things, honestly?

Seven New Students Register at Opening of Second Semester

Seven new students are on Susquehanna's campus, having come here at the opening of the second semester. A most cordial welcome is extended them from "The Susquehanna" and with that welcome are the sincere wishes that their stay here will be a pleasant one. Their names and home addresses are as follows:

Harold Stearns, Starucca, Pa.
La Roy Orwig, Dallastown, Pa.
William Schlegel, Thompsonstown, Pa.
Jack Petry, Salisbury, Pa.
Peter Diaberi, Sayre, Pa.
Carson Hendricks, Selinsgrove.
Albert Ott, Selinsgrove.

TRACK SQUAD OPENS ACTIVITIES

Track activities have gotten under way with the daily work-outs on the board track under the guidance of Coach Grossman. Forty candidates have already reported to Coach Grossman and from all indications track activities will be the attraction at Susquehanna this Spring.

Defined workout periods are being arranged for the individual candidates. At the present the most stress is being placed on the distance men. The first meet will be held on the boards Feb. 28, the Inter-Class Medley Relays. Aside from the mile relay, there will be a mile run, 440 run, 880 run and a two-mile run.

March 14th, the regular Inter-Class Track Meet on the board track.
March 18th, the annual Indoor Meet.
March 28th, trials for the Penn Relays.

April 9th, Inter-Class Relays (outdoor).
April 13th and 14th, Inter-Class Track Meet.

Shortly after this the varsity track season will get under way.

S. S. D. ENTERTAINS

On Thursday evening, February 5, the Sigma Sigma Delta Sorority did what seems to be the proper thing in the way of rushing this season, that is, they held open house. The members, clad in gay pajamas, entertained the new girls with dancing and games. Salads, sundaes and coffee were served in a most tempting, appetizing manner; gifts were distributed to a Lindy. The fond "au revoirs" at the sound of the nocturnal bells ushered all revelers back once more to the sibilant voices and hard-hearted proctors that make up old Seibert at 10:30 p. m.

Swarthmore Defeats Crusader Cagemen

Susquehanna Cagers Were Unable to Stop the Luck Which Favored the Swarthmore Five

The Crusaders dropped the second game of the three-day trip as they lost to Swarthmore 49-15, Saturday night. The team lacked the brilliant defensive work which they previously displayed and the Swarthmore forwards had a night on making over half of their points from a distance.

During the first half the Swarthmore forwards piled an enormous lead upon the Crusaders and during the second half it was impossible for the Orange and Maroon courtmen to overcome this lead.

Captain Glenn made a desperate attempt to lead his team in a scoring rally, but it seemed as if the lids were covering the baskets for the Crusaders, and it was practically impossible to make points. Glenn registered three field goals, making a total of six points and Rubis accounted for five more points.

McCracken, playing a guard position, scored fifteen points for Swarthmore and Testwilde also had fourteen to his credit. Lineup:

JUNIORS DEFEAT FROSH

The Juniors defeated the Frosh in a thrilling contest Thursday night, 27-24. This victory for the Juniors gave them the championship for the first half of the inter-class basketball league. The second half of the league will start again next week and promises to be a thrilling race for the final championship of the classes.

Adams took the scoring honors for the Juniors with ten points, while Meyer took it for the Frosh with the same number of markers.

EPSILON SIGMA SMOKER

The Epsilon Epsilon Fraternity held its annual smoker at the home in West Walnut street, last evening.

Frank D. Paris, president of the fraternity, opened the evening festivities with a welcome speech to the guests who were composed of freshmen and other non-fraternity men. In substance, his speech delved into the meaning of fraternity spirit and college life in general, especially, the importance both play in the life of a Susquehanna.

After accompanying Russell Sprout, Robert McNally played several numbers on the piano. John Sedko then favored the large gathering with a violin solo, which was rendered in his own inimitable manner. "Art" Barnes, renowned entertainer of the Bozart Parloids, now featured at the Bozart Cafe at Atlantic City, N. J., presented an unusual program of late dance hits with vocal accompaniment.

After the musical entertainments, those present enjoyed several hours of bridge, pinocle, and "500." Ice cream, sandwiches and coffee were served in the midst of the evening's gaiety.

Crusaders to Meet Ancient Rivals on Wednesday Nite

The Crusaders hit a snag as they invaded foreign territory last week, winning one out of the three-game series. The games lost to P. M. C., 39-30, and to Swarthmore, 49-15, were third and fourth games dropped this year out of the first ten scheduled games.

As the Orange and Maroon courtmen are on their last lap in the basketball campaign and with two hard games scheduled this week with Juniata on Wednesday night and Lebanon Valley away on Saturday night, Coach Ullery will make a desperate attempt to take the remaining games in the form of victories.

The Juniata game on Wednesday night promises to be the hardest fight of the year. The Indians will be out for revenge because the Crusaders pulled the impossible when they defeated the Indians on their home floor recently. Since this time Juniata has lost two games to Gettysburg and Washington and will be making a bold attempt to break their losing streak. Coach Ullery will be slightly handicapped in the coming games because of the loss of Van Nuy to the squad, but several new men have reported the second semester and there is a possibility that some Junior Varsity men may be breaking into the lineup. Juniata's probable lineup will include Smith and Captain Andrews at forwards, Jamison at center, LaPorte and Burlew at guards. The game Wednesday night will be the last appearance of "Fuzzy" Andrews in a basketball uniform against the Crusaders.

We may say that Susquehanna will go against a better team Saturday night when they play Lebanon Valley at Annville. Lebanon Valley has a high scoring five built around Captain Heller which is hard to stop. The return of "Suede" Palmer to the lineup will probably be an asset to Coach Ullery, for "Suede" is a pretty good defensive player which should help to break up Lebanon Valley's scoring attack. Lebanon Valley's lineup will probably include Stewart and Morrison at forwards, Heller at center, and S. Light and Frey at guards.

The Junior Varsity lost its first game to Lackawanna Business College Saturday afternoon, 43-19. The Lackawanna team placed a fast combination on the floor and displayed a brilliant passing attack.

SENIORS DEFEAT THEOLOGS

The Seniors won the first game of the second round last night by defeating the Theologs in a loosely played game, 27-20. Fouls were both the cause and result of much bitterness in the second half, the Seniors counting most, after the Parsons had run up an 11-7 lead at half time. Lineup:

Four sub-assistants for track to be selected from the Sophomore class.

Reports of the financial situation show increased endowment over the past six months of over $10,000. The Board of Directors expressed themselves as desiring to carry on a campaign for endowment and a new building when the conditions of our industrial and economic life are brighter. The proposed campaign will be for $850,000, and includes the erection of a new classroom building.

Another point of interest in the report of the president to the trustees was that the lecture course being given at the University has been increasingly appreciated, as has been manifested by the fine attendances.

Notable among the recent offerings of the University to the students and community were the Shakespearean plays given on January 17th by the Ben Grey Players.

CRUSADER COURTNEY LOSE TO P. M. C.

Rummel was forced to leave the game in the early minutes on the foul route, which hindered the Crusaders the rest of the game. Up until this period Herb was playing a great defensive game, and was responsible for keeping his team in the running.

Captain Glenn led his team in scoring honors, registering four field goals and a foul. Lineup:

PORTRAIT UNVEILED IN HONOR OF DR. AIKENS

The portrait and it was then presented to Dr. Smith. He made this speech of acceptance:

It gives me great pleasure in the fact that Susquehanna University has acquired the portrait of Dr. Aikens. Dr. Aikens was a man who added the honor of his name to the University. During his long career he was a great teacher and a great administrator. He was a man who was always ready to help others. He was a man who was always ready to give. He was a man who was always ready to lead. He was a man who was always ready to serve. He was a man who was always ready to die.

was left of last year's Junior class, and all our classes were depleted of male members, so that we rank among the heaviest losers of Pennsylvania. Having lost 40% of our male student body. Notwithstanding these adverse conditions, our enrollment in the college of Liberal Arts was over 100, but the outlook for next year is not very encouraging, although we are daily praying for an early closing of this miserable war that is slaughtering so many of the splendid young men of our colleges.

"Subsequent to the Great War there was a new and sudden awakening all over the country to the values of a college education. The draft showed that one in every four men was unable to read or write. People everywhere saw with a new appreciation the desirability of a higher education. This recognition was manifested here in larger enrollments of students with the result that when Dr. Aikens laid down his work, there were over 400 students enrolled.

"It was not my privilege to know Dr. Aikens personally, but yet from the many admiring friends whom I meet who did know him, and from his portrait, I feel I do know him. He was a generous heart, full of great kindness. It was his love for students and men in all walks of life that endeared him to countless numbers. He wrought valiantly for the institution and left us a goodly heritage—and yet for all that, just because a school is a living organism, made up of many lives, it is a heritage that can only be kept by being improved and strengthened.

"If we are really to honor the work of our beloved and departed friend and President, we must build carefully and wisely on the foundations which he has left us. This is the challenge of his useful life to us who follow."

The audience was then favored with a selection by Mr. Stephens and Mrs. Rodgers.

Dr. Reareck, president of the Board of Directors, continued the program by speaking on "The Life and Work of Dr. Aikens." He spoke of his close companionship with the former president and told of his keen insight in matters of business. He was unduly kind and overcharitable, and it was this fact that brought him great influence, winning a place in the hearts of his friends. Dr. Reareck closed his speech with the following statement concerning Dr. Aikens: "Buildings erected in his honor and portraits of him may be destroyed, but the memories of him will remain in the hearts of his friends forever." After a prayer by Dr. Houtz the meeting came to a close.

teen points with six field goals from a distance. It seemed as if Patty found a sure range and he zipped them through the cords consistently ever after this. Rubis also flashed on the defense and intercepted more than one pass, which might have completed a perfect play for the Engineers. The greatest scoring rally of the game was when Rubis brushed the cords with three straight field goals and then added a foul on top of this. Captain Glenn made a foul ten minutes before the half ended in a deadlock as Rubis hit the mark again on a pretty shot from side court.

In the last half as the Dragons threatened with a scoring rally McGeehan banked a foul and Captain Glenn deposited a field goal to clinch matters.

"Swede" Palmer got back into the game again after he had been absent from the court during the last two games because of illness. "Swede" played well on the defense, but failed to score.

Besides the brilliant long distance shooting for the Crusaders, they also featured in the foul shooting department, making nine out of ten fouls. The Orsino and Maroon five made good in time straight opportunities before Rummel missed the tenth and last.

Susquehanna Adopts New Q. P. System

Dr. Smith Explains New System of Scholarship Grading - Incentive For Higher Grades Expected

During an interview with President Smith last week, he made known his desire that the following explanation relative to the quality point system as inaugurated at S. U. two years ago be given.

The letter system is used and an average of "D." with no quality points, is interpreted as meaning failure. A student whose marks average "D" shall be on probation the following semester, and if no marked improvement is made then he shall be dropped for poor scholarship. In line with this standard, four men found themselves unable to return to college.

It is hoped that this fact will act as an incentive rather than a discouraging note in the viewpoint of the student. It marks to a high degree the progress that Susquehanna is making. No longer is the college dependent upon the student, but quite the contrary; the student is dependent upon the college. Unless you feel that the distinction of being a Susquehanna student is cause enough to call forth the best that is within you, scholastically and morally, then you have no place upon her campus, for there are too many others who will give their best for the privilege of being students here.

Sororities Entertain Pledges on Saturday Night at Big Dance

The much-looked for event which took place Saturday evening was a real success. There were about one hundred couples who attended. Beside the active members of the sororities, pledges and alumni were also present.

The Misses Ruth Steele and Vesta Steining of Omega Delta Sigma sorority; Wilma Walker, Alma McCullough, Mary Royer and Ruth Goff, of Kappa Delta Phi sorority, and Kathryn Morning, of Sigma Alpha Iota sorority, were in attendance.

The brightly-colored dresses of satin, chiffon, taffeta, velvet and lace were a beautiful contrast against the black of the boys' attire. The latest in women's as well as men's fashions were in evidence.

The patrons and patronesses of the dance were Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Smith, Miss Naomi K. Hade, Miss Isabelle Strother, Dr. and Mrs. G. N. Wood, Miss Mary Pottelger, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ott, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Oberdorf, Dr. L. G. Williams and mother, Prof. and Mrs. L. D. Grossman and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Phillips.

Fraternity Smokers Open Rush Week

Fraternat Organizations Present Varied Programs: Music, Speeches and Smoke Weaken Freshmen

Last week was the opening of the regulated "rush" season for the fraternal groups. Each of the fraternal organizations on the campus held an annual smoker, to which the Freshmen were invited. On Monday evening the Epsilon Sigma brothers called upon "Lady Nicotine" to entertain their guests. Along with the talent from the organization they had "Art" Barnes, a professional musician to entertain those present. The smoke laden air was cleared at a late hour by the refreshments, which were delicious and plentiful. The rest of the evening was spent playing cards.

On Tuesday evening the Phi Lambda Theta Fraternity entertained a group of smokers at their house. The entertainment was put on in fine musical consistency. Mr. Packer, a saxophone artist from Sunbury, rendered some very delightful numbers in his original manner. Mr. Russell Sheets, a student at the conservatory, entertained the "boys" by a number of typical selections. Professor Hemphill, the violin instructor at the conservatory, pleased the group by his fine rendition of several very difficult violin numbers. The rest of the evening was very pleasantly spent at tables with the spirit of "Hoyle." An appetizing repast was served the boys before they returned to their abodes.

Wednesday evening brought with it, and a number of hard fought bouts, but also a Bond and Key Club smoker to finish off the splendid entertainment of the evening. As soon as the final bout was finished at the "gym" the Club began its festivities which lasted into the wee hours of the morning. Mr. Alton Garman acted as master of ceremonies and in this manner upheld his reputation of being the campus master of puns. Mr. Robert Snyder, of Williamsport, rendered to the group a number of selections, which included his wonderful interpretation of "The Storm." Another highlight on the program of entertainment was Prof. Keener, an ex-instructor of this institution, who is at present affiliated with the King School of Oratory. He spoke to the fellows in a rather light vein, but his speech was filled with little bits of self-evident truths which lent delight in a manner brought out to perfection. After this delightful entertainment the Club served a repast which every fellow delights in. After this some resorted to cards while still others sat around the house in small groups, discussing the rapidly turning events of the evening.

Phi Mu Delta Fraternity served as host on Thursday evening to new students and faculty members. Ted Kemmerer acted as master of ceremonies over station P.M.D. The studio's first presentation was a very interesting talk by Prof. Hartung. Mr. Farley gave a few readings with which the boys were very much pleased. Solists for the evening were Ted Kemmerer and Prof. Elrose Allison. After P.M.D. had signed off for the evening the "Deltas" served a delightful repast. Following the refreshments the group all helped in the singing of many old favorite songs.

Thursday evening brought to a close the week of smokers and the boys' dorm is still sleeping in an effort to catch up some lost sleep.

PRESIDENT SMITH SPEAKS IN WINCHESTER, VIRGINIA

"The Lutheran Church and the Challenge of Today" was the topic upon which President Smith addressed the Men's Club of the Grace Lutheran Church, Winchester, Virginia, last Thursday evening. The occasion was one of great gala and splendor, it being the annual banquet held by that club, and Doctor Smith's address was one of the shining spots on the program.

Who's Who in the Senior Class

S. WALTER FOULKROO

Four years ago Philadelphia, the city of "brotherly love," sent one of her boys to Susquehanna, who is known by the name of S. Walter Foulkroo, president of the Senior class. As a Freshman he proved to his fellow classmates that he was a debater of no mean ability and has held a position on the varsity debating team during his collegiate career. He also represented his class in athletics on the gridiron and on the diamond. "Wally" joined the Phi Lambda Theta Fraternity near the close of his first year on the S. U. campus.

During his Sophomore year the class of '31 elected him president for the first time and he again took an active part in class athletics, playing football and baseball. "Wally" was also chosen as a member of the editorial staff of the Lantern.

It was through his efforts that the Susquehanna Chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha became a reality last year and in reward for his services, he was elected the first president. He has truly earned the title "president of presidents," being at the head of four organizations during the Junior year, his class, his fraternity, the debating society and Tau Kappa Alpha.

The spirit in which he undertakes difficult propositions, radiates confidence and wins friends is certain to stand him in good stead as a barrister. We all wish him success in his chosen profession for we know he is a fellow who can always be counted on to do his best.

Dr. Williams' Thesis on Plane Involutions

Printed John Hopkins Press; Work Lies in the Field of Algebraic Geometry

Appearing in the January issue of "The Journal of Mathematics," published by Johns Hopkins University Press, is the thesis prepared by Doctor Williams, head of Susquehanna's Mathematics Department, for his Doctor of Philosophy degree at Cornell. The thesis was prepared under the direction of Professor F. R. Sharp, of that University, and is entitled, "Families of Plane Involutions of Genus Two and Three."

The work lies in the field of algebraic geometry and presents a very thorough work along that branch of mathematics. All who are interested in reading the article are referred to the reserve shelf in the University Library where the magazine containing the treatise may be found.

Measle Epidemic Not Confined to Children; Comes to Susquehanna

The epidemic of measles which has struck the public schools of Selinsgrove seems to have permeated the campus of Susquehanna.

Two of the co-eds, Barbara Jones and Marguerite Yagel have the measles and their room-mates, Mildred Bolig and Estelle Pearl, are quarantined. A suite on the second floor has been transformed into an infirmary. Barbara was sent to her home and the other girls are being well taken care of.

Nelson King, of Hassinger Hall, was the first of the male students to break out with this disease, and from the time he is receiving one would say he is the first fortunate male student. His room-mate, Chester Beam, was quarantined in another room. The southwest corner of Hassinger has as a result been quarantined. Bruce Worthington has taken French leave because of the measles and returned to his home.

FACTORY TO GIVE RECITAL

A recital program will be given by the members of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music of Susquehanna University on Monday evening, February 23, at 8:15 o'clock in the Seibert Hall Chapel. The public is very cordially invited to attend.

SUSQUEHANNA SCALPED JUNIATA INDIANS FOR THE SECOND TIME

Maroon and Orange Crusaders Took the Lead From the Start and Held It Through Entire Game; Members Were in Fine Shooting Form

Susquehanna defeated the fighting Juniata Indians 36-16 the second time this season. Wednesday night in one of the hardest fought and most thrilling games ever to be played in the Alumni Gymnasium.

Both teams were cheered on by a large number of loyal rooters and by the snappy band music which was heard for the first time this year in the gym. The great defensive play of the Crusaders, featuring with "Swede" Palmer and McGeehan and the shooting of Captain Glenn and "Herby" Rummel proved too much for the Indians who intended to be on their annual war-path.

The Orange and Maroon completely outclassed the Indians in the first half.

"Swede" Palmer started the scoring for Susquehanna when he made good on a free throw. Glenn followed with a field goal. Burlew scored for Juniata when he dropped one through the rims from a distance. During the remainder of the half Captain Glenn made two more long shots from the field and shot a foul. McGeehan made two beautiful shots from the side court and Rubis came through with the other field goal. The score at the end of the first half stood in Susquehanna's favor 15-9.

As the Orange and Maroon went into the second half it looked as if the Indians would start burying their tomahawk. Jamison immediately scored from the field as the half opened, but after this stage the Orange and Maroon defense tightened and Captain Glenn and Rummel opened another great scoring attack. Time after time Rummel scored under the basket, while Glenn ripped the cords with several long shots.

During this last half the Indians could find the hoops only on three different occasions, while the Crusaders kept ringing up the points in great fashion. The Orange and Maroon scored nine field goals in the last half.

Burlew, Steele and Jamison played a good defensive game for Juniata. Burlew had his ankle badly sprained in the first half and had to be carried from the court. Lineup:

Brookhart Declares Against Interests

Senator from Iowa Points to Agriculture as Greatest Sufferer in "Un-sound Economic System"

"The competitive business of the United States is 'unsound,' was the statement made by United States Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Iowa, concerning the economic structure of the country, to the student and the faculty of Susquehanna University in the University auditorium last night.

The instability of the system was well illustrated by a chart depicting the fluctuations which have occurred during the past fifty years, and showing there have been eight major depressions and as many superficial inflations.

The depressions have effected no interests more than the agricultural interests. This discrimination is clearly seen if the state of agriculture is compared with that of industry, banking, and railroads. Thus, the farmers, representing one-third of our people, have only a fifth of the property values and less than one-tenth of the national income, and even this is a liberal estimate in this year of depression. The six thousand banks, which have failed since 1920, have been in agricultural states, and yet some New York banks have made one hundred to two hundred percent profit on capital during these years of depression. Senator Brookhart added that there has been similar discrimination against the coal business and one or two others.

"Laws," said Senator Brookhart, "are the cause of this economic distinction." He particularly attacked the following:

1. The transportation act of March, 1920, which assured "reasonable and adequate" returns to railroads, a guaranty which agricultural interests have never received. Railroads took this opportunity to include speculative features, such as the Pullman Co., Adams Express, etc.; whereupon the farmers' price rates of transportation went up fifty percent.

2. "Protective Tariff," said Senator Brookhart, "protects only the industries which are so government financed that they can sell their surplus abroad, while the farmer, on the other hand, has to sell his surplus at home and so floods that market."

3. Laws protecting and fostering corporations have placed the public utilities in the hands of trusts at the expense of the American public. The

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC CLUB ENJOYS SLEIGH RIDE

The regular meeting of the Woman's Athletic Club of Susquehanna University was held on Monday evening, February 9, in the form of an old-fashioned sleighing party, chaperoned by their sponsor, Miss Dorothy Reeder.

The girls left Seibert Hall promptly at 7 o'clock enroute to Freeburg, where a delicious chicken and waffle dinner was enjoyed. After the dinner a business meeting was held. Tables were then cleared and everyone danced a while.

It was an ideal night for sleighing. The club, brisk air instilled the Seibert Hall athletes with characteristic vivacity and energy. Any wayfarer who might have heard the songs and yells will testify to this, unless perchance he had happened along when the co-eds were humming some favorite hymns!

Those present were Dorothy Reeder, Miriam Keim, Inez Sarver, Ruth Maury, Ruth Jacobs, Thelma Crebs, Martha Gessner, Esther Gelsal, Diana Liza-Lucille Lehman, Harriet Leese, Beatrice De Wire, Margaret Funk, Corinda Sell, Eleanor Sheriff, Muriel Camerly, Jane Leitel, Elizabeth Vorlage, Lena Baird, Ida Schweitzer, and Mary Hutchings.

CHANGES

In every business organization and club there must be some system and plan of organization. Up to this time The Susquehanna Staff has had no such plan; however, we have recently reorganized and have installed a system which will simplify the staff work and give to the student body a more representative and attractive weekly paper.

In order that this system may work it is necessary that the Staff have the full cooperation of the students and faculty. As you may see there have been many additions to the staff and we are asking you to give our reporters an interview when they may find occasion to ask for your assistance for some article. Then, too, the staff urges that if you have any news which will be of importance you will place it in the hands of some member of the Staff. It was not because we did not want to put your items in the paper before but because we were not notified of the various events in which you were concerned.

The major trouble in the past has been that articles have been handed in at all times with the expectation that they would be put in the paper. We wish to notify you that any article which is not in the hands of a Reporter by Saturday night will not receive any recognition by the staff.

If you desire to make your school paper better, then cooperate with the staff and help make it so. It is your paper.

S. U. INFIRMARY

We of the student body wish to congratulate the administration on the attitude they have toward meeting the epidemics which have found their paths to our campus. One of the spots on the grounds which no visitor or missis is the infirmary whose existence dates back to the early years of the institution. From time to time in the cycle of epidemics this homely spot has well served its purpose. Again the time has come to tax the entire force of the infirmary to meet the constant pouring in of students who have become afflicted with that malady of measles prevalent in our dormitories.

Few people know how the infirmary began to function. It seems that early in the nineties a minor epidemic struck the campus of our old Susquehanna. There was a great hustle and disturbance throughout the entire campus. In the girls' dormitory the suites attacked by the malady had to be quarantined. An entire floor in the boys' dorm had to be shut off with two or three sick boys staying therein. Because the attacks were only short lived things, they were soon forgotten.

The administration, however, acting in a very wise and foresighted manner, concluded that to meet any future plague a completely furnished infirmary should and would be constructed. This accounts for the short life of all epidemics which have struck our school. It is no longer necessary in chapel to make speeches guiding the students to ward off disease; neither will the House-Mother or Dean of Women again have to carry trays of food to quarantined suites. We wish to thank the administration for the care which has been taken of our health.

Seibert Hall Echoes

WE'VE BEEN TOLD THAT
Someone was heard to remark that the horn blowers in the orchestra at the dance on Saturday night were drawing in on their instruments, instead of blowing them! We thought that good enough to pass on, don't you?

The Intersociety Pledge dance is over. There will be no more copy from dances for a long time. Everyone seemed to be having a fine time including the guests of the various members. Ida Schweitzer had as her guest, her sister, Martha, and Mary Hutchings had Elsie Schweitzer as her guest. Miss Phyllis Light was the guest of Harriet Leese.

The Measles! If you don't watch out! If the preventatives that the several girls in Seibert Hall are using were put end to end, they would stretch from here to Kalamazoo, or some other such a place. Estelle Pearl, Margaret, Yagel and Mildred Boick are the only victims so far, but every now and then we notice that every one seems to get an itchy feeling. If worrying oneself into anything will give it to you, it won't be long till a few more are speckled.

Now that Rush Week is over, and everyone is pleased, we can't help but comment on the orderly way that everything was done this year. We hope that all the neophytes will be happy in the organizations that they have pledged.

If there are any gray hairs in Mary Hutchings' scalp it is due to the fact that she was the chaperone for the High School Frolic sleighing party on Tuesday evening. Anyone wanting some strenuous exercise, just take over a job like that! Keeping the little monkeys apart was almost as hard a thing to do as to keep them together.

The Senior basketball team which played the Juniors on Saturday called themselves the Measles. Man Keim was heard to remark that if they were the measles, the epidemic was squelched.

SPORT BITS

By the actions at the Juniata game it can be seen that Mt. Carmel boys can't be trusted with guns.

"Fuzzy" Andrews donned a basketball suit on Susquehanna's floor for the last time in his well known career last Wednesday night.

We all wonder why "Skipper" Glenn looks up at the balcony so much during a basketball game. Inspiration must mean a lot to "Skipper."

Looks like the faculty studies more than the students, for we never see them at basketball games.

Prof. Groeman is preparing for the "Little Olympians" this spring. He recently had an electrical timing device installed on the board track.

It is too bad that we didn't gain a victory over Lebanon Valley for it might have been an occasion for a parade.

Oh! The King Sol isn't so friendly to leaving the ice on Prof. Grossman's ice skating rink these days.

FACULTY ROW

Professor Percy M. Linebaugh, M.B., head of the organ department of the Conservatory of Music, and organist at Trinity Lutheran Church of Selmsgrove, is taking advance work under Ralph Kinder, well known concert organist and composer, who at present is organist of Holy Trinity Church in Rittenhouse Square, Philadelphia. For the past several years Professor Linebaugh has been doing concert work as a dedicatory recitalist in Selmsgrove and several of the surrounding cities. At present he is playing a series of Lenten recitals in connection with the regular evening church services of the College church.

Last Tuesday evening, Miss Irving, Miss Strother and Miss Hade were entertained at bridge at the home of Miss Agnes Schoch, a resident of Selmsgrove.

Miss Clara Corbin, instructor of English at Susquehanna University, received a letter last week from her father, who is now residing in China, stating that a Christmas check, which she had sent to him, had been changed and was worth ten times the original amount.

FACULTY IN CHARGE OF VESPERS

"The Church in Higher Education" was the topic for the vesper service Sunday evening. Miss Beatrice Shively played an organ solo and Miss Naomi K. Hade sang "Eye Hath No Seen" from the oratorio "The Holy City," by Gail. Dr. George Dunkelberger spoke with his usual elarity and abundance of interesting illustrations. He said in part that the work of the church in the future will be very definitely a teaching program. The main thing will no more be the pastor's sermon. The pastor will be a director of religious education in our educational program. All the higher virtues of life that make up Christianity can be learned. If the world is to be made better we can only change it by making changes in the social merits. Religion is not unique in life. extraordinary or separate—it is rather a representation of the sum total of our experiences. If we believe that God is a spirit creating a new and better world, we must cooperate with Him by living out His program in our every day life. The topic of the Christian College is to find out specifically what is to be done and then about each thing organize a program of activities. Only participation in these activities will create abilities.

All education is self activity. We learn by doing. We learn honesty by being honest and Christian virtues only by living them day by day. We want to live for a purpose and every thing we say, think or do should look toward this higher level.

ATTEND GRAND OPERA

During the past week, Mrs. Rodgers, Professor Stevens and a number of the students from the Conservatory of Music attended the Opera "Il Trovatore," "Rigoletto," "Pasha" and "Cavallera Rusticana," which were given in Harrisburg by a New York Opera Company. The troupe consisted entirely of Italians and the voices of the leading roles were reported to be very fine.

PHI BETS ARE DEFEATED BY THE JUNIOR VARSITY

The Jay Vees surprised the Junior Phi Bets from Sunbury in the preliminary game to the Juniata came Wednesday night 22-10. The Jay Vees, who have lost but one game this season, displayed a wonderful scoring attack against a fast team.

During the first half both teams played on even terms with the score 5-5 at the end of the half. Bruce Worthington made the points for the Junior Varsity the first half.

During the second half the Jay Vees got some scoring plays working and the Sunbury Frat Boys were unable to check the attack led by the Worthingtons and Brinninger. B. Worthington led the scoring with eight points.

DR. SMITH IS GUEST PASTOR AT WILMINGTON, DELAWARE

Acting as guest pastor, President Smith delivered the sermon from the pulpit of the St. Steven's Lutheran Church in Wilmington, Delaware, last Sunday. The regular pastor, Reverend Park W. Huntington, is a Susquehanna Alumnus of great note. Dr. Smith stopped in Wilmington while on a trip that took him to Philadelphia and New York.

JUNIOR VARSITY WINS OVER THE GRADS

The Junior Varsity tucked another victory under their belts as they edged out the class of '30 last Tuesday evening in the Gym, 35-34. The game was won in the last thirty seconds when Kapic covered under the basket.

The ex-Seniors started out with a bang and ran up 20 points on the Jay Vees before they ever spent the words with a point. With about five minutes left in the first half the Jay Vees scored fourteen points, making the score 20-14. During the second half the ex-Seniors failed to display their previous pace and the Jay Vees kept cutting down the lead until in the last half-minute with the score 34-33 Kapic's goal scored the winning point.

Mention might be made of the work of B. Worthington and Kapic as forwards, while Keller played well at guard. Keller made two beautiful long shots. Rhoads and Good starred for the Class of '30. INTER-CLASS BOXING RESULTS

Inter-Class boxing was resumed again after the Juniata game. Three bouts were put on between the Sophomores and Freshmen classes. Both classes broke even in the bouts, winning one apiece and one called a draw. The first fight in the 120-lb. class, Watts (F.) vs. Carl (S.), was called a draw. There was very little actual fight in this bout but both parties displayed good boxing ability. The second fight in the 140-lb. class, Gray (F.) vs. Swann (S.), was the best on the evening's card. Both parties landed many blows and at times the wallops came pretty freely. Gray easily outpointed Swann in the three rounds. The last fight on the card ended

BROOKHART DECLARES AGAINST INTERESTS

(Continued from Page 1) Sinclair Oil Company, "you've all heard of that patriotic organization," increased its profits by $50,000,000 even in this year of depression. Coca-Cola and American Telephone and Telegraph have profited similarly, because of the protection of the state laws and those of the United States Congress.

The Federal Reserve Act is by no means the least cause for financial unsoundness, in spite of the impression given by the Wall Street Journal. This has been proven definitely by the minutes of the meeting of May 18, 1920 of the Federal Reserve Board, when a general deflation policy was inaugurated and it was agreed secretly to increase railroad rates. These measures were not known by the people, though big business began to act upon them.

In conclusion he said that the prosperity of the country as a whole depends upon the agricultural unit. "Our business has turned into a great gambling machine." We may, however, remedy the situation without resorting to the Russian solution, by ourselves becoming bankers, like Henry Ford, and by inaugurating a co-operative reserve comparable to that which has been working so smoothly in Great Britain.

More particularly he suggested that the government should imitate Canada in taking over the railroads. Big corporations, he feels, should be taxed and should be deprived of all profits over four percent. Of agriculture he made the memorable remark that it, like industry, "must have a set-up by the law." Government financed holding companies must take care of surplus crops in productive years.

The Senator's remarks concerning certain men of national prominence were what might have been expected from one of "the fourteen Republicans." He placed utmost confidence in Governor Gifford Pinchot to remove the evils present in Pennsylvania as a result of the "Mellon controlled" public utilities. After speaking two hundred times in a dozen different states for Hoover's election and having one-half million copies of his speeches printed, he bolted the Administration when Hoover consulted with Mellon and not him on Farm Relief.

Susquehanna Loses to Lebanon Valley

Opponents Ahead All First Half—Crusaders Given Chance Last Five Minutes

Coming from behind in the first half the Crusaders gave the Lebanon Valley passers a stubborn battle, being edged out of a victory by the score 37-32. The Orange and Maroon had a chance to forge ahead in the last five minutes of play, but muffed the chance after they had displayed a great brand of basketball.

During the first half of play the Lebanon Valley passers got the jump on the Orange and Maroon and led at the end of the period 21-12. After this the defense of the Crusaders tightened and Lebanon Valley managed to score but four field goals during the entire second half. The game was somewhat marred by the number of fouls committed on both sides.

The excellent offensive play by "Herb" Rummell and the great defensive play by "Swede" Palmer featured for the Crusaders. As "Herb" had a good night and it was hard for him to miss, he led the team mates in scoring honors with twelve points. "Swede" Palmer, who has been playing great defensive ball the last few games for the Crusaders, held Captain Heller to the lowest number of points he has been held during the entire year. In previous games Heller has proved to be a "jinx" and scored points at will, but Saturday night the net was thrown over him and he was held to two field goals.

During the last five minutes of play the score stood 31-29 in Lebanon Valley's favor, but Stewart and Williams broke away and scored two tie goals, which placed the game on ice.

Susquehanna had another good night in foul shooting, making sixteen out of twenty-three free throws, which helped to keep them in the running. Captain Glenn was out of the game during the greater part of the second half.

Sprenkle led in scoring honors with fourteen points. Lineup:

SUSQUEHANNA TO MEET DRUMEL FRIDAY NIGHT

Waiting seven of their last twelve and with only three more games to play, the Crusaders are again to make a decided effort to win the remaining games. So far this season Susquehanna has had the most successful basketball season that they have ever enjoyed.

The Crusaders will play Drumel this Friday night in the presence of a large crowd and the Drumelians. Philadelphia Crusaders' record this season has been 25-57 and they hope to make a better job out of it this year. At 8:00 P. M. the "Crusaders" will play Drumel at work. The probable lineup for the Crusaders is: Drummel, center; the center; the forward; the point; the guard; the center. The probable lineup for Drumel is: Yunker at center and Eckstein and Robinson at forward.

Friday night will be the last time this season that the Crusaders will invade Lebanon Valley territory, when they will appear in Elizabethtown. Susquehanna officers of the Elizabethtown passers 31-21 in the second game of the season on the 10th of February. In that game Lauer was the masher for the Elizabethtown side, who led points to his credit last season. Elizabethtown's probable lineup is: Yunker, center; the forward; the center; the guard; the center and Robinson at center.

When the Crusaders played in Lebanon Valley territory the Crusaders have not yet been able to look forward to and that is why they are so military.

SELINSGROVE, PENNSYLVANIA, FEBRUARY 24, 1931

Book by Dr. C. Leese Placed in Library

Thesis Includes Study of Collective Bargainings Among Photo-Engravers; Received Favorably by Periodicals

The book, "Collective Bargaining Among Photo-Engravers in Philadelphia," written by Dr. Charles Leese, head of the Department of Business Administration of Susquehanna, was placed in the University library, last week. This work was published by the University of Pennsylvania Press in 1929, and was prepared by Dr. Leese for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Economics at the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania.

The thesis is a complete study of the application of ordinary methods of collective bargaining to an occupation, which bridges the gap between an art and a manual trade. It reveals that the labor relations in this industry are unique in that collective bargaining has been successful in securing wages ranking among the highest paid in American industry for skilled workers, the 44-hour week, and other improvements with but few strikes resulting.

The study, which contains 220 pages, shows evidence of thorough investigation. The author has interviewed every proprietor of a Photo-Engraving establishment in the Philadelphia area, which includes the city proper as well as nine nearby cities of New Jersey, Delaware, and Pennsylvania. He has also interviewed all the union officials in this area, and many of the 600 members of the union. The study has attracted favorable attention of both those interested in labor problems and periodicals on this subject. "The American Economic Review" in the March issue of 1929 gave a two page review of the study. The December issue of "Factory and Industrial Management" as well as "Annals" and several other journals gave reviews of the study.

The study was made under the auspices of the Industrial Research Department of the Wharton School, in which he was research assistant during the summers of 1927 and 1928.

Crusaders Victorious in Extra Period 40-38

Elizabethtown Passers Meet Defeat For Second Time Before Crusader Five

The Crusaders eked out a 40-38 victory in an extra period contest over the Elizabethtown passers at Elizabethtown Saturday night for their eighth victory. A late rally in the final stages of the game knotted the score 38-38, but Rich Fisher gave the Orange and Maroon the victory by sinking a goal.

The Orange and Maroon five led throughout the first half and was on top of the score at the end of the period, 24-19. Kopic, who started his first game of college basketball, led in the scoring attack the first half.

During the second half the Elizabethtown passers opened up a scoring rally, and in the later stages of the half they forged ahead, but Captain Glenn then came through and tied it; after this, Elizabethtown again managed to tie the score. With ten seconds to go, Herby Rummel made a long shot from the center of the court. An Elizabethtown player tapped the ball out of the nest, but Referee Boyer ruled it a goal, and it was this goal that tied the score.

Rich Fisher, substituting for "Swede" Palmer in the last few minutes, buried the only goal made in the extra period played to take the final count, 40-38.

The game was slightly marred by many fouls being called on both sides. Three Susquehanna men were forced to leave the game by the foul route and two Elizabethtown men also left the game.

Although the Orange and Maroon lacked the previous offensive and defensive play of former games, they were well on the floor by the time of the final minutes, who tied the score at the climax of the game, and whose passing and defensive play helped the Crusaders' cause throughout. Crouthamel, of Elizabethtown, led in scoring honors with fourteen points. Summary.

New Catalogue Has Important Changes

Miss Swettman to be Susquehanna's Official Registrar; Miss Arbogast Will be Secretary to Dean

When the new Catalogue makes its appearance during the first week of March there will be several marked changes noted. These changes have all emanated from the same source, the desire to raise Susquehanna to higher planes in the world of education.

Starting with the coming Summer School, Susquehanna University will have an official Registrar. This position will be capably filled by Miss Swettman, present Secretary to the Dean of the College. Incidentally, Miss Arbogast, student assistant to Miss Swettman, will be promoted to the office now held by Miss Swettman. This action relieves the long-felt need at Susquehanna and will be greatly appreciated by all connected with the University.

Another important change is to the effect that there will be no refund for courses dropped after two weeks from Registration Day. This action comes as a result of the demands of the students in the past who have asked for refunds for courses dropped as late as the middle of the semester.

Students in the Science Department will note with interest the fact that they will be privileged to begin the study of physics and vertebrate and invertebrate zoology during the Freshman year. Heretofore these courses have been open only to Juniors and Seniors.

A new course in the School of Religion will be offered next year. "Religion" (Concluded on Page 4)

New York Department of Education Receives S. U. Graduates

Graduates of Susquehanna University recently received recognition by New York State Department of Education to the effect that its diploma will be taken as the basis for certification. This notice, given by the University of the State of New York on February nineteenth, illustrates conclusively the progress that our college is making in the line of recognition in other States than Pennsylvania, due chiefly to the untiring work of the Administration.

Who's Who in the Senior Class

WILBUR BERGER

In the year of 1927, the portals of Susquehanna University were opened to receive one who was destined to be one of the leaders on her campus, not only in scholarship, but in athletic attainments as well.

He came to us from the thriving city of Conditale in the heart of the "black diamond" belt. He readily adjusted himself to his new environment and grasped the Susquehanna spirit. This was demonstrated on the first night of varsity football practice for "Bill" was found on the gridiron fighting for a position.

For the next three years "Bill" made the varsity football team and in appreciation of his services, he was elected to the athletic board for two years as secretary. He also guarded the Varsity "S" treasury for three years.

No, "Bill's" attainments cannot be confined to athletics alone, for he has gained as great a distinction as a scholar. The third year rolled around and we found him acting as Junior "Prom" chairman, and was responsible for one of the best proms ever given at S. U.

Now that his last year is here we still find "Bill" one of our foremost workers, for he has been chosen manager of "The Susquehanna," vice president of the Class of '31, president of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity, and last but not least, president of the Student Council. This last office is the highest that Susquehanna has to offer to its male students. Only one who is a real leader can serve effectively in this high position and Berger has shown that ability.

The spirit in which he meets problems, undertakes duties, and wins friends is certain to make him popular in the educational world.

Ready for Pittston; Trial Debate Held

Selected Debators to Meet St. Thomas Team Have Final Tryout; Professor Wood, Dr. Ahl Criticize Debate

The picked negative debating team, chosen by Coach Corbin, and composed of Walter Foukrod, first speaker, Edward Clapper, second speaker, and Lawrence Fisher, third speaker, that will go to Pittston on March 2 to defend the negative side of the question: "Resolved: That the Nations of the World Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade," delivered their speeches in a trial debate held in the University Auditorium before Professor Wood, Doctor Ahl, and Coach Corbin, Wednesday evening. Professor Wood criticized the speakers from the standpoint of economics, while Dr. Ahl confined his criticisms to the form and delivery.

Susquehanna's representatives appeared to be in fine shape for the debate, excepting upon a few minor issues, and with a week still before them until the set date they should be able to iron out all the flaws in their speeches and to present an iron-wall defense to their side of the question. This will undoubtedly be the hardest debate of the year and Coach Corbin has selected speakers from both the affirmative and negative teams to go to St. Thomas to start the season off with a victory.

Faculty Recital in Seibert Last Night

Conservatory of Music Heads Give Masterful Exhibition of Their Exceptional Talents

The faculty of Susquehanna University again treated the students and friends of the college to a varied program of music Monday, February 23, at 8:15 p. m. in Seibert Chapel Hall.

Perhaps the most unusual feature was the chorus directed by Professor Sheldon in which Mrs. Rodgers and Mr. Stevens took the solo parts. Besides students, there were in the chorus Miss Nesbit, Miss Petteiger, Mrs. Sheldon, Professor Hemphill, Mr. Oberdorf, Dr. Overbo, Professor Scudder, Dr. Williams, and others. Professor Linebaugh accompanied them.

Those who attended Professor Allison's recital a few weeks ago were glad for the opportunity to hear him again. Professor Linebaugh played with his usual finish. Professor Hemphill's selections will also be remembered, nor will the audience soon forget the richness of Professor Stevens' voice or Mrs. Rodgers' dramatic rendering of "The Erlking."

Pre-Medical Students Take Aptitude Tests of Medical Colleges

The Aptitude Tests, prepared by the Association of American Medical Colleges for the purpose of eliminating from entrance to a graduate school of medicine those students not fully prepared for the advanced work, were given to nine pre-medical students of Susquehanna University on Friday, February thirteenth. As yet there have been no results received by the Administration concerning the outcome of the examination, but it is to be presumed that all the Susquehanna men made good account of themselves.

The following men were given the tests under the direction of Dean Dunkelberger:

Harold Gelnett, William Stahlman, Glenn Clark, Alton Garman, Frederick Norton, Frank Paris, Lawrence Fisher, Bryce Nicodemus and John Van Nuys.

NOTICE TO THE ALUMNI OF CENTRE COUNTY DISTRICT

The Centre County District Alumni Club will meet at Laird's Tea Room, State College, at 7 o'clock on the evening of March 9. Rev. John Harkins, 15-18, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church at State College, is president of the club and Mrs. Randal Miller (Estelle McCormick) '16, of Millheim, is secretary.

Dr. George E. Fisher has been invited to be the speaker of the evening. Alumni planning to attend the meeting are requested to notify Rev. Harkins before noon, March 9.

FRENCH CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

The French Club, directed by Miss Allison, held a most enjoyable meeting in Seibert Hall on Monday evening, February 16. After a short business meeting several songs were sung by the group and a number of members of the club presented two very clever one-act plays, which were received with much enthusiasm. The first play, "Rosalie," was given by Etheilynne Miller, Beatrice DeWire, and Jay Worthington, and was followed by "Au Restaurant du Laphin Blanc," in which Janet Leitzel, Elizabeth Vorlage, Wayne Neisenwerth, John Meyers, and Fred Carl took part. The latter play depicted a vocal scene in front of a French cafe. With the serving of refreshments the meeting came to a close and everyone agreed that it was one of the best this year.

Football Men Are Awarded Letters

Twenty Men Were Awarded the Varsity "S" in Chapel on Wednesday Morning

The Athletic Council has already taken advantage of the recent revision of its constitution. Prof. Grossman awarded twenty men the Varsity Football "S" during chapel Wednesday morning.

In previous years it was necessary for a man to play a full quarter in order to have those quarters counted toward earning his letter. Under these conditions it was always very hard for football men to earn an "S." As the provision in the constitution of the Athletic Council now stands, part of a quarter's play will be counted toward earning an award.

Prof. Grossman awarded the following men a Varsity Football "S": Captain Alton Garman, Jack Auchmuty, Harold Glenn, Winfield Hudkins, John Meyers, George Moser, Herbert Spigelmeyer, Josiah Winters, Harold Witkop, Raymond Scott, Alvin Barber, Reed Speer, Russell Spout, Warren Wolfe, Richard Fisher, Lee Rishel, and Managers Herbert Schmidt and Nevin Dornshamer.

Warren Wolfe and Alvin Barber, who were out of the varsity lineup for the greater part of the season on account of injuries, were given the special awards. The Constitution also permits the issuance of three extra awards, and two of these went to Reed Speer and Russell Spout.

In addition to the letters, class numerals were awarded to six additional members of the squad, as follows: Lloyd Poltz, Robert Hartman, Herbert Rummel, Lloyd Bedford, Harold Kramer, and Walter Van Nuys.

Graduation this spring will hit athletes hard at Susquehanna and will mean the loss of seven letter men to the Orange and Maroon grid squad. Included in this number will be Garman, Hudkins, Moser, Winters, Scott, Barber, and Wolfe. With the exception of Scott and Moser all the losses will be in the line.

Drexel Takes Close Game in Last Minute

Crusaders Hold Lead Until Last Minute When Dragons Slink Winning Goal

The Dragons closed in on the Crusaders Friday night and ordered them out of a victory by the slim margin of 28-27 after the Orange and Maroon had edged the Drexel Five out of a victory 29-27 on their floor earlier in the season.

The Orange and Maroon were slightly off color and did not display the brilliant offensive and defensive play as in previous games, although the battle was not throughout. Captain Glenn led his teammates in high scoring honors, with ten points. Whenever the score shifted to the Drexel Five, Captain Glenn would make desperate attempts to start a rally.

McGeehan started the scoring for the Orange and Maroon in the first half and after this, the scoring was on even terms throughout, the half ending 15-10 with Susquehanna on top.

At the beginning of the second half Captain Johnson talked for the Dragons, but the Crusaders again forged score, and at the end of the first eight minutes in this period the Crusaders enjoyed the greatest margin of the game, with a score of 19-12. After this the Dragons kept closing in on the Crusaders, cutting down the lead and managing to shift the score several times.

During the last five minutes of play Rummel scored under the basket, making the score 25-22 in the Orange and Maroon's favor. Drexel again forged ahead as Blultz and Reynolds scored from the field, making the score 28-25 but Captain Glenn immediately came back with a beautiful field goal again, giving Susquehanna a narrow margin, 27-26. With but a minute to go the Orange and Maroon now made a desperate attempt to hold the ball, but failed as it went to the Dragons, and with but twenty seconds to go, Yunker pipped a long shot through the net to clinch a victory, 28-27.

Wit That's Fit

The backbone of any obstacle is best broken by a bold front.

First Gentleman—"So you have given up trying to teach your wife to drive the car?"

Second Gentleman—"Yes, when I told her to release her clutch she let go the steering wheel."

Agitated Passenger—"I'm sure that was a human being you ran over."

Bus Driver (in heavy dust)—"Ah, good! Then we're still on the main road."

Auditor—"Now, let's see your pink slips."

Filing Clerk (fem.)—"Sir!"

"Where did you get those big, tender, sympathetic eyes?"

"Oh," replied the sailor, "they came with my face."

BATTERY MEN START WORK-OUTS; SCHEDULE APPROVED

Battery men have started their work-outs under the direction of Coach Ullery in the Gym. This will probably be the weakest department of the Orange and Maroon baseball team and Coach Ullery plans to get an early line on his players so that he may start early practice as soon as weather permits.

- April 18—Elizabethtown, Selinsgrove.
- April 25—Moravian, Selinsgrove.
- April 29—Bucknell, Lewisburg.
- May 2—Dickinson, Selinsgrove.
- May 6—Dickinson, Carlisle.

"Religious Education" is the subject, and it will be under the instruction of Dr. Dunkelberger. Juniors and Seniors will be privileged to carry it and will receive four honors credit during the year.

Perhaps the most complete change will be noticed in the Business Administration Course, the curriculum of which has been entirely reorganized. Students majoring in Business Administration will be required to have two departmental minors in either selling, accounting, or management. Many other changes are to be noticed in this course, which will be more distinctly Business Administration than it has been in the past.

In the Commercial Education curriculum the regular college Freshman English will be required during the Freshman year, followed in the Sophomore year by Business English. No English has been required during the Freshman year formerly, and Business English was not offered until the Junior year.

So far as these changes are concerned, as affecting the present student body, the policy of the Administration will be for the present student body to take the work as outlined for the future with disregard for the past, providing all required courses have been taken to date. For example: a student in the Commercial Education or Business Administration Departments is rated as a Junior. If all his required work under the old catalogue has been satisfactorily completed, then he will continue under the new catalogue and the curriculum outlined in it.

The Music curriculum has undergone several changes whereby the introduction of cultural courses given in the regular college department has been made.

Well Known Pianist Gives Fine Recital

Lecture-Recital Favorably Received by Audience at Bucknell University; S. U. Faculty and Students Attend

Percy A. Grainger, well-known pianist, gave a lecture-recital at Lewisburg on February 24, 1931. His numbers and also lectures on his selections were well received by the audience. Mr. Grainger's wit was a great source of amusement to the people who attended. Before his musical selections he told a little of their history.

Who's Who in the Senior Class

LENA BAIRD

Well begin by giving you Lena's faults. Her outstanding bad feature is her propensity for always doing something for someone. No matter how often she's told not to, Lena just smiles that quiet smile, and in her own inimitable way, cheers up someone who has been blue or makes some happy person happier by her sunny companionship. Lena's personality is the kind that every man likes, and every girl envies.

Since entering Susquehanna, Lena has taken part in about all that it is possible to be in. She has been a member of the Woman's Athletic Club, treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. in 1930, an active member of the Spanish Club of which she is secretary and also Miss Irving's right-hand "man," because Lena is majoring in Spanish. Last year Lena was the only woman on the Business Staff of the Lantern.

Of class officers, Lena has had her share, too. She was Vice-President her Freshman year, and this year, the class of 1931 is proud to have her for its Treasurer.

Lena is a member of Kappa Delta Phi Sorority, and has held an office in that organization every year since she became a member.

Altoona claims Lena as its own, but after June of this year we venture to say that Susquehanna will ask to share that honor.

No Decision for Negative Debators

Arguments Close and Interesting in First Debate of Susquehanna Against F. & M. Affirmative Team

The negative debating team of Susquehanna met the affirmative team of Franklin and Marshall in the University auditorium last Friday evening in a non-decision debate upon the question, "Resolved: That the nations should adopt a policy of free trade." A very small crowd was present at the debate, which was very close and extremely interesting.

Mr. Nagg, first speaker on the affirmative for F. and M., opened the debate with a brief and comprehensive historical sketch of the free trade question, quite naturally, putting out how history proves the worth of that policy. His arguments that followed the historical sketch dealt in the main with the political and social benefits that may be derived from free trade. His presentation was excellent and held the audience's attention throughout.

Warren Wolfe was Susquehanna's first speaker, and after a few explanatory claims, launched out aggressively, exposing the evils of "dumping" and its associated undesirabilities. He introduced and conclusively proved a second point; that after England's free trade has failed so miserably, it would not be wise nor conducive to progress for other nations to take up that policy.

Mr. Lewis, following up the attack originated by Mr. Nagg, painted a beautiful and alluring picture of the world ideal, were free trade universally adopted. It was interesting to note how he attempted to convert several of Wolfe's points into arguments substantiating the affirmative side of the question.

Samuel Brosius, in his speech, the second on the negative dealing with the issue from the stand-point of economic, showed how free trade overcomes possibilities in industry or natural resources. Mr. Brosius' speech was filled with some very interesting facts and figures that threw a splendid

Susquehanna Sends Three to Conference

Dean Dunkelberger, Miss Hade and Dr. Ahl Represented Susquehanna at the U. L. C. A. in Washington

Susquehanna's Campus was well represented in a conference of the U. L. C. A. Schools held at Washington last December 19-20, 1930. Dean Dunkelberger, Miss Hade, and Dr. A. William Ahl were the representatives from Susquehanna. They met in conference with other deans and professors of our sister schools of the Lutheran Church. The conference was under the auspices of the Board of Education during its meetings in Washington.

The problem for discussion was of a general nature centering around "Christian Culture in the Church College." The high points of the conference were the recognition of the social diffidence of the students; the prevalent lack of knowledge of the Bible, and the lack of religious interest as it manifest in the church schools of our country. Perhaps this statement is clearer when it is coupled with last year's discussion, because the conference last year was faced with the same problem as it was this year. This seems to point to the fact that work in Christian education needs a lot of improvement if it is expected to give to the student the things that are so particularly needed.

The argument on college atmospheres presented many varied and diverse opinions concerning reasons for cheating and the use of the "honor system." It was pointed out by one of the leaders of the church not connected, however, with any college, that the honor of students is not any higher than the level of responsibility of the homes from which they come. This one statement found solid footing in the conference, but nothing was definitely done concerning its relation to our Church colleges.

The last, but one of the most important features of the program, was the discussions of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. groups. The importance of these religious powers to our varied campus life is far greater than can be stated, even though they do not receive as much student support as they might.

Some of the most important findings of the committee are listed as follows:

1. A continuation of the conference plan with more extended and specialized program.

2. A renewed sense of responsibility for the genuinely Christian culture of youth on Lutheran campuses.

3. The need for ascertaining the religious standing of the students as he comes to college, with this as a guiding factor in the program of his culture.

4. The need for increasing co-operation between the colleges and the local churches.

5. A recognition that the Lutheran Church will find its ultimate goal in the affirmation of its historic heritage, "A Christ Centered Faith and Life."

There were representatives from Gettysburg, Muhlenberg, Marion, Wittenberg, Newberry, Thiel, Lenoir-Rhyne, Hartwick, Roanoke, Midland and Carthage. The members of the faculty from our own university were well pleased with the progress of the

CORINDA SELL

Corinda is another of Altoona's prizes, which she has lent to Susquehanna for awhile. Is it air there which makes the citizen of that city such leaders? For let us assure you that Corinda is a leader, a worker of real merit. Any task assigned to her will be done in the best possible style and thoroughly finished. It is a joy to have Corinda on a committee, or to be on one with her.

Corinda's activities since her entrance to S. U. have been legion. Her biggest interest is in Debating, and this year we find her a member of the Girls' Varsity Debating team, and a member of Tau Kappa Alpha, the honorary Debating Fraternity. Corinda's next big interest is in Y. W. C. A. of which she is vice-president this year. Last summer she represented S. U. in the Middle Atlantic Student Conference of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. Student Council had Corinda as a representative her Freshman year and she is a member of the Woman's Athletic Club.

Corinda has been our class secretary for two years. She had to work very hard during that trying Junior year, and the class of 1931 seemed to be of the opinion that they couldn't find a better Secretary for their Senior year. Sigma Sigma Delta Sorority numbers Corinda among one of its Seniors.

As a last tribute let us add that Corinda is a student of the first rank, and will be a graduate of our business department of which they can boast.

Affirmative Team Debates F. & M.

In a No-Decision Debate Held at Lancaster the Question of Free Trade Was Discussed

Susquehanna's Affirmative Debating Team met the Franklin & Marshall Negative Team in the Franklin & Marshall Auditorium on Friday evening on the question of Free Trade.

The debate was very interesting, being marked throughout by an enthusiastic presentation of logical arguments on both sides of the question.

The Susquehanna team was represented by Walter Foukrod, Captain Wilson Sieber, and John Kindsvater. Foukrod and Sieber showed their usual power of oratory. Kindsvater, appearing in his first inter-collegiate debate, was somewhat nervous.

The Franklin & Marshall College was represented by a group of fine speakers, which made the forensic engagement one of real enjoyment to the audience who turned out, in spite of a basketball game, to hear the discussion of this timely question.

DEBATE TEAM DEFEATS ST. THOMAS AT PITTSBURGH

Before an audience of about nine hundred and fifty our debating team defeated St. Thomas College in the debate held last evening at Pittston. The question was, "Resolved: That all nations should adopt a policy of Free Trade." The Susquehanna debaters, who upheld the affirmative side of the question, were S. Walter Foukrod, Capt. Edward M. Clapper, Lawrence C. Fisher and Wilson Sieber.

The judges for the debate were the Hon. W. Alfred Valentine, Hon. William H. Gillespie, Prof. Daniel J. Gray. They handed in a two to one decision in our favor.

Before the debate, the Kwanan Club of Pittston entertained the debating team and the Coach, Miss Clara Corbin. There were also about seventy-five other people who attended.

Margaret Hausman Heads Frosh Class

Girls Outrank Boys Scholastically; Thirty of List on Probation; Girls Lead Class

Holding the first five places, and representing thirteen out of the twenty leading freshmen at Susquehanna, the girls appear to have an edge over the boys' scholastically. These figures were given out at the Dean's office on Saturday for publication, and inaugurate a new custom at the school.

Falling in line with type of news were several other announcements to which Dr. Dunkelberger wished publicity to be given. They too, added further figures to show that, scholastically speaking, and without deep investigation, the girls seem to be superior to the boys at Susquehanna, for of the thirty students on probation during the current semester, twenty-four are boys and only six are girls.

Compiled herewith is the data given to The Susquehanna reporter:

First twenty in Freshman class in order:

1. Margaret Hausman, Sunbury H. S.
2. Edith Frankenfin, Philadelphia H. S.
3. Ruth Plummer, Selingsrove H. S.
4. Anna Benfer, Selingsrove H. S.
5. Kathryn Jarret, Selingsrove H. S.
6. Russell Sheets, Steelton H. S.
7. Edwin Clapper, Hollersburg H. S.
8. Pauline Crowe, Liverpool H. S.
9. Blanche Savidge, Northumberland H. S.
10. Aberdeen Phillips, Selingsrove H. S.
11. Russell Godding, McAlisterville H. S.
12. Isabelle Horn, Japan (American H. S.)
13. Ruth Nelson, Port Royal H. S.

17. Audra Martz, Sunbury H. S.
18. Helen Hall, Williamsport H. S.
19. Lena Middlesworth, Middleburg H. S.
20. Nelson King, Manchester H. S.

It is very interesting to note that students 3, 4, 5, 10, and 14 are graduates of the local high school. This reflects clearly the splendid training that is given her students.

At the close of the year 1929-1930, twelve were notified that they had

Courtmen Lose to P. M. C., 29 - 28

Entire Game is Thrilling to Crowd; Last Minute Rally Win for Cadets; Rummel Leads Scoring

The Crusaders put up a stubborn battle as the P. M. C. Cadets outnumbered them in their last game of the season, 29-28. Although the Orange and Maroon failed to boost their total of victories for the season, they completed the most successful basketball season that Susquehanna has ever enjoyed.

Captain Glenn, who returned to the court for the first time during the past week, after a severe attack of grip, led his teammates in the scoring the first half with a total of six points. The Crusaders were leading throughout the first half and at the end were leading 14-9.

The Cadets opened the scoring the second half when Layer scored from a distance; after this the play was rather slow for a half period, but the Orange and Maroon were on top of the score until about the last eight minutes of the game. Finch forged ahead at this point, when the score was 19-18 in P. M. C.'s favor. After this stage, Rummel scored twice on two beautiful shots, which again gave Susquehanna the lead, but then they lost it and failed to regain it during the rest of the game.

Cook caged the basket that shot the Cadets ahead for the second time at 25-24. Then he shot two more field goals to widen the margin to 29 until Captain Glenn caged a two pointer for Susquehanna. The Orange and Maroon rally continued as Herby Rummel shot another field goal, but hardly had the two teams lined up until the timer's gun sounded taps that ended the game.

Both teams displayed a brilliant de-

S. U. U. OF P. ATHLETIC POLICY

What Susquehanna undertook some ten years ago in the case of an athletic policy is being tried by the University of Pennsylvania today. In the recent issue of "The Philadelphia Public Ledger," one entire page was devoted to a statement of Thomas S. Gates, President of the University of Pennsylvania, concerning the change of the athletic policy of the large institution. The new policy includes the abolition of the Athletic Council and its replacement by a board of purely advisory capacity. This new department is to be known as the Department of Physical Education and for its head has been appointed Dr. Leroy Metzger, recent director of athletics at Swarthmore College.

The cause of this new policy is very evident. With his assumption of office, President Gates saw the inadequacy of the opportunities afforded to students to acquire life habits conducive to health, physical fitness, and intellectual vigor. To get to the root of the matter, he elected a committee made up of propitious men and approved by the trustees of the University. The instructions to the committee were: "To make a survey and report upon the whole field of student health, physical education of students, and student athletics, with the object of bringing about at Pennsylvania a thorough going coordination of effort, and a more centralized administration of the activities covering the physical life of the students."

The new policy is a policy of athletics for all. Every student could be required to engage in some definite sport. Given facilities and centralized supervision of physical activities, proper coordination between intra-mural and competitive athletics could produce athletes who could be used in inter-collegiate competition. No more will it be necessary to depend upon "stars" in varsity competition. Nothing will tend to improve individual group spirit more than development of material from the student body as a whole. In Dr. Gates' words "This is not a backward but a forward step, indicative of the progressive extension of education and of universities' appreciation of their responsibility."

Susquehanna early saw the advantage of this type of policy. Early as 1916, after much careful consideration and deliberation by a special committee as to the needs of the University in its department, a definite policy was outlined, presented to the Board of Directors and approved. The policy was the same as Pennsylvania today is trying. But it was not till several years ago that Professor L. D. Grossman was made head of the Department of Physical Education. The new policy created much newspaper talk and interest and Susquehanna was in the front lines for a while, but we were too small to remain there. Without doubt the system has proved a success, and anyone examining athletic activities of Susquehanna will indeed be convinced that Athletics-for-All is a real policy and the University of Pennsylvania is to be congratulated.

DID YOU KNOW THAT
Dorothy Hutter's popularity among the stronger sex is something to be envied.

Miss "Romme" O'Donnel was the guest of Stine Alford this week-end. She met several of the girls when they were at Seabright the past two summers, and Ruth Jacobs, Ida Schweitzer, and Beatrice DeWine were all back to talk over old times with her.

Barbara Jones is back and able to attend classes again. Barb recommends measles to anyone who wants to gain weight.

HAND AND VOLLEY BALL TO BE COMING SPORTS

Aside from the Intra-Mural Sports activities there will be a lull in the athletic activity for several weeks after the completion of the 1931 basketball season.

At the present time Hand Ball and Volley Ball are taking the lime light. Interesting tournaments will be developed in both of these sports. A Volley Ball schedule is being worked out and the games should get under way within the next week.

The battery men in baseball have begun to work out in the Gym under the direction of Coach Uhlery. In several weeks, as soon as weather permits, the baseball team will go outdoors to get in shape for the first game, April 18th with Elizabethtown, on University Field.

NEW BOOKS

"The Edwardians," one of the books last year recognized by the Literary Guild of America, is a remarkable portrayal of human character and description of English social life in the late Nineteenth and early Twentieth centuries. The well-known author, V. Sackville-West, gives the story a background of English culture, when she places the setting in Chevron a wealthy feudal estate near London. At the opening of the story we find the young master, Sebastian, a titled duke, moodily sitting on the roof of his mansion, bored by the week-end party that his mother is giving. We follow him through this party and others, through three or four love affairs with ladies of his acquaintance, several of them already married to lords and earls, and through as many disappointments. We meet his mother, his sister Viola, his servants, his friends, and especially a famous explorer and adventurer, Anghell, a man who has great influence in his life, although mentioned but little in the story. We find him at last utterly tired of his useless, pampered, monotonous life, doing as his sister has already done, freeing himself and going with Anghell to explore the Amazon. Such, in brief, is the plot, if it may be called that, for the story is far more a character sketch than a novel of romance and adventure.

In this book almost every phase of English life or personality is pictured. The old conservative royalty hemmed in by tradition, class distinction, and etiquette, is in close combat with the new generation, a generation disgusted and weary of the endless parties and trivial flirtations. The older matrons, as always, look to the past, but the younger members, even during the period of 1905, become socialists, republicans, or democrats. Here we find society at home, clinging to its well-worn creed of feudalism, bored, unwelcome, and eager for some new excitement, but still clinging to old ideals and what ideals: not virtue for the sake of virtue, but a code of "do anything you will, but never permit a scandal." If you think of wealth and fame as the ultimate in happiness or have any desire to know them as they are, read this book and you will be persuaded of their superficiality and their utter uselessness. W. T. I.

STUDENTS MEET TO FORM CLUB
Twenty-five students of the Business Administration Department interested in the formation of a business club, held an organization meeting in G. A. Hall on Friday, February 27.

Although the meeting was attended by members of the Business Department it is the purpose of the organization to include all students interested in current events on topics of world interest.

It is the aim of the club to affiliate themselves with a national organization.

At the meeting the following officers were elected:

Fred Wilks, president; Herbert Rummel, vice president; Charles Kroech, secretary-treasurer.

Three committees were appointed at the meeting, one for the arranging of programs, one for the drawing of by-laws, and one for selecting a suitable name.

Dr. Leese and Dr. Wood were elected honorary members.

SPORT BITS

Reed Speer pulled the "Reigel Stunt" in an Inter-Class basketball game the other night when he scored for his opponents.

From all indications Susquehanna's Famous Si-Hole Golf Course will again gain great popularity with the coming of spring weather.

Captain Cliff Johnston is going into athletics in a big way, for recently he has gained much fame as a "tumbler."

One source of entertainment on the coming spring baseball trips will be missing this year. For further information ask "Lolly" Swamp.

C. H. S. P. P. Gladstone is the new secretary of the G. A. Club. He will be in charge of the club's affairs.

Marion Barry was winning last night in the basketball game. We should have a rich manager by the time the basketball season is over.

Freshman United in Marriage; Will Reside in New York

Leaving Susquehanna University about four o'clock last Tuesday morning, Carl A. Wittig, a freshman at that school, went by train to Johnson City, N. Y., where he met his fiancée, and the two were secretly married.

Wittig had completed the first semester of his freshman year in college and had built up several warm friendships in the school.

With the date for the annual Sport Banquet for March 17th fixed, the program is already being planned for an evening's entertainment.

PHI LAMBDA THETA HELD PLEDGE BANQUET

In accordance with their annual custom, Phi Lambda Theta Fraternity held their banquet in honor of the pledges last Wednesday evening in their house.

Following the sumptuous five course dinner, Walter Foukrod, acting as toastmaster, took charge of affairs and introduced the speakers of the evening.

After toasts, stories and last cigarettes, several of the active chapter took the pledges upstairs, where they were organized.

JUNIOR VARSITY ADDED ANOTHER VICTORY SATURDAY

The Junior Varsity raised their season's total of victories to ten Saturday afternoon when they defeated Coaldale by the overwhelming score of 50-13.

The Jay Vee forwards were on and it was hard for them to miss a shot. Bunninger led the scoring attack with eighteen points to his credit.

SORORITY NOTES

Kappa Delta Phi

A party, which has been pronounced perfect by discriminating seniors, was held in the Kappa Delta Phi room on Friday night. It was in honor of Ethlyne Miller, Ida Schweitzer, and two of the "stronger sex," Jack Auchmuty and Reno Knouse. These people all were celebrating birthdays this past week, and the party was a surprise one for them.

The big event was a birthday cake, and were happy to say that no one wanted from the heat of the candles. The evening was spent in playing bridge and dancing to the strains of music from the new Atwater Kent radio, which the sorority has just purchased. After the refreshments were served, a little "exhibition dancing" was put on by Berger and Knouse, and the party was over.

These present were Ethlyne Miller, Walter Barford, Ida Schweitzer, Wilbur Berger, Lou Baird, Jack Auchmuty, Beatrice DeWire, George Moser, Mary Hutchins, and Reno Knouse.

fensive attack and put up a great battle. The Cadets had the advantage of the Crusaders in their defense. Most of P. M. C.'s men were big and it was easy for these men to smother the Orange and Maroon forwards in shooting.

Captain Glenn, playing under a handicap, displayed fine courage and scored eight points for his teammates, but missed by a hair in gaining for Susquehanna her last basketball victory of the 1931 season.

NO DECISION FOR NEGATIVE DEBATERS

light upon the subject from the economic standpoint.

The audience received a treat when Mr. Twimire, third affirmative, took the floor. Taking many of the arguments presented in the first two negative speeches, Mr. Twimire literally tore them to shreds and tossed them to the winds. After his powerful attack upon Susquehanna's already presented points, he continued their constructive proof. Latin and proving that since protection raises prices unnecessarily, it is an unjust tax and since it benefits few at the price of the majority it certainly cannot be desirable, necessary, or practical. It was a splendid speech, presented in an admirable manner, and highly interesting.

Coming to the foreword in a most impressive manner, Edwin Clapper, third negative, entered the feeble and flimsy arguments of his side and almost totally reconstructed them to hold water. Even after admitting so great a part of his speech to rebuild the negative arguments, Mr. Clapper continued the negative proof in dealing with what he termed "the chief issue," the immobility of labor.

In rebuttal both sides were about equally successful in bearing down the other's proof offered by the opponents. In a few instances there were clever bits of sarcasm that brought laughter from the crowd, but the rebuttal as a whole was exceptionally serious, with some of the old laugh-provoking witticisms that one expects.

The debate was presided over by Dr. Walter C. Beck of Selingsgrove, while Miss Corinda Schell acted in the capacity of time-keeper.

Ladies' Choral Club in Annual Recital

Program Was Given in Three Parts;
First by the Club, Second Solos,
Third an Indian Operetta

Varied, but nevertheless delightful and synchronous, was the musical treat that the audience received Monday night thanks to the Ladies' Choral Club. The club is composed of forty young ladies, who presented feature after feature with ease.

The first part was given by the entire chorus. This choral interpretation was delightfully diversified by two instrumental numbers. First Miss Virginia Moody played an organ selection called "Tocette." The masterful manner in which Miss Moody produced the number was worthy of approval. Miss Beatrice Shively rendered the second solo number in this part of the program. Her fine interpretation of the difficult "Chrilion" was a feature that marked her exclusive syle. The two soloists and the chorus put on a finished performance that will not soon be forgotten.

Part Two of this select performance was made realistic by the aid of well chosen costumes. Miss Margaret Ide, as wardrobe mistress, had left nothing undone to make the background for the performance as perfect as possible. The costumes, however, did not overshadow the dynamic musical productions. Miss Leisher made the initial appearance in this part. Her soprano voice was well suited to the number she sang, "Lo, Hear the Gentle Lark." The selection was delightful in combination with the support that Mr. Pought gave in the flute obligate. Her costume was a pleasing imitation of a true Jennie Lind, while the flute part seemed to express a satisfied lark on its homeward journey. The second number, Miss Beryl Wyman as Santuzza, was very impressive. The costume was not exaggerated but sufficiently expressive to aid in her musical interpretation of the Aria from Cavalleria Rusticana. Miss Anna Linebaugh gave a touch of reality to Rinsky's Aria from "Le Coo D'Or." Costumed as Queen of Shehnhaka, her selection was not only impressive but also expressive of her talent.

The next selection, a duet, was a distinct contrast to the preceding number. Miss Irene Mengel as Butterfly and Miss Mary Hummel as Suzuki were perhaps the climax of the costumes. Their dresses, however, did not detract from their superb analysis of this excerpt. Last, but far from being least, was Miss Marjorie Michaels' interpretation of Massane's "Aria from Herodiade." Miss Michaels as Salome, intriguing and yet portraying simplicity, sang a fine selection. These soloists should, however, give a portion of the credit for the success of their fine performance to Mrs. Rodgers, Miss Moody and Miss Markie who acted in the capacity of (Concluded on page 4.)

Debaters Complete Successful Tour

Defeated at Elizabethtown on Wed.;
Affirmative Team Successful at Ablight, Thurs.; Lehigh, Fri.

On Wednesday evening the affirmative debating team, composed of H. Wilson Sieber, John Kindvatner, and Captain S. Walter Foulkrod met the negative debating team of Elizabethtown College at Elizabethtown. The unique thing about this debate was the fact that our boys were debating against a married woman as the last speaker on the negative team. Apparently the old adage that "a woman can always out-talk a man" applied in this case for the judges rendered a 2-1 decision in favor of Elizabethtown, giving our boys their only defeat to date, for this season. After the debate the Elizabethtown debating association held a social in honor of the teams to which our fellows did full justice.

On Thursday evening the affirmative team, composed of H. Wilson Sieber, Lawrence C. Fisher, and Captain S. Walter Foulkrod defeated the negative team of Ablight College at Reading. The regular question for the year, "Resolved that all nations should adopt a free trade policy" was the subject of the discussion. This debate turned out (Concluded on page 4.)

Who's Who in the Senior Class

SIGNE ALFORD

Here's another blonde class officer for the class of '31. It is a pleasure to introduce Signe to you, even though we feel sure that you hardly need to be told who she is. "Sig" came to us after spending a year at St. Augustana College in Illinois. Why she changed to Susquehanna we don't know, but the fact remains that she did and we are that much happier for her presence.

"Sig" has been up and doing ever since she came. She has been active in athletics, always being on hand in hockey and soccer and baseball. She is a prominent member of the Y. W. C. A. and has often taken part in their programs. This year she is president of the Interscholastic Council. To get a girl who is so good in her chosen field of Commercial studies for our Girls' Financial Secretary is considered a lucky break for the Senior Class, and even if the duties aren't as strenuous as they once were, we feel sure that Signe could handle any emergency that might arise in this position. Last year Signe won a medal for speed and accuracy in typewriting, so it is seen that she is a student as well as an all round girl.

Signe is President of Omega Delta Sigma Sorority, and will hold that office all year in an organization that re-elects every semester, so it is easily seen what their opinion of her ability is.

Signe's home town is Duquesne, and we haven't the slightest doubt in the world that they are as proud of her as we are.

All-Campus Basket Ball Team Chosen

Team Chosen from Inter-Class League;
Two Theologs, Two Juniors and One
Fresh Honored on All-Campus Five

Forward, Meyer, Freshman.
Forward, Speer, Junior.
Center, Binngaman, Theolog.
Guard, Rhoads, Theolog.
Guard, Speigleyer, Junior.

Recently the Junior Class won the championship in the Inter-Class Basketball League, from which there has now been chosen what we believe to be the best five men that participated in these games.

Al Meyer of the Freshman class has been chosen for one of the forward berths. Al is a big boy in a basketball uniform and a very accurate shot from a short distance and under the basket. It was particularly the work of Meyers that kept the Freshman Class in the race throughout.

The other forward position is given to Reed Speer. Speer is a tricky player on a basketball floor, a hard man to guard, and a dangerous shot. It was the excellent shooting of Speer in times of distress which helped the Juniors out of several tight places and led towards the championship.

Binngaman was undoubtedly the best center which the different groups had to offer. "Bing" was up with the leaders in individual scoring honors and it was he together with Luke Rhoads that gave the Theologs a team. "Bing" could outjump any other center in the league and proved to be an invaluable aid to his teammates under the basket.

Luke Rhoads came back with a bang this year, after he had been forced out of Inter-Class competition last year on account of an operation. Luke is a heady player, a hard fighter, and one of the smoothest dribblers seen on the court in inter-class competition. Rhoads likes the game and plays with his whole heart and soul. We can't find them much better than Rhoads. (Concluded on page 4.)

Reprint of Persian History by Dr. Ahl

Dr. Ahl's Notable Book is Based on the Cuneiform Inscription; Copies of the Old Edition in Many Libraries

Word has been received of the completion of a re-print of Dr. Ahl's "Persian History, Based on the Cuneiform Inscriptions," thus adding to Susquehanna's reputation as a center of scholarship and higher learning. Copies of the old edition have found their way into European libraries, and as far East as the University of Bombay, India.

All the libraries of the larger schools in the United States likewise have secured one or more copies of this scholarly and splendid volume, which shows the fruit of ripe scholarship and painstaking effort.

The object of the work is to present something of the history of an erstwhile great state from the record which the state itself has left; to make a contribution to present-day knowledge of ancient Persia from an examination of sources truly Persian.

In his opening chapter Dr. Ahl tells vividly and interestingly of the unveiling of phases of the proverbial mystery of the occult East touching on some of the great adventures which scientific scholarship has to its credit. The inscriptions of the Achaemenian kings, occupying a place of special significance in the record of ancient times, have been presented as to historical contents and interpreted in the light of recent research.

The most complete of these documents and what has been called the most imposing inscription in the world is on Behistan, a rocky mountain rising 1500 feet above the Persian plain, where in 1835 a British scholar, Maj. H. C. Rawlinson, at the risk of his life, made a copy of the longest of the inscriptions.

The scholar studying this period derives his material from such varying sources as inscriptions on the ruins of palaces and tombs and gigantic monuments, down to small seals, weights, and vase letterings partly mutilated, partly whole.

The book contains several illustrations, the frontispiece being a picture of the audience relief from the hall of a hundred columns at Persepolis.

Dr. Ahl's book tells of the rise of (Concluded on page 4.)

Mrs. Thomas Houtz Was Buried Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret C. Houtz, deceased wife of Dr. Thomas C. Houtz of the faculty of Susquehanna University and highly esteemed resident of this place for over half a century, were held on Monday afternoon, were held on Monday afternoon in the home on West Walnut street.

Rev. Dallas C. Baer, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church of which the aged lady was an active and devoted member, officiated, assisted by Rev. Alvin Teichart, of Crafton. Rev. Teichart is a close friend of Dr. Houtz and is a graduate of Susquehanna University and also of the theological department. Burial was made in the Union cemetery.

Mrs. Houtz passed away at her home following an illness of the past several days caused by gripe and pneumonia. Born November 5, 1857, Mrs. Houtz was the daughter of Cyrus W. Duffie and Lucy Duffie, of Center County, near State College. On September 23, 1879, Mrs. Houtz was married to Dr. Thomas C. Houtz, who is a graduate of State College and is now Professor Emeritus of Susquehanna University.

Dr. Houtz was for many years professor of mathematics and this post has been taken by Dr. John J. Houtz, a son of the deceased lady. Professor Houtz is also instructor of astronomy and is quite concerned in the growth of the university, of which he is one of the oldest faculty members.

Surviving to mourn the lady's death are her husband and the following children: Dr. John J. Houtz, of West Walnut street; Mrs. Lucy Lambert, of Elmberg; and a sister, Mrs. Catherine Keller, of State College.

Dr. and Mrs. Houtz recently celebrated their fifty-first wedding anniversary with their children and grandchildren and both were in the best of health. Her death is mourned by a host of friends.

Who's Who in the Senior Class

MARY HUTCHINGS

Not only is Mary versatile, but she is unusually proficient in whatever she undertakes. She excels as a conversationalist, whether it be discussing that enviable faculty for securing "le mot propre," whether it be in a news item or a witty remark concerning Seibert Hall activities. Indeed she is to be complimented for her fine work as Social Life Editor of the Susquehanna.

It is quite evident that the Senior Class recognizes and appreciates Mary's talents. In her Junior year she did much to make the Lantern a success, and this year she is Class Historian.

In all forms of sports Mary has shown a keen interest whether it be in hockey, soccer, basketball, baseball or track. In fact she is a member of the Varsity S Club.

Kappa Delta Phi is proud to claim Mary as one of her members.

After watching Mary's keen interest in English classes and knowing her literary activities, we are certain that she will be an ideal English instructor. Her thorough knowledge and her pleasing personality are infallible indices to future achievement.

Susquehanna Chooses All-Opponent Five

Many Positions Had Considerable
Competition; Heller of Lebanon Valley, Voted Center

First Team	Second Team
Yunker, Drexel	Stewart, Leb. Val.
Cook, P. M. C.	Testwuide, Swarth.
Heller, Leb. Val.	Spieler, Swarth.
Brennen, P. M. C.	Redmond, Drexel
McCracken, Swarth.	Hagerty, Dela.

Members of the Orange and Maroon basketball team have decided upon the above men for an All-Opponent team. The selection is very good and we see on these two teams some of the best basketball players that the Pennsylvania colleges have produced during the past season.

Nearly all these players have been playing against the Orange and Maroon quintets for several years and some of them have been real jinx to the Crusaders in the past on the court. Yunker and Cook were unanimously selected for the forward position on the first team. Yunker has been playing great ball for Drexel during the past season. He is a dead shot around the foul line and works well with his team. Cook has been one of the mainstays on P. M. C.'s offensive attacks and in both games against the Crusaders Cook ran wild in scoring. He is a big man on the court and a dangerous man to get under the basket.

The second team forward berths go to Stewart and Testwuide. Stewart is a great offensive player and during the past season has been leading the Lebanon Valley team in scoring. In both games against the Orange and Maroon he did plenty of damage. He is small but fast on the basketball court.

There was also a unanimous selection for the center position. Heller, the lanky captain from Lebanon Valley, was given this place. Heller has been playing with the Lebanon Valley five for the past three years and he has been a thorn in Susquehanna's hopes (Concluded on page 4.)

We cannot let the splendid 1930-31 basketball record of eight wins and seven defeats pass into history without making a review of the men who made this record possible.

In the foreground we have Coach Ullery, who has just completed his third year of coaching basketball at Susquehanna. Each year Coach Ullery has worked hard for a winning court combination, and each year he has worked under certain handicaps but he has finally overcome these and turned out the most successful basketball team that Susquehanna has ever had. This past season Coach Ullery was forced to pick his first five players from a very limited number of men but his success in choosing the right combination did wonders on the basketball court.

Next in the basketball procession we have Captain Glenn, who has just completed one of the most successful basketball seasons in his career. "Skippy" has worked hard for his teammates and deserves all the credit which can be given to him for the successful season. Captain Glenn is a former State College High School star and during the past season led his teammates in the number of points scored with a total of 134 points to his credit. During the season we have found no guard among our opponents who could compete with "Skippy."

At the forward positions Patty Rubis and Herb Rummel worked hard to penetrate the opponents' defense and score with the much needed field goals. Patty Rubis is a former Johnstown High School athlete and is on Susquehanna's campus for the first time this year. Patty is a fast, smooth playing forward at all times on the court and can always be depended on to help the Orange and Maroon cause in times of distress.

Herb Rummel played great basketball this past season for the Crusaders. As a runner-up in high scoring honors he was one of the main cogs in the Orange and Maroon's scoring attack. Herb is tall and this alone helped the Crusaders' cause. Rummel is fast on the court and an accurate shot.

Bob McGeehan, who played the other (Concluded on page 4.)

Affirmative Team Continues to Win

S. U. Debaters, Foulkrod, Seiber and Fisher, Win Over the Strong
Waynesburg Team, Two to One

Susquehanna's affirmative debating team composed of S. Walter Foulkrod, Wilson Seiber and Lawrence Fisher scored a two to one decision over Waynesburg College negative team in Seibert Chapel Hall.

The debate, on the Free Trade question, brought to the University one of the strongest debating teams that the local team will meet this season. Waynesburg having completed a twenty-eight debate schedule through the south.

The Waynesburg debate was the hardest team faced by Susquehanna and it required real debating to score the victory over their opponents.

From the opening speech by Wilson Seiber to the last rebuttal by W. Foulkrod, the debate was characterized by wit, quick thinking and good speaking.

The decision raises the affirmative team's record to three victories and one defeat.

Judges for the Waynesburg debate were Marlon Schoch, Francis Burroughs and Roscoe C. North.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO GIVE PLAY ON WEDNESDAY

Wednesday night at 8:15 in Seibert Chapel Hall the Dramatic Club will present Lord Dunsany's "A Night at an Inn."

The scene opens in an inn on a lone Moor, with the Toff surrounded by a group of mutinous followers. What happens then, you may see for yourself. Another inducement, there will be no charge.

as well as in those of other opponents during this time. Heller is the tallest man listed on either team, and is a very accurate shot. When once under the basket, it is impossible to stop the field goal which he is sure to make.

The second center choice went to Sipler of Swarthmore. Here is another tall man, and an accurate shot.

The guard positions for the first team go to Bremen and McCracken. Bremen was captain of the P. M. C. Cadets in their recent basketball campaigns. He is tall in stature and is the type of guard who can smother an opposing forward for the entire game. In both of the games against the Crusaders he was a high scorer and he made most of his points from a distance. McCracken was captain of the Swarthmore Five and compares favorably with Bremen in holding down the other guard position. In the game with the Crusaders he tallied a total of fifteen points for the Swarthmore cause, making most of these points from around the center of the court.

On the second team the guard positions went to Redmond and Haggerty. Redmond has played great defensive ball for the Drexel Dragons during the past season and may be considered one of the best defensive guards the Crusaders have bumped against, but he does very little shooting. Haggerty of Delaware shares honors with Redmond on the second team.

ALL-CAMPUS BASKET BALL TEAM CHOSEN

Paired with Rhoads we find another smooth and tricky guard in Spiegelmeyer. Herb is fast and handles the ball like a varsity guard on the court. He is the man who, when his team is in a tight place, can be depended upon to come through with a beautiful long shot or some other feat.

accompanists.

Following a brief intermission, an opera of unadorned Indian simplicity was staged. The argument of See-A-Wa-Na, the Cherry Maid, was based upon a superstition of the Indians and some of their tribe beliefs. The members of the club taking major roles were: Misses Markle, Hummel, Wingard, Bittner, Leisher, Puckey, Wyman, Leibach and Miller. Miss Markle took well her role of the "Cherry Maid." Miss Miller and her chorus furnished a fine presentation which was a credit to the operetta. The entire cast showed a musical finish that gave proof of hard practice and expert training.

Mrs. Bertha Rodgers directed this brilliant and successful group that is an honor to our campus. In the capacity of Musical Director, Mrs. Rodgers also shown an ability to recognize talent and music in others that honors her position. Miss Dorothy Reeder, as Stage Director, handled all the necessary matters to such a degree of perfect in as to uphold her usual executive ability. Miss Virginia Moody, accompanist for the group, also deserves credit. The entire choral club should be as gratified at their performance as the school at large.

REVIEW OF ORANGE AND MAROON SEASON

ward position with Captain Glenn the entire season, was one of the most consistent players on the team. When Coach Ullery put "Mac" on the best forward of the opponents that man was always to be sure to slip in a shot at his scoring. Besides being one of the greatest defensive players on the team, Mac is a fairly accurate shot from a distance.

The center position was held down during the past season by "Swede." Palmer who displayed a wonderful record of defense. Throughout the season, "Swede" could always be counted upon to be down under the baskets getting the ball off the backboard, which often meant points for the Crusaders. Although Palmer did very little shooting, he was invaluable as a defensive player and very few centers throughout the past season got the tap-off on "Swede."

Walter Van Nuys was a great help to the Orange and Maroon quintet during the first half of the season, but he was forced to quit the sport on account of scholastic difficulties. Van was the fastest man on the court and a good shot. Van Nuys is sure to be a coming Susquehanna forward.

Andy Kozik did the bulk of the substituting throughout the season, playing a guard and forward position at times. Andy is a great fighter on the court and an accurate shot; the only thing which keeps him out of a regular lineup is his small stature.

Rich Fisher did the substituting at center and showed real promise. Rich is a big man on a basketball court and should develop into a good defensive and offensive player.

Kapic graduated from the Junior Varsity during the later part of the season and broke into three varsity games. Kapic is a very accurate shot and is sure to develop into one of Susquehanna's high scoring forwards. During the two full games he participated in, he had fourteen points to his credit.

The whole Junior Varsity squad must be given some credit for the successful season for it was these men who helped to develop the varsity. Such players like Worthington, Briminger, Schlegel, and Keller should be coming varsity players next year and they deserve much credit for the efforts which they put forth.

Last but not least we have our Manager Randolph Harvey, who has gained much fame as a basketball player himself. Harvey managed to wade through the many business difficulties during the past season and was Coach Ullery's right-hand man on every occasion.

largely to be a battle of oratory with both teams contributing their share.

On Friday evening our affirmative team journeyed from Reading to Allentown and there met the negative team from Lehigh University of Bethlehem. This debate took place before a men's club of the city. After the debate was over an opportunity was given to the people in the audience to question the debaters about anything that had been brought out. Quite a few availed themselves of this opportunity but our boys came through the ordeal in perfectly good shape.

Seniors Cop Inter-Class Winter Meet

Winter Track Meet Held on Boards Taken by Seniors; Four Men Amass 44 Points

The Seniors proved to the rest of the world that the disease of "old age" has not yet affected them in their track abilities as they won the Inter-Class Winter Track Meet on the boards Saturday afternoon with a total of 44 points. The Seniors amassed their points with but four men entered in the meet. They were led by ex-captain Welky and Captain Cliff Johnston, who entered over half of the events.

On the whole the inter-class meet was one of the most successful ever held at Susquehanna. The meet was run off under the direction of Coach Crossman by his usual well-balanced schedule and the hostful of spectators who gathered under the clear sky saw what we may call, "some real races." The most interest was displayed in the dashes and all of these were very close and very interesting.

The Frosh kept threatening the fourth-year men throughout the meet and scored a close second with a total of 40 points. The Juniors came third with a total of 30 points as the Sophomores registered 21 points for the fourth position.

The individual scoring honors went to ex-track Captain Welky, of the Senior class, with a total of 19 points. Muir of the Freshman class was a close runner-up with 18 points. Captain Johnston and Malasky were tied for third and fourth positions, each having a total of 15 points.

Besides Captain Johnston and Welky, who showed very good form after a year's lay-off, some Freshmen came to the front and displayed talents which may help them "win a berth" on Coach Crossman's track team which is planning to do "big things" this spring on the cinder path. Besides Muir who was the high scorer for the Frosh there were Metz, Watts and Kenney who ran well in the distances. Watts seems to be a natural runner and gives plenty

Rev. Dagle Speaks on Life in Liberia

Rev. David Dagle, Susquehanna Graduate, Spoke on Living Conditions in Liberia, Thursday

Speaking before an audience composed chiefly of Seminary students, the Rev. David Dagle, Lutheran Missionary to Liberia, delivered a highly interesting address upon the general status of that country along the lines of society, politics, living conditions, religious work and education, last Thursday afternoon in Gustavus Adolphus Building. Rev. Dagle is a Susquehanna graduate, and has spent four years in the Missionary work of the Lutheran Church. He is in America at present on a year's leave of absence and is much in demand as a speaker, being well-informed about conditions in that section of Africa, and possessing a remarkable amount of oratorical ability.

Living conditions, according to Rev. Dagle, are, on the whole, assuming a much more encouraging level since the advent of Christianity into that country. "The Firestone Rubber Company," he went on to say, "has helped a great deal in raising standards of living. They offer jobs to the natives which pay twenty-four cents a day, high wages in Liberia, and which enable them to live on a higher level than they had heretofore been able."

"The political situation is not acute, although there is some dissension among the residents, due chiefly to a tax of one dollar on each hut, which seems to be a staggering amount in the eyes of the Liberian, judging from Rev. Dagle's talk. As a general rule, however, the people are easy-going though they show some signs of intense interest in the new religion being brought to them.

Following Rev. Dagle's speech he conducted an open question and answer discussion, in which most of the audience took part.

He will return to Liberia after his leave of absence has expired, to take up the work again as missionary.

Who's Who in the Senior Class

WILLIAM WELKY

It is our pleasure to present one of the most distinguished men in the Senior Class. Of course you know him, for "Bill" is very conspicuous on the campus, and in the class room he could not be overlooked, for he enters freely into every discussion. He has won for himself the reputation of being one of the fastest sprinters that ever donned an S. U. track suit.

"Bill" hails from the city of Newark, and came to us as a Freshman from Newark Prep, where he also burned up the cinder paths. Coach Crossman, recognizing his track ability, placed him on the varsity team in his first year and he has been a star ever since, being elected captain his Junior year. In class track, tennis, golf, and ice-hockey he has been one of the mainstays during his collegiate career and was honored with the managership of the four sports this year.

"Bill's" achievements are not concluded on page 4.

New Catalogue Just Received From Press

The Board of Directors Have Added Several Changes to the Catalogue; Tuition Raised $25.00

According to the new catalogue just received, an advance in tuition of twenty-five ($25.00) dollars per semester is announced for the next year at Susquehanna University. This advance was made at the mid-winter meeting of the Board of Directors.

Many changes for the better have been made at Susquehanna University during the past several years. These changes have been of an organization, administration, and curricular type. The personnel of the faculty has changed during this time. New instructors have been brought in to enlarge and to strengthen the existing teaching staff. Numerous improvements have been made in buildings, grounds, equipment, and library facilities. As a result, Susquehanna University has become regionally accredited and nationally recognized. The doors of the best graduate schools and schools of law and medicine are now open to our graduates on a par with the graduates of other standard colleges.

The tuition for a year in a standard college in Pennsylvania is generally recognized as three hundred ($300.00)

S. U. Faculty Attend Special Conference

One Hundred Men Represent Thirty Colleges at Y. M. C. A. Conference, Dr. Lewis, Lafayette, Speaker

Thirty colleges and more than one hundred men were present at the convention held in the Penn Harris Hotel in Harrisburg, Pa. on Saturday, March 7. The convention was the fifth of its kind held annually by the faculty and executives of various colleges of Pennsylvania.

The chief speaker in the morning session was Rev. Will Mather Lewis, President of Lafayette College, and his subject was "Is An Ethical Standard of Living Sufficient?" Dr. Ammon, of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Scranton spoke in the afternoon meeting on the topic "What Does It Mean to be a Christian?"

The convention was an attempt at collaboration with the students who are interested in the work of the Y. M. C. A.

Semester Honors for Classes Announced

Miriam Keim, Senior; Andrew Kozak, Junior; Selon Dockey, Sophomore, Head Honor List of Classes

In a sweeping array of names, facts, and figures compiled from the results of the first semester, the girls were shown to be superior to the boys, scholastically. Carrying a majority in every class honor roll, far out-distancing the boys in comparison of grand averages, and making the fraternity marks look sick when placed beside the sorority marks, the girls of Susquehanna, while in a great minority, proved conclusively that at the present they rate much higher in grades.

Almost as conclusively the Freshmen were shown to be lacking when it comes to a comparison with other classes, ranking last in the line, although trying for second place in number of members. The Juniors took first honors in this division with a grand average of 78.47 per cent, which isn't bad at all, no matter which way you look at it.

In the class that will graduate in June, Miriam Keim heads the list so far. Lawrence Feiser brings up a close second, while Ethel Aungst is dangerously near in the third position.

Chalk up one for the boys in the Junior Class, because one of their number heads the list. Andrew Kozak has that honor and distinction. The male members of the class have second place, too, with Lee Fairchild holding tight to the secondary seat. Miss Isabelle Wagner is third in this class, which holds the highest grand average of any.

The men lead again in the Sophomore division. Selon Dockey perched on the peak position, with Marianne Waiborn and Charles Coleman tied for second. Margaret Ide is third in that class.

In defense of the poor boys it might be said, although we wouldn't want this to go any farther, that if the girls did not have to revert to studying as a means of passing time in the evenings the marks MIGHT be a little more even.

CAPTAIN-ELECT

ADAMS

At a recent meeting of the lettermen William T. P. Adams, Crafton, Penna., was elected captain of the 1931 football team at Susquehanna University. A second ballot was necessary as the first resulted in a tie between Auchmuty and Adams.

Adams plays at an end position and has been a regular for the past two seasons. His play in the previous years has been steady and consistent and should be even more brilliant next year. He also participates in inter-class basketball and last spring was a regular on the tennis team.

Adams entered Susquehanna from Crafton H. I., Crafton, Penna., where he was a star in three sports, football, baseball and tennis. He is a Junior in the Pre-Medical Course.

Who's Who in the Senior Class

RUSSELL YOAS

A hard worker is this young man who hails from DuBois, Pennsylvania. Russ has indeed been active about the campus since he entered Susquehanna. The manner in which he handled the publication of the Lanthorn of '31 as Business Manager is indicative of his capability. "Russ" has been a member of the inter-fraternity council and in his junior year was elected to the membership of Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science Honorary Society. He has also served on the Susquehanna weekly as Associate Editor.

In sports Russ is indeed active. Class teams find in Russ a hard fighter, a fellow determined to win. In his senior year he was a member of the varsity basketball squad.

Russell is interested in Commercial Education and we wish him a successful future.

Bond and Key is proud to claim Russ as one of its members.

Dramatic Club Gives Fine Play Wednesday

"A Night in an Inn" Was Presented Before a Large Audience Last Wednesday Night

On Wednesday evening, March 11, at a meeting of the Dramatic Club the play, "A Night in an Inn," was presented. There was a large crowd at the presentation and the play was well received. It lasted only thirty-five minutes but every minute was exciting.

The action took place in an inn on a lonely English moor. Bill, Sniggers, and Albert have turned against their leader, "The Toff," and have asked him for the ruby they have stolen. They decide to go to London, but before they go very far they meet the three native priests from whom they had stolen the ruby, and from whom they are all trying to escape. The three sailors return to "The Toff" and ask him for his help. He decides to aid them, and after some carefully laid plans the three native priests are slain. The Toff and the sailors think everything is all right now, but they have forgotten about the idol from whom they have stolen the ruby eye. The idol appears, takes its eye, and then calls the men to him and they are slain.

S. U. Extension in Centers Successful

Many Teachers Take Advantage of This Opportunity; Thirteen Courses Offered in Four Centers

Susquehanna is again enjoying great success in its extension work figures for the Second Semester show. At Wilkes-Barre the following courses are given at 6:30 p. m. in the Coughlin High School Building: Along with these names are the names of instructors and number of students enrolled.

Final Star Course Number Given Here

Miss Phradie Wells, Soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co. and Edgar Shelton, Pianist, Give Concert

Susquehanna's season of Star Course numbers came to a most fitting close last evening with the musical presentations of Miss Phradie Wells, the famous Metropolitan soprano, and Mr. Edgar Shelton, a pianist who possesses the most unique faculty of technique.

The New York World has said: "If the graphic curve indicating the progress made by Phradie Wells, continues as hitherto, it is safe to predict that here will be one of our real Wagnerian sopranos. . . . She has excellent stage presence, and youth and notable breath control, and to these is added a brilliant, rich voice of volume and ease in manipulation." Though we have not heard Miss Wells sing any selections from Wagner, after hearing "Aria, Pace, Pace Mio Dio" from the opera by Verdi, "La Forza Destino," and the "Aria, Suicida," from Ponchielli's "La Gioconda," we heartily agree with this comment. Not a little of the success of her presentation is owing to the able accompaniment of Mr. Harold Richby.

From the very outset of his career Edgar Shelton received recognition from the musicians, critics and public of two continents. Born in America into a musical family, he took up piano at the age of four and turned to it constantly in his hours of play. Later he went to the Juilliard Foundation in Berlin. After his Berlin debut, he made successful concert appearances in both Paris and London. We of Susquehanna feel that we were indeed fortunate in having him with us, even if but for a few hours. Under his touch, Mendelssohn and Chopin became what we had always dreamed they might be.

Program

1. Aria, Pace, Pace Mio Dio . . . Verdi (from "La Forza del Destino") Miss Wells
2. Variations Seriesus . . . Mendelssohn Mr. Shelton
3. a. Quelle Souffrance . . . Lenormand (Concluded on page 3.)

Susquehanna to be Host to Athletes

The Season of 1931 Brings Together Large Number of High School and College Track Athletes

Susquehanna University will be the mecca for high school and college track athletes during the 1931 season. The construction of Susquehanna's new track and field in 1922 revived interest in this sport among Susquehanna students. More significant, however, is the fact that each year Susquehanna is acting as host to an ever increasing number of high school and college track and field athletes with University Field occupying the center of the stage.

The current season will open officially on May 2nd when the high schools of Snyder county will stage their sixth annual Inter-scholastic Meet. Each year finds greater interest manifested in this event with keener competition and increasingly creditable school boy performances. Susquehanna will also have Biennial as her guest in a dual meet on the same date.

On May 9th, the Susquehanna track team journey to Newark, Delaware, where they will compete with the University of Delaware.

Outstanding in Susquehanna's track history will be the staging of the Eleventh Annual Central Pennsylvania Collegiate Track Conference Championship Meet on University Field on May 16th. The assembling of between two and three hundred picked men—the finest track and field athletes to be found in ten of the most prominent Central Pennsylvania colleges—will afford an exceptional opportunity to witness unusual performances.

On May 23rd Susquehanna will entertain Juniata in a dual meet, with the final track event, the Annual Anthracite Scholastic Meet, on May 30th. The latter date has not been set finally by the officials of the league, some uncertainty existing due to the date falling on Memorial Day.

NOISE !

Sylh! Did some one drop a pin? Report for demerits at once! No one dare disturb study hour.

But what about that other noise? Oh, just the band practicing in the chapel. It never disturbs anyone. Of course not, neither do the orchestra, glee club, choral club, or recitals, and we just dote on high school plays, rehearsals and debates. The organ is a particularly attractive feature of the rooms above the chapel.

The girls in rooms 1 to 12 have lessons in appreciation every day, if one can appreciate something which distracts the mind from all work and places the victim on the border of insanity.

Rules for study mention the elimination of all external annoyances. Any suggestions for the elimination of external annoyances at Seibert Hall would be greatly appreciated. Proctors keep the halls perfectly quiet and overhead noises are reduced to a minimum, but oh, those noises from below!

Perhaps the girls would feel better if it weren't so one sided. They are annoyed, but can't annoy. Some have tried but with little success. In one room, having reached the very limit of endurance, the girls picked up the table and banged it on the floor. It is said that a gun ball bounced on the floor above is extremely effective. Perhaps the girls will begin to play jacks in their rooms to give vent to their feelings. Of course, one can always go to the library but the situation of the Conservatory makes that little better.

Music hath charms they say, but not when it destroys the peace of both the library and the girls dormitory.

Most dictionaries define a chapel as a place of religious worship. If the eternal practicing of scales, a band concert, or a benefit play are a part of worship, then it is perfectly legitimate to use the chapel. But those whose nerves are constantly disturbed from early morning until late at night wish that these worshippers would find a new religion.

A school must have plays. The music students have a right to a place to practise. There must be a place to hold debates.

What then is the suggested remedy? Well a building apart from the others, say on the other side of the road, with a modern theatre on the first floor and a ball room on the second floor might help. At least it is something to think about.

BULL SESSIONS

To a dormitory student, the well-known "bull-session" is as much a part of college life as the classroom or the gridiron. Often its presence is disastrous to the one who has five classes on the morrow, but no cure has been or ever will be found for it. Its deadly power lies in the fact that it suddenly appears unheralded and remains impregnable until its force is spent.

The bull-session is not the fault of any individual or group. It is an inevitable something which is likely to invade any room at any time, as if drawn by an invisible lodestone from place to place. The occupant of the marked room is powerless to remove it. A gentle remonstrance, if not completely ignored, is made the subject of various uncomplimentary remarks by the "bulls" who are warming up to their topics. Simulated anger or loud-voiced protest is the signal for concentrated physical expression. A locked door is an added incentive, a typical red flag for the "bulls," and incidentally a remarkably effective procedure to attract attention.

Another inconvenient feature of the bull session is its inevitable tendency to strike after the hour of ten in the evening, when the victim cannot retreat to the library, and is usually robed in "evening clothes." The elimination of this hazard in the student's life would necessitate the cooperation of everyone on the campus to restraining the impulses of active youth, a situation likely to exist as soon as the Sophomores succeed in their equal distribution of seats. Until then, it seems that he must sleep through his words or attend class and respond with the customary "not prepared."

ALUMNI NOTES

Rev. Dagle to Return to Africa
Rev. David D. Dagle, '22-'25, a missionary on furlough from the African field, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Trinity Lutheran Church, and will speak on the subject, "Our Work in Africa." Rev. Dagle is expected to return to the mission field in April, where he will remain for a period of three years. This meeting will be a farewell party for Rev. Dagle.

Grads End Successful Year as Pupils

Following are a few accounts of the success that several of the S. U. graduates have had in the ministerial field. The members of St. Peter's Church of York, Pa., of which Rev. James H. Goss, '21-'24-'25, is pastor have manifested a splendid spirit by their support of the entire program of the church. They dedicated a new church, increased the pastor's salary and have paid all bills to date.

The past year has been the best in many respects of the Keller Memorial Church, of which the pastor is Dr. S. T. Nicholas, ex-'88. The total enrollment and average attendance reached their highest points. The members of the congregation cancelled the church debt, contributed to a number of missions and homes, and paid the expenses of eighteen members attending summer conferences. The goal for the Easter offering this current year is $2,500.

A prosperous year has just been ended by the Christ Church at Staunton, Va., of which Charles M. Teufel, '07-'28, is pastor. Money was raised to pay the amount due on the property, members pledged large sums of money and many new members have been admitted to the congregation.

Recent Graduate Married

News has been received of the marriage of Miss Helen Gemberling to Clarence E. Dukes, of Harrisburg. The wedding ceremony was performed in the parsonage of the Salem Reformed Church by the pastor, Rev. LeVan. After the ceremony, the couple did not make a trip, but continue with their duties at their respective positions.

Mr. Dukes is the son of Mrs. Alice Dukes, of Harrisburg, and is employed in the offices of the Swift Packing Company.

Mrs. Dukes is a graduate of the Selingsgrove High School in the class of 1925 and Susquehanna University 1929, and later became a graduate nurse and at the time of her marriage was employed by the State Workmen's Compensation Fund at Harrisburg.

Installed as Pastor

Morris F. Good, 18-D.D., was installed as pastor of All Saints' Church in Kulpport. The Rev. W. M. Allison, Mount Carmel, Pa. delivered the sermons, and conducted the service of installation in the evening. Since the arrival of the new pastor, the indebtedness has been reduced by $300. The attendances as well as the contributions have increased fifty per cent.

Christie Zimmerman a New Missionary in India

An interesting letter has been received from Miss Christie Zimmerman, who recently went to Rajahmundry, India, as a missionary. Miss Zimmerman is a native of Selingsgrove, was graduated from Selingsgrove High School in 1921 and from Susquehanna in 1925. For four years following her graduation from college, she taught in the public schools of Derry, Pa. After this she spent one year of study at the Biblical Seminary in New York.

The letter is concerned mostly about Miss Zimmerman's first Christmas in India. She tells of the customs of the natives, their religious education, and of how much the church is doing for the girls and boys in schools there.

Miss Zimmerman says that she has always had the desire to be a foreign missionary, and finds that India far surpasses even her expectation.

Wins Prize in State Wide Oratorical Contest

Several weeks ago it was announced that Miss Dorothy Turnbach, ex-'31, was chosen to represent Grove City College in the state contest. When this contest was staged about a week ago, Miss Turnbach received $25 as second prize. The contest was held at Muhlenberg College. Miss Turnbach brought to her Alma Mater, Grove City the largest standing ever obtained by it in any contest of a similar nature. The subject of her oration was "War." The first prize, a trip to Kentucky to witness Pennsylvania in the international contest in April, went to Donald B. Manek, of Muhlenberg College. His subject was "The Challenge of the Machine Age." The third prize was awarded to John B. Lentz of Ursinus College. He received $15. The fourth prize of $10 was awarded to Miss Hazel Hoffman of Thiel. Mr. Lentz spoke of the "Development of the Constitution," and Miss Hoffman on "The Small College."

Seibert Hall Echoes

WE'VE BEEN TOLD THAT

There should be no shortage of face powder for our fair co-eds for a long time, now that the samples have arrived. We noted one thrifty young gal collecting the samples sent to all the girls who had left. Not a bad idea, that.

Mary Hutchings see the surest way to get all the company one room could possibly hold would be to try to sleep for a few hours either in the morning or afternoon on Saturday. When you're blue and want someone to come and see you, just try this remedy. As soon as your head touches the pillow—presto—a visitor.

Isabelle Moritz has returned to see us. We were beginning to believe that it was about time to affix the "Mrs." there, but Isabelle tells us her occupation is that of teaching, and there are other things she'd just as lief do.

The pajama fad has spread to the Volley Ball games. Lu Lehman and Barb Jones were seen in the very latest in green pajama waists. We wish it would spread to the Faculty games. Imagine some of our more rotund faculty members in nice striped pajamas! Wouldn't it add color and atmosphere to the games?

The Dean's Dance on Saturday turned out to be a rather exclusive affair. At least one could choose the music one preferred. A victoria and a radio helped to aid those who could manage to slide over that awful School room floor. We suggest that this floor be scraped and waxed. Since this is the only place we have to give our few social functions, it should be kept in better condition than it is.

The piano in the girls' Gym is being worked overtime, now that Misses Reeder and Irving are giving encouragement to a would-be practice teacher.

AMUSEMENTS

Today is the last time to see "The Princess and the Plumber," a love adventure of a young engineer, with Charles Farrell and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Wednesday and Thursday Greta Garbo presents "Inspiration," played as only she could play it.

We all like to read his books, and here is another chance to see Will Rogers in "Laughing" Friday.

Saturday's attraction is Buck Jones in "The Lone Rider."

Next Monday and Tuesday the Selingsgrove presents "The Criminal Code" with Walter Huston, Phillips Holmes, and Constance Cummings.

Difficulty in Forming Base Ball Schedule

At the present time athletic directors of the various colleges are having quite a problem in the scheduling of baseball games for the spring programs. It seems that during the past few years the action taken by the various institutions has led towards the ultimate curtailment of this "national pastime" as it is called in the professional sports realm.

It is becoming harder and harder each year for the colleges to carry this sport along and it has become a financial burden to several institutions.

Last season Susquehanna was fortunate in having a well balanced baseball schedule, and as baseball has really been considered one of the major sports at Susquehanna, there has been a great deal of interest shown. But this year Prof. Grossman has hit a snag in the scheduling of the baseball games and it has been possible to schedule only ten games. Within the last week he has been notified by the Dickinson authorities that the game scheduled with Dickinson at Carlisle on May 6th would have to be cancelled. This action was taken when the Dickinson authorities failed to sanction the already over-crowded schedule of home games.

Franklin and Marshall after having their baseball schedule completed, cancelled the entire list of scheduled games when their athletic council decided to discontinue this sport.

Last year action was taken by the athletic council at Albright and they decided to drop both baseball and track but have changed their minds and have constructed a schedule in baseball which they plan to go through with this year. In track they have no scheduled meets at all and will enter into no collegiate competition besides sending a relay team to the Annual Penn Relay Carnival.

In the past, baseball has been a big thing at Lebanon Valley but this year they have scheduled but eight games. The same is true with Pennsylvania Military College who only scheduled seven games. This will be the first year that the Orange and Madron have failed to meet the Cats on the diamond.

Miss Bebel Horn spoke upon the subject "Conservation."

NEW CATALOGUE JUST RECEIVED FROM PRESS

(Continued from page 1.) dollars, or perhaps a little above this amount. A study of the tuition and general expenses per year of six colleges in the central part of the state, exclusive of room, board, books, and personal expenses, corroborates this estimate. However, the new tuition at Susquehanna University will be only two hundred fifty ($250.00) dollars.

This raise in tuition has become necessary because of the increased expenditures to meet the standard requirements of the accrediting associations, to insure a high-grade of instruction, and to make possible still further improvements along the lines already indicated. The youth of our land are entitled to the very best education that society can afford to provide.

The authorities of Susquehanna University are eager not only to provide the best, but at the most reasonable expense consistent with quality.

Students Unjustly Arrested by Cop

Arrested on Way Downtown by State Cop and Given Hearing Before Local Justice

"There isn't any justice," is the firm conviction of at least four of our students, namely: Hoffman, Stroum, Bishop, and Suter. Innocent and unaware of having done anything criminal, these four were on their way down town to join the throng of Saturday night shoppers. All of a sudden the roar of a motorcycle and the rough voice of a State Policeman halted them.

Which one of youse guys handed me that wisecrack back there? If youse don't 'fess up I'll run youse all in. Not having anything to confess they were forced to follow the irate officer and were marched through the main streets to the office of Squire Forgy. The Squire was located with difficulty and the charge of disorderly conduct was placed against them. They were threatened with $50 fines and imprisonment, given at least eight last chances to confess, and were finally allowed time to prepare a defense.

S. O. S. calls produced two friends in the persons of Dr. Leese and Mr. Spiegelmir. These gentlemen are to be complimented for their fine spirit of helpfulness and their interest in securing justice and fair play in the case. It is a fine thing for students to realize that there are men on the faculty and business men in the town who are ready to help them at any time. Attorney Sommer was summoned to aid the young men and he brought his friend, Attorney Rice of Sunbury, along with him. With two staunch friends and two good lawyers to back them up, the boys felt much better and finally, with the arrival of mid-night and Sunday, the case was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Conservatory Faculty Entertains Artists

Miss Phradie Wells, Mr. Edgar Shelton Guests of Faculty at Reception, Following Star Course Number

Last Monday evening after the final Star Course number, a most delightful reception in honor of Miss Phradie Wells, the Metropolitan soprano, and Mr. Edgar Shelton, a pianist of renown, was given in the social room of Seibert Hall by the faculty of the conservatory. Those who attended were the faculty of the conservatory, Dr. and Mrs. Smith, Miss Hade, and the regular students of the conservatory.

Miss Wells is as charming a conversationalist as a singer. She possessed perfect poise and a most gracious smile. She appeared interested in each one as he or she was introduced and was always glad to answer any questions which were asked her. She was much impressed with the manners and appearance of the young ladies, and needless to say, the young students were very much charmed by her.

Mr. Shelton proves an interesting away from the piano as at it. He is most cordial and friendly. He, too, possesses conversational powers which are appealing. He is humorous and interested in everything and everyone around him. It may be of interest to know that both Miss Wells and Mr. Shelton hail from the west, namely the State of Missouri to which they are extremely loyal. No derogatory remark was allowed to pass by the Missourians.

It is really shameful the way the accompanists are slighted. When all is told, no singer can be without the aid of an accompanist. Mr. Richey was most modest when accorded praise for his beautiful accompaning. He said, "We accompanists should take the back seat, you know." He was most entertaining and is another one of the many friends of the conservatory. That is so, perhaps because Professor Elrose Allison and he were acquainted with each other which made him feel at home, and made the conservatory feel friendly also.

After a delicious repast of sandwiches, cocoa and those tell-tale olives, and after much conversing between the faculty members and the guests of honor, as well as tete-a-tetes among the young students, all wished the musicians a pleasant return trip.

K. D. P. to Present Men's Glee Club in Juniors Win Inter-Play Next Monday Home Concert, 26th Class Indoor Meet

"Lady Windemere's Fan" to be Presented by Kappa Delta Phi Sorority in Seibert Hall Chapel

The Kappa Delta Phi Sorority of Susquehanna University present Oscar Wilde's "Lady Windemere's Fan" in Seibert Hall Auditorium on March 30. This well-known play is a comedy of manners, brilliantly constructed and written, with much clever satire and keen insight into human nature.

In the play the conventionally good woman shows the true firmness of her character and the supposedly bad woman rises to the type of self-sacrifice which is paramount heroism for her.

The entire action takes place within twenty-four hours, beginning on a Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock and ending the next day at 1:30 p. m. The plot, which centers around the symbolic fan, passes from drawing room, to ball room, then to a bachelor's apartment. (Concluded on Page 4)

Presenting a program of exceptional merit, Susquehanna Men's Glee Club will appear in their home concert in Seibert Hall Thursday evening.

First tenors: Messrs. L. Fisher, Minnich, R. Fisher, Ballentine.

Second tenors: Messrs. Nicodemus, Welky, vice president; Olson, secretary; Stranquest, Swann, stage manager. (Concluded on Page 3)

New Records Are Set in 70 Yd. Dash, 880 Yd. Dash, Bar Vault and One Mile Relay

The Junior Class won the Eleventh Annual Indoor Track and Field Meet Thursday evening, in the Alumni Gymnasium, by registering a total of 64 4-6 points, after the athletes had treated the spectators to some of the most exciting feats ever to be witnessed at an indoor meet.

The Sophomores were second with 42 5-6 points while the Seniors scored 27 5-6, and the Freshmen 26 5-6 points.

The athletes competing in the eleventh annual meet shattered as many records as were broken in the tenth annual meet held last year. Four new records were established during the evening. "Bill" Welky, captain of the 1930 track team clipped one-tenth of a second from his former record which was established last year. (Concluded on Page 4)

Who's Who in the Senior Class

JOHN SENKO

The closer graduation time approaches, the more we are beginning to realize that we are to lose by graduation one of the most active men on the campus. One may usually find John seeking instruction in the courses that are to be of use in the teaching profession.

During his four years of college life, Senko has proven his worth in more ways than one. He has been a member of the "Susquehanna" staff two years, Class Historian his Freshman and Sophomore terms, editor-in-chief of the Freshman issue of the "Susquehanna" for the Class of '31, and assistant editor of the "Lantern." He was a member of the Inter-Fraternity Council for three years, being secretary his Sophomore year and now at the helm of the organization.

As vice-president of Epsilon Sigma fraternity, "Johnnie" has shown his ability to lead men. John's achievements cannot be confined to scholastic activities, for he has participated in class soccer and baseball during his sojourn at S. U.

Judging from his success as a college student, Senko ought to make a mark for himself in life. He has chosen teaching as his starting point, but some day may end up as head of a large enterprise.

O. D. S. Pledges Entertain Actives

Banquet at Hotel Sterner Friday, for Actives, Followed by a Dance in the Alumni Gym

Dinner at the Hotel Sterner is always a treat, and Friday night when the pledges of Omega Delta Sigma entertained the actives and several guests with a dinner there, it was an especial treat.

The decorations were in keeping with the holiday of that week and each girl had an attractive little Irishman on her place card. A festive air pervaded the dining room as the girls sat at the tables decorated with green and white and wore vari-colored paper hats. Aberdeen Phillips, as president of the pledges, made a short speech of welcome and Signe Alford, president of the sorority, responded.

Guests other than members of the sorority, who attended the dinner, were Miss Isabelle Strouther, Miss Dorothy Reeder, and Miss Adeline Winard.

After the dinner, each girl was given a Shamrock, which proved to be a dance program. This was a big surprise, and there was much comment on the good taste of the pledges in selecting just the right man for the right girl.

Leaving the hotel all went in search of the dance and found the men assembled in the Alumni gym. The floor was waxed, the music from the combination radio and victrola was excellent, and as there was ample room for every one to dance as they pleased, many fancy steps which had been impossible at the other dances this year were exhibited.

Every girl said that it was absolutely the finest time she had had this year and so it must be true. It was with reluctance that all finally left the gym.

Prof. and Mrs. Grossman, Dr. and Mrs. Leese and Miss Strouther chaperoned the dance.

Who's Who in the Senior Class

IRA SASSAMAN

One beautiful September day in the year of 1927 this bashful lad from Williamsport entered S. U.'s gates, determined to do his best. Ira immediately made many lasting friendships and acquaintances on the campus, as is shown by his large circle of friends.

During his Freshman year, he became a member of the local Y. M. C. A. and was one of the most active members in that organization, being a member of the cabinet. When rushing season came around, after much consideration, he decided in favor of the Bond and Key Club, of which organization he is now president.

Ira was a member of the Glee Club and the University Quartet during his Freshman and Sophomore terms. At the completion of his second year, he was awarded the Stine Mathematical Prize, which signifies that he is a Math shark.

During his Junior year the Athletic Association elected him as assistant baseball manager, and in this capacity he served efficiently and this year was honored with the management. He is also serving as instructor in Mathematics this semester, which is his chosen field.

We all join in wishing him decided success in life, for we know that he will continue in the pathway of doing good.

10 Honor Athletes at Annual Banquet

Large Crowd Expected to Attend Dinner in Honor of Athletes. Certificates of Awards Will be Presented

Invitations have already been mailed by the Sports Dinner Committee for the Annual Sports Dinner which will be held in the Horton Memorial Dining Room, Friday night at 5:30 at which time Susquehanna men and women will pay homage to the athletes of the Orange and Maroon who during the past year have honors in athletics. At least three hundred and fifty persons, possibly the largest crowd in the history of the event, are expected to attend the dinner, with the purpose of honoring the varsity athletes and the large group of students who annually engage in Susquehanna's Intra-Mural Sports.

Dr. G. Morris Smith, president of the University, will act as toastmaster and during the proceedings will call upon the following Captains of various sports for brief responses: Robert Donnell, Baseball; Clifford Johnston, Track; Reed Speer, Tennis; Alton Gowman, Football; Harold Glenn, Basketball; Russell Sprout, President of Intra-Mural Board, and Miss Miriam Keim, representing the Women's Athletic Club. Rev. John F. Harkins, former Susquehanna three-sport athlete, and at present pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, of State College, will bring greetings from the Board of Directors of the University.

One hundred and four certificates of award will be presented to the men and women who have represented Susquehanna in her various sports. In addition, twenty Intra-Mural Championships will be announced and appropriate trophies presented to the managers of the Intra-Mural Championship teams, in football, soccer, tennis, cross country, golf, basketball, indoor and outdoor track, class mile relay, baseball, volleyball and hand ball for men and soccer, field hockey, basketball, track, tennis and volleyball for women.

The Committee in charge has mailed invitations to members of the Faculty and the Executive Committee, all students who have earned awards, since the last Sports Banquet, representatives of the press, and all persons who are actively identified with Susquehanna's Sport Program.

There are in addition about fifty available tickets which may be purchased by the relatives and friends of the faculty and students. The Sports Dinner will be held in conjunction with Annual Easter Dinner. Tickets may be purchased at Gymnasium office 10:50c.

Debate Teams Score Three Victories

Girls Defeat Elizabethtown Wed. Boys Score Victory Over Albright Fri., and Girls Repeat on Sat.

With the girls' negative team winning two debates and the men's negative team winning one debate, Susquehanna enjoyed great success in the forensic art during the past week in competition with Elizabethtown College, Albright College, and Ursinus College. Neither of the teams has lost a debate.

On Wednesday evening the girls' team opened the current season for the women, meeting Elizabethtown in the University Auditorium. It was a highly interesting debate. Susquehanna in spite of their opponents' well presented speeches, losing out a close 2-1 decision, which was given by Judges Rev. Fitzgerald of the Methodist Church in Selingrove, Mrs. Helen Gouger of the Selingrove High School, and Miss Pearl Kawaii, who is an instructor in the Sunbury Schools. The debate was on the question of Free Trade and Ruth Bergstresser, and Nellie Shue. It was Miss Bergstresser's 34 first appearance in an inter-collegiate debate and while her inexperience is a slight handicap, one can predict safely that she will be a tremendous aid in the forthcoming debates. The speakers for Elizabethtown were Misses Ploy Schlosser, Rachel Wengert and Frances Herschman. Doctor A. W. Ahl served as chairman of the debate.

The men's negative team met the (Concluded on Page 4)

DISINTERESTED ALMA MATER

"Some people are born great, some achieve greatness, while some have greatness thrust upon them." Several of our students became the center of attraction over night when the arm of the law placed its hand on them unjustly. These students were going about their business, molesting no one when an officious policeman of the state arrested them on what was evidently a trumped up charge. The idea of students being arrested is not good publicity for our school because there are always short sighted individuals who do not understand. It is the duty of the administration therefore, to see that these incidents do not occur frequently. A protest to the Highway Department would be very much in order. It is a sorry situation when the students are unable to walk down town without being molested by ambitious State cops.

This affair has raised another point which should receive attention. A student when in trouble has a right to appeal to the University for assistance, especially when he is accused unjustly. This help was asked in one instance but was happily granted in another. The assistance was necessary to prove the integrity of the accused students and to clear the honor of the University and was therefore of valuable service. The confidence men and women hold in their Alma Mater should be strong and enduring, but it will not be if the Alma Mater fails them.

HE WHO DANCES

"He who dances must pay the piper." That saying is as true today as the day it was written, but here at Susquehanna there is an attempt to broaden the scope of the statement so that it would read, "Not only he who dances, but the bystander, too, must pay the piper." A college man's mind is broad, it is true, but not so broad as to accept such an unsatisfactory explanation for the spending of our damage fees.

Down in Hassinger Hall rooms are being "stacked," doors are being barred, and every evidence of student devilry is being shown. With those actions there has been a steady decline of the damage fees available to meet the expenses of such insane antics. It is all well and good for students to pay for such fun, if it may be called that, but there is NO good reason why men living in the fraternity houses, and dormitory men in other halls should have to contribute to meet the cost of the "fun" of a few misbehaving students in Hassinger whose rightful places are in the kindergarten or in Danville. Yet that is exactly what is being done. The residents of Selmsgrove and Gustavus Adolphus Hall, together with the men who live in fraternity houses and the day students have to contribute to pay for the Hassinger Hall students who enjoy the "dancing."

Is it fair? Is it not time to end this injudicious state of affairs? Hassinger is dancing, let her pay the piper. The purpose of this editorial is not to suggest any specific way of meeting an admittedly bad situation; it is, rather, an appeal to the Administration for a more satisfactory, a more fair and square system of damage liability fees.

Church Has Two Services to Accommodate Crowds

Rev. H. Middleworth, 24, is assistant pastor of Dr. Stover of the Messiah Lutheran, "The Friendly Church" in Philadelphia. That they are having success is proved by the fact that they are having two services on Sunday nights to accommodate the large crowds attending the church. The first begins at 7:00 o'clock and the second at 7:45 p. m. These services are conducted by assistant pastors and Dr. Stover preaches at both services. For the past twelve years Messiah Church has enjoyed a larger attendance than any other church in the city.

Metropolitan will seat about four thousand people. Last year hundreds were unable to get seats. Messiah's organization of seventy ushers had charge of the seating. The large choir of sixty voices, together with the Messiah Junior Choir of thirty voices, the four fine soloists and the F. Nevin West Brass Quartet will lead the music. The Metropolitan Opera House is said to have one of the largest organs in the world.

Mathematics Club Organized Here

Thirteen students were present at the initial meeting of the Mathematics Club of Susquehanna University on Monday afternoon, March 16. Two talks by members of the math classes constituted the program. First there was a well presented discussion by Mr. Winfield Hudkins of the topic, "How to find the area of the loop of curvate cycloid." By means of calculus many areas and volumes can be found which are impossible to compute otherwise. The area of a loop of curvate cycloid until several years ago had not been calculated.

The second discussion was given by Miss Miriam Keim whose subject was one of interest to every one. Miss Keim aimed to show "How an Interest Can be Created in Mathematics." To any one interested in teaching mathematics this topic would be of interest. So often high school teachers are asked, "Why must I take algebra, geometry, or trigonometry?" Miss Keim's aim was to show how mathematics might be made so interesting that this question would not be asked. She had numerous illustrations and examples such as mathematics clubs, plays, speeches, special themes, mathematics examples, group projects, and style shows. The illustrations all showed the importance that mathematics plays in the world.

The interest that people are showing in mathematics is an indication that the organization will be a success. No officers exist, only a committee composed of Dr. F. G. Williams, Ira C. Sassaman, and Wayne Nieswenter who prepare the programs. The next meeting will be held on April 13.

Y. M. C. A. Cabinet Holds Its Last Meeting

On Monday evening, March 16, the last meeting of the present cabinet was held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The meeting was in charge of Pres. H. Wilson Sieber.

The meeting was opened by the president with a devotional service in which he read a portion of the 15th chapter of Luke. The devotions were continued by sentence prayers, in which Dr. A. William, A. M. and President Smith took an active part. President Sieber gave a reminiscence address, in which he pointed out definitely the fine interest shown in the "Y" during the past year. He showed that the cabinet had made a great deal of progress along the lines of endeavor that were pointed out by the standard of the group.

A short business meeting was held in which the reports of the various committees were given. Lewis Fox, chairman of the Freshman Cabinet, reported the progress shown in this field, which was very pleasing. Lee Fairchild, of the "Deputation" Committee gave a report of the activities with outside groups that showed the spirit of the "Y." John Kindsvatter, chairman of the Membership Committee, gave proof of increased membership during the year. The treasurer's report was turned over to auditors for the formal auditing. Paul Hartline, chairman of the Missionary Committee, brought a plan before the cabinet which will be explained later. The business meeting was closed and the members of the cabinet finished their final meeting by repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Seibert Hall Echoes

WE HAVE BEEN TOLD THAT
Advance information has it, that 7-11-31 M.-s., our little track star the "dew" like to see his name in print, hence the left out letters) is going to borrow one of the girl's gym suits for the next meet. Will he prefer one of the maroon ones, or the black-bloomers-white-middy, type? Will you be willing to lend your outfits out for such an event, girls?

Inez Sarver felt the effect of the track meet so much, that she spent the following day in bed. The paths of glory lie there.

This seems to be another week-end when everywhere is going home or somewhere. Ida Schweitzer is going to take a trip to the Coaldale Hospital to see "that certain party" in her trip home.

Two of our co-eds have taken a recent movie to heart. On the wall of their room is a sign in red. "Only Saps Walk."

Echoes from Hassinger

A sad, sad story. On innocent looking young chap decided to wear an orange tie on St. Patrick's Day. The sons of Erin resented the act. Result—hereafter, Sam Pascoe will war the Irish. And the tie was borrowed!

On rash young ladies who have accepted bids from unworthy patrons of Terpsichore! Could you but see the contortions and gyrations which take place in Hassinger's radio room nightly.

The new catalogue has been a source of considerable agony to certain young gentlemen whose middle names have just been revealed by its publication. Among the more prominent are Standford, Oswald, Sayer, DeWitt, Weidensal, and Benoni.

Quite a number of the men of the dormitories and the fraternities have recently joined the Literary Guild. It seems that this should be a good sign of some cultural advancement.

Fred Wilks and Harold Witkop spent the week-end in Tamaqua with Jack Auchmuty and visited Wilbur Berger in the Coaldale State Hospital.

Notice to Professors: I beg to be excused if my recitations are not up to standard as I am spending most of my time preparing for the coming Pledge Dance.

(Signed) James Suter.

Hoffman, Stroup, Bishop, and Suter have decided to stay in and study on Saturday nights instead of going down town.

Alumni Club Addressed by Dr. George E. Fisher

The annual meeting of the Center County District Alumni Club, held at Lard's Tea Room, State College, last Monday evening certainly proved to be an enjoyable occasion. Eighteen Susquehanna men and women renewed old friendships and established new acquaintances.

Dr. George E. Fisher brought greetings and the news from the Campus. His address, a summary of which follows, told of the optimistic outlook for Susquehanna. Susquehanna University enjoys academic recognition today which she never enjoyed in the past. Changes in admission requirements, increase in the personnel and strengthening the faculty, higher scholastic standards in the class room, careful business administration, marked improvements in buildings and grounds—all of these have aided her in securing this recognition.

Today she enjoys membership in the Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges of the Middle States and Maryland. Susquehanna appears on the membership roll of the American Association of Colleges and Universities. The State Departments of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia, Ohio, New Jersey, New York, Maryland and Vermont, are giving her recognition such as she never enjoyed in the past. The Medical Schools of Harvard, John Hopkins, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Jefferson and others now extend to Susquehanna Pre-Medical students all the privileges extended to those of other institutions.

A fine spirit of student and faculty co-operation exists upon the Campus. There is an atmosphere of progress; a greater desire for higher achievement in all student affairs. Susquehanna University stands upon the threshold of one of the greatest periods in her seventy and more years in the educational field.

Following Dr. Fisher's address, responses were given by Prof. Brungart, and others who attended the meeting. The election of officers resulted in the following: President, Rev. John F. Harkins, '15, 114 S. Atherton St., State College, Pa.; vice president, Rev. Louis V. Lesher, '24, Millheim, Pa.; secretary, Mrs. Estella McCormick Miller, '16, Millheim, Pa.; treasurer, Miss Ruth C. Cassler, '11, 106 E. College Ave., State College, Pa. Orren R. Wagner, Millheim, Pa., was elected to serve on the executive committee for three years. Two additional members of the executive committee elected last year are: Claude G. Aikens, State College, Pa., term expiring in 1932, and Jacob Wetzel, Center Hall, Pa., term expiring in 1933.

Arrangements Made for Class Reunions

Letters have been mailed from the Alumni office to the president and secretary of the classes holding reunions on Alumni Day, June 6th. The reunion classes are those graduated in '61, '66, '71, '76, '81, '86, '91, '96, '01, '06, '11, '16, '21, '26. Responses have been received from some class officers notifying the Alumni Day Committee that they have started plans for their reunion.

Graduates in those reunion classes number between three and four hundred. Letters will be mailed to the members of each class, informing them of the latest developments in the Alumni Day program.

Dr. Leon M. Messner, '23, chairman of the Alumni Day Play Committee, is selecting the cast for the minstrel. Parts are being assigned, soloists selected, and the preliminary work of the production set up. Luke Rhoads, '30, is a member of the Play committee and is assisting Dr. Messner.

Alumni Section to be Feature at Meet

Alumni of the member colleges of the Central Pennsylvania Collegiate Track Conference who reside in the Central Pennsylvania district, are being notified of the opportunity they will have to see men representing their colleges in action in the Eleventh Annual Conference Meet to be held at Susquehanna on May 16th.

Letters are being mailed to hundreds of these Alumni, inviting them to attend the meet. Special reserved seats will be on sale for the event, the reserved seat section being located directly opposite the finish line. Seats in this section will also afford an exceptional chance to witness all the field events.

Alumni secretaries of the member colleges of the Conference are cooperating wholeheartedly with the local meet managers in setting up this special feature.

Track Team Prepares For the Penn Relays

With the passing of the Medley Relay, Inter-Class Board Track Meet and the Eleventh Annual Indoor Track and Field Meet, Coach Grossman now has as the coming event on his track calendar the trials for the Penn Relays which are to be run Saturday, March 26th. All this pre-season inter-class competition will give Coach Grossman a line on his track candidates and will also help him choose four men to represent the Crusaders in the Annual Penn Relay Carnival to be held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, on April 24 and 25.

The possible candidates listed for the relay team are Captain Johnston, Carolan, Knouse, Meyers, Muir, Neiswenter, Fairchild, Norton, Slaterback, Swarn, Truckemiller, Welky, and Oardford. From this list there are six who are veterans from previous relay teams sent to Philadelphia. The entire 193 team is included in the above list: Welky, Johnston, Neiswenter, and Knouse. From the 1929 relay team which rated fifth in their class, there remain Fairchild and Norton.

The best team that ever represented the Orange and Maroon at the Relay Carnival was in 1928, and was composed of Wall, Scott, Knouse and Gerhardt, who topped a third place, making a brilliant showing against fast competition. Scott and Knouse still remain from this team; Knouse is considered a candidate for the 1931 team, but Scott will be forced out, due to scholastic difficulties.

Susquehanna enters Class B competition at the Carnival this year and with the adoption of new rules, freshmen will be eligible to represent a school. There is a possibility of several freshmen winning a berth on the relay team.

All Campus Five Prove Right to the Name

The All-Campus team picked from from the various teams in the Inter-Class League by the leading sport editors, defeated the Jealous Five by the overwhelming score of 44-24 in the Alumni Gymn Wednesday night.

The mythical All-Campus team came to life and played a wonderful brand of basketball throughout and was perhaps the best team that ever played in the Alumni Gymn this season outside of the ones which competed in the varsity and junior varsity games. There was real teamwork displayed throughout and every man on the team played a passing game.

During the first half the opposition was holding its own with the All-Campus and the half ended 15-14 in the latter's favor. At the start of the second half the All-Campus guards were passing to the forwards at will under the basket and making good the field goals.

Rhoads, who has been on three Susquehanna All-Campus team, led his teammates in scoring honors with a total of 18 points. Meyers, playing a spiglemyer game second with 12 points, Spiglemyer played a stellar game at guard, his passes being responsible for many field goals scored under the basket.

Adams led the losers with eight points as Scharfe came second with seven points, playing a good floor and passing game.

Negative Team In Two Home Debates

Two home debates complete Susquehanna's debating schedule this week. Our men's negative team meets Upsala tonight in the University Auditorium, and will compete with the formidable Lebanon Valley trio on Wednesday evening at the same place. S. U. will have Wolfe '21, Erosius '23, and Clapper '24 debating for her and with this undefeated team to cope with our opponents, we should be able to overcome Lebanon Valley and Upsala.

Band Practices for Spring Season

The Susquehanna University Band under the direction of Professor Elrose Allison is beginning intensive practice in preparation for its Spring activities. The winter season is a dull season for all band organizations and the Susquehanna Band is no exception. The first appearance will be at the Sports Banquet to be held on March 27. The date of the Spring Evening Concert has not as yet been set, but from indications of the activities calendar it will be presented early in May. The concert during commencement week will be the main one of the season for the organization.

Quite a number of the members have been faithful workers all year. As a reward for their efforts numerous prizes and awards will be presented to them. The chief reward is a silver loving cup which is to be awarded to the best musician and the one whose efforts for the organization during the year have exceeded those of his fellow members. Men who have served for three years will receive a letter S with the word "Band" written upon it. Anyone who has been a member of the organization for four years will be awarded a certificate of recognition signed by the President and Secretary of the organization and its Musical Director. Those who have served faithfully for but one year will receive a pin made up in the form of the instrument they play.

The Inter-Class Volley Ball League is near the end of the schedule and the winner will be decided upon this week. As it now stands it will be between the Juniors and Faculty; these teams will be matched in a game Thursday night at which time the championship will be decided. So far the Faculty have had the better team on the floor.

There are five more games remaining on the schedule and any team who does not appear at the time scheduled will forfeit the game to their opponents. This is necessary because there are no other open dates on which to play off postponed games.

The schedule for the remaining games is as follows:

Philhellenic Society Elects Officers

The annual election of the Philhellenic Society was held on Friday evening at 7 o'clock in the Greek room in G. A. Hall. The meeting was in charge of President Fox, who had a few words to say in reference to the club's progress during the past year. Following this, the new pins were presented to the active members. They are very neat symbols of the fine work this group is doing. The pins are in the shape of a key and have the Greek symbols for Phi Kappa upon them to symbolize the technical name given to this society. Dr. Ahl as the director of this group has done so much for this group that has become recognized as one of the best "honorary" clubs on the campus.

Following the presentation of the pins the election took place and the following officers were chosen for the coming term: President, Herbert Holman, vice president, Kenneth James, secretary, William Ahl, treasurer, John Kindsvater, and messenger, Penn Dively. The officers will receive their commissions next month and will learn their duties at the last meeting this year.

The club is planning a delightful program for the new year, when the officers will be installed. Various papers on Greek life will be given and the meeting will be conducted with the club's Hellenic origin and background in mind.

Phi Mu Delta Pledges Hold Vesper Service

The vesper services Sunday evening were conducted by the pledge group of the Phi Mu Delta fraternity, who presented an interesting and worthwhile program. Those who took part were Edwin Clapper, Kenneth James, William Pursel, and James Suter. The topics "Why Jesus Is a Worthy Master" and "Jesus as a Teacher," were handled well by Mr. Clapper and Mr. Suter.

Men's Affirmative Team Leaves on Debate Trip

The men's affirmative debating team left yesterday afternoon on a six-day trip that will carry them into the States of New Jersey and New York, where they will meet Upsala tonight in East Orange, Rider College on Wednesday evening at Trenton, Wagner College on Thursday at Staten Island, and Montclair College on Friday evening at Upper Montclair.

Wilson Seiber '31, Lawrence Fisher '31, and S. Walter Faulkrod '31, captain, will make the trip, traveling by automobile. With three experienced speakers like these representing her, Susquehanna should fare well.

Y. M. C. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

Susquehanna's Y. M. C. A. in their annual reorganization meeting, last night elected these officers for the current year:

President, Lee M. Fairchild; vice president, Herbert Holman; secretary, Penn Dively; treasurer, Lewis Fox; state representative, Lewis Fox, editor of hand book, Penn Dively; business manager, William Morrow; faculty advisors, Dr. G. Morris Smith and Dr. George F. Dunkelberger.

Hand Ball Tournament Nearing Completion

This week will mark the close of the Hand Ball Tournament and a champion will be decided upon sometime before Friday evening. All persons who are scheduled in the remaining matches are urged to play these off as early in the week as possible.

Last week the following players won their matches: Prof. Grossman from Rishel, Extrim from Aechmuty, and Sprout from Norton.

When Arkansas schools opened after the holidays, they found in effect the new State law requiring that every student in the public schools, from primary to high school, shall hear the Bible read daily in the classroom.

K. D. P. TO PRESENT

PLAY NEXT MONDAY

(Continued from Page 1) ment and finally to the morning room of Lord Windermere's house with a rapidity which is equaled only by the swift progression of events in the characters' lives. The last scene has great emotional complexity since the husband and wife each know something essential to the situation unknown to the other, and all the threads center in Mrs. Erylne's hand.

The unexpectedness and paradox of the various speeches are undeniably realistic. Each character is indubitably realistic. For instance, Lord Darlington, who has just accepted a new occupation, says: "I am a man of business, and I am a man of business, and I am a man of business." But they make one demerit respectable. Then there are the Duchess of Berwick's injunctions, "Don't make scenes, men hate them!" Cryme is the refuge of plain women, but the run of pretty ones. Cecil Graham and Mr. Dumby define experience as "a question of instinct about life" and "the same every one gives to their mistakes." Lord and Lady Windermere, who are thrust apart by chasm after chasm, are finally reunited by Mrs. Erylne that matchless character creation. Although Mrs. Erylne attempts to destroy her heart since "it spoils one's career at critical moments," she discovers that she really has one when life threatens to repeat its tragedies. We echo Lady Windermere's remark that Mrs. Erylne is not only a very clever woman, but also a very good one.

The members of the cast for Lady Windermere's Fan are assuming their roles in a very commendable manner, under the proficient direction of Professor Adelbert C. Hartung. The characters are as follows:

- Lord Windermere, Howard Lukehart. Lord Darlington, Warren Wolf. Lord Augustus Lorton, Russell Yoas. Mrs. Cecil Graham, Reed Speer. Mr. Dumby, William Weliky. Mr. Hooper, Fred Wilks. Parker, Sara Shauls. Lady Windermere, Leone Holtzapfle. The Duchess of Berwick, Beatrice DeWire. Lady Agatha Carlisle, Diana Lizards. Lady Plymdale, Harriett Miller. Lady Jedburgh, Lois Brungart. Lady Stutfield, Lena Baird. Mrs. Cowper-Cowper, Alma Bowersox. Mrs. Erylne, Mary Weaveling.

JUNIORS WIN INTER-

CLASS INDOOR MEET

(Continued from Page 1) running the 70 yard dash in 7.6 seconds. "Bill" Weliky has proven himself to be one of the fastest dash men Susquehanna has ever had and it is almost certain that his record will be good for some time.

Swarm ran true to form and set a new record in the 880 being timed in at 2:14.3, thereby breaking the record set by Swank in 1927. This is another real record for future Susquehanna athletes to shoot at. Kramer set a new record of 6 ft. 10 in. in the Fence Vault, bettering the record of 6 ft. 9 in. established by Gerhardt in 1928. The snubbing of this record was really unexpected and is one which is really worth much commendation. One of the best feats turned in during the evenings performance was that of the Sophomores mile run, which ran the distance in 4:51, lowering the previous record of the Class of '29 by four seconds.

Miss Sorber of the Senior Class and Miss Crebs of the Junior Class were tried for their individual evening honors with eleven point apiece. No new record was set in this event, but there was a new event listed on the officers program and this was the Hop-Skip and Jump won by Miss Crebs who accomplished a record of 19 ft. 2 in. in this.

"Bill Weliky came hard in the indoor evening honors with a total of 16 points added to the Seniors record. He also came off by taking two first place in the high jump and the 200 yard dash.

A mix happened to be on the side of Jimmy Meyers Tuesday night which helped him lose out in two different events. In the rope vault he fouled and had to climb several extra times but finally tied with Pottinger. In the 210 Meyers was out for a record but beat the gun on three occasions at the start of the dash and then fell while turning one of the sharp bends on the track.

DEBATE TEAMS SCORES

THREE VICTORIES

(Continued from Page 1) Albright affirmative team on Friday evening in the University auditorium and quite easily continued their sensational winning streak securing a 2-1 decision over their opponents. Many thought the decision should have been unanimous in Susquehanna's favor, so decisively did her representatives prove their case. Judging the debate were Mr. Pawling, of Selingsgrove, Rev. Kline of Selingsgrove, and Rev. Walsk of Sunbury. On Susquehanna's team were Warren Wolfe 31, Samuel Brosius 32, and Edwin Clapper 34. Their opponents were Miss Hill, Mr. Hiller, and Mr. Cloud. The presiding officer at the debate was Prof. Gilbert.

It was on Saturday evening, however, that Susquehanna came through with a bang. The girls' negative team easily defeated the affirmative team from Ursinus, securing a 2-1 decision. All three speakers for Susquehanna were at their best and experienced little difficulty in refuting their opponents' point, and making their own invulnerable. With splendid cooperation, capped off by the speech of Miss Nelhe Steyer, our team presented opposition that Ursinus was unable to cope with. The other speakers were Misses Corinda Sell and Ruth Berstesser. The Ursinus representatives were Misses Murray, Marian Styer, and Dorothy Under-son. The judges were Rev. Herbert Connop, Rector of the Episcopal Church of Selingsgrove, Dr. Roebach, a dentist of Selingsgrove, and Mr. Forxy, Notary Public of this city. The chairman of the debate was Professor Hartline.

At all three of the debates last week the usual large crowd was present, the "Strand Room Only" sign being placed at the doorway long before the debates began. It is very gratifying to note the highly intellectual attitude as-

Sportsmen Honored at Annual Banquet

Packed Hall of Students and Others Fete Athletes in Gala Fashion. Men and Women Receive Awards

The Annual Sports Dinner was attended by over 300 persons when Susquehanna's athletes, were honored by the student body, faculty members of the Board of Directors, Alumni and friends on Friday evening.

President G. Morris Smith acted in the capacity of Toast Master and his fine presentation was worthy of approval. Some of the alumni were called upon for responses as well as the captains of the various sports during this season. Responses were heard from Football Captain Alton Garman, Track Captain Clifford Johnson, Basketball Captain Harold Glenn, Baseball Captain Robert Donnell, Tennis Captain Reed Speer, Miss Miriam Keim, President of the Women's Athletic Club and Russell Spout, President of the Men's Intra-Mural Board.

Rev. John Harkins, an alumni of Susquehanna, and one time three letter man, addressed the body in a very fine manner. At present he is pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church of State College, Pennsylvania.

One hundred and four certificates of award were presented. Miss Dorothy W. Reeder, instructor of Physical Education for Women, made the presentations to the women receiving awards for the participation in Soccer, Field Hockey, Basketball, Track Tennis, Baseball, and Hiking. Awards in Football, Basketball, and Baseball were made by William W. Ulery, head coach of these sports. Prof. Luther D. Grossman, director of Athletics and coach of track presented the awards in track and tennis.

Harold B. Glenn was the only athlete who received a letter in three sports. Glenn won his letter in Football, basketball, and track. He captained the Orange and Maroon Court team for the past two seasons.

Six other athletes out of the group received awards in two sports: William P. Adams, football and tennis; P. Richard Fisher, football and basketball; John Meyers, football and track; Herbert Spigelmyer, football and baseball; Reed Speer, football and tennis; Josiah Winsen, football and track.

Neg. Team Continues Its Winning Streak

Malmion Relieves Brosius With Success. Lebanon and Upsala Suffer Verbal Onslaught of Clapper and Cohort

Just by way of showing that they have lost none of their dexterity, the members of Susquehanna's negative debating team continued their winning streak last week, defeating Upsala and Lebanon Valley on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the University Auditorium. The first debate resulted in a 3-0 and the second in a 2-1 decision.

Joseph Malmion went into action in both debates, supplementing Samuel Brosius as second speaker, and succeeded in laying down a barrage of points that were well-nigh invulnerable in face of the enemy guns. His fine work in this relief role was no small factor in bringing about two more victories for the Orange and Maroon.

Clapper, alias Patrick Henry, was again in top form as third speaker, while Warren Wolfe continued his fine work as opening speaker for Susquehanna.

The victory over Lebanon Valley partly avenges the affirmative team's defeat at the hands of the negative team of that college two weeks ago. Upsala was defeated by both our teams on the same evening, the affirmative defeating their negative in East Orange, N. J., in a 3-0 decision.

The negative team will be idle during the holidays, to resume war on April 16, when they start their trip west to meet Waynesburg and Thiel Colleges.

Glee Club Concert Pleases Audience

Variety of Talent Gives Interesting Program to Large Audience. Includes Negro Spirituals and Readings

Susquehanna University Glee Club, under the personal direction of Prof. Stevens, appeared in its annual home concert March 25, in Seibert Chapel Hall.

The club deserves much credit for the splendid program, consisting of numbers unusual for a college glee club to sing. The third group, consisting of a selection from an English Madrigal and two selections from the Greek Anthology, were numbers that few college glee clubs would present.

A group of negro spirituals was another unusual feature of the program and was well received by the audience. The singing of "Mam's L'il Boy," by Hall marked the first time that the number has ever been sung in public. Mr. Minnich and Mr. McNally were the soloists of the evening. Mr. Minnich giving a violin solo and Mr. McNally a piano solo.

Mr. Olson, in costume, gave a number of humorous readings in the Swedish dialect. The program follows:

"Herby" Rummel '32 Court Leader

Captain Elect Has Starred at Forward for Past Three Seasons. Bishop '32 Elected Manager

At the sports dinner held at Horton Dining Hall last Friday evening it was announced that Herby Rummel would lead the Susquehanna basketball team through its 1931-32 season. He will succeed Harold Glenn who has guided the team through the past two seasons. At the same time it was also announced that Bishop had been elected manager to take the place of Harvey, who held that position this season.

Rummel has undoubtedly been one of the main reasons the team has just passed through so successful a season. (Concluded on page 4.)

Local Town Honored Again By Student Attainments

WINNERS ARE POPULAR AND ACTIVE IN CAMPUS LIFE

Announcement of honors in the class of 1931 of Susquehanna University reveals that they have been won by two Selingrove students. First honors go to Lawrence C. Fisher, while Miss Leone Holtzapfel won the distinction of salutatorian.

Lawrence Fisher has throughout his college career been actively interested in various student organizations. For two years he has been both a member and manager of the Men's Glee Club. His musical ability has also extended itself to membership in the large choir of Trinity Lutheran Church. Continuing his high school forensic abilities where he shown in defeating opponents' arguments, Lawrence became a member of the Susquehanna Debating Team in his Freshman year. The last two years he has served as manager for this organization as well as one of the fellow debaters. This year he is a member of the affirmative team, which has just completed a successful week's trip by defeating all of its opponents. Business managing seems to be his specialty for this year has found him acting in the capacity of Advertising Manager for the Susquehanna Student Publication. Sports found his chief interest in track and soccer. Lawrence has majored in chemistry and will finish his science course in June. He hopes to enter medical school next fall.

Miss Leone Holtzapfel, who takes the second honors, is one of the outstanding co-eds on Susquehanna's campus. Women's sports have found Leone an ardent participant. During her course of study she has majored in English and Latin in the educational field and she expects to enter the teaching profession. But her attainments are not entirely scholastic. The crowning success of her extra-curricular activity was her wonderful presentation of the leading role as Lady Windermere in the K. D. P. sorority play, "Lady Windermere's Fan." K. D. P. has found in her a real sorority sister. (Concluded on page 3.)

Pledges Guests of Frats at Dance

Miserable Weather Does Not Discourage Dancers. Numerous Alumni Attend Pledge Debut Saturday Night

Whether or not Mark Twain was right about the weather did not seem to concern anyone Saturday night as each fraternity succeeded in making its Pledge Dance the most outstanding and colorful event of the year. The gayly decked interiors, the gliding mass of pleasing shades, the rhythmic step of slipped feet to the happy tunes combined to leave old Juke Pluvius out in the cold.

The Bond and Key Club was host to Dr. Williams and his mother, Miss Naomi Hade. Dr. and Mrs. Leese, and Dr. and Mrs. Overbo. Each pledge was presented with a rose in honor of the occasion. The music was furnished by the Glee-Nova Orchestra, from New York City.

Epsilon Sigma welcomed Dr. and Mrs. Ahl. Dr. and Mrs. Kretschman, Dr. and Mrs. Sadtler, and Professor Stauffer, not to mention several members of former days who returned to greet the new members. Art Wendel and his Hotel Altamont Orchestra came down from Hazleton for the occasion. This dance was formal.

Phi Lambda Theta invited Dr. and Mrs. Lunkelberger, Professor Sheldon, Professor Hemphill, and Professor Stevens, and a happy group danced to the tunes of the Pennsylvania Ramblers from Sunbury.

Phi Mu Delta acted as host to Dr. and Mrs. Smith. Dr. and Mrs. Wood, Dr. and Mrs. Allison, and Professor and Mrs. Grossman. Among the other guests were several members of the Mu Epsilon Chapter from Penn State. The music was supplied by Floyd Mills' Orchestra from Baltimore, Maryland.

Many familiar faces were seen at the various hours as the alumni returned to pay their respects and join in the evening's activities. (Concluded on page 4.)

Aff. Debating Team Has Perfect Trip

Four Decisive Victories Are Added to the Accomplishments of Captain Foulkrod and Teammates

The affirmative team of Susquehanna University just completed one of the most successful seasons of forensic engagements since debating was established at Susquehanna.

The team composed of Captain Walter Foulkrod, H. Wilson Seiber and Lawrence C. Fisher, arrived in East Orange last Monday where Upsala acted as host.

One hundred and eight admirers, and loyal students, congregated to hear the popular discussion of free trade. Hot arguments ensued until the end. The finish was accompanied by a 3-0 decision for Susquehanna.

Next came Rider. The outcome of this Trenton engagement was decided by the audience. The kind auditors saw fit to render the decision in Susquehanna's favor and their consensus, rested 44-18 with Susquehanna.

A brief interlude—strange indeed—broke up the schedule when Mr. Foulkrod found it necessary to attend the funeral of not-to-choose a relative, a resident of Philadelphia.

Thursday Wagner called the boys to Staten Isle. On the very knoll of old Staten the debate was staged. Following this encounter two of the boys had other arguments to present to a limited and exclusive audience, but not on the above mentioned knoll. The official engagement gave Susquehanna a 3-0 compliment.

Finally came Mt. Clear. The largest State College for Teachers bid the usual feminine welcome. Again the audience was destined to pass judgement upon the debaters. Mr. Fisher, the manager, saw to it that the audience was favorably impressed prior to the official affair. His success accredited the team a 30-14 victory.

These four successful victories brought to the team and Susquehanna much credit and honor. (Concluded on page 3.)

Dean Addresses U. P. School Convention

"Making Professional Courses Function" Subject of Dr. Dunkelberger. Many Educators Attend

Dr. George F. Dunkelberger, Dean of the College, was one of the speakers at the Annual Schoolmen's Convention, held at the University of Pennsylvania March 18-21. The Convention is an annual affair sponsored by the University and is attended by men from the teaching profession at large, educators as well as high school superintendents and principals.

Dr. Dunkelberger's session came on Friday afternoon at which time he presented an address on "Making Professional Courses Function." Dr. Dunkelberger is a specialist in education and in his address aimed to show the need of a movement to professionalize subject matter in an attempt to make the subject matter and method inseparable. Kappa Delts Present a Successful Drama

Amateur Actors Present One of Best Plays in Susquehanna's Current "Little Theatre" Season

"Lady Windermere's Fan," a presentation of the Kappa Delta Phi Sorority, has well received by a large and appreciative audience on Monday evening at 8:15 in Seibert Hall Chapel. The play was very intriguing throughout because of its very concrete and concrete meanings portrayed in lines packed with comedy and psychology.

From the start to finish the acting was so flawless that every line was clear in meaning. The plot, so cleverly worked out in its intricate forms was based on the ordinary conception of divorce. The popular idea of this institution was thoroughly portrayed in this arrangement of Oscar Wilde. The English background of the modern society period really made the plot even more pleasant to watch, for the accent of the English people was more than once demonstrated in an expressive manner. Frankly, perhaps, expressions were made almost too emphatic, but letting that pass one can say that every character was delightfully brought out. Wilde seems to be a master at philosophical reasoning because the connotations were so imperative and clearly placed.

Now resorting to the fine cast one readily notices the all-star characters for this play. Leading the high-lights in an exquisite performance we have Miss Leone Holtzapfel, who took the difficult role of Lady Windermere. The realistic expression of her trying part was indeed the manifestation of the whole evening. Her moody and melancholy facial changes were so well done that they made the audience believe she felt them. Her plot which surrounded her role seemed centered in her marvelous dramatic ability.

Mr. Warren Wolfe, who played opposite the leading lady, showed an impulsive nobleman, who had a special psychology of life that was distinctively his own. The role of Lord Darlington he carried with ease and represented with expertness a fine emotional character. His acting ability was comparable only to Miss Holtzapfel.

Mr. Howard Lukehart, in the portrayal of Lord Windermere, presented a finished piece of acting and really and fully filled the capacity of a troubled husband. His difference and coldness were the sensation of the role in which he played. The part was one (Concluded on page 3.)

Crusaders Begin Diamond Practice

Captain Donnell and Candidates Start Out-Door Practice. Coach Ulery Sees Limited Pitching Staff

Baseball was formally introduced this week at Susquehanna University when Captain Robert Donnell took his team of collegiate baseball this season. Coach Ulery hopes to play Captain Donnell as his ace card this spring and in all probability he will draw the bulk of the pitching assignments. Briminger, another right-hander, is expected to come through this season and to be seen in action. During the latter part of the 1930 season Briminger was going in great style and should be able to turn in some victories this season. Coach Ulery will be greatly handicapped because of the absence of Alden Danks, a left-hander, who was the star of the pitching staff for the past two years. Paul Edwards was the only left-hander reporting this week from last year's squad. Joe Matmon is a new addition to the squad and in serving the ball from the portside has been displaying his wares to the coach in a very effective manner. Kapic and Meyer, two freshmen, have also reported as aspirants for the pitching berths. (Concluded on page 4.)

DRAMATICS

One of the foremost of the extra-curricular activities on Susquehanna's campus is dramatics. Were one to review the number of plays that have been presented during the past two years one would be convinced of the interest that Susquehanna students have shown and are showing in stage representations.

Each year the various organizations, the sororities, the fraternities, and this year even the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. have endeavored to produce worthwhile drama. It is an indication of diversified talent not concentrated in a certain group but dispersed throughout the entire Susquehanna student body. The programmes of casts for the different productions have not been a repetition of names for each play for one has found new names on the bill and new faces on the stage. Interest is not only shown to be widespread among the students, but also among the faculty members who have coached various presentations. This year has already found four members of the faculty who have produced plays and each has made a splendid success.

According to the list of dramas already featured this year we can see that the types of plays are indeed the most beneficial as well as educational to the student body because, for the most part, they have been high toned comedies and tragedies.

Y. W. C. A.

What is the place of the Young Women's Christian Association on a college campus?

Some may say, the Y. W. C. A. should take care of the social life of the girls in a college. Yes, that is true, but first of all, the Y. W. C. A. should foster the religious life of the girls. The true purpose of a Christian association surely is to help others to be real, live Christians. This does not exclude the social side of life because all must have recreation. The idea is for the Y. W. C. A. to provide clean, wholesome, and pleasant recreation for the girls. Life must not be unexciting.

Does Susquehanna's Y. W. C. A. measure up to this standard? If not, why? It is up to us to consider this question; but, we dare not stop with mere consideration. What are we going to do about it? What will improve the organization if it is not up to standard? Oftentimes, the suggestions of someone who is in a position to see and appraise the workings of an organization are of inestimable value to those who are putting forth great efforts to make the organization a success. Let us all cooperate in keeping Susquehanna's Young Women's Christian Association up to, and above, the standard.

DEBATING CROWDS

When we recall to mind the debates that the negative team has just completed we are struck by the outstanding fact that every engagement was so poorly attended by the students. At the Upsala debate the audience consisted of a mere handful including the Upsala team's chauffeur and the timekeeper. When one realizes that these boys traveled over two hundred miles to meet our team and then had to debate a world question of vital importance to an empty auditorium one can readily imagine how the opponents felt. This trifling occurrence has not been so readily noticeable during the latter debates but the attendances were still far from gratifying. Nevertheless the team continues to produce victories. What an example of student activity and campus affairs! What a splendid portrayal of the intelligent attitude assumed by our students! Has the collegian's mind become so warped that he cannot appreciate the value of a discussion of world wide issue? Surely we have not become so engrossed in athletics or social activities here at Susquehanna that we cannot diversify our interest sufficiently to include debating. Let us hereafter do our bit in supporting these splendid teams.

The Student Council requests that students refrain from smoking in school buildings and class rooms. Smoking should be limited to the open air. Due consideration of this request will be appreciated.

Mountsville Church Celebrates 100 Years Ago

The Bethany Lutheran Church of Mountsville last Sunday had its re-dedication and centennial celebration. Post-edicatory services were held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings. The pastor of this church is the Rev. O. E. Sunday, '06. The church was founded in 1830 and Rev. Sunday has been the pastor since 1916.

In 1830, the services were first held in an old school house of some abandoned. Feeling the need of better and larger accommodations, the Lutheran congregation in Mountsville built the "White Church" in 1838. In 1870 the trustees of the Lutheran Church purchased a plot and erected the present church there. In 1878, the main auditorium was completed and in 1924 a modern brick parsonage was erected.

The entire cost of the repairs approximated $11,000 and during the financial appeal made during this month, more than $12,000 has been subscribed.

Mrs. Sunday is also a graduate of Susquehanna. She received her A.B. in '02. A son, Harold Sunday, is a member of the class of '32.

Church Dedicated at York

On the evening of March 1, the members of the congregation of the Messiah Church, York, Pa., dedicated their handsome new stone building. This is the happy consummation of a growth that began June 30, 1894, with the establishment of a mission at Green Hill, York County. The first church cost $2,700. In 1915, the congregation relocated within the city limits and rebuilt their church. Under the active leadership of the present pastor, the Rev. W. A. Janson, '20-'23, the rapid growth in membership demanded that a new location be secured. The present site was purchased, with parsonage, for $15,000. On May 11, 1930, ground was broken for the erection of the first unit of the church building.

This unit will become the Sunday school when the entire plant is completed. It is well arranged to care for services and for the needs of all the organizations of the church, and provides a seating capacity for 800 persons. In addition, rooms are provided for the pastor's study, choir room, council room, and parlor. The cost of the new edifice is $73,000, a good part of which, together with the cost of the parsonage and site, has been provided for.

At the dedication service the sermon was delivered by Dr. Henry Anstadt, president of the synod of West Pennsylvania. President H. W. A. Hanson of Gettysburg College preached in the evening. Throughout the week following an organ recital was given by Mr. Henry F. Seibert of New York City, and sermons appropriate to church and community interests were preached on successive evenings by the Revs. C. W. Diehl, J. M. Janson, W. L. Lutz, and Dr. H. D. Hoover.

Graduate Broadcasts Sermon

The Rev. Wilson F. Ard, '15-'18, pastor of Messiah Church, Denver, Colo., participated in a studio program broadcast from General Electric Station KOA, March 10. The subject of this address was "The Challenge of Lent."

Celebrates Eighty-first Birthday

L. L. Seiber, D.D., '67-'68, of Gettysburg, celebrated in a quiet way on March 4, his eighty-first birthday. He has given almost sixty years to the preaching of the Gospel and is enjoying good health. In addition to the many cards of congratulation there were gifts from relatives and friends among which was an electric radio.

HAVE YOU HEARD THAT

The Fraternity Dances this past Saturday evening, falling as they did, on the 4th; night they could have possibly picked, gave the inmates of Seibert Hall a chance to ride to the affairs in cars, a privilege not often granted. Certainly the dances were colorful affairs. We haven't seen such lovely clothes in a set, as the girls have been displaying in the Dormitory this last week.

Dot Hutter, Inez Sarmy, Fred Carl, and Bill Swann will furnish the whereabouts of the night watchman before ten o'clock to any inquirer, for a slight consideration.

Anyone noticing the preoccupation of Peg Hoffmeister these days, just take a peek at the third finger of her left hand; there's the reason, and a mighty pretty one we'd say it is, such lovely girls who are letting their hair grow and are desiring of ever being able to put it up are asked to look to Beatrice DeWire and Ida Schweitzer for encouragement.

Anyone desiring to know how to rate four bids to a Fraternity Dance will please go to Josephine Pifer for particulars.

Ruth Bergstresser, Harriet Leese, and Corinda Sell all had guests here for the dances.

It seems that the favorite scripture passage of a certain fair co-ed is found in the book of Luke.

Echoes from Hassinger

Suter got so far behind in his work last week while he was learning to dance that it was necessary for him to stay in Saturday night and catch up with his studies.

Now that the "Dances" are over Ken James has discontinued his "Dancing Classes." The Theologs will again be able to get their prescribed eight hours sleep without disturbance.

Tom Frutcheon is out for bigger and better dances—for further information inquire down town.

The Sophomore Class won the Volley Ball Championship, while our little star, J-h-n-y M-e-e-s (again note the dropped letters) was content to act in the capacity of referee. What in the world will our ambitious track star take up next on our campus.

The boys from the other dorms might find a lot of fault with Hassinger, but we notice that they are quite fond of our radio, our showers, and our over-stuffed furniture.

S. Pierpont Pascoe was right on hand and on time at the Phi Mu Delta dance Saturday night. Atta boy, Sam!

Kimmel and Graham tumbled just once too often last week.

Honor Science Society Holds Regular Meeting

The meeting of the Honor Science Society on Tuesday evening, March 24, was one of the best this year. The program consisted of three short, but effective and interesting talks by members of the club. Mr. Stearns, who has for quite a number of years been in the teaching profession, spoke on "The Teaching of Biology in Secondary Schools." Mr. Wayne Neisewander used as the subject for his short talk "The Applications of Bernoulli's Theorem." Mr. Andrew Kazok presented a short problem on finding the limit of a mathematical quantity by differentiation methods.

Some discussion was held upon the prospect of becoming a national organization. It was also announced that a member of the State Forestry Department would be the guest speaker of the club at the meeting in April.

Spanish Club Play Presented Monday

The Spanish Club under the leadership of Miss Irving held the most interesting and varied program of the year at the regular meeting of the club held last Monday evening, March 23, in the Social Room of Seibert Hall.

The outstanding features of the program included a play in which Misses Nichols and Savidge and Mr. Gray-kock took part, a tango dance by Misses Baird and Hutchings, a Spanish song sung by Melvin Adams who was assisted at the piano by Miss Freda Stevens, and a game called "Juego de Salon" in which everybody took part.

S. S. D. Party

On Tuesday evening, March 24, a party of S. S. D. pledges and members under the prudent chaperoning of the Misses Corbin, Irving, and Swann assembled at the Homestead Tea Room in Sunbury where a tempting dinner awaited them. After a hearty repast of chicken, frozen salads, and chocolate sundaes, the group congregated at the Strand Theatre. There they saw Ruth Chatterton in "The Unfaithful." The party over, some girls boarded the all too plebeian trolley, others the more fortunate, cars. Ten-thirty found the girls safe within the portals of "Old Seibert."

Kappa Delta Phi

Wilma Walker and Essex Botsford were here this week-end, Wilma bringing her cousin, Edna Leese.

The girls of the sorority are all rejoicing at the news that Jane Botsford, K.D.P., '27, has been elected to the principality of the Cumberland (Md.) High School. This is no little school, and is a fine testimony of Jane's ability.

NEW BOOKS

"CHITA"

By Lafacadio Hearn

Lafacadio Hearn has chosen for the setting of his novel the Crooked Islands just south of New Orleans in the Gulf of Mexico. It is evident that the author is very much in love with this locality and these islands and by his description, so full of color, of detail, and of cadence, he wins the reader to his islands, and his gulf.

The plot and the action of the story are more interesting than the characters. The cleverness of the plot gives one a very pleasant feeling of satisfaction even though some of the events are in themselves rather horrible. Every event, and every character is skillfully interwoven with Conchita—Concha, or Chita—who wins the hearts of all, including the reader.

It was in July when one day the blue abyss of the sky and the quicksilver smoothness of the water was suddenly broken by a terrible wind—that came from the north. That evening the pleasure seekers of Last Isle gathered in the dance hall as they had every evening in the past. But the captain of the "Star," which was anchored in the harbor, knew that if the wind shifted to the south they would be doing another dance. The wind shifted, and a tidal wave carried all but a few, who were rescued by the "Star," out upon the open sea. Dawn finds Last Island desolate.

On another little islet near the gulf-shore, Felu and Carmen Viosca slept feverishly that night. Carmen dreamed of her little Conchita, who had died in Spain before the couple came to America. That night she felt the fancied caressing of infant lips, the thrilling touch of little ghostly hands, those phantom caresses that torture mothers' hearts. Why did this gentle presence come to haunt her, to kiss her, to cling to her, to nestle in her arms this night of all nights?

In the morning Felu saw debris, dead animals, and the bodies of those people washed up on the shore of Last Isle. Where could they have come from? Then he sees a living speck upon the water. It is a small child held in the arms of her mother's lifeless body. The mother has a death grip upon a piece of debris. Felu saves the child, and it lives.

But what is the child's name? Who and where is her real father? Why will she only talk to Laroussel? What is the connection between her father and Laroussel? We can answer all these things by reading the novel. And meantime in New Orleans we find Dr. Julien LaBrierre wondering what has become of his wife and little daughter.

We can follow Conchita—for she is now Chita, she has taken the dead Conchita's place—to a forbidden spot in the island where she sees a small animal go into a hole at the foot of an old tombstone and she sees a brown head, without hair, without eyes, but with teeth. We can see her as she grows up to womanhood on the island. We can see with her night the doctor comes from New Orleans and dies on the island after trying to tell her that she is the exact image of his long lost wife.

Lafacadio Hearn has pictured these islands, the vegetation, the storm, the gulf, the persons, and the dread yellow fever very vividly. These, however, who are acquainted with Hearn's works will need no introduction to his peculiar style.—L.M.F.

Scholastic Trophies Presented to Winners

Dr. George Dunkelberger presented to the respective winners silver trophies for their scholastic attainments at last Friday morning's Chapel service. The Sigma Alpha Iota Sorority was the lucky recipient of the initial presentation of the award given by Miss Hade, to the sorority having the highest scholastic rating each year. The Phi Mu Delta fraternity received the silver award given annually by the Student Council. This is the second time this cup has been awarded. Last year Bond and Key received the trophy. This semester starts the competition for the next honors. The rating is calculated upon the work of the members of the different organizations for two consecutive semesters. The trophies are therefore presented to the winner at the beginning of the second semester to be their property for one whole year. Should any organization win the cup for three consecutive years the trophy becomes the property of that group. These prizes are an incentive to harder work among the various fraternities and sororities on the campus.

Penn Relay Team to be Picked Soon

Seven aspirants took their trials last Friday afternoon for positions on the team that will represent Susquehanna University at the Penn Relays to be held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, on April 24 and 25. Rain prevented the completing of the tests on Saturday afternoon.

Those who took their trials Friday are Captain Johnston, Neiswenter, Meyers, Swann, Khouse, Muir, and Fairchild. Other possible candidates, who are expected to take their tests soon are Carolan, Norton, Sloterback, Truckenmiller, Welky, and Oberdorf.

Of the above list Welky, Johnston, Neiswenter, Khouse, Fairchild, and Norton are members of former Susquehanna relay teams.

KAPPA DELTA PRESENT A SUCCESSFUL DRAMA

of outward confidence while in his soul he was afire with anxiety.

The part of Mrs. Elyhne was superbly acted by Miss Mary Weaverling. Until the last act one would imagine that she would be a "villainess," but one must surely be mistaken for her part in the last act was one of motherly sacrifice and tenderness and still a spirit of mystery surrounded the role.

Mr. Russel Yoas, in his usual comedy performance, kept the audience in a more receptive mood. As a typical Britisher his lines were so composed that they broke up the unusually solemn and sombre plot. Russ was without a doubt one of the best specialists in comic drama of the evening.

Following is a list of the supporting cast:

Mr. Cecil Graham, Reed Spicer, Mr. Dumbly, William Welky, Mr. Hopper, Fred Wilks, Mrs. Parker, Sarah Shaulis, The Duchess of Berwick, Beatrice Dewire, Lady Aetha Carlisle, Dianna Lizdas, Lady Plyndale, Harriett Miller, Lady Jedburgh, Lois Brumart, Lady Stufield, Lena Burt, Mrs. Cowper-Cowper, Alma Bowersox.

HOLTZAPFEL AND FISHER RECEIVE HONORS OF CLASS '31

Lawrence Fisher is the son of Dr. and Mrs. George E. Fisher, of Selingsgrove. He is a member of the Phi Mu Delta Fraternity, the Honor Science Society, and the National Forensic Fraternity of Tau Kappa Alpha. Two brothers and sisters have preceded him as graduates of Susquehanna, while a younger brother is a member of the Sophomore Class. His father, Dr. George E. Fisher, is also a graduate of Susquehanna and has been the head of the science department of the college for 35 years.

Sophomores Crush All Campus Team

In a game held last Wednesday afternoon at the home of the All-Sophomores football team, the All-Campus team was defeated by the score of 37-27.

The Sophomores led the lead throughout the game, but the minute rally led by the All-Campus team, three times to tie the score. McGeehan and Kinney were the mainstays of the Sophomores team.

Theologs Hold Annual Election of Officers

The Pre-Theological Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. William Ahl on University Heights on Wednesday evening, March 25.

The discussion was led by Herbert Schmidt on "How to Live Effective Lives." He pointed out, in his speech, some of the most important requirements for this four-square life. His discussion gave every student self control, contact with God in prayer, intimate fellowship, and association with the Master and His principles are absolutely imperative to live well with your fellow-men.

Following the discussion for the evening a short business meeting was held in which the officers were elected for the coming year. The results were: President, Lewis Fox; vice president, Robert Sala; secretary, Ernest Hutton; faculty advisor, Dr. A. William Ahl.

At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. Ahl and daughter Hildegaard, treated the boys with delightful refreshments and everyone enjoyed the ensuing social hour.

O. D. S. Pledges Conduct Vespers

Omega Delta Sigma pledges conducted the Vesper service Sunday evening, March 29. After the opening hymn, Virginia Andrews read the scripture lesson and Ruth Bergstresser followed with a prayer. Two readings, "The Fool's Prayer," by Edward Rowland Hills, and "Tears," by Lietze Reese, were given by Adeline Wingard. Talks on the meaning of Holy Week and Easter, by Aberdeen Phillips and Edith Frankencfield followed. The service closed with a hymn and the Mizpah benediction.

Dr. Dunkelberger enjoys a back ground rich in training and practical experience in teaching and administrative work in public school, teachers' college and university.

On April 2nd he will address the Parent-Teacher Association of Northumberland County.

Sieber Installs New Y. M. C. A. Officers

At a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening, March 23, the new officers were installed with fitting ceremonies. The officers elected for the coming school year are: President, Lee Fairchild; vice president, Herbert Hohman; secretary, Penn Dively; treasurer, Lewis Fox.

Wilson Sieber, the outgoing president, gave a speech that was centered around the highlights and activities of the "Y" during the past year. He gave particular notice and time to the fine work of Rev. Jack Hart during the time he was on our campus. The new president, Lee Fairchild, gave a resume of "What Christianity Should Mean on the Campus." These fine reports were supplemented by the reports of the other outgoing officers. They were: Vice president, Lewis Fox; secretary, Robert Sala, and treasurer, Herbert Hohman. Each of the committee chairmen also presented to his successor a program of the activities during the past year along with many helpful hints and material which he had received while holding his particular office.

Among the other veterans are "Swede" Palmer at first base, "Dutch" Herman at second base, Herb Spigelmyer at third, Strop at left field, and Malasky at center field. Sheaffer, veteran catcher from last year's team, will give battle with two freshmen, Fisher and McMullen, for the backstop position.

Rubis, a former Johnstown High School athlete, is nearly certain of gaining the short-stop berth. Foltz who has played various infield positions during the past years, will probably have the best chance of gaining the remaining outfield position left open from last season. Morrow, a freshman, looks like a promising infielder and is slated to give battle with Herman for the keystone sack position. Other outfielders reporting are Keller, Carl, Auchmuty, and Gray.

on the grounds that they are mutually detrimental and condition each other. Friday evening, Arthur Moran, President of Antioch College, explained the Antioch Plan. The same evening Thomas E. Perhaps the most interesting program came Saturday morning when Dr. Leightner Wimer, Psychologist of the University of Pennsylvania, presented a psychological clinic on superior children.

Dr. F. G. Williams accompanied Dr. Dunkelberger on the trip.

Dr. James E. Menderhall, of Teachers' College of Columbia University, has found that practically all difficulties in spelling are caused by four capricious vowels, a, e, i, and u. "O" is the only vowel, he said, that doesn't mix up would-be spellers. Interesting, Eh-What?

Who's Who in the Senior Class

IDA A. SCHWEITZER

Here's a girl who needs no introduction whatsoever. No opening paragraph needs to be prepared to tell the reader who she is! Ida is well known to all of us.

Of class offices Ida has had her share. She was Secretary of the present Senior class when they were Frosh; she was Girls' Financial Secretary for them last year. Ida has been on the Women's Co-Operative Council, serving two years, and was Secretary-Treasurer her second year. The Women's Athletic Club claims Ida as a member too, as does the Intersorority Council. Last year Ida stepped into the picture at a social time, and edited the 1931 Lantern. The book is a mute tribute to her ability. The French Club will miss her next year, for she has taken part in their plays. Last year Ida was a member of the Girls Varsity Debating Team.

Ida is majoring in languages, especially German, in which she is a whiz. The Presidency of Kappa Delta Phi is also an office filled capably by this versatile young lady.

Ida's personality is the striking thing about her; the more you know her, the greater is the desire to further the acquaintance.

Gerhardt, Class '30, Breaks Own Record

"Human Fly" Jumps 6 Feet 3/4 Inches to Break His Outdoor Record by 2 Inches at Junior Pitt Meet

Miller Gerhardt, former Johnstown High School track captain and Susquehanna athlete, has won some more fame in an unofficial way by high jumping 6 feet 3/4 inches in a recent meet between the graduate and under-graduate students at Junior Pitt in Johnstown. This elusive, "human fly" has demonstrated to the world that he can come back and in all probability has a card up his sleeve for the future.

We have not given up the thought of his track ability and we are almost certain to continue to hear of him performing in the jumping pits. Who knows but that we will hear the name Gerhardt mentioned in the next Olympic Games to be held at Los Angeles in 1932.

Mill Gerhardt is a member of the Bond and Key Fraternity, holder of the Central Pennsylvania Track Conference record in the high jump at 5 feet 10 1/2 inches. He is also holder of several indoor records and an outdoor high jump record which is 5 feet 10 1/2 inches.

GIRLS SEE "THE SWAN" AT BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Friday evening seven Selbert Hall women went to Bucknell to see the interpretation of "The Swan," the three act play which was presented here in the fall by Omega Delta Sigma. The plays at Bucknell was given in the Lewisburg High School Auditorium by Frill and Frown, a dramatic club.

Those who attended were Frances Kline, who acted as chauffeur, Sara Rhoads, Edna Williamson, Etha Mummaw, Enza Wilson, Elizabeth Vorlage, Betty Wardrop, and Prof. Hartung, who was the faculty critic from Susquehanna.

The party reports an enjoyable evening. It was interesting to compare the productions of the same play. If you want the personal opinions, arrange for a private interview; the girls can also illustrate their remarks.

Fiftieth Anniversary Moller Organ Factory

Dr. Smith, W. A. Hassinger, R. C. North and Senator Steele Represent Susquehanna at Celebration

President G. Morris Smith, Mr. W. A. Hassinger, Middleburg; Mr. Roscoe C. North, Selmsgrove, and Sen. or Charles Steele, Northumberland, represented the Board of Directors of Susquehanna University at a banquet held in the Dagmar Hotel, Hagerstown, Maryland, last Thursday evening, celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the completion of the original M. P. Moller Organ Factory in Hagerstown. The sumptuous dinner was given to Mr. M. P. Moller, Sr., who founded the factory in 1881 and has since guided it so successfully that today, it is said, there is not a minute during the day when a Moller organ is not being played somewhere.

Prior to 1881, Mr. Moller, who received the honorary degree of Doctor of Music from this University and has served on the Board of Directors with that group whose term expires in 1931, spent nine years in Copenhagen, the capitol of Denmark, in learning to build pipe and reed organs for churches and households, and then followed the business in the larger cities of the United States (notably Philadelphia), for several years before he established his factory in Hagerstown. The rise of the factory in prominent business circles has been nothing short of meteoric and Moller Organs today rate with the best in the world, due chiefly to the guiding hand of Mr. Moller.

His interest in Susquehanna's welfare has been both friendly and earnest, and he has served as a Director of the Institution most efficiently and generously, having exerted to the utmost his influence in bringing about many of the improvements of recent years. The beautiful organ in the Conservatory of Music is a gift of Mr. Moller, and it represents only one of the many things he has done for the school.

To Mr. Moller is extended the heartiest congratulations of the "Susquehanna" upon his wonderful achievements during the first fifty years of the Industry's existence, and the sincere and best wishes that the coming half-century may be even more prosperous to him. Accompanying these congratulations and best wishes are, we feel sure, the like sentiments of the entire student body and all associated with the school.

Who's Who in the Senior Class

DOROTHY F. LEISHER

Everyone knows this petite little Miss from Renovo, and the class of '31 considers itself mighty lucky to have this talented little musician as a member.

Dot has kindly obliged us many times with her lovely voice, and the Choral Club counts her one of its outstanding members.

She is majoring in Voice, and studying the Public School Music Course. Dottie will be the only girl on whom the degree of Bachelor of Music will be conferred this year.

Dot has been Chapel Organist, a member of the Y. W. C. A. Intersorority Council and has been active in our May Day pageants. She is also the representative of the Conservatory has on "The Susquehanna."

Sigma Alpha Iota, our Music Fraternity, claims Dorothy as its president this year. We hope that Dorothy is as successful in her teaching as she has been here at Susquehanna, and we know of no one who doubts that success.

REV. PAUL M. KINPORTS

Elected Secretary of The Luther League

Loyal Son of Susquehanna Has Rare Opportunity of Being Elected Executive Secretary

By CHARLES M. TEUFEL, D.D.
To a loyal popular son of old Susquehanna has come a rare opportunity and an equivalent responsibility. The alumnus in question is the Rev. Paul M. Kinports, of Hershey, Pennsylvania.

In January of this year he was called to become the Executive Secretary of the Luther League of America—the organization dealing with the youth of the Church and seeking to cultivate its potential possibilities. Few positions within the United Lutheran Church possess a larger field of usefulness and sphere for positive influence. Pastor Kinports assumes his post on May first.

He follows a trio of predecessors who did their work exceedingly well. They were the Rev. Luther M. Kuhns, Litt.D., Omaha, Neb., pioneer leader; Mr. (Concluded on page 4.)

S. U. Spring Sports Give Active Schedule

Spring Weather Keeps Track and Baseball Teams Real Active; Men Round Into Shape for Contests

The Spring Sport Program is swinging into being this coming week with the arrival of the spring weather. All the candidates for the varsity sports are rapidly rounding into shape for their initial contests in the near future.

At present the track activities are pretty much limited to whipping into shape four men to represent the Crusaders in the Annual Penn Relay Carnival to be held in Philadelphia April 24th and 25th. The outstanding candidates for the team thus far are Captain Johnston, Neisewter, Meyers, Swarn, Carolan, Knouse, Fairchild, Petry, and Muir. Meyers has turned in the best times thus far in the preliminary trials.

The Sophomore Class won the Inter-Class Relays Thursday afternoon with the winning time at 3 minutes and 34 seconds. The winning team was composed of Petry, Carolan, Swarn and Meyers. The Seniors followed with second place; Juniors, third, and Freshmen, fourth. In the relays the work of Petry and Carolan was surprising and as things now stand Carolan has a splendid chance of winning a place on the team to represent the Orange and Maroon at Philadelphia.

Coach Grossman has a large list of candidates to choose his varsity cinder path artists from this season. During the past week he has been using different men in different events, trying to locate their best event and after he has discovered this he will concentrate his attention in further conditioning of his men.

Coach Grossman has been working hard with his material, trying to fill the vacated berths on the varsity team. With the staging of the Central Pennsylvania Track Conference Meet on the University Field, the Crusaders are planning to play the part of the perfect host by taking their division for the second consecutive time.

The Inter-Class Meet was held April 13th and 14th. This meet was taken by the Class of '33 last year.

Susquehanna Maroon Key Club Organized

Honor Organization to Act as Host to Eleventh Annual Track Meet; Harvey Elected President

A Maroon Key Club was organized last Thursday evening at a special meeting of the managers and assistant managers of the various sports on Susquehanna's campus.

The Club is an honor organization whose membership is limited to the managers and their assistants. The officers who have been elected for the forthcoming year are Randolph Harvey, president; Merle Hubbard, vice president, and George Hess, secretary and treasurer.

At different large colleges, such as Penn State and Cornell an organization of this sort has existed for some time. It was the idea of Professor Grosman, that perhaps Susquehanna would find such a club very beneficial. Not only would it be an honor association but there would at certain times arise circumstances where an organized group of guides would be of great value. The instance was cited, on Cornell's campus a covenant was held recently of noted scientists. The Key Club of that school was given complete charge of the notables to act as their hosts and make their stay at Cornell one of few difficulties in finding their way about the town.

With the prospect that Susquehanna is to be the host of numerous colleges at the Eleventh Annual Central Pennsylvania Track Conference Meet such an organization would have ample opportunity to be of service to those men who shall compete. This would be the chance for members of the Key Club to do their part in making the track meet a success. It was suggested that one man be delegated to act as host to each one of the representative schools. The question of desirable insignia was discussed. Most schools use a cap or a sweater coat with a key in the school colors as a sign of club membership. George Hess was appointed to investigate the possibility of raising funds for such a purpose.

Who's Who in the Senior Class

CLIFFORD W. JOHNSTON

With this issue of the "Susquehanna" Clifford W. Johnston will have completed a successful year as editor-in-chief. Probably more than any other member of the staff, he has worked harder to make the "Susquehanna" a bigger and better paper. From his Freshman year, "Cliff" has taken an interest in all lines of journalism and under his editorship the paper has received favorable comment.

"Cliff" is another member of the Class of '31 who hails from Altoona, an enterprising metropolitan noted for its cat shops. His next big interest lies in the realm of sports, especially in track. Coach Grossman, recognizing his ability, placed him on the varsity his first year and he has been a member of the team ever since, being elected captain for this season. He barked signals from the quarterback position for the class football team his Freshman term and then for the J. V.'s for two seasons. He also represented his class on the wooden way for three years.

Johnston has been a member of the Glee Club for three years and of the University Band his Sophomore and Senior terms, serving in the capacity of drum major this year. Bond and Key Club and the Varsity "S" Club numbers "Cliff" among its Seniors. He expects to enter Dickinson Law School this fall with the bar in view. He has the best wishes of all as he is about to enter on life's tasks.

Who's Who in the Senior Class

MIRIAM E. KEIM

Look present to you the scholar of the class of '31. "Mim" stands so far ahead of the rest of us, that it is with awe that we look upon her scholastic achievement. In a recent issue of "The Susquehanna," when the list of the first ten in each class in scholarship was announced, Miriam was at the head of the list for the Seniors. But Scholastics are not the only fields in which "Mim" is a leader.

She is President of the Woman's Athletic Club, and one of their ablest athletes. No team is complete without "Mim" and one she is among those present, the other side hasn't a chance. She is also vice president of Pi Gamma Mu.

Miriam is a member of the Y. W. C. A. and has been a member of the Science Club since her arrival at S. U. She is also a member of the new Mathematics Club.

She is the President of Sigma Sigma Delta Sorority, and one of their outstanding members.

"Mim" comes to us from Pottstown and spent her Freshman year at Temple University in Philadelphia. We are sure, judging the sentiments of the class of '31, when we say that we are glad she didn't wait any longer to come to our campus.

Varsity Nine Set For Initial Game

Elizabethtown to Meet Coach Ullery's Team in Opener on April 18; Scrubs Defeated in Saturday's Game

Coach Ullery is working out daily on the diamond with his baseball men, trying to condition them before their opening game with Elizabethtown on University Field April 18th.

Elizabethtown comes here with little known of the team, but it can be expected that they will put a good nine on the diamond against the Orange and Maroon. Last year Susquehanna scored a victory against them on University Field.

Saturday afternoon the squad had a real work-out, playing eighteen innings of baseball. The final outcome was a victory for the Varsity, 8-2. Coach Ullery gave every pitcher on the squad a chance in the box against the batters, and on the whole they shined up very well. The batters are also gradually getting their eyes and should develop into a good bunch of hitters.

As the pitching staff gains strength, we find that it is really getting stronger than was previously expected. Captain Bob Donnell heads the hurling department, and is being counted upon to pitch the Orange and Maroon nine through the majority of its games. Brinninger, who has had a year's experience, is showing up nicely, and is slated to do some mound work this year. Al Meyer, a freshman, seems to be setting a varsity stride and shows real promise. Joe Maimon, a sophomore, is reaching his stride and should do some work on the mound this spring. "Gus" Edwards is the other left-hander on the squad who has had some experience during the past year.

Thus far in the work-outs the team is displaying some real batting punch, and it looks as if a fast infield combination will be built around Patty Rubis at shortstop, who is doing great work at that position. "Swede" Palmer is slated to hold down the initial sack and thus far has been setting a lively pace in his hitting. "Dutch" Herman will probably get the call for the keystone bag with Speiglenyer at third, who is also doing fine work around the hot corner. Maurice Shaeffer is doing (Concluded on page 4.)

FAREWELL

There comes a time in every person's life when he must say farewell to some thing and with this issue of "THE SUSQUEHANNA" the staff of 1930-31 bids adieu to its readers. In accordance with the Constitution of the Publishing Association, a new staff will be elected in the near future and assume office immediately; consequently the time has come to transfer control to the new administration.

We do not expect to tell you what we have done, for our readers are our judges and critics. However, we can say that we have tried to follow two policies. First, in our Editorial policy we have tried to be impartial and to deal principally with subjects pertaining to Susquehanna, only now and then discussing national affairs. Secondly, in our News policy we have tried to publish news that was news and keep ever before us the interest of the student body.

There are several members of the Reportorial staff who deserve special mention for their outstanding work in their respective departments during the past administration. Vernon Blough, '31, Sports Editor, who has received the Intercollegiate Newspaper Key, and his assistant Bruce Worthington '33 have ably covered our sports realm as well as other campus activities. Both have served two years in this capacity. Grace Minning '32, Alumni Editor, is also to be commended on her splendid work for this column. Mary Hutchings '31, Social Editor, has shown capability in the manner in which she handled the social columns of our paper. In fact, all members of the staff are to be complimented on the diligent and faithful work they have done in contributing news to this Volume of THE SUSQUEHANNA.

During the course of our administration you have found from time to time in our columns new features which we have added and which we hope you have enjoyed. Among these are "Sport Bits," which contained items about our athletes; "Wit That's Pit," which was simply transcribed humor for your enjoyment; "Doubt It or Not," by "Will U Believe It," or the strange occurrences on our campus; "Comments and Questions," where the student expressed his likes and dislikes; "Book Review," which were short sketches of the latest and most interesting books added to our library; "Faculty Row," a mirror of some of the many happenings of our faculty members.

In the publication of our paper we have tried to be in harmony with the policies of Susquehanna. We have also tried to cooperate with the publicity bureau of the University. Our aim has been to please both faculty and students; we hope we have not fallen short of it.

As we leave our task, the Editor wishes his successor the greatest amount of progress and success in his undertaking. We hope that he may profit both by our advances and shortcomings and publish throughout the coming year an even greater SUSQUEHANNA.

ALUMNI NOTES

Rev. Richter Quite Prominent in Church Affairs

Very favorable comments have been received concerning the work of Rev. J. A. Richter of Windsor, Pa. Rev. Richter was graduated from the Susquehanna Seminary in the year 1904.

On Good Friday, a three-hour devotion was held with the Mt. Zion Lutheran Church, Trinity Evangelical Church and the Church of the Brethren uniting with their respective pastors in charge. The service was divided into seven parts, the messages of two of which were delivered by Rev. Richter.

Some time ago at the meeting of the Lutheran Pastoral Association of Johnston and vicinity the discussion was led by Rev. Richter who spoke of the technique of sermon preparation. He dwelt upon the thought that the preparation of a sermon requires just as much time and effort, if not more, than any task in other fields of endeavor. He illustrated the point aptly and outlined various phases of sermon preparation. A spirited discussion of methods for preparing sermons followed presentation of the paper.

Rev. Richter is the founder of the Zion Lutheran Church at Donaldson, and last February the 25th the anniversary of this event was celebrated. The sermon on Sunday morning was preached by Rev. Richter, as well as the one on Sunday evening. The final service was in sole charge of Rev. Richter, and proved to be a splendid tribute to the founder, who came back after nearly 25 years to see the success of his early work.

Graduates Owners of Weis Chain Stores

Weis Pure Food Stores observed their 29th anniversary on the first of April. The three men who are its executive officials and own its entire stock are Harry Weis, '00, Sigmund Weis, '03, and A. Bahner Pertzline, an ex-student of Susquehanna's school of business.

The first store was opened in 1912 in Sunbury and has grown to a chain of 113 stores, extending over a radius of more than 75 miles. They employ 50 citizens of Sunbury in their warehouse in addition to the managers and clerks of the stores.

The system used in the managing of the business is the most modern and most systematic, so that it is all carried out with a minimum of clerical work and manual labor. Machines of a unique type take much of the drudgery out of the office work and give a fine system of checking on goods shipped to the various stores, stock in hand and various conditions. The system, equipment, warehouse and offices are all of the best. These men are to be commended for the splendid work they have done in the establishing of such a proficient business enterprise.

Indian Garb Described by Selingsrove Missionary

Another welcome letter from Selingsrove's own missionary, Miss Christie E. Zimmerman, '25, who is in the Rajmangroo district, South India, gives much information of interest:

"Today I am going to spend a little time on the people of India as a green missionary sees them. The people in the different parts of India are somewhat different, but those that we are associated with are mostly of a short stature. Most of the people have very dark hair, some curly and some straight. They are just the opposite from the people in America; here the men want curly hair and the women feel that they are almost cursed if their hair is curly. Quite a good many men wear their hair cut as do the Europeans, but quite a large number have what we would call the latest style bob. Then there are those that wear theirs just like a woman, with a roll in the back. These rolls are supposed to be used by their Gods in dragging them into their so-called heaven on the event of their death. Even those who wear theirs out and are not Christians leave a little plait on the back of their heads to be used for the same purpose. The Indian girls and young women grease their hair with coconut oil to keep it straight and shiny, then they wear it in long plaits down their backs. The older women still plait theirs but make a roll of plaits on the back of their heads. A few wear some-what of a puff in the back, like we used to make over our ears in days gone by. When the Indian girl is dressed up she must have flowers in her plait or around the plait roll. If she has possibly affixed in it she will wear gold or jeweled pins in her hair. They wash their hair in water and use soap-nuts for soap.

"The ear of the Indian is a popular object for decorations. It is decorated all over. The popular ornament is a little clover leaf with red or white stones in it. Some wear pendants too. Others wear rings all around the ear, and if they cannot afford rings they will tie or rather sew black strings in the button hole sitch along the ear. Some even wear some sort of rings on that little cartilage in front of the ear.

"It doesn't seem so funny to see the ears doled up thus, but it does seem funny to see the noses decorated. Those who cannot afford nose rings for their children will have the ear-pierced anyhow and put pieces of straw in the holes to keep them open until they can afford the stones.

"Around their necks they wear some really pretty gold chains, but some really wear rings of gold around the neck. These look so queer for of course they don't fit the neck and so look very funny to us. The girl who is engaged will wear 2 rather large lockets on a cord around the neck.

"The ankle is usually decorated with bracelets, some round and some made to fit the ankle. These are mostly solid but some are of chains. Most of them are made of silver. In some of the rings they wear toe rings. From all that I have said about jewels and gold you may take that these people are rich, but far from it. Those who do have little money save it in that way—thinking, I suppose, that wearing it is the safest way of keeping it. Others who do not have money will borrow it in order to keep up with the rest. Another thing, I think that it is a pity that people do not trust you if you don't have a debt. Indians spend half or, I guess I should say, most of their lives in paying off debts. We are trying to teach our Christians to save their money and put it in the bank so we do not find so many jewels on the Christians.

"I think the Indian woman is charming in her hair. She walks so nice and straight—is so trained on account of carrying her baby jug of water from the well on her head. The hair of all different colors so when there is a group together they form the prettiest rainbow.

"The women are, as a rule, very bashful. You can see that the woman has been kept in the background, especially among the castes. You simply cannot get them to come out if there are men around. They'll hide back in the shadows of their dark homes every time."

Pastor Resigns Position

Rev. Louis C. Rode, '26, has resigned from the pastorate of the English Lutheran Church of the Redeemer at Vancouver, B. C. Impressive services were held on Palm Sunday, during Holy Week and on Easter. The crowded church was beautifully decorated in palms and flowers. After the evening service on Palm Sunday an alumni association of all persons confirmed at this church was formed.

Twenty-seven members have been added in the last year.

Dr. G. G. Harmon, Graduate of Susquehanna, Dies

Dr. George G. Harmon, a graduate of Susquehanna University, '76, died in Huntington after an illness of several months at the age of 76 years.

Dr. Harmon, a prominent physician, banker, churchman and dean of the Huntington county medical society, was born near Belleville and prepared for the study of medicine at Susquehanna, later graduating from Jefferson Medical College. He had practiced in Huntington since 1887.

Donor of Trophy Pastor of Church

Bethany Church at Bradcock, of which the Rev. J. P. Harman is pastor, has provided an especially appropriate Lenten folder presenting the sermon topics for the entire season. The Sunday morning series was titled "Jesus the Great Example"; evening topics were "Messages to the Seven Churches," and the mid-week services dealt with "Christ's Last Hours." Rev. Harman was graduated from the Susquehanna Seminary in 1916. He was captain of the S. U. track team in 1916 and is donor of the Harman Inter-Class Track Trophy.

Has Returned to Former Pastorate

Dr. C. B. King has returned to an old pastorate at St. Mark's Church in Pittsburgh. Dr. King was graduated from Missionary Institute in 1881 and received his D.D. in 1908.

News of Susquehanna's First Track Captain

At an Erie conference, Dr. E. M. Gearhart from the Luther Memorial Church, Erie, reports a splendid response from the young people in Lenten attendance, and high water mark in the Sunday school.

Dr. Gearhart has received the following degrees from S. U.: A.B., '03; A.M., Sem., '06; D.D., '20. He was captain of Susquehanna's first track team in 1901.

Selingsrove Teachers, S. U. Graduates, Resign

Charles W. Hermann, '33, teacher of history in the Selingsrove high school and one engaged in school work over fifty years, will retire.

Miss Dorothy Goff, '26, teacher of mathematics in the local high school, has resigned her position. She will take up her residence in Pittsburgh, her home town, where she will either continue her teaching or take graduate work.

William Routzahn, '29, has recently been married and at present is attending the School of Osteopathy at Los Angeles, Cal. Last year he taught school in Maryland.

Echoes from Hassinger

While most of us watched the Easter rains from our windows, Paul Hartline lolled blissfully on the beaches under a balmy Florida sun. Paul made a flying trip south with Freddy Fisher and spent the holidays at Miami Beach and Key West. And he has a beautiful tan to back up his statements, too.

Occupants of the East Side rooms in Hassinger seemed to enjoy the baseball game between the fair members of the Snyder County Sabbath School Association, Saturday afternoon. The young ladies displayed considerable ability, but we wonder if the boys noticed that.

The tobacco department sales in Lywell would seem to indicate that in the Springtime pipes of nicotine go hand in hand with the pipes of Pan. For hisside raming, meditation, a young man's fancy, an' all that.—Suggested by Paul Auman.

Maimon, the husky Philadelphia southpaw, hopes that he will be able to give Donnell a lift with the pitching assignment this season. We fear that to do this he will have to forget Harrisburg for a while.

Last week the boys were given the privilege of reserving rooms for next year. That was all good and well, but the administration decided to require a five dollar deposit. What we are wondering is: Whatever gave anyone the idea that Susquehanna men students would have a five spot for such a purpose this time of year?—Have a heart!

Baking soda is a good antidote for indigestion is what friend Kozak has been explaining to the boys.

Seibert Hall Echoes

WE'VE BEEN TOLD THAT

Elsewhere in the paper you will be able to see an account of the renovations made in the appearance of the Social Room. Certainly the girls who have been responsible for this work have the commendations of the entire woman student body. This room has badly needed someone to fix it up, and Nancy Hamlin as chairman of the committee with her several assistants has been that adequate someone.

After looking at the Easter parade as put on by the Seibert Hall women on Friday night, we tremble for the burst of beauty to show itself on Sunday. Certainly the girls have done themselves proud, and their excellent taste is a credit to their college.

Poor Emmy Orlando! This little girl has been made a procter and never has anyone taken her job so seriously and wholeheartedly. She is sure to have the lock worn off the door if she continues to have to lock and unlock it so often to quiet folks after "taps."

Next year there certainly is going to be a change in the old dormitory. It seems that everyone is changing her room number to a different hall or something. When the young ladies get to the office before the doors are open, one knows that there is something important afoot.

Harriet Leese has a unique excuse for the parting of shoulder seams. Ask her!

This is the last time that Ye Seibert Hall Echoer will write silly little nothings for you. Our best wishes go to the new Social Life editor. We hope that he will be able to please everyone.

FACULTY ROW

Members of Susquehanna's faculty passed the Easter holidays in restful peace, for the most part. President and Mrs. Smith remained at home, receiving guests from Buffalo, N. Y. Professor and Mrs. S. Sheldon and Professor and Mrs. Linebaugh attended a performance of Warner's "Parsifal" in Philadelphia. The Linebaughs also visited Wilkes-Barre.

Here's one from Miss Corbin. While returning to Selingsrove our youthful English instructor, commonly mistaken for "Betty Coed," arrived in Harrisburg too late for bus connections. The manager of the bus lines, however, torn by the sad predicament of the damsel in distress, gallantly offered the use of his private car. Miss Corbin arrived on schedule time, with chauffeur, bag and baggage, and everything.

Professor Stevens journeyed to North Carolina with the intention of doing some fishing, we are told, but the unkind weather interfered with his plans.

Miss Hade and Miss Irving departed from Seibert Hall, but only to spend the holidays at their respective homes. Mrs. Dr. Tucker stayed home to devote some attention to his garden, but he, too, was foiled by the inconsiderate Jupiter Pluvius.

And it's just possible that Professors Hemphill and Elrose Allison might have passed a few hours in Hanover, Pa.

Snyder County S. S. Convenes on Campus

Rev. Bonsall is Main Speaker Both in the Afternoon and Evening Sessions

Snyder County Sabbath School Association held its Second Annual Young People's Conference on this campus on Saturday, April 11, in afternoon and evening sessions.

The students of the university as well as the campus itself greeted quite a large group of young people interested in Parish and Sabbath School work. From twelve o'clock noon until 9 p. m. the conference held sway in Seibert Hall Chapel. Selingrove young people were in prominence, however, due to the closeness of the meeting place, but a large attendance was reported from all over Snyder county.

The program for the meeting was filled from one o'clock until adjournment time. Registration of delegates took up the first half hour and during this time practically all of the representatives from Sabbath Schools made their appearance. After the rushed registration period the group gathered in the Chapel for a peaceful song service. Music from various congregations was on the program and received commendation from the officers in charge.

The Young People from McClure took charge of the devotion and worship service. This service was carried out very well and the reaction left the audience in a fine mood for the main address of the afternoon. Reverend E. H. Bassell, Jr., a pastor of a Philadelphia congregation spoke on "Sharing Our Experiences of Jesus." His talk was indicative of forcefulness and his emphatic statements pertaining to spreading Christian truths were without a doubt deeply thought out. He is a fine speaker and his plan of procedure was logical in coordination with the endeavors of Parish work.

A rather new feature of this conference program was the discussion groups. These groups were under the direction of Reverend Bonsall and a very efficient woman director, Miss LaVene Grove. Miss Grove is indeed capable of holding these discussion sessions for she is director of the Lutheran Leadership Training Camp at Biglerville. This camp houses a number of Parish School workers of the teen age every summer. Her work at this camp desks definitely with the aiding of young people who wish to become leaders in this form of Christian endeavor.

Again at three o'clock the conference was entertained by more music and the groups were all recalled for an assembly. A Question Box for all the leaders was held by a group of the State leaders and some deeply religious points were discussed. This question Box revealed to each "school" a number of new projects which might in some manner or other live the work for the coming year.

From four-thirty until the time for the banquet the delegates were entertained in a social and recreation hour under the direction of Miss Dorothy Reeder, who is Women's Physical Director for Susquehanna. The banquet hour at six o'clock not only brought a delightful repast, but it was also fruitful in a "fun" hour.

Evening devotions were again held at 7:15, but this time the Paxtonville young folk took charge. Reverend Bonsall finished his day of speaking in a striking address on "Forward with the Youth of North America." The address was a challenge to all young people in any Christian movement to do their best for God and Country. A friendship circle for the leaders and young folks was held following the last address and everyone deemed the conference a day well spent when adjournment was called at nine o'clock.

TENNIS SCHEDULE COMPLETED FOR 1931

Ten tennis matches have been arranged for the 1931 tennis team this spring. The team will be captained by Reed Spoor and business affairs will be handled by Donald Leshner. The 1931 team has lost its captain, Clifford Kira-cofe, who was probably one of the best tennis players to wield a racquet on the courts at Susquehanna, but in spite of this fact prospects for a successful team are good.

- The following matches have been arranged:
- May 1—Elizabethtown, home.
 - May 2—Franklin & Marshall, home.
 - May 6—Bucknell, away.
 - May 13—Juniata, home.
 - May 15—Elizabethtown, away.
 - May 16—Lebanon Valley, away.
 - May 20—Bucknell, home.
 - May 22—Juniata, away.
 - May 23—State College, away.
 - May 30—Lebanon Valley, home.

SORORITY NOTES

Social Room Renovated

At last the day students have a delightful and charming room in which to study. It is remarkable what a difference some bright paint and pretty cretonne will do to make a room livable. Unusual lights and lamps are placed at appropriate places about the social room. Betty Wardrop was responsible for the pretty cretonne coverings on the chairs and davenport.

It is a pleasant duty now to press clothes in the pressing room. The furniture and woodwork is painted bright yellow and white. At the new windows are attractive cretonne favor-backs. Mabel Fulz, Ruth Nelson and Flora Elmore are responsible for this accomplishment.

Nancy Hamlin had complete charge of the entire renovation. It was through her excellent planning, uniring labor and undivided attention that we can now exclaim in wonder at the charming social pressing rooms.

Miss Strothers certainly needs her share of praise. Whenever anything was needed she was always ready to assist in any way possible. We are sincerely grateful for her splendid cooperation.

We heartily thank the Administration for their able support in the way of money with which to buy materials needed.

S. A. I. Patronesses Entertained

Saturday, April 11 the members of Sigma Alpha Iota entertained their patronesses at a luncheon and bridge. The luncheon was served at 1:30 at the Homestead Tea Room, and the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to bridge. The guests were Mrs. Sheldon, Mrs. Ditzler, Mrs. Ott, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Folmer, Mrs. Rodgers, Miss Nesbit, Miss Reed, Miss Pottelger, Mrs. Linebaugh, Miss Strothers, and Mrs. Soper.

Election of Officers

Sigma Alpha Iota elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Dorothy Puckey; vice president, Beatrice Gentzler; secretary, Anna Leimbach; corresponding secretary, Francis Stambaugh; treasurer, Beryl Wyman; chaplain, Anna Dunkelberger; sergeant-at-arms, Margaret Markle, and editor, Kathryn Bittner.

Doctor: "Now, young man, what have you to say for yourself?"

His Son (in for a licking): "How about a local anesthetic?"

A queer race of people, these Parisians. They think that Notre Dame is a cathedral.

DOUBT IT OR NOT

— by —
Will U. Believceit

In the spring a young man's face lightly turns to thoughts of love and other nonsense. It seems that the favorite theme song of seven or more of the moon struck is "Little Jo."

A call was sent out by Coach Ulery for an additional manager for "Peanuts" Malasky, to chase the bats that are thrown over the tracks by this long distance slugger when he strikes out on slow balls.

The "Utica Terror," alias Klausner, left the Pre-Easter report on Womer, stating that St. Seibert leads Utica on this vital proposition. After returning from that little New York village, the post-season report is they fellas, seven nights, seven dates) Utica femmes lead by a large margin.

Johnstown sent us her Gerhardt, Newark our Scharf, Rockwood our Kimmel, and St. Thomas Ridge our Ernest Walter Shoopon Huston. Finally out of the wilds of Loyville the Star of Stars comes forth in full radiance in the form of Billie Morrow. The Keystone had a hard time keeping the buttons on his shirt when he played for the Loyville Alley Cats in Division 145, section 5, sponsored by the Women's Sewing Circle. Rumor has it his hat is becoming smaller as he gradually gains Herman's style of running.

Many of the fans have decided that the Amos and Andy system should be used on the diamond as a check on the Barber system. Some have suggested an assistant to this official to verify his decisions.

Someone should write to Connellville and report to Stuff Handford's folks about the little fellow staying out with the big boys and trying to talk their language. Never can tell, he may start to pay attention to the opposite sex if someone gives him the idea he is full grown.

DR. DUNKELBERGER HAS FULL PROGRAM OF SPEECHES

Dr. Dunkelberger will be a regular speaker in the next few weeks as his program shows. On Tuesday he will address groups at Williamstown, Lykens, Elizabethville, and Wiconisco. On the 19th of April he will again have a full day when he speaks in Reverend Bergstresser's pulpit in Hazleton. Reverend Bergstresser is the father of Miss Ruth Bergstresser, a member of the Class of '34.

SPORT BITS

Al Meyer was on the starting end of the first double play of the season. Meyer to Ott to Ulery.

Stroup received a few pointers from Gray on how to chase flies in the outfield.

No brotherly love is shown between roommates on the diamond for Al Meyer had "Mal" whiffing at the wind several times.

Assistant managers have received orders not to leave bats crossed on the diamond. This superstitious cult has made its appearance even in baseball practice.

It is hard to decide at present whether some of the boys have "sore arms" or "glass arms."

"Lefty" Edwards, for some reason or other is very popular on the baseball diamond; it may be his cap.

McMullen tried to do a lot of talking Saturday afternoon as he was on the receiving end of Coach Ulery's assortment of curves.

Coach Ulery took the role of "the iron man" Saturday afternoon, as he pitched eighteen innings of baseball.

The Orange and Maroon has uniforms, but don't expect too much, for they are not tailor made.

It is promised that in a few weeks the tennis courts will be in condition for the "early risers."

MANAGERS APPROVED BY BOARD

The following assistant and sub-assistant managers have been approved by the Athletic Board:

Assistant managers for the coming tennis season are Wilks and Kozak. Sala and Lauver have been chosen as sub-assistant managers for varsity track. Hassey and Schotstahl have been agreed upon as sub-assistants in baseball.

Friday brings us "A Lady's Morals," with Grace Moore.

Gary Cooper presents for Saturday's attraction the "Fighting Caravans."

Next Monday and Tuesday also Stanley presents the excellent new titled "The Pagan" featuring Lawrence Tibbett and Gene Moore.

General Electric Contributions to Health

Sunlamps are a popular feature of the swimming pool at Hotel St. George, Brooklyn, N. Y.

COLLEGE-TRAINED electrical engineers cooperated with the medical profession in developing G-E products that safeguard health. Notable among these are the very tube, the G-E refrigerator, and the G-E Sunlamp. Of these three, the Sunlamp is the latest development, but it has already been acclaimed for its service in helping build that vitality which maintains the happiness of good health.

At Cornell University, members of "cold-prevention classes" (under daily, brief, ultra-violet-ray lamp treatments) reported 40 per cent less colds than were reported by classmates in a group without this treatment.

Beyond home and college, the use of Sunlamps has extended to swimming pools and indoor golf courses. In the future, you may enjoy the Sunlamp as a standard fixture in offices, trains, clubs, and many other places where people gather.

And you may continue to expect new, unusual, and useful developments from G-E engineering and research. Among such products, there will doubtless be further contributions to personal health, comfort, and convenience, as well as to the promotion of industrial efficiency.

self in inter-Lutheran relations and may prove a valuable factor in the coming Lutheran unity. All of this indicates what is demanded of one in an executive secretary position. As indicated, Secretary-elect Kinports assumes his work May first and with scarcely two months experience must share in the coming inspiring biennial convention of the Luther League of America to be held in Reading early in July. This initiation, however, promises to be a glowing experience. Certainly that it may and that his conduct of this important office will be eminently successful is the wish of all Susquehanna alumni, who will follow him in sympathetic interest and assured support. An alumnus recognized is Susquehanna honored and proven.

PROFESSOR GILBERT TO COACH ONE ACT PLAY

Professor R. W. Gilbert is to direct the production of one of Chekov's one act plays, "The Boor." It is a light, humorous play, but full of opportunity for excellent acting. The cast consists of three characters. Mr. Smirnov, who is the full-headed landlord, is enacted by Mr. Stearns. The part of Mrs. Popov, the plain woman, who turns Smirnov's hard-heartedness to love, will be taken by Miss Sarah Rhoads. Andrew Kozak will take the part of Luka, who is the Epurean servant.

DR. WILLIAMS SPEAKS AT LEWISTOWN HIGH SCHOOL

Dr. Franklin G. Williams was the speaker at the general assembly of Lewistown High School on Friday, April 10. His subject was in the interest of education and Susquehanna University. Dr. Williams was favorably impressed by the assembly program and the school as a whole. Quite a number of students seemed interested and questioned Dr. Williams on the possibilities and opportunities of higher education at Susquehanna.

Wit That's Fit

Daughter: "But Daddy, why do you object to my becoming engaged? Is it because of my youth?" Father: "Yes, he's hopeless."

"Mostly men I'm working for." "What's the matter?" "He took the less off the wheelbarrow so I couldn't set it down to rest."

Mother: "Willie, you have been very naughty for promising to obey me." Willie: "That's nothing. You once promised to obey dad."

VARSIY NINE SET FOR INITIAL GAME

(Continued from page 1.) plendid work behind the batters with Mcullen as his understudy. Coach Ullery will have to make a choice of his outfield from a number of players. Malaky will probably get the call in left field and adds much hitting power to the team. So far Stroup has been doing fine work in center field and has shown a great improvement in his hitting.

In right field the battle is between Freddie Carl and Ted Foutz; both of these men are good hitters and about on even terms in the fielding end of the game. Some of the other likely candidates for the outfield berths are Kapic, Swartz, Keller, Gray and Klausner.

Bill Morrow is displaying his wares to Coach Ullery as an infielder. Morrow seems to have a real batting eye and is developing into a fine fielder. With some experience he should be a valuable addition to the infield. Morrow at present is giving Herman some competition at second.

ELECTED SECRETARY OF THE LUTHER LEAGUE

(Continued from page 1.) Harry Hodges, now Secretary Board of Ministerial Pension and Relief, and Rev. Amos J. Traver, successful author and youth executive, just resigned to assume the pastorate of the important Lutheran field in Frederick, Maryland. There is abundant reason for believing the new executive secretary will continue the wise and enthusiastic leadership to which the Luther League has become accustomed.

The Rev. Mr. Kinports was born in Anville, Pennsylvania. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Kinports, of Mt. Wolf, Pennsylvania. After graduating from York High School he took the complete Susquehanna Course, graduating from the college department in 1914 and from the seminary in 1917.

Susquehanna students will recognize his activity and versatility when they recall that his interests included those of membership in the Y. M. C. A., Glee Club, and Dramatic Club, work for "The Lantern" and "The Susquehanna," football in a managerial capacity. Congenial and useful in these activities impressions made and left were, indeed, happy and refreshing. Such a background will yield equipment for his new task.

Since entering his life work he has served in the Pittsburgh Synod as pastor of Aspinwall and Monongahela City parishes 1917-1924, and the Pennsylvania Ministerium at HERSHEY, Pennsylvania, 1924-1931. He has increased his theological equipment the past several years with post-graduate work in the M. Div. Theological Seminary.

Syndically his fitness for service among young people has been recognized by the committee appointments assigned him and his Luther League contacts have given him executive committee memberships in district and Lutheran League. Immediate Luther League secretaryship in a state-wide capacity, and a national Luther League experience with the Literature Committee.

This Luther League movement with which he will be so definitely related has advanced from its beginning and has known a varied type of existence. Originally the connecting links between young Lutherans of different Lutheran affiliation it became the official organization for the youth of the United Lutheran Church with the merger. Gradually its scope has enlarged until today it unites in its program besides the Luther Leagues of the United States those of Canada, Porto Rico, and India, and in the States it covers the territory between the oceans and the Gulf as boundaries. Moreover, it covers life from the pre-junior to the post-senior periods.

Furthermore it seems destined to enter upon a new line of cooperation. Vital associations are in process with the Board of Education, Church and Parish School Board, the Women's Missionary Society, the Men's Brotherhood, and the various Mission Boards. Also it is reaching out again to express its

Oregon Plan to be Tried by Debaters

Affirmative Team Will Try to Down the Undeclared Negative; Foulkrod, Clapper Promise Hot Contest

What promises to be the most colorful debate at Susquehanna for the year just ending will be staged in the University Auditorium between the Susquehanna Affirmative and Negative teams within the next ten days, according to the coach of debating, Miss Clara Corbin, who hopes to introduce at that time the Oregon plan of debating, a new style of debating never tried at Susquehanna, but which has enjoyed tremendous success in other colleges during the past few years. If the trial is satisfactory it is very likely that this system of debating will be adopted at Susquehanna next year and will be put in use in many of her debates.

It will be Orange and Maroon vs. Orange and Maroon and both teams will go into the debate with more desire to win than in any other debate of the past year because of the fact that the entire Affirmative Team will be making their last inter-collegiate appearance in debating and will naturally want to close their careers with a victory. On the other hand, the Negative Team, composed of a Freshman, Junior and a Senior, will be doing all they can to pull the decision over to their side, since one of their number is a Senior and the other two will want to gain the honor and distinction that will come with the defeat of the Affirmative, if such a thing is possible.

S. Walter Foulkrod will bring to a close a debating career which has brought him state-wide renown. Along

Comedy to be Staged by Bond and Key

Tarkington's "Clarence" Includes Cast of Popular Amateurs Actors; Dates Set for Friday, May 1st

"Clarence," one of Booth Tarkington's most rollicking comedies, will be presented by the Bond and Key Club, under the capable direction of Miss Naomi Hade, in Seibert Hall Chapel on Friday evening, May 1st.

This mirth provoking sketch of modern life centers about the complications brought upon Clarence by the youngsters, Clara and Bobby Wheeler, and others in the cast.

These characters are continually becoming involved in a bewildering maze of love affairs and succeed in making the play a riot of laughter from start to finish.

"Clarence" was first staged in the Hudson Theatre, New York, in September, 1919, and since then has appeared in the motion pictures both in the silent and "talkie" versions. The late Wallace Reid played the part of "Clarence" in the former, and Reginald Denny appeared recently in the same role for the latter. This would seem to indicate that the production has met with considerable success and will be highly entertaining as a student presentation.

The cast will include a number of local "stars" whose ability has already been proven on previous occasions. The inimitable Russell Yons will head this list in the title role of Clarence. "Russ" is a familiar figure in campus plays, having attained considerable distinction for his work in last year's "I Pays to Advertise," and this year in "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals" and "Lady Windemere's Fan."

The parts of Clara and Bobby Wheeler will be ably handled by Miss Edna Williamson and Daniel Graham, who may be remembered in "The Swan" and "A Night at an Inn." Miss Mary Weaving will follow up her excellent performance in "Lady Windemere's Fan" by taking the part of Mrs. Wheeler. Alvin Barber makes his return to the stage, and also his farewell appearance, in the role of Hubert Stem, as a "heavy."

Other familiar names in the cast will be Signe Alford, Harris Miller, Harriette Leese, Herbert Rummel, and Ira Sassaman. These players have been working diligently with the assistance of Miss Hade to make "Clarence" the outstanding production on the dramatic calendar for this year.

Activities of the Campus Y.W.C.A.

The Big Sister Movement, Freshmen Week, Vesper Service and Many Religious Activities by Y. W.

In reviewing the activities of the Young Women's Christian Association we find that this organization truly deserves the name of being one of the most active groups on our campus.

The Big Sister movement during the summer months insures each freshman girl at least one friend at S. U. upon whom she can depend for help and advice.

Freshman week helps the freshman to get acquainted with the members of their own class and to adapt themselves to their new home.

The Handbook has for many years proved a very useful article for the new student at Susquehanna.

The Y. W. C. A. does not devote all of its time and efforts to the freshmen as can be seen by the number of things which have been done in the interest of the whole group and of others.

The Y. W. C. A. was given soon after the beginning of the first semester was one of the first social affairs of the year.

The Vesper services each Sunday evening are sponsored in cooperation with the Y. M. C. A.

Y. W. Hour every Thursday night adds much to the devotional life of the student. Some very impressive and worshipful meetings have been held this year. Usually the morning before vacations the girls held early morning watch services.

The Christmas communion was one of the most outstanding religious services of the year and portrayed the religious life of the Susquehanna student body.

The Y. W. C. A. has also been interested in dramatics. Not only has it presented plays but plays of good dramatic quality. During the first semester a group of three plays was presented under the direction of Miss Corbin. A Christmas pageant was also presented with much success.

The social life of the girls is not forgotten as can be seen by the number of parties. The Halloween party, the first of its kind for several years, was one of fun, music and food. The Thanksgiving party took us back to the good old days of our Pilgrim forefathers. The Christmas party featured a trip around the world and the Easter party was one of games and refreshments.

For the lovers of the out-of-doors several hikes were sponsored.

The Y. W. C. A. sent four representatives to the Forest Park Y. M.

Seniors Cop Inter-Class Outdoor Meet

Seniors Won with a Score of 51 Points; Welky, Swarn, Winters, Oberdorf and Nelswenter Set New Records

The Senior Class decisively won the inter-class outdoor class meet held last Monday and Tuesday afternoon with a total of 51 points. The Sophomores, the winners last year, were shoved down into second place with 33 points, while the Freshmen with 27 points finished a close third. The Juniors, one of the strong contenders last season, tallied only 15 points.

Myers was easily the outstanding figure of the meet. In all he tallied 16 points for his class, taking first places in the 100, 220, and 440 yards dashes, and a third place in the running broad jump. Swarn and Winters also starred in the matter of individual point scores, each totaling 13. Oberdorf scored 11 while Welky ran up 7 points to his credit.

In all, five contestants broke four records. Welky and Swarn each established a new record in the running broad jump to tie for first place in the event. Winters tossed the discus for a total of 111 feet 2 inches to mark up a new record in that event. Oberdorf cleared the bar at five feet, four inches in the high jump for another new mark. Nelswenter set a new record in the high hurdles.

The Seniors won the meet with a well balanced team, scoring a goodly amount of points in both the field and track events. The Sophomores were very strong in the running events, but lacked

Who's Who in the Senior Class

FRANK D. PARIS

Frank D. Paris came to us from Duke University, where he held an honorable record, both scholastically and socially. He entered the Junior class and has proved himself to be a worthy member of '31. He is studying in the pre-medical department, where all indications show that he will make a success in his chosen profession.

Paris immediately made many lasting friendships and acquaintances on the campus, as is shown by his large circle of friends. In his Junior year he became a member of the Natural Science and Pre-Medical clubs and is one of the most active members in those organizations. When rushing season came around, after much consideration he decided in favor of the Epsilon Sigma Fraternity of which organization he is now president.

May his personality ever radiate and draw friends to him as it has done for him while on our campus. His many friends join in wishing him the fullest measure of success as he leaves S. U. and takes his place in the world.

Y.M.C.A. Conference at Lebanon Valley

Student Conference to be Held at Annville; Training for Personal Christian Leadership Theme

The Fortieth Annual Students Y. M. C. A. Cabinet Training Conference will be held this year at Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa., from April 23 to 26, at which time the theme "Training for Personal Christian Leadership," will be taken up by three of the leading men in the Y. M. C. A. circle. Dr. Henry H. Crane, pastor of the Elm Park Methodist Church at Scranton, comes to the Conference with a great message for the newly elected officers and cabinet members. Rev. John R. Hart, Chaplain at the University of Pennsylvania, popularly known as "Jack," a popular leader of wide renown on college campuses, will also speak to the Convention. Philo C. Dix, State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Pennsylvania and regarded as one of the leading Association leaders of the country, will also address the leaders present at this meeting.

The annual Conference was held on our campus last year and is sponsored annually by the Pennsylvania State Student Council of Young Men's Christian Associations.

A very attractive program has been prepared for the four days of the Convention and any one interested in this field will benefit greatly by the contact with the great leaders that will be present to address them at the various sessions of this Convention.

May Day Exercises to be Presented May 23

Play Will be Presented on Lawn in Front of Seibert Hall; Cast for Play Already Picked

The May Day exercises will be presented on the evening of May twenty-third. For years they were held at sunset, but this will be the first time that they have ever been given at night. The coronation procession will begin at twilight, following which the play, Comus, will be presented for the entertainment of the queen. This masque, written by Milton, was played for the first time in 1634.

Comus was the son of Bacchus and Circe. He lived in a forest and anyone who drank from his crystal goblet unknowingly assumed the head of a beast. By letting people drink from his goblet, Comus has a horde of attendants, half beast, half man, about him. One evening two brothers and their sister, who were on their way to visit their father and mother at the castle, had to pass through the wood in which Comus lived. To protect these three through the wood Jove sent one of his gods in the form of a shepherd. The sister is lost and Comus also disguised as a shepherd, meets her and offers to take her to the shepherd's cottage. The attendant spirit represents Thiris, who is the lord's shepherd. Thiris meets the two brothers, and when he finds that the lady is not with them, he tells them of Comus. Immediately the three set out to find her. The lady has been led by Comus to his palace, where a banquet is prepared for her. He tries to persuade her to eat and drink, but she refuses. Arriving at the palace, the two brothers and Thiris rush in and drive Comus and his horde away. The lady is unable to speak or move because Comus has cast a spell over her. Thereupon, Sabrina, the water nymph, is called upon to release her from this enchantment. As soon as she has worked her magic charms, they continue their journey and are welcomed home by the lord and lady, and the villagers.

The play will be presented on the lawn in front of Seibert Hall and the audience will be seated in the drive between Gustavus Adolphus and Selinsgrove Hall.

The members of the cast are as follows:
Comus, Adeline Wingard.
The Lady, Ruth Maurey.
The brothers, Eleanor Sheriff and Mary Weaving.
Thiris, Janet Leitzell.
Sabrina, Etta Mumaw.
The Lord, Margaret Ide.

The Villagers, The Ladies' Choral Club and others.

S. U. Tossers Win From Elizabethtown

Heavy Hitting and Faulty Fielding Mark Initial Game; Rubis, Donnell Get Triples; Strong Bats 800

The Susquehanna baseball line scored an impressive victory in its opening game of the season by defeating Elizabethtown College here last Saturday afternoon by the score of 7-4. The contest showed that the Orange and Maroon has some powerful batters and strong pitchers.

Captain Donnell gave a fine exhibition on the mound. In the first inning he got himself into difficulty when he issued two passes, but he soon settled down and gave but one walk the remaining eight innings. The four runs scored by the visitors came in the third inning mainly through three errors.

The Susquehanna batters found Ebling to their liking and pounded out numerous long drives. Stroup did the best work of the day, driving out four hits in five tries at the plate, of which two were good for two bases. Rubis was the hardest hitter of the game, smashing out two long three base hits to the center field fence. Malasy also did nobly, connecting safely three times.

One of the outstanding features of the game was the fine work of Rubis in the field. With him at short stop, Susquehanna should have an infield of unusually high calibre this year.

Susquehanna Co-eds Attend Play Day

Eight Girls Represent Susquehanna at Bucknell Play Day; Miriam Keim Heads Winning Team

Eight Susquehanna co-eds toured in grand style to Bucknell University on Saturday, April 18th, to take part in the Second Annual Play Day. At registration S. U.'s representatives—Miriam Keim, Barbara Jones, Thelma Crebs, Lucille Lehman, Ruth Jacobs, Inez Sarver, Harriet Leese and Nellie Shue—were placed upon teams with delegates from Temple, Penn State, Lock Haven, Cedar Crest, Dickinson, Emira and Bucknell. Four teams were formed, not more than two girls from one school being on the same team. Then, under the direction of Miss Roberta Melchior, director of physical education for women of Bucknell, and Miss Sylvia Derr, assistant director, there followed an afternoon of real fun. The different teams met in hockey, baseball and volley ball games. Opportunity was given for individuals to challenge members of opposing teams in tennis, archery, or stunts.

Susquehanna's representatives were certainly not lost in the crowd, thanks to the excellent training given by Miss Dorothy Reeder, director of physical education at S. U. The team known as the Purple Sages was ably captained by our sophomore delegate, Miriam Keim. Barbara Jones was chosen as leader of the Dandelion group. The baseball games would have been incomplete without the excellent pitching of Harriet Leese, Mim Keim, Thelma Crebs and Barbara Jones.

A treasure hunt following the games proved of great interest. After a frenzied search for clues, a search covering

Debaters Meet Thiel and Waynesburg

Negative Team Has Undeclared Season; Final Trip is Very Successful

The negative Debating Team has just returned from a very successful tour. Mr. Warren Wolfe, Mr. Samuel Brooks, and Mr. Edwin Clapper were the three representatives from S. U. to meet teams from Waynesburg and Thiel Colleges. The boys left on Wednesday afternoon, April 15, to meet the Waynesburg group at two the next afternoon but the contest was postponed until eight o'clock in the evening. The judges failed to appear at that time but no forfeit could be obtained by the negative team and on this account a non-decision debate was staged.

As usual, Warren Wolfe opened the body of the debate for the negative and Mr. Brooks carried through the remainder of the proof. Mr. Clapper closed the debate by the presentation of the negative case. The entire debate developed into a series of sarcastic remarks pointed at the negative debaters directly. The remarks were very effectively smothered by Mr. Wolfe and Mr. Clapper, two of the local rebuttal speakers, when they ignored the amusing remarks and statements made by the Waynesburg debaters. Mr. Brooks defended the protective issues of the negative case very efficiently. The Sigma Delta Phi sorority of the college held a reception for the "forensic geniuses" following the evening's clash.

The boys arrived at Thiel College on Friday afternoon and to their dismay found no one on the campus, due to the fact that school had been dismissed for the day. Finally one of the fraternity brothers came to their aid and took the stranded "geniuses" to the fraternity house for the evening meal. After taking care of sufficient food, some of the boys entertained themselves in pitching quoits, rather amusing to the folks back home especially if one of these debaters wins from a Thiel rival.

At the time set for the debate only two judges were present but they willingly consented to judge the contest. Thiel's first speaker defined the issue in such a manner that the Susquehanna debaters could not accept it. For a second time Thiel attempted to bring about the same definition. A trap

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION

Every nation or state has found at some time cause for a change in its constitution, and every organization has reached the point in its existence where revision of its laws has been necessary. That is just the thing that the Publishing Association of the "Susquehanna" has needed for several years. We have found that the original constitution in inadequate to meet our needs. The powers of the Editor-in-Chief have been too few and too limited to permit a perfectly functioning staff. According to the old constitution, he could do nothing without the action of the members of the association who generally knew very little about the internal organization of the staff or its duties, and cared less. Too often the staff became a group of non-functioning people and as a result the editor has had to do the bulk of the work which should have been done by reporters and their assistants. The new constitution removes all such difficulties. The Editor-in-Chief and the Faculty Advisor on the reportorial staff as a committee will have the power to suspend inactive members and to fill these vacancies. No longer should the staff be burdened with members who are inactive. Furthermore, their places may be filled by people who are interested in the success of the paper.

The members of the association still have their power, however, in as much as each sorority and each fraternity and also the non-sorority and non-fraternity groups send a representative to act as a portion of the selective committee. The power of this group has, moreover, been enlarged. Previously it elected only the Editor-in-Chief and the Business Manager. The revised constitution gives this committee the power to elect all the other members which the entire Association has always done. This includes the offices of the News Editor, the Managing Editor, the Advertising and Circulation Managers and also the assistants on both the Business and Editorial staffs. It is evident that with the suggestions which can be given by Advisors, the Editor-in-Chief and the Business Manager, all of whom have been in close contact with the other members of the staff, a fairer and better election can be held.

The new constitution makes the old staff continue to function one week after the election of the new staff. This means a chance for adjustment and organization on the part of the new staff members. Previously the entire staff ceased to function four days before the election and the new organization had to publish the paper in two days, with no chance for the members thereof to orientate themselves to their new positions.

One thing, however, can bear criticism. Since the Theological Department has gradually become weaker it has been thought wise to make seniors in the college eligible to offices in the association. This would mean a further revision of Article 4, but we believe that this should not be done at this time.

The editorial staff sincerely believes that any student desirous of a better weekly paper will do his part in accepting this revised constitution.

Rumor has it that it shall soon be necessary to carry your identification card to classes so that profits will know who to give the cuts to, also when you are asked to pay the remainder of your bill you should carry your card. Doing this will prevent the arm of the law Forgy and Romig from casing students for it seems that S. U. students have no identity that marks them as being any different than common gate crashers.

Ping-pong has seemed to have taken a step backward to let the big brother game hold full sway. Although many are taken up with this co-educational sport attention is given to the miniature sport in the evenings.

The Dauntless Fire Co. shall test their valor by putting on a show this week in our chapel. This is going to be a real test for if this agency can make real exits and entrances on the floor space that our stage provides they shall certainly give the students and Ben Greet Co. something to aim at.

It seems as though there were no bats crossed at Saturday's game. Capt. Donnell was well entertained during the whole fray by two of the coaches on our opponents' team. It seemed to some of us that both were well acquainted with our hurler and had something helpful to tell him. Strange as it seems Bob either was not listening or didn't understand.

Grads, do you find it hard sometimes to find places to go? Do you get tired of going to the same places for the week-end trip? Here's a bit of advice for that problem. Tune up the old car and look up the routes leading back to the garden spot of Pennsylvania. Wouldn't you like to see one of the most beautiful and best equipped athletic fields in the state. Wouldn't you just like to lay back and lay around on the best sod that ever was. Take a walk down to the river where you used to go at nites to see the Susquehanna moon come up, perhaps you didn't, do your courting there. Maybe you preferred Brook's bank or the old canal bed and the swinging bridge. Well you may not have given it a thought but they are still there and are just as anxious to see you as we are. This is just one way to invite you back. Come on in, Skinny, the water's fine.

The seniors are now getting at the end of the rope and when all is paid they shall be able to tell the world they came clean from Susquehanna. "What Price Education."

SPORT BITS

The stellar performances of Lolly Stroup and Paddy Rubis on Saturday afternoon gave the local fans considerable cause for rejoicing.

Not to mention Bob Donnell's work on the mound! It was Bob who started the dirty work in the third inning with a hearty three-bagger.

The Orange and Maroon should claim some kind of a record for that prolonged "double play." After two errors and a lapse of approximately fourteen seconds, Rubis finally came over from around third base to straighten things out. The double out was made possible by the courtesy of the Elizabethtown runner who politely remained on third while the local infielders cavorted around first base.

Here are some of the "first" honors for the opening game: First hit, Stroup; first run scored, Donnell; first run driven in, Herman; first put-out, Donnell to Palmer; first double play, figure it out for yourself; and the first error to none other than our erstwhile reliable "Peanuts" Malasky.

Judging by the number of bases stolen by the Orange, the criminal intelligence department at E-town can't be so hot.

Swarm and Meyers, the galloping roommates, ran up their customary thirty points last week in the interclass meet.

Klausner's victory in the century dash against Middleburg was somewhat unexpected. What have they been feeding you, Herm?

The vital topic today seems to be, "Will you have tennis, dinner or indigestion?" What a racket!

Bill Swarm has added the high hurdles and high jumping to his list of accomplishments. About the only thing he hasn't tried is to run a medley relay by himself.

Seibert Hall Echoes

HAVE YOU HEARD THAT

This seems like an anticlimax, for we bid you a fond adieu last week, but if you can stand the gaff, we'll try to bid you adieu.

Two co-eds have a feud on here for the affections and regard of one George Kenney, a young Freshman.

The girl in the red hat is Sally Shaulls.

This is the time of the year when all the organizations in Seibert Hall have their elections and installations. It seems that everything was splendidly run this past year, and the new officers already picked to pilot the various things are unusually capable, so Seibert Hall can look forward to big things next year.

The age-old custom of strolling after Sunday dinner has begun again. Nearly all walkers either began at or finished at the squirrels' house. What a pity S. U. isn't equipped with a full fledged Zoo, where the animals could be fed and nature could be studied as it is in other parts of the world, copied verbatim from some science lecture or other.

The roof over Seibert Hall porch has come into its own again. Yesterday co-eds were observed sunning themselves there.

AMUSEMENTS

Today is the last time to see "The Southerner," now titled "The Prodigal," featuring Lawrence Tibbett and Grace Moore.

Wednesday and Thursday bring us a new life in talking pictures by presenting "Cimarron," with Richard Dix and Irene Dunne.

Edmund Lowe and Lella Hyams come to us in the "Part Time Wife," on Friday night.

The attraction for Saturday is the "Painted Desert," with Bill Boyd and Helen Twelvetrees.

Frosh Track Team Defeats Middleburg

High School Is Easily Defeated by 61-31 Score, Muir Scores 18 Points for Winners

The Freshman track team won an easy victory over the Middleburg High School last Thursday afternoon by the score of 61 to 31. Susquehanna outclassed the visitors in every event excepting the half mile run and the high jump.

Muir was the outstanding star of the meet, winning three first places and one second place for a total of 18 points. Oberdorf, Klausner and Rishel were also high scorers for Susquehanna. Badger did the best work for Middleburg. Summary:

100 yard dash—Won by Klausner, Susquehanna. Muir, Susquehanna, second; Rishel, Susquehanna, third. Time—11 seconds.

220 yard dash—Won by Muir, Susquehanna; Klausner, Susquehanna, second; Good, Middleburg, third. Time—25 seconds.

440 yard dash—Won by Badger, Middleburg; Gif, Middleburg, second; Schlegel, Susquehanna, third. Time—60 seconds.

880 yard run—Won by Anderson, Susquehanna; Swartz, Susquehanna, second; Bottiger, Susquehanna, third.

MINSTRELS TO BE FEATURE OF ALUMNI DAY

The first edition of the Susquehanna University Alumni Minstrels will appear as one of the features of Alumni Day on June 6th.

Musical specialties will be presented by Mr. George Witmer, formerly of the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company, who will be found in one of the leading roles; Miss Irene Mengle, soprano; Master Stewart Mengel, 12 year old boy soprano, and William Roberts, tenor.

Dr. Leon M. Messner, chairman of the Alumni Day Play Committee, is directing the production. While attending the University of Pittsburgh as a dental student he assisted in the direction of the famous Pitt Cap & Gown Shows for four years.

He is being assisted by Miss Dorothy W. Reeder, who is coaching the chorus in dancing; Mrs. Margaret Wingard, who is directing a sketch, and Prof. Elmore L. Allison, organist and band leader.

The entire cast will include approximately fifty persons.

Echoes from Hassinger

While Morrow, formerly of the Loyvsille Alley Cats, was the center of attraction for four young ladies the other day. He graciously consented to pose for a few photographs. Is there no end to this man's genius?

Most of the boys went native over the week-end, taking in "Trader Horn." The consensus of opinion seems to be that the picture was remarkably well done.

It seems that "Lefty Joe" Maimon has given up forensic activity in favor of the great national pastime. Joe kept himself ready to be rushed into the breach at any time Saturday.

Page Izzy Wallon! "Had" Kramer dashed out between classes last week and came back with twenty-three brook trout. Nightfall caught Harold without a light, so he was forced to leave without reaching the limit.

Simultaneous with Big Chief Berger's return to the campus, came Jack Petty's return to Hassinger Hall from the habitat of the Parsons.

Myom! How this spring sun does interfere with one's sleep on Sunday mornings. Ho-hum!

SCORORITY NOTES

Kappa Delta Phi announces the following officers for next year: Marie Miller, president; Esther Geisel, vice president; Lucille Lehman, treasurer; Diana Lizards, secretary; Harriet Leese, financial secretary; and Mabel Foutz, sergeant-at-arms. Installations will be made this coming week.

Worthington, Dockey, Royer Elected 1933 Lanthorn Officers

On April 9th and 10th, the officers for the 1933 Lanthorn were elected in order that they may start preliminary work on the book for next year. The officers elected were: Editor-in-Chief, Jay Worthington; business manager, Selon Dockey, and art editor, William Royer.

With the co-operation of the class with these officers an original and interesting book should be the result. Next year's editor has had previous experience in Journalism; the business manager has been active in the commercial department, and with the ability of William Royer worked into the art section of the publication an artistic and well-organized book ought to result.

With the early start that has been given the officers of next year's book and with the proper co-operation of the student body and faculty the Lanthorn ought to come out earlier than usual.

KAPPA DELTA PHI PLEDGES GIVE MOONLIGHT DANCE FOR ACTIVE MEMBERS

Even the sweet and balmy summer moonlight nights, can't compare with the moonlight that the Kappa Delta Phi pledges created for their members at their Moonlight Dance given in the Social Room on Saturday night.

The room was really transformed by the clever decorations of the girls. Suspended from the ceiling were all kinds of moons, green and red ones, full ones and half moons, and even a large yellow one which gave forth subdued light at just the right time.

When the couples arrived, they were handed tiny half moons with little numbers attached; these were fastened to long strings which, when followed, led to large half moons with the programs of the girls all made out for them.

There was a novelty dance, which was given by Lena Baird and Jack Auchmuty. However, Miss Strouther shared the dance with Lena, and we wonder why our charming House-Mother doesn't go to more dances, for she certainly knows how.

The last dance on the program was the Moonlight number. During this, the lights were all turned out, but the large "Moon" shone beautifully thru the "trees," and provided plenty of light. It made a perfect finishing touch.

Everyone undoubtedly had a perfect time, and the clamor which begged for 'just one more piece' was tribute enough to the girls who were responsible for this delightful affair.

W. A. C. HOLDS REGULAR MEETING IN FORM OF HIKE

The Women's Athletic Club held its regular meeting last Tuesday evening. The girls left the dorm at 6:30 and reached the base of the Isle of Que about eight o'clock where they found a cheerful fire awaiting them. Very soon they had their "Angels-on-Horse-back" simmering over the hot coals and were refreshing themselves with delicious cold Chocolate Milks. After the capture recipe, the President called a business meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. The results of the election were as follows: President, Lucille Lehman; vice president, Barbara Jones; secretary-treasurer, Margaret Fink.

The fire having been extinguished, the girls returned to Seibert Hall tired and dusty, but thoroughly happy. Those present were: Dorothy Reeder, Miriam Keim, Corinda Sell, Lucille Lehman, Barbara Jones, Diana Lizards, Esther Geisel, Margaret Fink, Elizabeth Vorlage, Luelie Camerer, Nellie Shue, Inez Sarver, Martha Gessner, and Thelma Grebs.

PI GAMMA MU TO SPONSOR SPEAKER

Mr. John W. Keller, former Susquehanna student, and now Deputy Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will deliver a lecture under the auspices of the Pi Gamma Mu in Seibert Hall Chapel on May the 7th at 8:00 p. m. Everyone is welcome whether a member of the organization or not. Come and bring your friends.

WANT TO LAUGH?

See the "College Flapper." It is the biggest event ever staged by a group of Selinsgrove people. The cast includes two hundred people and is filled with wit and action which will produce screams of laughter. Don't miss it on Thursday and Friday night, April 23 and 24 in the Seibert Hall Chapel.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS CANDLE LIGHT SERVICE

Last Thursday night the members of the Y. W. C. A. witnessed a very beautiful and impressive candle light service.

The members of the old cabinet and the members of the new cabinet along with two faculty advisors, Miss Naomi K. Hade and Mrs. T. W. Kretschmann, formed a large semi circle. After the scripture lesson and prayer an address was delivered by the retiring president, Inez Sarver. By the lighting of candles the duties of office were handed over to the new cabinet, Corinda Sell acting as leader.

Inez Sarver and Corinda Sell will graduate this spring. A number of the members of the old cabinet were transferred to the new.

The following new officers were installed: Janet Leitzell, president; Flora Ellmore, vice president; Ruth Nelson, secretary, and Marie Miller, treasurer. A number of committee chairmen appointed by the president were installed.

After the lighting of the candles, a friendship circle was formed and all joined in singing "Follow the Glean."

RELAY CANDIDATES SHOW PROMISING RESULTS

Sports interest at Susquehanna this week will center about the team to be sent to the Penn Relays on Saturday. There is every reason to believe that this year's squad will be considerably stronger than the team which represented the Orange and Maroon last year.

Although the selection has not yet been made definite, Swarm, Johnny Meyers, and Carolan are fairly certain to be three of the five cinder artists who will accompany Prof. Grossman. These three are all Sophomores. Fighting it out for the other two places, are Neiswenter, Knouse, Petry, and Captain Johnston, with the first two holding a slight advantage at present.

Time trials held during the past week have shown gradual improvement, and "Prof." is confident that his charges will make a creditable showing in the mile event.

SUSQUEHANNA TO MEET MORAVIAN HERE SATURDAY

With the first scalp of the 1931 season safely tucked away, Susquehanna's baseball team is facing the season more confidently. For her second opponent S. U. will receive Moravian College on University Field next Saturday afternoon.

Moravian does not boast of a superior nine, having celebrated her first diamond victory in four years last Saturday by defeating Wagner College. However, baseball is a queer game, and the Orange and Maroon has already seen what carelessness may do by that disastrous sixth inning in Saturday's game.

The mound assignment is not yet certain although Brinniger or Meyer seem to be logical choices. Bob Donnell will probably be saved for one of the harder games not far distant.

Susquehanna to be Represented by Five Men at Penn Relays

Announcement has just been made of the five men who will compose the team which will represent Susquehanna at the Penn Relays on the twenty-fourth at which time the championship of the Central Pennsylvania Conference mile relay will be decided.

The five men that will compose the team are: Knouse, Neiswenter, Meyers, Carolan, and Swarm.

Susquehanna's team will run at 2:55 sharp on Saturday afternoon in the Franklin Field Stadium.

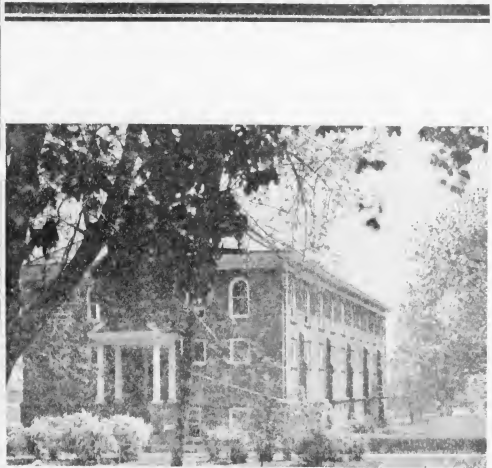

GERMAN CLUB NOTES

The German Club of Susquehanna University held its regular meeting on Thursday evening, April 16th, in Seibert Hall social room. Pauline Crowe was initiated into active membership of the club. "Eimer Miss Heister"—"One Must Marry," a short German play, has been planned to be held for the next meeting. Final plans were made for a picnic to be held next month at which time new officers shall be elected for the coming year.

FACULTY ENTERTAIN STUDENTS

Several members of the faculty entertained a group of men students in informal "get-togethers" at their homes this past week. On Tuesday evening Dr. and Mrs. Overb were the hosts at their home. Professor and Mrs. Brungart entertained a merry group on Thursday evening at their residence on Walnut street.

S. U. TOSSERS WIN FROM ELIZABETHTOWN, 7-4

other tally was made in the next inning when Palmer and Carl walked, and the former scored on Shaffer's safe drive to center field. The fifth inning found the locals with two more runs. Stroup singled and tallied when Rubis tripled. Rubis crossed the plate a minute later when Palmer drove a fly to left field.

In the sixth inning, Elizabethtown tied the score. Two errors and a base hit filed the bases. A base hit combined with an error cleared the bases, and a sacrifice following this put across the fourth run.

Susquehanna scored three more runs the same inning to put the game safely away. Shaffer singled and scored on Stroup's double and Malasky scored Stroup with a two base drive. Rubis then brought Malasky in with a three base smash. Lineup:

ACTIVITIES OF THE CAMPUS Y. W. C. A.

C. A. and Y. W. C. A. conference last June. The delegates were Inez Sarver, Corinda, Sell, Dorothy Strine, and Marie Miller. This conference was one of great worth and helped greatly in the work of the Y. W. A similar group will meet this summer to continue the work.

May Day is sponsored each year by the Y. W. Its pageantry is one of beauty and grace and the girls spend much time in its preparation.

The faculty advisors, who are Miss Naomi K. Hade, Mrs. T. W. Kretschmann, and Miss Evelyn Allison, have aided the girls of the Y. W. C. A. very much this year and have helped to make it what it is.

The Y. W. C. A. not only centers its work on our campus but participates in the Red Cross drives and in missionary work.

The entire athletic field, the final closed led each team to one large area in which the coveted treasure was located. Sixty-four college women searched frantically, poking through the leaves, overturning huge stones and investigating the inner regions of hollow trees in search for the valuable treasure—a Hershey bar. Partly to assuage the bitterness of not finding the treasure, and partly to stay the hunger of the tired athletes, each girl was awarded a Hershey bar.

At the banquet at six o'clock the scores of the various teams were announced. It was proved that wisdom finally conquers strength when the Purple Sages took the honors of the day from the Amazons, who scored second. Mim Keim, as captain of the winning team, made an excellent impromptu speech, thanking her team mates for their hearty cooperation.

Play Days are held for the purpose of establishing friendly relationships in sports among the women of various colleges. The Bucknell Play Day, sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association of Bucknell University, certainly fulfilled this purpose.

DEBATERS MEET THIEL AND WAYNESBURG

was laid by the negative which was presented by Mr. Brosius pertaining to the definition. Thiel again refused to accept our definition and the trap was successful when Mr. Clapper produced the contract of the debate and defined the question accordingly.

In rebuttal, Mr. Wolfe made his final plea for the protection by pointing out the undesirable features of free trade. Mr. Brosius attacked the history of the question presented by the opposition and altered it in favor of the negative side. His plea was excellent and was little harmed by the affirmative. Clapper was interrupted in his rebuttal by an opponent who called a point of order denying certain charges pressed against him. Following his denial, Clapper came forth and attacked his fallacy and thus ended the argument. The Susquehanna boys declared that the Thiel team was the strongest they had met this year.

OREGON PLAN TO BE TRIED BY DEBATERS

with Faulkner will come the curtain for Lawrence Fisher and Wilson Sieber, both of whom have three years' experience behind them and who have won distinction, both as individuals and for the college. These three men make up the Affirmative team. On the Negative are Edwin Clapper, '34, Samuel B. Brosius, '32, and Warren Wolfe, '31. The Oregon style of debate is somewhat like a court trial in that there are cross-examinations, a judge and a jury. The chairman acts as the judge and the jury is composed of three persons who reach the verdict which is then handed down from the bench by the judge. A brief description of the plan follows and will show just why you cannot afford to miss this debate of debates.
1. The first affirmative speaker presents the entire affirmative case in a speech of ten minutes' length.
2. The first negative speaker presents the entire negative case in a speech of ten minutes' length.

3. The first affirmative speaker returns to the platform and is re-questioned concerning his case by the second negative speaker. This period is ten minutes in length. The questioner is in charge and the answers must be short and definite. The chairman is the final authority in any dispute regarding the relevancy of questions, the completeness and definiteness of answers, the interpretation of the resolution, and such matters.
4. The first negative speaker returns to the platform and is similarly cross-questioned by the second affirmative speaker.
5. The third negative speaker is then given fifteen minutes to refute the arguments of the affirmative case and to summarize the debate for his side. He then presents their case to the jury.
6. The third affirmative speaker is given fifteen minutes for similar refutation and summary, followed by giving the case to the jury.
